What is a "Bookathon"?

It is an event where several authors come together whether self-published or traditionally published to advertise, market and expand our listening audiences. Primarily if you ever hosted your own book signing that's what a "bookathon" is a mega book signing with several of your other writing counterparts.

An event where each author will have his/her own 8x11 foot long or round table to display his/her reading contents for consumers, where they will walk around browse and interact with the different authors and most of all buy books!

It is most helpful if you the author provides a discount for consumers on your product and make your table appealing (freebies are a sure eye catcher). Last but not least promote up the event with your connecting audiences and fan base to attend the event in addition to the advertising we will do for the event to bring in more readers.

You are welcome to bring along a minimum of 2 chaperones for your assistance at your table.

It was established with the self publishers in mind as myself to come together to make our products available for people to hear what we have to say! After all that's why we all wrote books. 'Right?' So why not collaborate with other authors in an event that benefits everyone!

You can sell books and meet new people all at the same time the same day.

An exciting event!!

If you are interested in obtaining a table to participate in this event scheduled to take place May 8th 2010 please fill out the booth rental information sheet and email it back to whoamibysc@yahoo.com You will then receive a confirmation code with an address to forward your payment once the R.S.V.P. has been established.

Booths are $50.00 for the day for a total of up to 5 hours and will include your name to be placed in a drawing to win a signature piece by Madison Folk artist "Ricundou". The event will take place at;

Maplewood Community Center

31735 Maplewood St.
