Hard News

R: in such a magnificent moment of life, even though it is the best of times, it is the worst of times! The reality of Ebenezer Scrooge and the Cratchetts is not far from the truth!

Camp Loveway: began by playing the half hour of the {former} Canadian minister [of Defence – Paul Hellyer] at the Citizens Conference on Disclosure

- He talked of that cat in the corner who brings the 42 laws of Ma'at and brings the changeover: what if they were given amnesty? He was proposing a solution [put forth] by one of the 4 races who contacted the minister – “We are already here, but this is a way to get us in to the West Wing – we are here to help you heal the planet.”
- Teran interrupted the tape to say that one solution is to give full amnesty; as this is given, there are solutions for the psych war that has been going on for centuries; if they turn their hats around and bring in the solutions on the turn of a dime – as you change your point of view and things happen in an instant, things can be over in an instant – it can fix the planet in 30 days
- yet in reality, Mother has her own ideas – she is in charge; Rama is only in training in the Star Fleet

T: at some point, you are done training!

R: Mother is in charge & holding the feather

- Nick Beggage came on: there are strange things going on on the planet; has to do with geo-engineering and the weather; talked of temporal time warps – they have been playing with the technologies and our money, close to the 40 zeroes, with the Black Ops to creating their android armies – Artificial Intelligence – as in Star Wars, the mitochlorians can only be used for good
  - These ones have been opening portals to go into past and future: if they go into the future, they are reduced to sub-atomic particles, as mother has said – there is no way out

- Nick talked about the failed Farm Bill and how truly bad it was: it was a bad bill made worse by cutting welfare; ultimately, it is time for free health care, free education, a free planet – NESARA

R spoke with Heidi at BIS; she told him the other shoe is falling;

there are rumours about 50 governors resigning! He does not know – he asked Heidi who giggled and said it will be a cold day in heaven when Scott or Kasic leave [of their own accord]

- Detroit is a police state; and the saving grace is that our friends are here
- We are in the time of miracles – the red hats and cloaks, the yellow hats and cloaks
- R saw the Tibetan woman at the market where she works; she said the magic will be done here

T: Rama said a lot, and it is all true!

Teran on Loveway: Rama was told Jesse V would come on the show; this has been moved to next week

- Yet KOS said he would call in with his Darth Vader voice and ask Jesse why he killed Dr Fred Bell
- KOS called R on the phone in the am; not on the radio because Jesse did not show up Next week is another week!

R: the issues going on have to do with the agenda of reducing the human population to under 2% for over 100 years and in any way they can

- now the kingdoms are speaking truth to power like never before;
- in spite of their agenda, and the rumours being pumped out about a chaotic transition: things are only as chaotic as we want them to be; yet they are adding more of the “spice” of fear
- Love is the answer; Maitraya is here: the Star, his ship, has been seen! This is not about pipe dreams and this is why these guys are doing what they do: Rome is in ruins, and so are they. Mother is more merciful than she is just.

T: Nick Beggage – talked of the temporal time portals, the time rifts, the god particle, weather modification, food genetic manipulation, magnetic particle beam weapons –

- they succeeded on 9/11 with the magnetic particle beam weapons because it was only after Dec 21, 2012 that things have changed, when the wall of Mother's energy was put up: the wall of Mother's energy means they cannot go backwards or forward [in time], and there are limited options in the present “Access Denied!” – they do not want to face Mother! Which is the simplest of things we are being asked to do

R: Nick said today the "Xian" values – what Jeshu taught: what you have done for me, greater things you are doing – serving those in jail except for nothing else but holding the seed of a planet that came from Creator Source

T: with the failure of the Farm Bill, Mr Boehner's fate is sealed in blood: he is a member of the Knights of Columbus of Ohio, a Knighted member – it is sealed because he went that far!

- There were members of the GOP who wanted to cut $40million from the Farm Bill; she suspects it was the 14 who committed treason on the night of Obama's inauguration, first time around

Right, Left and Centre: Robert Scheer – If Mr Kalil, superman, comes from a planet that was destroyed [Krypton]: does he have to wait 13 years to be able to look after his family?

- We have many brothers and sisters from other light systems making earth a temporary home to help us – are we going to kick them out because they have a tail or fins or fur? The 4 paws will come down here: WE ARE ALL ONE!

T: Nick B said: show me the first sinner who has thrown the first stone – they [Congress] have done nothing to help the poor!

R: there will be 64 good members left when all is said and done; how much money has been thrown at members of Congress? When you get in Congress and serve only one term, you get health care, a salary etc – set for life. Then they can form a corporation or join a lobbying group or etc

R: Heidi said today we are making a huge difference on this planet – the waves of energy going across this planet it is why we have seen an uptick in what is happening on this planet!

- There will be no cage fighting this time round: the cage is inside your head – get out of it – no more Thunderdome!
- These ones cannot forgive themselves for the genocide they have committed
- Heidi said when Cheney, Rove and the others go to bed, they put themselves into a catatonic state via medications so they can go to sleep

T: We have the tools to handle this job – to get rid of the dross we have to cast off

Caller1: heard some rumblings about George Lucas getting ready to direct his final masterpiece for the Starwars Trilogy? What do you know about it?

R: yes, he is getting ready to put the final piece in the story; this one takes place after contact and Luke and Leah's kids come into the picture, and things work out in the galaxy in a good way

Caller1: a TV series - Fallen Skies – what's with the negative spin?

R: has seen a few episodes: contracts broken between galactics and humans: does not really want to go there

Caller! Who from Hollywood will be on the stage with Obama?

R: M Moore because of 9/11 and the issues still going on today

- Sandy Hook, Colorado Theatre story = all Black Ops with Mossad – why is it not discussed that Israel is the 51st state of the 50 states – no diff between the wall between Israel/Lebanon and the wall between Mexico and the US
- The fake alien invasion concept was planted in Reagan's head – THIS PROGRAM IS CANCELLED

Caller1: Supreme Court is picking on the Affirmative Action Program, and the young lady complaining about reverse discrimination

R: aside from Mayor and Kaegan, those who call themselves kings and queens on the court

- Nick spoke of Tom Udall who is getting in their face about www.MovetoAmend.org – and Citizens United will be gone

T: otherwise, it is a constitutional monarchy like England

Caller1: Lady Di – Kate Middleton – has heard she is not pregnant

R: she is; not faking it

Caller1: story about Beyonce and not being pregnant

R: does not know about her; she got compromised – loves the music; they threatened to kill her

- Like Michael Hastings – Nick Beggage said this was murder, no accident;
- only hours before he died, he was talking to Assange's lawyer

Caller1: asks about the actor from the Sopranos

R: James Gandolphini – played with the white lady, ate meat – no unnatural circumstances to this death

T: many men that are over weight invite heart attacks from their life style

R: the white lady as a coco leaf is an herb; yet as it is processed, it becomes very toxic

- Mediation daily is the only way we will get there!

Reading: Princess Diana's Hidden Ancestral Secret Revealed

2013, June 14 By NICK SCHIFRIN | Good Morning America

Once upon a time, a woman from India named Eliza Kewark was shunned by her family because of her race.

The father of her child referred to her as the "housekeeper" and the "purported mother" of their daughter, Katharine.

Katharine was sent off without her mother to England, and that's where this story might have ended. But Katherine gave birth to Jane, who gave birth to Ruth, who had another Ruth, who had Frances, who had Diana.

As in Princess Diana.

Which means that Great Britain will, one day, have a monarch with Indian blood, and the Commonwealth will be led by a king with a clear genetic link to its most populous nation.

Eliza Kewark is Prince William's great-great-great-great-great-grandmother. She has long been described as Armenian, but Kewark was at least half-Indian, the genetic ancestry testing company BritainsDNA announced today.

Will, Kate Celebrate Queen's 60th Anniversary

BritainsDNA says it is confident of Kewark's lineage because it traced Williams' mitochondrial DNA, or mtDNA, which is passed down from mother to child. BritainsDNA took saliva samples from two unnamed members of the royal family and traced it back seven generations to Kewark, who was born around 1790.

Kewark's mtDNA is so rare, BritainsDNA said, that it has only been found in 14 other people, all but one of whom was Indian (the other one was Nepali).

"It is therefore likely that Prince William has not only inherited a small proportion of Indian DNA from Eliza Kewark but her heirs will also carry it," BritainsDNA said today.

How the Royal Baby Will Be Kept Safe

According to the biography "The Real Diana," by Lady Colin Campbell, Kewark's background was known but kept quiet by a family that was full of Europeans descended from royalty.

"Eliza Kewark was a dark-skinned native of Bombay who had lived, without benefit of matrimony, with her great-great-grandfather Theodore Forbes while he worked for the East India Company," "The Real Diana" reads.

"Unsavory as the taint of illegitimacy was, even at that distance in time, it was nothing compared with the stigma of what was then known as 'colored blood.' Had it been generally known that Ruth [Diana's great-grandmother] and her children were part-Indian, they might never have made good marriages.

"Eliza's true race was therefore expunged from the family tree and she reemerged as an Armenian. This fiction was maintained even when Diana married the Prince of Wales."

But times have changed and, today, and the family of Diana, who died in a car accident in 1997, celebrated their Indian heritage.

Mary Roach, Princess Diana's maternal-aunt, told The Times, "I always assumed that I was part-Armenian so I am delighted that I also have an Indian background."

T,R: There were extremes: the West went to capitalism, the East/Russia to socialism

This story means the east and the west will come together

- The discussion covers the fact that Prince Charles mother Elizabeth was the child of Queen Mother Elizabeth and Noble Drew Ali – not discussed because how do you discuss a fake queen on a fake Stone of Scone with the melanin drained out of her, and that Elizabeth I was a Moor with red hair!

R: was this a petri dish kind of story?

T: this was passed on so they could claim the United States – requires more history about the Olmecs and when Egypt was in N America before it was in Africa!! Also, the story of Noble Drew Ali was expunged from the record

- As to number of people dead in Syria: 130,000 – they are missing 37,000 bodies which cannot be identified

Miko Peled at Central CT State University 2013

For this issues: the disagreement is on the basic facts, not on the interpretation of the facts!

Begins by describing the 2 myths about the Israel – Palestine situation that Netanyahu & others use

1. that the Jewish people have a right to go back to their original homeland –

- Zionism claimed about 100 years ago that the Jewish people have this right – yet there is no Jewish person alive who can trace roots back to ancient Jewish homeland. It was his grandfather's generation that persuaded the powers that be of this claim
- the Palestinians left Palestine over last 65 years; many of those exiled are still alive! And can find where they used to live; have given their descendants the deeds to the property, the keys to the house & so on

2. there is so much bad news about Palestine: he shows the picture of the photographer of made "Five Broken Cameras" receiving an award for his film
- the Palestinians call the war of 1967 a "catastrophe" yet the Jews call it the greatest war of their history; then he shows photo after photo after photo of what Israel is doing to the Palestinians of Gaza – and this began in 1948
  - The history of the catastrophe goes back to Dec 1947 & the UN decision

Caller2: with questions about how to begin with various projects – tired with fossils fuels, penal issues, etc etc wants the kids to be able to go universal universities

T: the platform of NESARA, this last 33 years was started with the World Symposium on Humanity which anchored the energy; then at least 500,000 NGOs were created –

- took 5 years to get the Symposium together & Altea America was the place where it was generated

- 1979 was the time it all began, and the funding was to come from NESARA
- Test packages went out in 1999 – started in CA, went to MI and other places; the people got their gold certificates and the money from them and put the money in the high bank
  - the Lady from the Land of the Poppy has been in Afghanistan since 1999; at the start she dressed like a man armed with an oozie and save children, old people, women and brought them to the US & other places
- Those who have gone ahead have dedicated their entire lives to doing this sort of thing – this is not the time to complain about where is my money; or I am throwing in the towel

T: what do you know about Dennis Kuchinch?

Caller2: – www.kuchinichaction.com

- He has started a Peace Alliance – violence against women, transformation centre
- Dr Joe Stein and the Green party – renewables that need to be put in place
- And some other people
- The Quakers and ?? church will stay involved
- the NESARA funding will really help – Veterans

T: Each group is where they are at; there is more to this than each group knows – she will be going from community centre to community centre and so on; the funds are unlimited, yet the way the funds are designated has to be done responsibly – we must learn how to learn from each other – we have a ton of stuff of un-learn!

Caller2: what is needed is the healing centres, not more recruiting centres etc; she spoke of being in malls and seeing the recruiting centres for the military in the US

T: this has all been planned – it is in the wings! Please get more people to come to these shows

- Rama has the mission to talk to Faction 3 because he is Ashtar's son – this will come with the full landing on a global scale. There will be no lack of help and support

Sunday is interesting: moon in Capricorn; will sextile Saturn and then Jupiter around noon

Monday: moon moves to opposite Mercury and later opposite Venus

Tues: Moon in Aquarius – Jupiter enters Cancer at 9:40 pm

Wed: Sun exactly trine Saturn; moon exactly Mars [in middle of Gemini] and Mercury goes Retrograde at same time

Thurs: moon into Pisces 4:30 am; Venus enters Leo at 1 pm – should be some temporary relief and a supporting energy for coming month; moon trines the sun

Fri: moon still in Pisces – will square Mars at 3 pm and trines Mercury in the evening at 8:15 pm.

Full moon chart

- Still have grand water trine – closer to being exact; reaching its peak of effectiveness and energy
  - if you are up before sunrise, you should see Mars rising
  - There is a kite; the axis of the kite is the full moon

Carl Boudreau talks of July 29th – planets are configured in a unique structure – a diamond tetrahedron an equilateral 6 pointed star with 3 oppositions going to each point & around the edge sextiles

The Astrology of July 2013, Approximately - YouTube

Published on 21 Jun 2013

I thought it was necessary to get a sense of the bigger astrological picture this month. So, July's video is an effort to get a grip on the larger astrological story. I discuss a complex and stable configuration that will be affecting us for at least the next year and try to describe it's likely effects on our lives and why it is making the world such a confusing place and why the world is sending out such mixed signals.

Don't miss the bonus section on July's Diamond Tetrahedron at the end of the graphics section.

Richard: goes back to 22.58 and freezes the video to discuss

“It establishes a whole now status quo socially, culturally, economically, politically and technologically”

- the 3 oppositions which make up the 6 pointed star are in earth and water signs which are feminine – theme of rebalancing the old paradigm of the patriarchy as we continue to re-balance
  - one axis Pluto vs Jupiter & Mars
  - 2nd Saturn on North node opposite moon in South node [Scorpio Taurus]
  - 3rd Neptune, Chiron in Pisces opposite Venus in Virgo

T: January 23, 1996, around 10:43 am MST – It was the first hit of the Age of Aquarius – same chart – dead ringer for it!

- No body ever said this would be over in a flash.
- Brings up Lyn and what she had to say: lots of folks chomping at the bit to get going!!!
- Now

Ri: Have a Kite and a T square – it is the T-square which is the unbalanced cross and causes the upset

T: Never a dull moment – we have to stay focussed

Ri: and stay grounded: in the short term, the water trine is about working with our emotional body, our feelings and how we think about our feelings, and how our feelings influence our thinking and our logical mind.

- It takes a master to work these energies; as we are incarnated at this time, we are masters and have proved ourselves in the past

Ri: Several times this week, he wanted to pick up the phone and carry on about what he was seeing, hearing

- Carl said and Ri agrees that this will continue for a while – good news, bad news; they don't want to go and they gotta go; we have a problem with the cabal and we have to stay grounded;

>>> as the father of an 18-month-old, i finds myself sitting in the sandbox watching my daughter. she'll stomp over to some other unsuspecting toddler and do something breathtakingly anti-social, snatching a bucket from some boy's hands. a big part of parenting is walking over and saying, calmly, but firmly, no, we don't do that. we don't do that. that's the motto of the socialization process, and we all, from the time we emerge from the womb to our last breath on this earth are ceaselessly being taught the rules of society, of what is and isn't tolerated, what is and isn't done about this is of course necessary and vital, observing social taboos, wanting to be respected and liked by our peers, in short caring what other people think the cornerstone of civilization. it's our default setting and makes human flourishing possible. but it's a crucial but. there are many circumstances in life, when caring too much about the esteem of our peers, about what just isn't done is massively destructive. think about it, there were many executives inside enron who probably would have spoken up or called the feds if they weren't so worried about destroying their relationships with their co-workers. and there were dozens, hundreds, of bankers and brokers during the housing bubble that went along with a ponzi scheme because pointing out that it was all a scam is something we don't do. there are reporters that know more than they will ever tell their readers, they do not want to invite reprimand from their peers or sources. certain people, though are able somehow to transcend our deep socialization when the circumstances call for it. they're able to recognize corruption or duplicity that others accept to go along to get along. i've always had a special admiration for those people, who when it matters are willing to proclaim loudly, even rudely, this is f-ed up. michael hastings was that kind of person. the 33-year-old reporter and author died early tuesday morning in a car wreck. a brutal tragic loss that has robbed the world of an exemplary journalist and talented writer. he wrote detailed diligent riveting pieces that made things uncomfortable for politics and people of all kind of his blockbuster rolling stone article about stanley mcchrysal painted a picture of a general who rolled his people under him. there was a backlash.

>> it was an interview heralded around the world. mcchrysal and his aides disparaged president obama and called the national security officer a clown.

>> michael hastings, if you believe him, says there were no ground rules laid out. to me, something doesn't add up here, i don't believe it.

>> was michael hastings fair to the military men that trusted him.

>> you have to wonder what rolling stone did to win over the general's confidence. this reporter is not someone with a track record.

>> you have someone who's making friends with you, pretending to be sympathetic.

>> it will have a chilling effect on reporting u.s. military .

>> this will set back the reporting quite a ways, the trust between the military and the media has been shot out of the water.

>> michael hastings has never served his country the way mcchrysal has.

>> this is going to have a dire effect between the media relations and the field.

>> you see, michael , we don't do that. now, some of those people who are willing to yell out that the emperor has no clothes, some of them turn out to be people you wouldn't wish to spend a lot of time with. some are jerks who are in the right place at the right time. people whose natural anti-social inclinations turn out to be useful and adaptive under certain circumstances but make them tiresome otherwise. what was so amazing about michael is that he wasn't that way. he liked to argue for sure. he could be difficult, but he was kind, generous, and charming and earnest. really earnest. and i got the sense in talking to him, that he wanted to be liked. which is what makes his body of work all that more remarkable. last night as i was sitting alone after the show at home processing his death i thought about him writing up the first draft of that mcchrysal article. knowing that publishing it would mean the senior officials he spent all that time with would hate him, feel betrayed, that the white house would never trust him, others in the press corps would view him as violating a code. future sources would be less likely to talk to him. i think of charming michael sitting alone in the charming light of his laptop, staring at his computer reading the draft one more time and knowing all of that was about to happen. and then i picture him hitting "send"

Attributes

Here is a resource paper/technology summary on the top ten basic attributes/reasons why LFTRs (Liquid Fluoride Thorium Reactors) should be pursued. This is a very easy to use resource to have handy when you are talking to a legislator or talking to a friend, neighbor, or family member. While Thorium's use in a LFTR has many benefits we feel these top ten are the easiest to convey to someone knowing little about the technology in order to peak their interest.

THORIUM AND LFTR TOP TEN ATTRIBUTES

The abundance of the element thorium throughout the Earth's crust promises widespread energy independence through Liquid Fluoride Thorium Reactor (LFTR) technology. A mere 6,600 tonnes of thorium could provide the energy equivalent of the combined global consumption of 5 billion tonnes of coal, 31 billion barrels of oil, 3 trillion cubic meters of natural gas, and 65,000 tonnes of uranium. With LFTR, a handful of thorium can supply an individual's lifetime energy needs; a grain silo full could power North America for a year; and known thorium reserves could power advanced society for many thousands of years.

LFTR is based on demonstrated technology with sound operational fundamentals proven by 20,000 hours of reactor operation at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in the late 1960's. Despite recognized, compelling advantages, LFTR development stalled when political and financial capital were concentrated instead on fast-spectrum plutonium breeding reactors.

LFTR operates at low pressure, is chemically and operationally stable, and passively shuts down without human intervention. Low pressures eliminate the need for massive and costly pressure containment vessels and alleviate safety concerns about high-pressure releases to the atmosphere. LFTR offers significant gains in safety, cost and efficiency with greatly reduced environmental impact relative to existing light-water reactors (LWRs).

LFTR is more efficient, using 99% of the thorium-derived fuel and extracting significantly more energy from abundant, inexpensive thorium than other reactors can from more scarce and costly uranium. LWRs burn scarce fissile reserves as a one-time consumable; LFTR consumes fertile thorium, using fissile reserves only to start the thorium fuel-cycle.

LFTR can use a range of nuclear starter fuels and can consume plutonium and other actinides from legacy spent nuclear fuel stockpiles. Molten salt reactors were started on all three fuel options and once operational, LFTR can continue operation with just thorium.

LFTR produces safe, sustainable, carbon-free electricity and a range of radioisotopes useful for medical imaging, cancer therapy, industrial applications and space exploration. LFTR waste heat can be used to desalinate sea water and high primary heat can drive ammonia production for agriculture and fuels or synthesis of liquid hydrocarbon fuels.

Most LFTR byproducts stabilize within a decade and have commercial value; the minor remainder has a half-life of less than 30 years, stabilizing within hundreds rather than tens of thousands of years. LFTR waste is primarily fission products and does not include unspent fuel, fuel cladding, or long-lived transuranics typical of legacy spent nuclear fuel.

LFTRs can be mass-produced in a factory and delivered and reclaimed from utility sites as modular units. Modular LFTR production offers reduced capital costs and shorter build times. Modular installation near the point of need also eliminates long transmission lines. Higher temperatures and turbine efficiencies enable air-cooling away from water bodies.

LFTR and thorium are proliferation resistant. Thorium and its derivative fuel, uranium-233, are impractical and undesirable for weaponization efforts relative to well-known uranium enrichment and plutonium breeding pathways. Thus, despite 60 years of thorium research, none of the world's tens-of-thousands of warheads are based on the thorium fuel-cycle.

Liquid salt fuels cannot fail or meltdown. The liquid salt fuels have a thousand-degree liquid range, eliminating the possibility of fuel failure scenarios from overheating or meltdown like at Fukushima. The liquid fuel form is a key differentiator from conventional solid-fueled LWRs with LFTR's liquid salts serving as both a fuel carrier and coolant. The salts are not reactive with water or the atmosphere like some existing fuels and coolants. Fuel can be added to the salts and byproducts removed while the reactor remains online.

2013, June 19 GOT LOVE? Aluna Joy Yaxk'in with the Star Elders

In observing the world over the last few weeks, we are seeing subtle, and sometimes not so subtle, events that are showing us that the old world is beginning to unravel from the inside out, and new foundations are being built in the new world. Higher frequencies are flooding the planet and showering everyone, everything and all life with increasingly stronger waves of light.

On a personal level . . . this intense light is pushing us to an intense primal level, where we are questioning everything including our purpose and even our very existence. We are seeing reality the way it really IS, rather than how we want it to be. The sugar coating we use to cover our issues is melting away. We are feeling raw and exposed with this new level of cosmic truth serum, and our self-esteem may seem like it is going down the toilet. We are feeling shoved to the edge of our very existence in a multitude of directions at once. It is hard to keep our center and our heads above water. We feel numb and tired with confusion and struggle. However, we know in our hearts that this is going somewhere, and this faith keeps us going. In truth, we are not as stuck as it feels.

We don't like where our "well trained" minds are going either. Our minds are wavering back and forth from some brilliant visions to some pretty grim places. We might even think in extremes. We might be thinking "Have we awakened and ascended?", or "Have we lost the battle, and the darkness is winning?" This emotional flip-flopping is actually true, as the last inflamed vestiges of duality are being flushed out leaving us feeling the illusion that the world is more polarized than ever. This is true because of three things: First, we are finally ready to see everything just as it is. Secondly, huge light pulses are clearing out all the mis-qualified energy, and we are simply becoming awake to old long-standing issues. Thirdly, we are experiencing some off-planet opposition to our ascension (I will share more about this below).

In these energies, it will become increasingly harder to anchor or control anything in our lives that is not in exact alignment with these pulses of higher frequency light. If we haven't let go and surrendered enough already, these waves of light are asking us to reach another level of surrender. It is a time in where we have no choice but to live moment by moment, with no future in front of us, and a past history that is fading fast. But we must keep trying, and keep moving. Nothing or no one will be left untouched as this dimension goes through the blender and is turned into cosmic compost. The creative universe is only excavating the purest form of light that we anchored here, and the rest will be tossed aside into the universal compost bin. Our only center point, in this volatile spinning world, is our faith in our truth that comes from our hearts knowing. We are being asked to be at peace as much as possible and to stand back and witness this incredible transformation.

Without Faith in the outcome, all of our meditation and positive energy projections from December 21, or any other time, are simply a waste. Faith is the key to anchoring the Age of Light in its purity and completeness. ~ Amorah Quan Yin (We send Amorah much love on her new journey to her next soul adventure. Amorah passed away this past June 13th.)

Oddly, these times are of no surprise. The Star Elders have shared for years that the new world will emerge like a flower out of a compost heap. They just didn't tell us how we were going to do this emerging, or where that compost heap was coming from, or how this would affect us personally. The fact is that no one knows how this is going to pan out. I think we are starting to get the picture now. This truth can be brutal and liberating. This transformational process is morphing each and every one of us . . . starting at the very foundation of our old self and our relationship with the old 3D world.

On a planetary level . . . The illusions and lies that have been perpetuated in the world to control humanity and farm our energy are being flushed out. This is disturbing to those who think they are in control, and very liberating to those who have lived their lives outside the usual societal boundaries. The old world systems are beginning to dissolve under our feet. While old global illusions painfully die away, we are starting to receive new inspirational revelations. We are beginning to assimilate these new energies in our core.

Key activating transformers, whistle blowers, truth rebels, and system busters are now in place within ALL the systems of the Earth. They are placed in areas and are engaged in professions and trades where consciousness is out of sync and harmony with the higher frequencies of light. These brave ones will be huge triggers to shift and transform the self-serving world systems into a world that will be in service to humanity and the ONE. The world is becoming more transparent each day, and there is no place for anyone to hide anymore. Anything that is out of alignment with the purity and impeccability of the new world will simply . . . step by step . . . fall away.

Now the trick is to arrive unscathed, and bloom like an exquisite, rare lotus on top of the fertile compost heap. This is not new territory for our Spirit, but it is for our body. This is a "learn as you go" trial and error period we are living in. The fact is that we really don't know what we are doing just yet, but we can find a gracious way to deal with our personal and world's transformation.

Things that can help . . . Follow your heart in each moment. Keep life as simple as possible. Stay in the present. Live moment to moment. Go with the flow . . . that is if you can find it. :) Keep moving. Keep trying things out until you find the thing that works. Don't be attached to anything working the way you would have expected it to in the past. Do not take anything personally. Plans will be made, plans will fail, and plans will even morph into something else in a heartbeat. Much will transform to make beautiful compost for us to sprout in. Soon we will be living in the present moment . . . the NOW that we have all been asking for.

But the NOW isn't what we hoped it would be either. We have envisioned that being in the present NOW would be a comfortable and peaceful place; but this is not necessarily true. We can feel anxious, depressed and at peace all at once in these bizarre times. God/Creator of all things, feels everything . . . all the time . . . without judgment or attachment. You know the saying . . . "Before enlightenment, we chop wood and carry water. After enlightenment, we chop wood and carry water." It is how we react to the NOW that matters, and not what the NOW contains.

An example . . . Ten years ago I had a car accident in a sudden thunder storm. Activated by the huge impact, I was catapulted into a state of ONENESS with everything. I felt utter joy from the freezing, cold rain that was pelting down on me, and at the same time I felt the utter horror of a newly forming war in the M. East, and everything in between. I was feeling the worst pain in my life, as well as feeling endless joy and gratitude. I was everywhere at once, and ONE with everything. It was not all love and light; nor was it all pain and suffering. I was present in the NOW as a witness and a participant in life. I felt connected to everything without any judgment of good or bad, or right or wrong. It felt glorious and natural and even terrifying. Even as I sat there with my arm crushed . . . I still felt at peace and ONE with all life and with GOD. I had no idea at the time that this accident would prepare me for this transformational time. Now the Star Elders are aware that you wanted the world to shift in a flash of light. They also know that you might be feeling duped by spiritual teachings, followings and traditions. Remember these teachings served you well. The truth is that our Spirits could have leaped instantly. We have been ready to fly for a long time. But remember we are taking our physical bodies this time. All these spiritual teachings, followings and traditions prepared our Spirits. But nothing was in place to prepare our bodies for what we are facing now. After we accomplish this process, this wisdom will be our legacy for future generations. But for now, our bodies are still letting go of negative memory, outdated programming and history. This can be a painful and an unbelievably slow process from our Spirit's perspective. We might feel like two people in one: the one who is ready to leap (your heart), and the other that says "Now wait a minute . . . I don't know about this." (your mind) We are going to do this yo-yo process for a while as our body gets continually inoculated with the new higher frequencies. We need to honor both sides of this process. Do not worry about your progress, as forward movement cannot be stopped at this point. Even though these last few months we have not been feeling much inspiration and passion, we are now starting to slowly move out of the lack luster blahs-ville of the first half of 2013.

So what is going on now, what is the hang up, and why are we not there yet already?

A well planned dimensional shift takes place on uncountable dimensional levels, and it needs to happen all at once. All dimensions below us, as well as those above us, need to ascend with impeccable synchronicity. One dimension must not jump ahead, or lag behind. All must rise up together as ONE. Apparently this is quite a difficult process to orchestrate. Even with our many trial runs and dress rehearsals over eons of time, this is a huge, universal undertaking to get all the uncountable layers of dimensions lined up to leap simultaneously.

Let us just say here, without any fear attached . . . (I even questioned heartily if I should write about this) that there has been some pretty turbulent, off-planet energies trying to block and stop our personal ascension process since 12/22/2012 (Expert dousters in several parts of the world are affirming this fact). We must have these off-planet energies really worried by now. They are trying to keep us lost in indecision and doubt. They are trying to block us from feeling what is right to do in each moment. Lately, we can be so undecided that we feel just plain frozen and numb. Some of us may feel so lost, and in such a dark place, that we might want to throw in the towel. Some people have left us already. Let us just say here that these lower vibrational energies will FAIL at this attempt to block us. These attempts are only making us clearer and stronger in the light. This will not work out so well for them in the long run. The Star Elders have said for years that we will be victorious. Even those who have left their bodies are now building bridges for us to cross. We all must not quit now, just as the mission is nearing completion. I know this is starting to sound like a broken record . . . but anything worth creating can take a lot of work to obtain in or out of a body.

When the doors between the dimensions began to open on December 22, 2012, some of these off-planet trouble makers, dark entities, etc... leaped ahead into the pristine upper dimensions going all the way to the 8th dimension. Their energy has contaminated and corrupted these higher dimensions, and have made them unfit for us to move into . . . just for now. It is vitally important to be patient. We want to make sure that we enter a pristine, clean and clear dimension to anchor a new world. We want this new cycle to grow into paradise that we have envisioned for decades.

Just like we have a plan to build paradise in this new cycle, these dark, off-planet beings have a counter plan. They have been working with the world's powers, so when the shift happens, they would not lose control and domination over the new dimension. But they are losing control no matter how they try to stop it. Their efforts will be futile. Again, the Star Elders say this is not going so well for them, but they are giving it a good try just the same.

These vampire-like beings/energies are not the only beings out there in the universe. We too have divine super, light-powered extraterrestrial help as well. There are uncountable, supportive, off-planet divine councils of light that are right now working overtime to clean and clear the upper dimensions for us. They are also here to help build this new world. They will make themselves known to us when the time is right. This clean-up process could take as much as three to four years (this all depends on the masses taking positive action). At that point (2016), we will be 100% free and clear of the transformational energy of the dark rift in the Milky Way. When we come out the other side of the dark rift, we will feel like all this time was just a weird dream. We will also come out of the fog filled void and become clearer about what we need to create for our future.

This off-planet interference is why we feel like we have been living in limbo, yet, at the same time, we feel that time is whizzing past us so fast that it is disorienting. The intensity is like living in a pressure cooker without having any real outer evidence to why we are feeling this way. Our leap has been held back only for a short time. We were not able to move into this new world as originally planned (beginning around the dates of 12/22/2012). The Star Elders say that "our new house is a bit dirty". But this will be rectified quickly.

The good news is . . . there is a window of great opportunity with a tremendous acceleration of the light force on June 20 - 21, (Solstice) through June 23 (largest full moon of the year). Would you like to put that light of yours to work? If so, please share this message with your networks ASAP. The PROPOSAL . . . To FLOOD the 4th through 8th Dimensions with a tremendous amount of LOVE, COMPASION, HARMONY, BALANCE and PEACE.

We are inviting you to partake and contribute in a FOUR DAY massive wave of illuminated heart energy to counter act and neutralize any mischievous, murky and mis-qualified energy that has reached the 4th through 8th dimensions. This is a massive 4 day GLOBAL LOVE-a-LUTION, beginning on Friday, June 20-21, (Solstice) through June 23rd (the largest full moon of the year). Do this as often as your time permits during this time. This will create a 96 hour "Evolution of LOVE" through-out the 4th through 8th dimensions. This is a unified and collective clean-up process fueled by Earth's best and brightest light workers (P.S. That is YOU!). This will help assist our enlightened Star Families and the Planetary Divine Councils of Light in this clean up effort.

Remember this is not a battle of light over darkness. War and conflict is the way of the old world and that of duality. The focus is to project your LIGHT and HEART into the 4th through 8th dimensions, thus transforming, any and all negative infiltration of mis-qualified energy from the 3D and off-planet influences. The Star Elders shared that this 4 day time period will be a very potent time with a great window of opportunity for this work to be done. Also in the last part of July, during some very powerful Grand Trines, there will be yet another great opportunity to lend a hand to our divine, extraterrestrial soul family.

P.S. We apologize for not giving you more time to plan these important days with your network and soul families, but we are living and doing this work in a moment to moment basis. Aluna Joy and Raphael will be broadcasting their bit of love to the upper dimensions on Mount Shasta for a good amount of time in these 96 hours. Now we know why we were called here! Blessings and LOVE to our amazing soul family.
