

THE HUB OF HUMANITARIAN CHANGE

Igniting Your Brilliance

4 Free hours for you, your friends, and your colleagues

- Do you want to live your life purpose and create sustained abundance?
- Do you believe when you are at your best, you are better prepared to provide value to yourself, your community, and the world?

If so, you don't want to miss this!

January 27, 2008, HUB will support you to actively use your skills and passions to change the world.

Attending this event may change your life forever. Listen to what Tamara Johnson said after her Igniting Your Brilliance experience:

“Charlie asked me to share my vision. And so, with tears streaming down my cheeks, I shared my vision about healing for every woman, especially women touched by violence. And amazing things happened after that. People came up to me at every opportunity with offers of support for my vision – with ideas, with fund raising, with time and energy. Because of a last-minute invitation, my vision will become reality because it now has the energy of a supportive audience. That makes all the difference in the world.”

Tamara Johnson ~ Hubbie #21

The best part is: Igniting Your Brilliance is FREE!

When you attend you will:

- Ignite your fire and passion
- Discover why HUB is committed to empowering you with the freedom to bring your unique gifts into the world.
- Open the doors to a new social network, designed to connect you with like minds and hearts
- Identify teammates (and sometimes new projects) that energize you and propel you into action that supports your greatest visions.
- Uncover tools and resources that will support you in your journey.
- Receive simple suggestions that can make an immediate impact in your world and the global community.
- Experience HUB's commitment to helping its members and the global community move from Survival to Self-empowerment to Sustained Abundance.

Igniting Your Brilliance is a fun, inspiring celebration of people, purpose and prosperity. You will leave this event buzzing from the connections you've made and the possibility of a world united with a common heart for the common purpose of humanitarian change. HUB-In To This Event Now! We look forward to meeting you.
