- He said every day he gets a lecture about how things are moving quickly, and humans are moving slowly
- T: we are not really moving slowly anymore: some are flowing against the current: resistance is futile we will be assimilated by love!
- there were 10,000 or more in the one place in DC, but also all over the country!
  - There was a march with 500 people in Santa Fe: police let them alone; big signs of Michael Brown, Eric Gardner; a picture of a homeless man from Albuqueque who had mental health issues not covered due to his lack of money; was affected by the ELF and ULF frequencies
- the shaman eye dr brought up the issue: as we have universal health care there are already folks who can re- grow their optic nerve: blind people can see again! Next step is Dr McCoy!
  - The rats in the sack are going down with the ship; they are in an undescribable agony
  - Mother comes to release everyone in that position.

Teran and Bear: with the 12:12 energy coming in, anything is possible and probable!

- There has been no RV, no global reset; no General Ham called President Ham: it is all BS!!!
  - Obama is still the President!
  - none of the stories out there are true: NESARA BLOGS AND FORUMS IS A BLACK OPS!
  - There are other spiritual and political websites that are infiltrated by CIA or are CIA
  - We need to comprehend this: there are energies that have never been here before; as we seek the higher frequencies so we can discern at a higher place, then we will not even question these things.
    - these sites are clever: any time they mention re-valuation, dinars, any other concepts –

The December 13 'MHP' Syllabus 12/12/14 06:36 PM By Victoria Asbury

The struggle continues and the protesters persist. It's been more than two weeks since a grand jury decided not to indict Ferguson police officer Darren Wilson in the shooting death of Michael Brown; it's been more than 9 days since the same outcome was reached for a New York police officer responsible for the choking death of Eric Garner. These non-indictments, the deaths of other unarmed Black men and children—including 12 year-old Tamir Rice—caused by police officers, and the heavy handed violent response of the state has prompted sustained protests throughout the country. We'll take the first hour of the program to talk about the purpose of the protests.

First, we'll be joined by Shawn Torres and Benjamin Perry, two graduate students from Union Theological Seminary. Torres and Perry both participated in protests against police brutality but had vastly different experiences. While peacefully offering their selves up, Torres who is black was arrested, while Perry, who is white was pushed away, thrown to the ground and told 'Just get out of here.'

Then, veteran organizers and activists will discuss what it takes to turn a march into a movement. Our panelists include:

Frances Fox Piven, author of "Challenging Authority: How Ordinary People Change America" Vince Warren, executive director of the Center for Constitutional Rights
Barbara Smith, author of "Ain't Gonna Let Nobody Turn Me Around"
Carmen Perez, executive director of Gathering for Justice and co-founder of Justice League NYC

In the second hour of the show, we'll shift our attention to the CIA interrogation program. Did the program cross the line? Is torture ever appropriate? Did medical professionals protect or prolong abuse? Was the program effective... and does that even matter? Frances Piven and Vince Warren will be joined by Earl Catagnus, assistant professor of History and Security Studies at Valley Forge Military College, and Dr. Sandeep Jauhar, author of "Doctored: The Disillusionment of an American Physician."

Then: under the radar. Mark Greenblatt, national investigative correspondent at Scripps, joins us to discuss the little known, yet frightening, secret about military sexual offenders: many live amongst us without registering with public sex offenders registries. Greenblatt will be joined by Anu Bhagwati, former Captain of the U.S. Marines and executive director of Service Women's Action Network. http://www.msnbc.com/melissa-harris-perry/the-december-13-mhp-syllabus-0

2014, Dec 12 The 12:12 Activation~ message from Archangel Gabriel channeled by Shanta Gabriel http://spiritlibrary.com/spiritual-entities/archangel-gabriel

Dear Ones,

The 12:12 Activation on December 12 will bring the highest frequencies ever encoded in the Light of the Christ Consciousness to the planet for transformation of the Earth and all beings.

Through the power of the associated gateways held open by the Archangels at the 11:11, a new force of the Christ Consciousness will be made available during the 12:12 Activation. The power of this awakening energy enables each person to have the experience of the Christ Light at the moment of the 12:12 Coding. Once experienced you will not fall back into old ways, as the Golden Christ Light literally expunges from your being frequencies that no longer serve you. Transformed by Light, the cells awaken to the coding embedded by your soul. This activation has been held in abeyance until the earth consciousness would support mass awakening. Awareness and preparation are key signatures for the transformation available through the Christ Light. That time is Now.

As I mention in the report, the important item to remember in this mantra is everyTHING. The Spirit is eternal and the rest is temporal. As the revolving door of life speeds up these days, it is hard not to go into fear/panic at the unpredictable nature of life. And yet it is fear, with its roots in egoic separation, that actually is the creator of the illusion of uncertainty! The High Self sits in serene stillness through the tornado stirring the 3D world.... Time to tap into that space where loss and death are nothing more than the spinning wheels of time.... whoa... did I say that? Ha ha! Injoy!

- In the next month, we'll go through a change of position in Sagittarius for the last 2 months;

  Mercury has been trailing the sun's position, now Mercury is leading the sun behind Venus.
- Venus just went into Capricorn, and will be conjuncting Pluto soon [Dec 20] square Uranus, then Mercury and Sun will conjunct Pluto as we approach Dec 21
- Over the last couple of months, the new moons have been in the 1st degree this month will be at 1* Capricorn new moon close to the changing of the signs
- Jupiter is close to trine Mercury

Mon: Uranus exactly square Pluto; moon in Libra

Tues: moon will oppose Uranus at midnight, and squares Pluto same time

Mercury goes into Capricorn at night

Wed: Moon in Scorpio around 10am; then it sextiles sun and Mercury, trines Venus

Thurs: still in Scorpio

Fri: moon still in Scorpio until 5 pm; conjuncts Saturn at the close of the business week – when stock exchange closes! Stock exchanges dropped 700 pts this week.

Sat: a busy day with aspects: Venus exactly square Uranus with moon in Sag; Venus conjuncts Pluto on the 20th

Sun: On the solstice, Uranus goes stationary turning direct

23rd Saturn into sag; Mercury square Uranus on Christmas Eve & moon will conjunct Mars late at night

24th – Mercury conjunct Pluto

Conference Call

T: an intensely changeful day – after all that information!

- Tell them about watching Caught on Camera: a triangular ship, some strange sea creatures out of Alaska
- No, the Loch Ness "monsters" are not human miscreations

R: there are creatures that have been on the earth from the very beginning

- they are reptilians, very ancient dinasours that have been here since the beginning!
- Sasquatch are covered with fur; very smart ones in the Himilayas are Yetis!

Caller2: Mother Sekmet talking about practicing travelling in our merkaba – dreamt a few days ago of flying and went over a cliff to practice landing softly;

- a black panther & her babies came up to her and wrapped herself around the dreamer,
- Thinks was getting some lessons there for a job well done. Once came as a snow lion

T: Mother's job is awesome

Tommy: asked about their electric bill which was so high the last time

T: KOS got on the line with the company; the bill was adjusted; this month it was as it should have been Tommy: can look at things as all fiction: was hard get his head around this idea until he learned some of the later stuff; the court system, the judicial system is a microcosm of the macrocosm of our lives.

- When people get a statement in the mail, who is making it? No body it's fiction! It's not a true bill - we are tricked with words: it's really a statement.
- We are not residents in our homes: that is fiction; we domicile in the home. The IRS set up zip codes to attach to the house: we the people
- A true bill is what is signed in Congress; the "bill" we get is not that it's a statement.

T: yes; and, in the end, we still have to pay!

Tommy: explains the entire idea of how our lives are fiction; how mind control also applies to us even beyond our imagination!

• The birth certificate says we are incompetent

T: she does understand all he is saying, and she would rather not continue the loop he is describing

- when we maintain the power of the positive thought, we can make a few changes
- She has long let that go yes, she knows the contract [with the property management co] is fiction

Tommy: knowing this is part of the truth telling, and he had to learn it all

T: there is another space, and she is working on that – knows people who never eat, get sick, or get cold

• she is doing everything she can to disengage – the power is truly within.

Tommy: yes, it is in the acceptance of it all. To live and practice the sovereign way is

• the only thing that transcends is our I - mage - i - nation

T: that reality is about learning sovereignty is diminishing greatly -

Yes, it's true: people living in the mountains does not equal sovereignty – only survival

T: enjoyed so much the wisdom teacher on M H-P today: the young people learning the value of linking together and cooperating is a new and different energy from the idea of getting our soverignty

Tommy: the point is about the intention: our mind can move mountains: people could sit at home with a serious purpose and with laser focus and transform the reality

T: yes, that is good and well and true, and the younger group is doing things at ages we never knew about even 7 years old helping other. The process is moving faster than it ever has before because of the work the previous generation has done; the younger people do not have to repeat what we Tommy: talks about the intentional experiments of Lynn McTaggart – it is the emotion behind the experiments that make them successful.

Talks about moving mountains by intention

T: invites him to Cheryl's call because all we do there is work with intention.

Mother says it is the most important thing we can do, and he is right in what he said.

Caller from Atlanta: talking about the current legislation – wants to understand the President's position some more: he was making personal appearances with Jamie Dimon – what are we really seeing? T: he is playing on a triple chess board with KOS. Ashtar, and the others and then there is Kissinger, McCain. Boehner etc on the other side

- He is a galactic commander, over lighted by El Morya; stopped 49 wars as Akbar the Great
- India is where Lemuria went, and the current Indian President is not a good person!

Cheney on torture: 'I would do it again'

Cheney: Senate torture report is 'full of crap'

Cheney gave a full defense of CIA interrogation tactics & dodged a question about one of the agency's methods - "rectal rehydration." Valerie Plame & Michael Hirsh discuss.

2014, Dec 14 Cheney slams Senate torture report, says practices were effective Updated 12/11/14 07:59 AM By Joy Y. Wang

"I think we were fundamentally justified and I would do it again in a minute," said former Vice President Dick Cheney on Wednesday about the Bush administration's use of "enhanced interrogation techniques" now characterized as torture in a scathing Senate report.

"Torture is something we very carefully avoided." Former Vice President Dick Cheney

Cheney spoke with FOX News' Bret Baier in response to the report, which graphically described brutal treatment of detainees. He called the report a "terrible piece of work" that was "deeply flawed" because it failed to interview key people involved in the program.

RELATED: Should Bush be prosecuted for torture?

Revelations also included the claim that torturing terrorism suspects yielded no actionable intelligence. "The report's full of crap," Cheney shot back. "It did in fact produce actionable intelligence that kept us safe from attacks."

He added that "The work that was done was absolutely essential" and said that the intelligence gathered by the methods yielded information that included a warning about a potential attack on the West Coast.

"I am totally comfortable with it," Cheney said. "We had reporting that al Qaeda was trying to get their hands on nuclear weapons, that they had been dealing with Pakistanis, who had nuclear weapons."

"[Enhanced interrogation] did in fact produce actionable intelligence that kept us safe from attacks." Former vice president Dick Cheney

During the interview, the ex-vice president insisted that the Bush administration had worked with Justice Department lawyers and the office of the general counsel in particular to ensure the "enhanced interrogation practices" used were legal.

"Torture is something we very carefully avoided," he said. "One of the reasons we went to the Justice Department is because we wanted to know specifically what was legal and what was not."

When asked about the detail in the Senate report that one detained was rectally fed a puree of food and that rectal rehydration was also used, Cheney said he had no specific knowledge of that but again focused on the justification for the methods.

"Three thousand Americans died on 9/11 because of what these guys did," he said of the detainees. "And I have no sympathy for them."

That sentiment also extended to Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, the alleged mastermind of the attacks who was reportedly waterboarded 183 times in a single month. "He is in our possession and he is the architect [of 9/11], what are supposed to do? Kiss him on the cheeks?" Cheney said. "We did what we had to do."

He specifically defended the practice of waterboarding. "It was not deemed torture by our lawyers — and it worked," Cheney said, adding that the drowning simulation was used in training the country's own intelligence operatives.

The CIA was reportedly so concerned by the legality of the practices that it double checked with the Bush administration after President George W. Bush condemned torture at the 2003 U.N. International Day in Support of Victims of Torture. Shortly afterward, Cheney said "that the CIA was executing administration policy in carrying out its interrogation program," according to the Senate report. He reiterated that sentiment in Wednesday's interview.

He repeatedly commended the CIA for doing "a hell of a job" and said the Senate report amounted to "throwing professionals under the bus." Cheney also focused on the national mood and challenges the Bush administration faced in the immediate aftermath of the 9/11 attacks.

In response to Sen. Mark Udall's blistering criticism Wednesday of the CIA's practices and his call for accountability at the highest levels, the former vice president was unfazed.

"I don't know where he was on 9/11, but he wasn't in the bunker," Cheney said.

He also noted that they began the drone program, and that he had no concerns about treating the detainees according to the Geneva Convention.

"Remember the terrorists were not covered by the Geneva Convention. They were not entitled to the normal courtesies," he said, adding that he's certain that detainees now are "being treated very reasonably."

The Justice Department conducted a criminal investigation into the interrogation program in 2009, and a senior administration official told msnbc's Joy Reid Tuesday that the attorney general's office had no plans to reopen the case. Nonetheless, human rights advocates have been calling for accountability at the highest levels of government and for assurances that the U.S. would never again use such shocking practices.

2014, Dec 13 Uranus Pluto Square: December 14/15th 2014~

http://www.mysticmamma.com/uranus-pluto-square-december-1415th-2014/

Here we go, on December 14th/15th we reach the 6th of 7 Pluto Uranus Square configurations that began activating since 2012. These cosmic configurations are like trigger points of our collective awakening/evolution.

Here are the MYSTIC MAMMA Astral Insights from our beloved featured astrologers shedding light on the collective energies of the times.

First from the wise CATHY PAGANO from her Wisdom of Astrology:

"These planets first came together to begin a new cycle of evolution and revolution in the mid-60s in Virgo (the sign of personal integrity), beginning the revolution that is continuing today regarding the environment, women's rights, civil rights, holistic health, healthy foods, workers' rights and spiritual awareness.

"During the 60s, these energies gave rise to new ideas and beliefs which went against the grain of the culture. During the past 50 years, our society has integrated some parts of these revolutionary energies, but not all.

"Now these new beliefs and values need to be rooted more securely in our collective mindset. Our economic and social structures no longer serve the people and it's time to re-set our course, away from manipulation and domination and into real freedom and individual responsibility.

"A square is a 90* angle which brings about a change in direction, a re-orientation of consciousness. A square's energy lets you know that you've come to a crossroads and now you must choose which path to take.

"A square calls for decisive action which often entails struggle and assertive action, often causing lots of inner tension and friction but also opening up our awareness to new possibilities.

"The energies of these two specific planets can be explosive, but also enlivening. Pluto is deep, powerful life-energy. Uranus is out-of-the-blue electrical discharge, the spark of life. Together they are brewing new life. We are challenged to act on these new possibilities. If we repress them, those life-giving energies will turn poisonous and implode.

"This square between Pluto and Uranus is very polarizing. We are seeing many examples of that polarization between Pluto (the old) and Uranus (the new)...As the polarization gets wider, we are seeing all the cracks in our democracy.

"This 6th square between Pluto and Uranus will bring up issues of balance and cooperation, especially because both Mercury Venus are involved...Since Venus is the energy of harmony, love, beauty, and unification and Mercury promotes better communication, perhaps we can expect some actual change to happen both within and without.

"...The next step is for us to open our higher consciousness to a new vision of what we want our lives to look like so we can create a more sustainable and responsible way of living in the world and in connection to Mother Earth.

"Our deepest connection must be to the Earth right now, since that's where the answers to our problems will come from. We have to remember we are Earth's children as well as children of Heaven, and realign ourselves with the World Soul—the consciousness of Mother Earth.

"This consciousness is available to each of us when we listen to life with our imaginations and open to our dreams. We've been trained to ignore and vilify the very things that can connect us to each other and to the Earth. Right now, we need to find some Wisdom to deal with these changes, and Mother Earth and our own souls can help us if we listen.

"This is the challenge of our times—to open to our own brilliance and re-create the world. We have to become conscious co-creators of life—we have to consciously evolve ourselves and our society to the next stage of human awareness."

From the wonderful DIPALI DESAI and her Celestial Space Astrology:

"We are in the heart of the symbolic storm of change and highly creative raw potential as we fast approach the sixth aspect and symbolic activation of Uranus in Aries – retrograde 'Square' Pluto in Capricorn at 12 degrees on December 14th/15th, 2014.

"As always, astrological aspects are not a one day event, rather, like a wave in the Ocean that builds and then peaks, astrological aspects have a similar pattern.

"Yet this particular major astrological transit will leave portion untouched. Everything changes and sometimes in extreme ways with Uranus/Pluto square.

"As this stage of the major astrological aspect between Uranus 'Square' Pluto, the themes and issues are very familiar to each of us that have been consciously addressing and growing alongside of this aspect for the last two years or so..."

"...It is very likely that our personal metamorphosis may feel chaotic, painful and very uncomfortable. Breathe and allow it, know it won't last and it is a moving energetic flow. Then we are moving along with it all than clenching down and blocking the flow of energy.

"Truly, we may not be in control over the evolutionary force or how long things last in the growth and or healing, yet we have the option to make a conscious powerful choice to move with ease and effortlessness through non-resistance and knowing we are guided and supported by all of life and the Divine.

"Yes, survival issues are up now for some people. Money, job, health, life/death...'Can I survive? 'Will I or this relationship make it?'

"Transforming this into a higher perspective is, 'What is the main Spiritual insight and purpose of this issue or situation? What am I learning about empowerment and trust? How may I be empowered and understand that this is helping me to outgrow one into another?' 'What are the steps to really live and thrive in my life than merely survive it?'

"These are helpful ways to begin to perceive issue/situation from a higher point of view (rising beyond dualistic thinking of right/wrong and good and bad of the egoic mind). Yes you will make it through. You are an empowered being as Soul, you can choose to express from this point to help yourself and your life.

"Uranus/Pluto Square suggests deep internal pressure and tension building to its peak almost demanding attention for transformation and change. This major transit signifies upheaval and upsetting the status quo.

"So deep-seated fears, anxieties, worries, addictive tendencies arise easily as these are in the way of trusting Life and the Divine that this is part of the unfolding to expand Consciousness and love on the planet and in yourself as well as in our life.

"It is a no-nonsense energy with a driven focus and with such extraordinarily raw potential as well. Yet the old order, way of life, self-image, relationship, habit whatever..has to go. It leaves space for something else to appear. The main key: Evolution."

From the always insightful DIVINE HARMONY:

"We are heading into the 11th hour of the Uranus/Pluto square frequency that has been dominating our personal and collective experience since 2012.

"In june of 2012 the first Uranus/Pluto square in a series of 7 was exact- yet it was in 2011 (when the Fukushima tsunami happened) that Uranus moved into Aries, which woke up the collective anger, rage and need to take action. This coincided with the start of the rebellions and revolutions around the world. This was also the astrology that incited the occupy movement.

"At the heart of this energy is profound and transformational awakening! Yet often times humans choose intense experiences as the means to awakening. So over the last 3 years we are likely to have experienced breakdowns first- before the breakthroughs could come in and take hold...

"Well we are in the 11th hour of that high-energy frequency. This sunday the 6th of 7 Uranus/Pluto squares is exact- with the last occurring in march of 2015. These next several months look to be incredibly powerful!

"For one- the inner planets are all triggering Uranus and Pluto, which brings this collective energy into our personal experience."

- "...This brings in game-changing energy... if we have said we are done with the past and all the old ways of doing and being that no longer serve us but we have yet to really make the necessary changes, this is the time the Universe asks us to step up.
- "...All of us have experienced Uranus square Pluto in some way in the last 3 years (even if it's just by being a human on this planet and watching what is going on around you). If you happen to have planets or angles anywhere from 8 to 16 degrees of aries/cancer/libra/capricorn you have been in the line of transformational fire!
- "...The good news right now is that Jupiter in Leo dominates much of the sky, because he is the planetary ruler (aka dispositor) of all the Sagittarius planets. So we are all gifted with the ability to rise above, see the Bigger Picture and have trust and faith in the outcomes and circumstances appearing in our lives!

"Sadge sees the silver lining and Sadge sees the glass as half full. When we are able to see the positive side of things and be grateful for our life experiences- even when they come with intensity-we will attract more positive things and we will experience greater growth.

"...The Highest expression of Uranus is liberation and awakening and the Highest expression of Pluto is empowerment and transformation. The opportunities and possibilities for all of the above to happen over the next 6-7 weeks are significant!

"...These are the cycles of life: what goes up must come down, what grows must get pruned, what is born must eventually die. When we can embrace these cycles- rather than resist them- then we will be working WITH the natural cycles of evolution.

"It's only when we accept what is that we can really start to work on creating change.

"This is the tipping point at which we move away from being victims of circumstance to becoming masters of all we experience. Mastery does not mean we have control over everything- it means we have control over the few things that really matter: ourselves and our reactions or perceptions of what life brings us. Attitude is everything! "

Life and education

Piven was born in Calgary, Alberta, Canada,[2] of Russian Jewish immigrant parents,[3] Rachel (née Paperny) and Albert Fox, a storekeeper.[4][5] Piven immigrated to the United States when she was one and was naturalized as a United States Citizen in 1953.[2] She was raised in Jackson Heights, Queens, New York. She attended P.S. 148 and Newtown High School.[6] She received a B.A. in City Planning in 1953, an M.A. in 1956, and a Ph.D. in 1962, all from the University of Chicago.[2] She attended on a scholarship and she waitressed for living expenses.[6]

Piven was married to her long-time collaborator Richard Cloward until his death in 2001.[2] Together with Cloward, she wrote an article in the May 1966 issue of The Nation titled "The Weight of the Poor: A Strategy to End Poverty" advocating increased enrollment in social welfare programs in order to collapse that system and force reforms, leading to a guaranteed annual income.[7][8] This political strategy has been referred to as the "Cloward–Piven strategy".[9] During 2006/07 Piven served as the President of the American Sociological Association.[10]

While at Boston University, she and her political science department colleagues Murray Levin and

Howard Zinn refused to go back to work after the settlement of the 1979 American Association of University Professors strike. Clerical and support staff had also gone out on strike at the time of the AAUP, and Piven, Levin, Zinn and others refused to cross their picket line. The "B.U. Five" were threatened with dismissal by B.U. President John Silber.[11]

Silber later backed down, and Piven and the others eventually returned to the classroom.[12] Piven eventually left B.U. for C.U.N.Y.

Activism and legislation

Throughout her career, Piven has combined academic work with political action.[13] In 1968, she signed the "Writers and Editors War Tax Protest" pledge, vowing to refuse tax payments in protest against the Vietnam War.[14] In 1983 she co-founded Human SERVE (Service Employees Registration and Voter Education), an organization with the goal of increasing voter registration by linking voter registration offerings with the use of social services or state Departments of Motor Vehicles. Human SERVE's initiative was incorporated by the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, colloquially known as the "Motor Voter Bill".[2]

She is a member of the Democratic Socialists of America and serves[15] as one of the eight honorary chairs of that organization.[16]

Piven also engaged Milton Friedman in a debate in the PBS television series Free to Choose[17]

Writings

Some of Piven's major works include[18] Regulating the Poor written with Richard Cloward, first published in 1972 and updated in 1993, which is a scrutiny of government welfare policy and how it is used to exert power over lower class individuals;[19] Poor Peoples' Movements, published in 1977, an analysis of how rebellious social movements can induce important reforms;[20] Why Americans Don't Vote, published in 1988 and a follow up book Why Americans Still Don't Vote published in 2000, each of which look at the role of current American electoral practices which tend to discourage the poor working class from exercising their right to vote;[21] The War at Home published in 2004, a critical examination of the domestic results of the wars allegedly initiated by the Bush administration;[22] Challenging Authority: How Ordinary People Change America, a look at the interaction of disruptive social movements and electoral politics in generating the political force for democratic reform in American history.[23]

Nobel Lecture by Malala Yousafzai, Oslo, 10 December 2014.

Bismillah hir Rahma nir Rahim. In the name of God, the most beneficent, the most merciful

Your Majesties, distinguished members of the Norweigan Nobel Committee, dear sisters and brothers, today is a day of great happiness for me. I am humbled that the Nobel Committee has selected me for this precious award.

Thank you to everyone for your continued support and love. I am grateful for the letters and cards that I still receive from all around the world. Reading your kind and encouraging words strengthens and inspires me.

I would like to thank my parents for their unconditional love. Thank you to my father for not clipping my wings and for letting me fly. Thank you to my mother for inspiring me to be patient and to always speak the truth- which we strongly believe is the real message of Islam.

I am very proud to be the first Pashtun, the first Pakistani, and the first young person to receive this award. I am pretty certain that I am also the first recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize who still fights with her younger brothers. I want there to be peace everywhere, but my brothers and I are still working on that.

I am also honoured to receive this award together with Kailash Satyarti, who has been a champion of children's rights for a long time. Twice as long, in fact, than I have been alive. I am also glad that we can stand together and show the world that an Indian and a Pakistani can be united in peace and together work for children's rights.

Dear brothers and sisters, I was named after the inspirational Pashtun Joan of Arc, Malalai of Maiwand. The word Malala means "grief stricken", "sad", but in order to lend some happiness to it, my grandfather would always call me Malala – The happiest girl in this world and today I am very happy that we are standing together for an important cause.

This award is not just for me. It is for those forgotten children who want education. It is for those frightened children who want peace. It is for those voiceless children who want change.

I am here to stand up for their rights, raise their voice ... it is not time to pity them. It is time to take action so it becomes the last time that we see a child deprived of education.

I have found that people describe me in many different ways.

Some people call me the girl who was shot by the Taliban

And some, the girl who fought for her rights

Some people, call me a "Nobel Laureate" now

As far as I know, I am just a committed and stubborn person who wants to see every child getting quality education, who wants equal rights for women and who wants peace in every corner of the world.

Education is one of the blessings of life—and one of its necessities. That has been my experience during the 17 years life. In my home in Swat Valley, in the north of Pakistan, I always loved school and learning new things. I remember when my friends and I would decorate our hands with henna for special occasions. Instead of drawing flowers and patterns we would paint our hands with mathematical formulas and equations.

We had a thirst for education because our future was right there in that classroom. We would sit and read and learn together. We loved to wear neat and tidy school uniforms and we would sit there with big dreams in our eyes. We wanted to make our parents proud and prove that we could excel in our studies and achieve things, which some people think only boys can.

Things did not remain the same. When I was ten, Swat, which was a place of beauty and tourism, suddenly changed into a place of terrorism. More than 400 schools were destroyed. Girls were stopped from going to school. Women were flogged. Innocent people were killed. We all suffered. And our beautiful dreams turned into nightmares.

Education went from being a right to being a crime.

But when my world suddenly changed, my priorities changed too.

I had two options, one was to remain silent and wait to be killed. And the second was to speak up and then be killed. I chose the second one. I decided to speak up.

The terrorists tried to stop us and attacked me and my friends on 9th October 2012, but their bullets could not win.

We survived. And since that day, our voices have only grown louder.

I tell my story, not because it is unique, but because it is not.

It is the story of many girls.

Today, I tell their stories too. I have brought with me to Oslo, some of my sisters, who share this story, friends from Pakistan, Nigeria and Syria. My brave sisters Shazia and Kainat Riaz who were also shot that day in Swat with me. They went through a tragic trauma too. Also my sister Kainat Somro from Pakistan who suffered extreme violence and abuse, even her brother was killed, but she did not succumb.

And there are girls with me, who I have met during my Malala Fund campaign, who are now like my sisters, my courageous 16 year old sister Mezon from Syria, who now lives in Jordan in a refugee camp and goes from tent to tent helping girls and boys to learn. And my sister Amina, from the North of Nigeria, where Boko Haram threatens and kidnaps girls, simply for wanting to go to school.

Though I appear as one girl, one person, who is 5 foot 2 inches tall, if you include my high heels. I am not a lone voice, I am many.

Lam Shazia.

I am Kainat Riaz.

I am Kainat Somro.

I am Mezon.

I am Amina. I am those 66 million girls who are out of school.

People like to ask me why education is important especially for girls. My answer is always the same.

What I have learnt from the first two chapters of the Holy Quran, is the word Iqra, which means "read", and the word, nun wal-galam which means "by the pen"?

And therefore as I said last year at the United Nations, "One child, one teacher, one pen and one book can change the world."

Today, in half of the world, we see rapid progress, modernisation and development. However, there are countries where millions still suffer from the very old problems of hunger, poverty, injustice and conflicts.

Indeed, we are reminded in 2014 that a century has passed since the beginning of the First World War, but we still have not learnt all of the lessons that arose from the loss of those millions of lives a hundred years ago.

There are still conflicts in which hundreds of thousands of innocent people have lost their lives. Many families have become refugees in Syria, Gaza and Iraq. There are still girls who have no freedom to go to school in the north of Nigeria. In Pakistan and Afghanistan we see innocent people being killed in suicide attacks and bomb blasts.

Many children in Africa do not have access to school because of poverty.

Many children in India and Pakistan are deprived of their right to education because of social taboos, or they have been forced into child labour and girls into child marriages.

One of my very good school friends, the same age as me, had always been a bold and confident girl and dreamed of becoming a doctor. But her dream remained a dream. At age of 12, she was forced to get married and then soon had a son at an age when she herself was a child – only 14. I know that my friend would have been a very good doctor.

But she couldn't ... because she was a girl.

Her story is why I dedicate the Nobel Prize money to the Malala Fund, to help give girls everywhere a quality education and call on leaders to help girls like me, Mezun and Amina. The first place this funding will go is where my heart is, to build schools in Pakistan—especially in my home of Swat and Shangla.

In my own village, there is still no secondary school for girls. I want to build one, so my friends can get an education—and the opportunity it brings to fulfil their dreams.

That is where I will begin, but it is not where I will stop. I will continue this fight until I see every child in school. I feel much stronger after the attack that I endured, because I know, no one can stop me, or stop us, because now we are millions, standing up together.

Dear brothers and sisters, great people, who brought change, like Martin Luther King and Nelson Mandela, Mother Teresa and Aung San Suu Kyi, they once stood here on this stage. I hope the steps that Kailash Satyarti and I have taken so far and will take on this journey will also bring change – lasting change.

My great hope is that this will be the last time we must fight for the education of our children. We want everyone to unite to support us in our campaign so that we can solve this once and for all.

Like I said, we have already taken many steps in the right direction. Now is the time to take a leap.

It is not time to tell the leaders to realise how important education is - they already know it - their own children are in good schools. Now it is time to call them to take action.

We ask the world leaders to unite and make education their top priority.

Fifteen years ago, the world leaders decided on a set of global goals, the Millennium Development Goals. In the years that have followed, we have seen some progress. The number of children out of school has been halved. However, the world focused only on expanding primary education, and progress did not reach everyone.

Next year, in 2015, representatives from around the world will meet at the United Nations to decide on the next set of goals, the Sustainable Development Goals. This will set the world's ambition for generations to come. Leaders must seize this opportunity to guarantee a free, quality primary and secondary education for every child.

Some will say this is impractical, or too expensive, or too hard. Or even impossible. But it is time the world thinks bigger.

Dear brothers and sisters, the so-called world of adults may understand it, but we children don't. Why is it that countries which we call "strong" are so powerful in creating wars but so weak in bringing peace? Why is it that giving guns is so easy but giving books is so hard? Why is it that making tanks is so easy, but building schools is so difficult?

As we are living in the modern age, the 21st century and we all believe that nothing is impossible. We can reach the moon and maybe soon will land on Mars. Then, in this, the 21st century, we must be determined that our dream of quality education for all will also come true.

So let us bring equality, justice and peace for all. Not just the politicians and the world leaders, we all need to contribute. Me. You. It is our duty.

So we must work ... and not wait.

I call upon my fellow children to stand up around the world.

Dear sisters and brothers, let us become the first generation to decide to be the last.

The empty classrooms, the lost childhoods, wasted potential—let these things end with us.

Let this be the last time that a boy or a girl spends their childhood in a factory.

Let this be the last time that a girl gets forced into early child marriage.

Let this be the last time that an innocent child loses their life in war.

Let this be the last time that a classroom remains empty.

Let this be the last time that a girl is told education is a crime and not a right.

Let this be the last time that a child remains out of school.

Let us begin this ending.

Let this end with us.

And let us build a better future right here, right now.

Thank you.
