Journal: After the Trial

Think about the aftermath of the verdict. Scout and Jem struggle to understand Tom's conviction and to come to terms with the injustice they witnessed. Scout reports that Maycomb "became itself again" shortly after the trial.
Journal for a few minutes, recording your thoughts. What do you think Scout means by "became itself again"? Do you agree with her assessment? Why or why not?