Disclaimer

This is not an instructional booklet as there is no one in existence who could possibly fall into the category of needing instruction. Hence these utterances offer not a whit of hope to any for none exist who need hope. Such alone constitutes declarations of That which Joyously Is. Of a surety, there are no beings that can come to know That which Is. All that Is—Is Eternally and Immutably That! Consequently, never are these utterances advanced as an attempt to change the minds of any or to divert play acting entities upon the earth-stage from the visions that each hold in their own heart. Such can never actually be done anyway even though it may appear to some to the contrary. All writings constitute simple statements depicting the nature of The Earth Drama Divine as related to Reality Absolute. That which is written obviously is known by All, for The All is the Sole Eternal Knower.

In these writings, the ego of dream and the so-called human mind are always synonymous.

Concepts of Mind

The Primary Essence of Crystaqueous Writings

"Divine Beings are only 'in' the Cosmic Play in a similar manner to which Julia Roberts is 'on' the movie screen when the actual Julia is simply sitting as a joyous spectator in the theatre seat!" (The Script pp65,66)

In other words, Spirit Reality Beings are not actually present and participating on the so-called 3-d Screen or in the material world paradigm. Nothing therein is real much less are Reality Beings bopping about all lost and confused therein. However, when unreal actors or actresses terminate their individual roles, the Reality Being behind such roles enters into the Play in the form of Divine Mind taking residence in that body from which the ego human mind has vacated and so preserves that particular dream body from further desecration, in the form of aging, decay, and death.

This, some may liken to angels descending to assist and inspire other dream beings on their way to role termination. At any rate, it brings a Divine Reality Element into the realm of dream which makes for a very interesting picture. Jesus, Babaji, and a great host of others are examples in point here. Such were (after their illusion roles ended) "in" the world of unreality but not “of” it. Such beings are invariably immune to disease and harm. All such bodies indwelt in this manner by Divine Mind never go out in “death”, but rather via “transfiguration” only. This is where the race of play acting so-called “humans” are at in this very time—that is, all are on track for role termination in mass, no dream being can miss!

This is the precise picture related in the story of the money changers being ousted from the Temple at Jerusalem. The fact that the great Solomon’s (material) Temple (out of which the money changers were cast), was eventually to be leveled or dissolved is symbolic of the fact that the so-called cleansed dream or human body must follow suit. That is, such must also disappear but via so-called transfiguration and not by what is known in the dream as physical death and burial. In this Play of Divinity it is clear—that whatever has come into appearance (which includes the entirety of so-called “creation” on planet earth), must as well disappear.

Again, this is likened to the disappearance of the water mirage in the desert! When the illusion of water has disappeared—the dry sand—symbolic of Infinite Mind and Body—, which was the only actual presence, appears! But did such just begin to appear? Not at all! The sand was always there and only seemingly blocked from view by the illusion of an unreal body of water which was never really present! The disappearance of every last trace of illusion constitutes the finishing of the Earth Story Divine! Hence, the Cosmic Movie is consummated. Nothing which constitutes Reality Absolute has appeared or disappeared or been altered one iota!

Origin and endless Bliss happily reign Alone!
Such is the Fun nature of the Glorious Divine Play!
And such is the Joyous focal essence of the entirety of the Crystaqueous writings!

Occasionally inquirers come asking if these utterances are channeled or if they are automatic writings? Such terms denote the idea of distinction, that is, setting one in a category as being separate from the common others. These writings are not of such nature. This writer stands firmly upon the platform of the equality of all beings where none are lower or higher than another. Hence, these writings spring from the Consciousness of Oneness wherein All Is the One Whole which knows of nothing existing that dominates someone or thing else. This is Reality Consciousness— all True Existence Is That!

Duality consciousness—wherein the separation factor is rampant—is the multiple mindedness of the dream—the Divine Earth Play. This dream features a human existence that sees itself as a separate entity from the Mind of the Infinite. Such are not real people—hence its so-called consciousness is not real or actual. It is merely the pretend Story consciousness of the Play Divine.

All that distinguishes and sets beings apart—one from the other—as though such were higher or lower, wiser, more evolved, more important, more gifted, purer, more spiritual, etc., etc.,—is the dualistic or unreal consciousness of the Earth Play Divine. All beings came into the Play of time to shed such fabulous dualistic identity and mindfulness and to awaken in a sense, as the Mind of Oneness which Is the Equality of the Whole! Because these writings proceed from the One Mind which is the Consciousness of all True and Real Existence, such can never be labeled as "personal" writings. Therefore, to the inquiry: Who is Crystaqueous?---the following will address.

Who is Crystaqueous?

In spite of the fact that at least one specific entity joyously roams the earth planet bearing the above name—this in no way alters the other fact that this name—as all other Real names—is indicative of the radiant crystal energy of all Reality Beings who are happily poised behind every apparent mortal role-player within the Earth Drama Divine! The Celestial many of which the One is comprised!

Plainly speaking, these names signify the timeless Spirit Essence of Infinite Collective Consciousness—namely, that Mind and Loving Intelligence which has designed and orchestrates the entirety of the Cosmic Play of Earth!

The obvious extension of this line of thought is that no singular embodiment of Eternal Spirit can or will take credit for originating the sequential contents of the earth writings that bear these names! Reference is here being made alone to volumes dedicated to the dethroning of the ego of dream! None such are drafted at the hand of the walking dead of earth! In other words, they are collective Mind-stuff—of the All that Infinitely Is—and are adaptable alone to specific segments out-playing at various ages in the fun Movie of Earth!

It is due to this fact that all who read with a deep inner interest, sense clearly that they too—on some profound level—participated in the authorship of it all! This is so because the “They” back of the false-selves, did! The common so-called spiritual books—the ones proving to be ego nurturers, are on a Self-destruct course in this time as the general awareness level has out-grown the need of such! Earth teachers/authors have taken great pride in affixing their names to these countless volumes!

Spirit seekers of this day have journeyed off the chart—they have jumped ship, and broke out of the confining stagnancy and depressive redundancy of both the orthodox and alternative metaphysical box! Hence, the collective “We”—the Whole that constitutes the Happy Seeing Mind, have made certain that if any more “ego-termination books” were to appear in this advanced age, such were to dawn a vastly different look and feel! They were to contain an energy essence, that, on a powerful level, would reflect what the seeking masses can presently resonate with and feel good about pondering—having cleanly exited the emptiness of all that went before!

Among such are the Fun “pink” Vedanta books that have made their happy entrance upon the Play Stage of the Earth Drama Divine in this time!

All are finished—done—with contradictive mist—hence, the dizziness that attended their journey through the maze of nowhere and nothingness!

Amusing it is to note, that The Mind Infinite in Its collective capacity, while being the composer of the All of Dream—inclusive of every last book of the same, as well enjoys the fun of designating some as nurturers of the ego, while others to its dethroning! The human of dream appears to heap much credit for this and that upon itself and yet in the final analysis — there is no human to take credit for ought!

What a Show! What an incredible and harmless Fabrication of this and that causing much which could never be, to appear as though it does! The Grand Story of the Exodus from the prison of the unreal and the return to That Bliss World from which none ever really left, will be told to its Glorious Finish!

*Oh Earth Drama Divine, Joyous cast of God Mind, loving genius I AM, eternally so fine.
Contrary to appearances, harm comes to no one, all beings of the Real never had so much fun!*

More than this—there is no further explanation of the pink book utterances!

Correspondence with a Beloved Friend-

Friday/Saturday March 9th/10th, 2018
NYC/Anjuna Goa India

Once again, these sayings are never uttered as so-called "teachings"—with the intention that someone "out there" get them, and have their life enhanced thereby! There is no such "out there" and for certain, none exist to ever get their lives enhanced by "learning" something from someone else!

All Real Beings Are the Magnificent Eternal Knower of the Boundless All that Is Itself! Among Such there are none who imagine they have more wisdom than others—neither are there any who perceive they lack ought and seek for others to supply their need!

These joyous utterances are only and always about Celestial Entertainment, hence, constitute—only in part—a happy Self-Expression of the never-ceasing Fun and Play of the Mind Absolute—which is the Mind of us all!

And notwithstanding that these sayings appear within the realm of the make-believe, such are dimly-but joyously comprehensible alone to dream minds that are on the brink of role-termination, ie., their irreversible demise! Such are the Fun dynamics of Our Earth Play Divine!

Finding Our Banyan Tree

It's all truly as you just said—in a few words—We Know that the entirety of the Universe is rigged in our favor! (Rumi paraphrased) Yes! yes! yes!

You know, I got pondering again—as long as people cling to matrix disinformation—that teaches that the Infinite intelligence is always "testing" them—and that the way-divine is to suffer hardship in order to fulfill one's purpose in life—their unreality can only reflect more and more of those same unhappy scenarios! Hence, to retain the slave mind (human mind/ego) is to continue the hopeless slave—fulfilling one purpose only—namely, the building of another man's castle with their own sweat and tears!

The Loving Intelligence of the Boundless Universe—which is Our True Blissful Self—does not toy around playing stupid games like that in this Grand Earth Show! It's the matrix system alone that teaches such treachery in order to maintain total imbalance and keep the gullible common masses enslaved to the greedy whims of the elite few!! Apparently—such is the way of the entrapping matrix of earth!

And yet, if this is indeed the whole picture—one would assume the distinct impression that the matrix—or false global educational network—having utterly infiltrated every department of life—is the great enemy of the common masses—and must somehow be exposed and dismantled!

Thus many teach and thus many believe! But this view is as futile as the horse trying to get the apple while racing down the track that's dangling only two feet in front of it, from a pole that's attached to itself!

The matrix is not the enemy of human existence—for such is but a projected illusory decoy by the very consciousness that affirms human existence to be real!

So-called human problems don't vanish by doing battle with the "matrix" without! Apparent human problems end only by the vanishing of that mind which declares—humans are real! Such is the nature of the Fun Earth Story Divine!

Not until that matrix-mind vanishes does the Real Sole Freedom Mind appear in its place! To This Bliss Mind the matrix is but a silly illusion that never existed in reality—much less has the capability to over-power and manipulate an imaginary human race!

Such constitutes Exotic Cosmic Entertainment, and We laugh and are highly amused by it all! None of it is real! We know—indeed, We are the Sole Knower! It's all Our Fun Movie—where none are ever really born, become sad, get hurt, sick, or die!

It is apparently real—only to an imaginary human ego/mind—and this is so because We made it to be the Way of Our Story—but still, it's unreal to its very core!

That's why so-called "un-awake" humans appear to be destined to maintain a hard and depressed life in the Story! But again—none of this is real! The "Awakened" Ones Alone Know this! And hilariously enough, there's really no one existing who doesn't know this! Hence, there aren't really any awakened ones either! There's only Sleepless Pure Infinite Mind! All that Is, is That! The One Mind! Our Mind! It's simply the nature of the Play that so-called "un-awake" entities Therein role-acting, are never capable of distinguishing between what's real and what's not!

And of course—there's no such thing as an un-awake or an awakened human—for there is no such thing as a human to begin with!

There's only Eternally Radiating Originless and Endless Absolute Reality Beings and We all Are That!

Indeed, nothing else Is Being! Such is the nature of Our Earth Play Divine and the Absolute Joy of Our Glorious Entertainment Thereby!

We are dedicated to the Joyous exposure of the seeming "cause" of the unhappiness issuing from the detrimental practice of identifying with a false life, reality, its beliefs, and their projection—an erroneous education system—the matrix that also seems to perpetuate such!

But it's like a mad inescapable circle- where one knows not whether the matrix caused the consciousness or the consciousness caused the matrix! They both seem true and yet they both are false! One factor alone gave apparent reality to both--namely The Grand Story Script!

And joy of joys—We do our Fun writings alone from the happy Observation Point of Divine Loving Blissful Mind—That One Real Mind that Knows and Sees All and Is the Real All that It Sees!

And of a certainty, We know there's no world or people to save! Hence, nothing at all to be serious about! Real Living Beings are all that Truly Exist! All Such constitute Divine Loving Mind—the I AM of Infinity! None Such require being saved from aught! All Such Know is Timeless Joyous Life, Bliss, Abundance of every possible description, and the Endless Adventurous Fun that We Eternally have and Are!

Our great joy is simply the writing of the Story and the apparent awakenings Thereof as each transpires at the exact scripted timing that each of Us Real Beings Pre-set for our very own unreal shadow-selves that are enacting these roles—from the utterly ridiculous to the angelic—upon Our Earth Stage Divine! These shadow beings only "seem" to be alive and to be so utterly trapped and en-tranced under the matrix spell encased in an unreal world of pain! Impossible that any of this could ever be real!

We are Always rejoicing immensely when one by one— seeming awakenings happen and another so-called human mind/ego-the separation glutton—has dropped! And We—as the Sole Loving Mind of Infinity behind that very unreal human shadow—appear to take its place!

No greater joy than this is Ours as We behold the exciting unfolding of the Story transpiring within Our Great Cosmic Play of Earth! We've all heard the saying: (and of course, We never wonder where it came from-haha) "life is what happens when people are busy making other plans!"

How true it is—in the Play, that is—that humans always appear as busy, busy, busy, making this plan and that plan and thinking of going here and doing that! And on and on and on! And obviously, they haven't a clue regarding what everything's really all about pertaining to their selves and their world! And yet, they seem clear that there's much trouble and chaos on every hand! According to the Celestial Story—it's an on-going battle just to survive! Still humans are busy, busy, busy, and exponentially so as "time" elapses—planning this and that, and all in a constant struggle to keep afloat!

Then—because it's scripted so—earth entities begin taking inventory of their life situation! What a menacing and disturbing picture this is to behold!! Hence the quest begins—to know what's "really" going on here! But here too—the matrix teaching—or the mind that projects the matrix and its teachings—has the answer—so it claims! It says—go join this temple or that church or read that book or this one! Or go sit at the feet of this wise teacher or that one! And—oh yes—start embracing varying hallucinogenic assistance which will really help you! And on and on and on it goes!

One seems to have come from the arena of busying their self via their own thought guidance- but now are dialed into the "exterior" guidance system! But life doesn't seem to get one whit easier or happier! The cold fact is—it gets only worse by leaps and bounds! More inventory seems to be needed now—more than ever! At this stage, one feels driven to make a clean break from and abandon all "outer" babbling that has proven not merely not to be helpful—but only an increased chaotic distraction instead!

Resorting to the silence is the only area of interest now! Jumping clear out of the useless boxes of churches, temples, books, meetings, and gurus—the whole works—is now the way! Finding one's own "banyan tree" Is the sole importance now!

Of a certainty, the Script will lead to the End!—The end of nothingness—in order that the Real Blissful Everything take its place! Apparently!

Life "seemed" to happen only when the busyness of making other plans ceased! One business only has the non-mind—to be busy making other plans so long as such appears to survive!

*Oh play divine ever so fine,
the way out of nothing is losing one's mind!*

Another Fun Dialog With A NYC Goddess

March 17/18, 2018 NYC/Goa India

Yeah, I just feel my mind and my heart and my life opening up more and more rapidly. It's awesome. It's also very freeing. I no longer care what people think or what is considered normal or even what anyone else is doing. I am focused on myself and my joy and expansion

Yay!

And only as We Live Our Real and True Divine Blissful Self (which We really never do otherwise), are we a most Radiant influence, and apparently trigger all around us to hunger for the same!

Isn't that just Beautiful and so Awesome!

Yes!

We as I AM, constitute a seeming influential Energy to all egos to utterly vanish and drop so that the True I AM Self of all others will be manifest in their stead¹ It's as if We were the Sun that melts the morning mist everywhere we are and go!

What a Beautiful Divine Show is transpiring on Planet Earth! We are such incredibly Awesome Super Stars!

Beautiful and awesome for sure! Every day it gets more awesome!

I know! Everybody wants to be doing what they Love—Always! When the ego—the fabulous human mind, that settles and resigns itself to remain an unhappy and depressed slave, invariably doing what it detests, is dropped, only I AM—the True Blissful Self—remains as ever It Is, which is the Doer of all that It loves, and Loves all that It does—Always! Lol!

I wish everyone was doing what they love, all the time! How different would their lives be then! I am just so grateful I've come to know this, or remember this, since that knowledge was always inside me

Yes! This is The Absolute Truth and It is Magnificent! Such is utterly beyond any human mind to fathom! We are Divine I AM Beings that never had beginning and can never have ending!

We are not human beings enslaved in an illusion matrix—which is simply the ego's projection of what life is! Most certainly—that's not the truth!

Get rid of ego and all human imperfection and misery everything—is gone too! No ego—no real matrix! Only Bliss and Abundance of simply Everything! Yes! This is our Divine Self-Knowing that has been with Us and as Us throughout Timeless Eternity!

The ego gone, and all that remains is Our Blissful Abundant Happy Fun-loving Beautiful Self!

Yes just our blissful loving self! How beautiful!

Yes—Beautiful beyond description! This is Who and What All Beings Truly and Eternally Are!

The Fun Divine Play is simply portraying a hilarious Story where we, as Infinite Beings, apparently forgot (which is utterly impossible for us to really do—we just do it in a pretend way for the Movie's sake, just like the Hollywood Stars do)—Our True Cosmic Identity—and eventually recover it back again! What a Fun Story! What a Magnificent Divine Movie —and we all are Its Grand Super Stars! Yay!

What glorious Awards are awaiting us all when the Movie is done! Better than the Grammy's, Emmy's, or Oscar's (Academy Awards) of Hollywood!

Won't that be a lot of fun!!!! And we will all be together forever ♥♥♥♥♥ I am very grateful for you...! I so enjoy our chats!

I so love our chats too, I am grateful for them and You beyond words! OM Shanti!

More on Role Termination

There is but one Way in which one would possibly and in the truest sense, rise from a bed of so-called “death” in the dream—namely, as a result of individual role termination at the Cue of Divinity. This has absolutely nothing to do with an act of a human will choosing or creating a “belief” shift within a so-called human mind—that is, from viewing Life and Reality as an exterior fact and temporary “possession” to viewing It as All that Actually and Eternally Is, and saying: “I am That!”

Only at role termination does the unreal belief-shifting mind vanish without a trace, and all that's left is the One Omnipresent Mind which always and Immutably Is I-Am-That-I-Am! Such Mind taking up residence in the place of the ego or human mind preserves the dream body instantly from further aging, disease, and death. Such occurs not by a human mind act, but alone by Divine Cuing at the pre-determined moment established in the Cosmic Play Script. This is the Way of My Divine Cosmic Play—saith the Alone One.

No one in the dream can do aught for themselves nor for another, much less raise themselves from a so-called bed of death by an alteration of belief! No one in the dream can even “start” with Reality and think to exit the dream world thereby. No one exits the dream into Reality period, for none therein do really exist!

All Reality Beings are Originless and Endless Beings. To Such Boundless Throng, nothing can be added nor subtracted Therefrom. None Such did ever or could ever cease from being That which They Immutably and Eternally Are. And therefore, the idea of someone being “out there” who is on a return path thereto is less than meaningless!

Teachers within the dream are without number. All such know only the promotion of mythical methods and belief systems of every conceivable description. Such are designed to persuade other dreamers that they can, via so-called new revelatory dogma, create a more comfortable and hopeful dream for themselves as well as eventually attaining thereby a place called heaven. All such comes to naught and was destined to utterly fail from its bogus inception. Such are the inexhaustible devices of the ego of dream! Divine Mind knows this not! That is, Divine Mind does not operate as such in a make-believe dream world. Divine Mind always has All that It Is! Eternally It is Its own Supply! It does not manifest or bring aught forth into form—It is all Form Now and always!

Hence, Masters do not demonstrate magical powers to instantly have in hand all they desire within a dream world setting enticing unreal dreamers to think they can do likewise. Masters have no “magical” powers! Such are simply and always being their Beautiful and Divine Omnipotent Selves! Masters always Live and Play in Reality Absolute! This Reality Realm is where and What all Light Beings or so-called Masters Are. Here is where all Real Beings live, even those who constitute the Reality Beings behind each and every actor and actress of the world of dream. Here Everyone is the Master! There is no there where Masters are not!

Masters never tell dreamers that they can and will perform the works or exercise the seeming powers that Masters do. But rather, All who presently perform the Works of The Bliss Life have Eternally done so. No one “begins” to be God! Hence, there is never a being in existence, much less one whom the Masters would recognize as capable of “beginning” to live the Master or God-Life and perform the Joyous Works of the Same! No part of Almighty God ever ceased to be God or to do the fun works thereof. And therefore, the notion that “someone” exists who can “begin” or “return” to being God and do the Works Thereof, is non-sensical dream mist only! Never is there such a thing as a survivor of dream! When dreams, with all participants and pictures thereof vanish, only the Dreamer or the One projecting such remains, entirely unaffected by the unreality of dream.

God or Divine Mind never entertains the idea that His and Her Reality Domain needs re-forming or enhancing! The Boundless Harmony of the Realm of the Real is only and Eternally Immutable Glorious Joyous Bliss! Nothing could possibly diminish from Such nor be added Thereto!

Concepts of Mind are never comprehended by dream or human consciousness. Such profundity would only be warped about and utilized to support the world of illusion. The few sayings offered by Such are guaranteed to pass into the annals of obscurity in the twinkling of an eye. The reason for this is plain. Divine Mind or Consciousness can only affirm—

There are none lost, ill, or ignorant. All is Immutable and Joyous Perfection Absolute! Consequently, none are there to be saved, healed, or instructed.

Dream consciousness treats such phenomenal mentality with utter disdain. For the apparent reality of the dream mind knows and sees only what appears to be the opposite.

It stands to reason in the dream, that anyone who conveys a message or writes a book concerning the healing of the diseased masses or instructing the ignorant with so-called newly discovered or revealed enlightening methods or dogma (alleging to apply Truth to the problems of dream), will be applauded by fellow dreamers and lecture halls and books of this nature are certain to be in great demand. In measureless mass, dreamers stand in line eager to learn from others what next they must do.

The ego or mind of dream sees only human existence and the so-called human predicament. So long as human mind survives, mechanisms beyond number will continue being instituted to extract dollars from the masses—all in the interest of healing the multiplicity of diseases and educating or enlightening the ignorant. In spite of the fact that generation after generation passes with hardly any noticeable impact being made for the betterment of society—still the ego mind hesitates to inquire:

“Why isn’t there any truly commensurate change? Why is it that there are just as many—yea, and even an onslaught of new diseases cropping up all the time? And how can it be, that, after the compiled noble efforts of sincere and caring souls through age after age, little genuine fruit can be seen, and the present-day humanity appear sicker, more degenerate, and more violently inclined than ever? “

Around and around goes the ego in a dizzy maze unknown even to itself! Such is the Way of The Great Divine Play!

When the consciously ascended (for lack of a better term) Jesus, who was not at all comprehended by the illusion of human existence, ventured in a private conversation to touch upon the concept of Spirit birth, the renowned teacher of dream—Nicodemus by name—was utterly baffled! And even though Jesus gave absolutely not a hint as to how this new birth was to be accomplished, millions upon millions have, over the centuries, given lecture upon lecture and written books without number assaying to explain to others in the dream how Spirit birth is to be achieved. Such is the way of so-called (hu)-man whose breath is in his nostrils! Only one indisputable difference is clearly evident: the masses of gullible common people have fewer dollars left in their pockets and nothing to show for it save a deepened sense of exasperation and a highly depression-based state of confusion.

Jesus essentially said: “If you can’t get to first base trying to figure out how you came to experience your so-called flesh or physical birth, then wisdom befits you to forget trying to figure out what Spirit birth signifies and how to acquire such.”

All that was offered by this cosmic being was:

“The wind blows where it will; you can hear its sound and observe its effects, but you cannot tell from whence it comes nor where it goes. So are all Spirit beings.”

Only at the individual termination of one’s acting role in the realm of the unreal, which is, in the Divine Play Script predetermined for all, is it finally acknowledged:

“There is nothing left to think about or to be done. The quest for what’s next, I now utterly abandon.”

Then instantly the acknowledged of such disappears without a trace and only the Entity of Spirit remains as ever Such Timelessly Is!. This is stage-one role termination in the Grand Play of Dream. Such may be referred to as consciously ascending out of the Divine Play. Hence, Spirit birth and Consciousness ascension obviously are synonymous.

All the great teachers of the dream to date, have attempted to educate or enlighten the human mind showing clearly they were of the same mind. The human mind cannot—now or ever—be educated and learn what is Truth. Such mind must dissolve leaving not a trace. There is no alternate resolve! Truth is always apart from the illusion of dream. And yet, Truth always appears to be instantly Present in the place of a dissolved ego of dream. The reason why the Truth of Spirit birth or Being, cannot be taught is simple. All who actually exist have Eternally been Spirit Beings and will Forever and Immutably remain the Same. Hence, no one exists to teach, much less any to evolve thereby into the Divine State.

*The answer my friend, is blowin in the wind,
The answer is blowin in the wind."*

Bob Dylan

To Speak or Not To Speak

To site the old flat earth theory as an erroneous and outdated myth and to utilize such as a comparison and a catapult to write volumes affirming that there is only Consciousness and Reality Absolute and that time never began—even on an illusion or dream basis—and that to believe in and accept this Reality as all that Is of All there is, admonishing that this is the Truth for Now, and then to live in conformity with such would indeed be a wonderful thing!

However, to speak and write of the peerless beauty of Reality Absolute and then continue to get older, sicker, and eventually die—all in a weird paradigm called time, seems to be synonymous with one dreaming he is falling off the edge of the flat earth even after the knowing is solidly in place that it is round.

Assuredly, there is a Divine Play in session and within the so-called 3-d Play of Dream there is the element called time. Yes, its all an unreal paradigm to the hilt, nevertheless, its very much in motion on the Universal or Divine Cosmic Screen. Even all the books combined which testify saying there is no dream, are among the powerful validating evidences that the Dream is indeed very present! The more one labors to discredit the Divine Event of Dream the more—guess what happens? You’ve guessed it!

Certain it is that wherever there is a reluctance to admit the fact of the Great Cosmic Play, teachers and healers are the order of the day. The reason for this is plain. Movie spectators are never motivated to alter or re-direct the film they are viewing. Obviously, such would be effort to no profitable end. However just the reverse is true when there is a recognition on some level, of the so-called ignorant and ill among one’s peers in every day life, no matter that one’s Reality Absolute presentation is contrary.

What, pray tell, is the object of such teaching if indeed it makes not a wit of difference or alteration in one’s experience in this realm where all such discussions and books are made? If certain amongst us appear to be lifted beyond the stronghold of the seemingly unidentifiable illusion matrix—that is, out of apparent aging, subjugation to disease and death now, then there seems to be great wisdom for others who have similar aspirations to take special note. Otherwise words are simply a jumble having no sensible end and there isn't the slightest profit for any to listen thereto!

If it is recognized that there is no such thing as decay and death in Timelessness or Reality Absolute, but only Joyous and Originless and Endless Bliss (and obviously this so), and then to continue suffering degradation and death in an unexplainable strange dimension, wouldn't such be commensurate to not daring to venture on the high seas even after others had done so and reported back that the earth was indeed round and not flat at all?

The bottom line is this—if one's "new" understanding makes not an iota of change and fails to be assimilated or incorporated into one's life experience, what then, is the point of speaking such to any others? The notion referred to as faith, that is, the idea that one must believe and hope to the future for change out of darkness into Light, out of death into Life, is less than worthless! Be assured that whatever is not a reality in the Now is incapable of being such in any so-called future! There is no future!

Masters do not promote idle tales, but rather all Such Are Now all that they speak! All are to experience Mastership in the here and now! The Fact is, all are actually experiencing Entire Mastership in the here and Now! But to hope for Such and be comfortable to expect It in a so-called future is futile! All actors/actresses within the Play will come to think not in regard to this as well as every other consideration in the Dream. Such is simply another name for role termination where the dream waiter and hoper dissolves without a trace and all that's left is The Divine Master in all Its Radiant Expression as Always It Immutably and Eternally Is!

The Mosquito—Prime Symbol Of Human Existence

The mosquito is dark in color and so is more easily disguised in the murky shadows in which it lurks. Such is an exploitive night predator. This subtle creature does not seek permission to suck the life-blood from its prey. But rather, and out of sheer desperation for its own survival, it indiscriminately attaches itself to its subject not merely sucking the life energy therefrom, but also injecting the same with an irksome venom, which, in some cases, through the transfer of a harmful virus, is said to claim the very life of its prey.

Similarly, is the function of all who claim to be human! Humans live only to survive as long as they can any way that they can! For all the lack and chaos in their lives, others are always to be blamed! All such begin in death, journey in death and end in the same! A miserable existence throughout! Such misery loves and attracts but one thing only—namely, the company of other like-depressed creatures and can never be happy in the presence of aught besides! Nothing of this nature ever did or could actually exist anywhere!

The Colorful Butterfly—The Prime Symbol of The God-Being

The colorful and glittering butterfly harms nothing and seeks naught from anyone. Such appears to live for one purpose only, namely, to give of its love and entertain with its radiant beauty. In this way the fairy of the air brings a joyous cheerfulness into the hearts of its myriad admirers. It flutters about and dances quietly and so gracefully in the ether then glides gently downward to light upon and plant its kiss of love upon the tender and beautiful flower. Love it gives and love it receives! All who behold are touched with a peaceful gladness comparable to nothing. Such is the Life of God—that is, all Beings that Truly Exist. Besides Such, nothing is!

Accompanying Concepts from Alfred Aiken's book— NOW

Spending thousands of years in the business of being human has accomplished nothing in Fact, for there is no Truth in humanity. No thing and no one is man. There has never been a race of mortals, any more than there has been a flat earth. Spirit only, is Infinite, All, for the entire duration of Everpresent Eternity. p 118

The human sense is so void of Intelligence, of Truth that it unhesitatingly assumes that God is responsible.

Nay, its assumption becomes a positive conviction that this is the case! Ignorance, human sense, never doubts its own authenticity, the validity of its nonsense, because being utterly without Truth, without Intelligence, its fiction is fact to it. It has no Reality with which it can compare. Its ways-many are but divisions of itself. Its extremes are but opposite ends of the same falsehood. p112

It is not human toil and labor that accomplishes aught in Truth. Struggle, strife, battling has never yet won Heaven. If it could have done so, would it not have become universal after 10, these many eons during which it has been tried? Would not peace, plenty, security and joy be the norm? But these are Real only to the One who is still, and knows “that I am God.” (Ps 46:10.) This Awareness is a peace that is beyond any so-called human comprehension.

Humanity being but a belief without a believer, has kept itself so rushed in its foolish effort to carve out a living for itself, so occupied mopping the sweat from its face, so utterly in ignorance as to the nature and meaning of Wealth or Supply, that it has no time for Peace, no inkling of Heaven and happiness. In fact, no human can ever enjoy Heaven, for there is no human, and never was.

To pray to God as man, a human, a sinning mortal assuming that Truth will meet or help to solve the problem of being human, is to work in darkness—is to sow to the wind and reap the whirlwind. (See Hos 9:7.) Such prayer or request is always based on duality, supposition, superstition and is void of Truth, hence does not and cannot reveal the affluence, the magnitude of your unfathomable abundance. The Infinite-I-Am-Intelligence knows nothing of finite prayer or of the one praying thus. God's business is to be the Alone One without another, and God attends to His business without interruption. He(/She) has no other business and no other business has Him—no other business exists, God being all.

That which believes it must beg Truth to be truthful, Omnipresence to be present, Intelligence to be intelligent is not the I that is God, the I-that-I-Am—is not My I-Identity. Such a request stems from the myth that there is another beside the One-Alone-Infinity, the All-Good-Presence, God. Such a request may be assumed to be true prayer, and there may be sufficient faith in its utterance that what is requested may materialize after the manner in which it is expected, but there is no God in it. The results of faith may appease the hunger for a time; may seem to fill the vacuum of nothingness which gave it rise, but ultimately faith will not be sufficient to meet the need. Its believer is then left in a night without a star.

Truth does not depend on faith. pp 103,104

Is there an outside pressure bearing upon the Infinite-One-I-Am? Is there danger of the Alone One being swindled, depleted, lost? Can evil, stupidity, mortal belief, darkness, Communism move in and take over, ruin Unchanging Love, wreck God's Infinite Affluence, drive Mind into insanity, take Intelligence out of circulation and place It in a concentration camp, a body, a finite prison? Can ignorance rob and pillage Substance, desecrate and destroy Spirit, stultify and starve Infinite Power into submissiveness?

Can Awareness be taken prisoner, be subjected to nuclear fission, be tortured into denying Truth? Can Consciousness be invaded, driven out of Infinity, out of Itself?

Can Existence be destroyed, Wealth burned, Soul laid waste? Can Life be killed? Can aught finite, dimensional, a self-constituted belief which has neither God, Mind, Substance, Entity, nor Existence, intrude itself upon the Infinite One and expunge Truth? Who says so, and to whom do such questions come? Is Intelligent Awareness, Self-Identity troubled by such impossibilities? Never!

From this moment what Self are you going to claim—the One that is yours, or the one that is not; that which is One, or what is not One? Will you insist on being a so-called human, a mortal, hence sick, sinning, lack-weary? Will you deny your Self in order to claim that you are man, a being cursed from inception to suffer poverty, to struggle with limitation in all fields of endeavor; a creature of confusions, doubt, duality, indecision, darkness and despair; a creation of mist, of a mythical deity, an animal urge, chemistry, and subject to depression, disaster, disintegration, disease, disorientation, destruction and ultimate death?

Are you now awake to who and what you are, awake to your Self-identity? Are you rejoicing in God, in Life, in Being the I that is, the All of all, the Omnipresent Power that is Individually Identifying Itself as this very Conscious Awareness, this All-inclusive Intelligence I call "Me"—this Me besides whom I can be no other? pp 101,102

Does Truth know aught of birth, frustration, disease, struggle, privation, death? Can the victim of evil pray himself up to God? Will God open the way of escape from Satan's trap? Did God ever promise that whosoever prays to Him sincerely, will be answered? Is prayer the only method, or system whereby one can free himself of sin and its consequences? Carefully consider these questions before answering them. Is your answer based on a general acceptance of cause and effect, or upon the Absolute Allness of Infinite Perfection?

As a human, one's sincerity or the length of time spent in praying to a God who, as man he cannot know, will not save him from going the way of all flesh, and whereby his place shall know him no more. Because it is so unnecessary, so futile, it makes the folly appear doubly tragic, yet this pattern, with some modern refinements, will seem the norm so long as one insists on playing prodigal from the Self, clinging to human identity; to cause and effect—a mythical deity, time, separation, duality, biology and all included therein, as the explanation of his being.

Do not be dismayed if the protests to these pronouncements, or if the mutterings of anger rise in pitch until they are like thunder. The lie, posing as Truth, evades, voids and avoids that which reveals its nakedness.

The proud intellect defends intellectualism lest its theoretical foundation, its inconsistent compromise and rationalization be exposed. The learned do not like to appear ridiculous. The zealot does not like to be entrapped by his zeal. The pious, the martyr, the doer-of-good does not like to discover he has wasted his years being prodigal, rooting among husks that even the swine find useless. pp 64-66

To pray as man is to assume one has a lack of Good—that some of Soul is missing (and this is exactly what any lack implies, whether the lack appears to be of health, money, friendship, tranquility or what). To base one's prayer on such an assumption or premise is to deviate from Truth. The result is an enlarged conviction of lack. To diverge from Reality at the outset is to find the separation widening, proportionate to its continuance. That is, the more distant one assumes he is from God, the wider the chasm will appear to be, but to whom? Can God know aught of such separation? Can Infinite Intelligence know of a divergence? Is there another life or mind that can exist, separate from the Alone Present Existence, the All-being One?

Can God hear a man's prayer? Can Infinite Intelligence be aware of finite assumption? Can that which Is, be cognizant of the personality, shape, size, location, movement, form or manifestation of that which never is? Can Truth assist that which is not? Can what-will-never-be receive help, succor, salvation, emancipation from the Perpetual, Real, all-inclusive Being? Can God include or be aware of a spot within Himself where He (/She) is not?

No, God cannot hear a finite declaration of His (/Her) absence; cannot be influenced by personal supplication or assumption; cannot change from being the All that He (/She) Eternally Is to satisfy ignorance (which is not!) from presuming He (/She) is not. Wisdom cannot become stupid, cannot reverse Itself, cannot depart from the Total Being It is, in order to acknowledge and fulfill the requests or behests of foolishness. Life cannot stop death because in Life there is no end, no termination, no start-stop cycle. The Fact that Life is forever means that death is never. The Truth that God is Infinite, One Alone, means there is no duality to overcome, no devil, evil or error, no sin or guilt to be corrected, set-right or cast out. Perfection is Eternally Perfect, without variance or dissimulation. pp 185,186

Prayer as a human attitude is worthless in Reality. Human supplication or adoration, attempting to bargain with Infinite Intelligence, or being informative, never reaches the Divine ear. Love being All of All leaves nothing human, hence no human prayer can be answered. That which is not, cannot be nurtured, supported, aided or rescued. That which God Is, is never absent, never in need of improvement, never imperfect in any way, hence does not require saving, being already Eternally safe and secure.

To state that humanity and its shortcomings are outside the pale of Mind may seem cruel, but is it? Is it discouraging to dishonesty, cruel or unkind to deceit, to ignorance or assumption, to call it by name and treat it as it deserves? Does one wrong evil by giving to God all the honor, glory and power that belongs to God? Would it be Right to ignore God in order to wait upon presumption, humanity, disease, evil? Is mortality of such importance that Life must be sacrificed to make room for it? Is lack so lovely that Intelligence can be eschewed, while a shrine is erected and the limitation served, hence worshipped? Is fear and suffering so glorious that they deserve your undivided attention, Spirit meanwhile being held in abeyance or cast aside? Where is God, Omnipotence, identified while these imposters are in your every awareness? Is mythical finite man so fascinating that Omnipresence can be by-passed so one can blindly serve this nonsense? pp 174,175

To pray to a god, a deity out beyond somewhere—to a power that is removed from the Self—is duality. Of course, no human can pray otherwise, for humanity is based on the assumption of a god or creator, and of a man or creation which is subject thereto. Humanity, manhood, creation, father-mother-child—this is theological teaching which permeates every form of thought-taking in the world today. It is duality, hence any attempt to escape it by practicing its format, is impossible. When the premise is wrong, the conclusion must be wrong. A continuance of wrong does not set one right. All the devout faith, sincere practice, innocent adherence or mad insistence cannot make nothing into something, or un-Truth become Truth.

So-called prayer in the field of duality, the limits of religion, the constrictions of theology, the agony of fear and privation, the toils of disease and anguish, are predicated on a petitioner and the One to whom the petition is directed. Most humans term the petitioned one “God,” but a human’s deity is actually but a superior human, a man; a man-made, man-authorized power supposed to reside outside of him, out in the great beyond somewhere. He thinks of his god as being capable of making him suffer, allowing or permitting him to suffer—nay, in fact demanding that he suffer for his own good; that his god can be persuaded to intervene, if properly asked, and that he will, under certain conditions, attitudes, or promises made by the sufferer, set aside his plan for him; that his god can be cruel, vindictive, revengeful, jealous, indifferent!

Duality is confusion throughout. It is the babel of present-day materiality—the threat of wars, of bombs, of disease, of lack, of governmental usurpation, of competition, of false ideology and mental domination through malpractice and brain washing, or death. Its only hope for identity or classification depends upon a successful refutation of Truth; upon keeping Reality hidden; upon the petitioner or believer remaining confused and bewildered.

God, Life as Omnipresent Perfection does not exist to human belief with its multiplicity of demands, lacks, irritations, misidentifications. Why? Because to the human sense there are many individuals, minds, wills, determinations, histories, sins and intentions. Duality cannot exist save it conceives a multitude of lords many and gods many. If duality could ever behold Oneness, in that instant its very foundation would be wiped out. But it (ignorance, belief, supposition, evil) can never know Truth, for Truth is Solitary, Whole, One Complete Being without another, while duality is always two or more.

Yes, God is One, whether called Power, Presence, Mind, Life, Action or what. To this All-inclusive One, this All-embracing Entirety there can be no lack or excess, no need for more or less of Himself (or Herself) than already is, for Infinite Spirit is Totality, Universal Substance—the Absolute in Intelligence, Endless Perfect Life and Its own full and completely satisfying Self-manifestation forever. This I that I Am is never human, never mortal, never a sinner, sick, dying or dead man. Mind can experience and be, act in accordance with and know only Its own Full Present Awareness. Whatever suggests or pictures a contrary state is utterly void of Reality, Authority or Power, hence in the light of Truth can be dismissed instantly and permanently. Truth leaves no possible “other” mind, no ignorant petitioner who needs aught, nor aught in need anywhere. Truth excludes the possibility of there being a lack of Truth anywhere, a place where Intelligence is not, an absence or poverty of Consciousness, a dearth of Good which must be brought to the Divine attention. pp 171-174

God is all, and all is as God wills it. There is no thing else, whether creation, children of God, children of men, offspring of the senses or what—there is no offspring, no addition beside whether good or bad, legitimate or illegitimate, known or unknown. There is only God Present, Infinitely Individual, the Sole I of All, the Sole-I. God has not fallen from Himself, not changed sides, not altered from His(/Her) Changeless, Unchallenged Entirety, Infinity, All-inclusiveness. His(/Her) will to be all of all is Inviolate, Uncensured, Unbetrayed, Unabated, Unadulterated, Unaltered, Uncontested, Uncompromised, and Inescapably Omnipresent for Eternity, the Forever Now. What I-Am wills Is; nothing can be added to God, nothing can be taken from God. pp 146

Courteous reflections Regarding Alfred Aiken

Alfred Aiken was said to have passed in the late 1960's. However, it is improbable that any literary works—up to and including this present time in the context of dream—exceed in accuracy regarding the nature of Reality Absolute as expressed in his volume entitled—Now. For this reason this volume sustains a distinct value at present. Such is contributable alone to the delightful uniqueness of The Script of Divinity!

However, and of which many readers become aware, there is a substantial contradiction present within Alfred's reasoning and writing content! The contradiction being that, while on the one hand, he powerfully asserts that a human race is utterly non-existent—he, on the other hand, spent the lion-share of his conscious endeavor—which shows up distinctly in all his writings—admonishing these non-existent entities to “start” or “begin” with “Reality” in order to break the spell and return or awaken to and as that Joyous Consciousness from which it is impossible that any ever depart! No fictitious figment of dream ever did could or will jump thru the illusion barrier of its unreality and be amazed to find itself in participation in the waking reality together with he or she who projected such into their night dream! Likewise, no so-called human ever did could or will leap out of the mirage world of humanhood into the Realm of the Real!

Earth entities in the Cosmic Dream are not real! None therefore can awaken as Divine Mind or Reality Absolute! Reality Absolute is Immutable Completeness—always was and always will be! Never can anything or one be added thereto nor be taken therefrom! Unreal earth entities simply role terminate and thus totally disappear—first in mind then in body. In other words, there is nothing left after role termination to accept or become something else—much less God! God is always God! No part of God ever descended in order to require ascending back to Its Divine State!

Such is an utter absurdity! All Reality Beings behind every make-believe earth role are God! Besides Divine Mind— Nothing is! Hence, where is the occasion and who exists to admonish? Such is the unique silliness of the Script Divine Alfred remained to the very last a teacher of dream beings, indicating clearly that he himself never fully departed from human dream consciousness or experienced what may be referred to as mind ascension. He did not see the Big Picture (simply another term indicative of the unique significance of pre-determined role termination) or else he never could have appeared to have died in the human dream. Such is the path of the mind called human. The so-called human intellect remains determined to the very last to blaze a way to evolve out of or survive the unreality of dream when no survival of such is ever possible! Teachers in the dream of human existence pride themselves as being way-showers. But in the final analysis, all that such apparently amounts to is naught other than merely more glorified and bewitching paths leading only to death and the grave! This and this alone, constitutes the primary “warp” of so-called human consciousness within the Play of Dream. This too, is by no means contrary to the Script Divine. Of an absolute Truth—the Eternal Seer alone sees the Big Picture! No other seer exists!

Mr. Aiken did not role terminate simply because he was not scheduled to do so in that time—like so many others in the so-called time-line of dream. However, never can such condition be laid at the door of neglect with any entity of dream. This would be an utter impossibility! No performing artist therein is real enough to be responsible for aught! There is no actual responsibility going on anywhere upon the Stage of Dream! Everything is in strict conformity with the Script Divine. Nothing can possibly deviate one iota from This Script.

Alfred himself made the following candid observation: “If what appears to be an Alfred Aiken should ‘appear to die,’ it would be an argument of an Alfred Aiken mind. But, if there is an Alfred Aiken mind, then God is a liar! Every slightest trouble ‘experienced’ by Alfred Aiken has to come by way of a so-called Aiken mind, a murderer from its beginning, for that ‘beginning’ is not, in Truth! Pertaining to an Aiken mind (or whatever you call your body), there is no Truth in it; when it speaks, it speaks a lie, for it is a ‘liar and the father thereof.’ Is this clear?” (Selected Forums on Absolute Reality Series 1, p110).

The present however, is a radically different time! It is the Grand Finale Time in the Divine Earth Play! That's why there is clarity abounding on the dream plane such as was never at any previous time in the Play. But mark well—this is not to say that dream entities need clarity to awaken! Dreamers do not awaken! All such simply role terminate or utterly disappear on Cue, and in strict conformity with the pre-design of the Script Divine!

It all comes down to one bottom line—dream beings are not real and therefore can neither be taught much less be morphed into Divine Beings or Eternity! All human dream teachers know one thing—namely, to teach other dreamers their finite human notions, and this is termed Truth Teaching! It never was nor ever will be such! It's the same with healing in the dream—all such has less than nothing to do with what is Real! The fact is—teaching and healing endeavors can have but one apparent effect in the dream, namely, to perpetuate ignorance and disease therein. Such also is in precise accordance with the Script of the glorious Divine Play. That to which one devotes his undivided attention is certain to be perpetuated thus intensified—whether it be the illusion of imperfection or the Glorious Reality of Universal Perfection. Such is the way of the Great Cosmic Play!

Of a surety, never is there any healing or teaching necessary or feasible in Reality Absolute! Divine Mind Is Reality Absolute! Divine Mind Is Perfection Absolute! Divine Mind Is Originless and Endless Wholeness and Joyous Intelligence Absolute! There is Only Divine Mind, naught else exists!

Therefore, when Divine Mind takes up residence in a Consciousness aspect, within a role terminated dream body in the Play, the central earmark of such is that never is there any attempt to teach or heal the unreality of dream! Such was the experience of Jesus and all others who terminated their role as a human mind entity! Never were they again involved in teaching or healing endeavors in the Dream, for the mind that saw only imperfection was no more! Hence the saying: "let the dead bury the dead."

Divine Mind sees only and always That which It Immutably Is—namely, all that is Actual or Real and so does never address or express to or as make-believe dream objects that appear contrary! Only dreamers who perceive they always abide in a realm of imperfection and ignorance resort to healing and teaching effort. Such is always a vivid display of utter blindness and oblivion to that which is Real and True! Of a certainty, no one in the dream ever really gets healed or enlightened. Apart from role termination, all such apparently simply continue dropping their bodies and apparently being reborn therein! Such is the unreality of dream! Beings of Divinity always residing elsewhere constitute unchallenged Bliss! Again—there is no actual elsewhere!

Does Divine Abundance Appear And Disappear?

The Magic of Divine Abundance "seems to appear" when that glorious moment dawns for Us to say Yes, in a sense, to Our Beautiful Blissful Self! That is, Yes—the time has arrived that We Ourselves have pre-arranged in Our Script for Our individual earth-shadow/ego to drop in order that the Real Limitless Abundant Us can now be disclosed to view upon Our Play Stage! What unspeakable Fun is this!

Such Abundance is the Magnificent and Immutable Nature of All who Know that It Eternally belongs to them—because It "Is" Them!

In Our Earth Play this seems to be a "beginning" of an appearance of something that was not previously present! But such is never the actual case!

In Our Fun Theme—duality or ego Consciousness—which is separation consciousness can only see two—it's erroneous self "and" Divine Mind or Intelligence and thinks/imagines that it is the "lacking" side of this equation and that Divine Intelligence is the "Abundance" side! Thus it imagines that the One who "has" is gracefully to give to the so-called "other" who "has not!"

The further way of Our Fun Play is to eventuality reveal the seeming unhappy fact that duality consciousness constitutes the total unfitness to experience a peaceful and joyous abundance!

Our Play Script additionally declares, that because the dualistic false self (human mind/ego) is the epitome of unreality and nothingness—there is no actual entity to be a recipient of any true abundance! Hence it never comes!

Occasionally, there appears an ego hither or yon that amasses a heaping stash of material abundance! But is such True Abundance? Never! All such proves—at least in the last analysis— to be but a sort of cancer that is as a deteriorating plague to body and mind of the fabulous self of dream!

There is never a so-called "recipient" of Divine Abundance—period!

Rather, Our Glorious Play is invariably featuring the irreversibly dissolve of the lack-mind—like a water mirage—in order that the Timeless Abundant Immaculate Real Us does manifest in its place—just as the always present sand comes to view at the dissipation of the unreal illusion of water!

Truly—Abundance Is the Eternal boon of the So-called "awake ones" alone who Are the Infinite Clarity that there is but One Existent Joyous Intelligence/Abundance and They Are That!

Of a Universal certainty, there are none who ever really "awaken" to or as this Abundance! There's simply the disclosure of That which Always Is-as and where Such Immutably Is! This is featured as merely a fun "apparent" awakening upon Our Play Stage! Nothing is real here! Lol! It's simply and amusingly the fun fairy land of "make-believe" only!

Therefore, to the question: does the glorious Cosmic Abundance ever appear or disappear-or "begin" to take up residence anywhere?—there is but one answer—Never!

Such is the Fun Way of Our Magical Divine Play!

Truly, Abundance never changes hands and goes or is shared from One to a supposed "other"! There is no "other"! We awake (but only in a metaphorical sense) as the Abundant One! Naught else is Being! Yay!

Earth Events—March 2011

People are inquiring—“What is the significance of current events— Japan, and elsewhere?”

The Present Global Certainty

The awareness that now appears to be surfacing planet-wide is that all are commencing to see that no man or coalition of men are any longer to be thought of as being in control of earth events or the inhabitants thereof—that day is over! Although so-called manipulators of earth made an apparent show of control, nothing was ever really out of control in so far as the Divine Play Script is concerned. On all counts, it is being made crystally clear that the manipulators of earth are helpless to maintain the old abusive and people-controlling paradigms and prevent the entire collapse of these dark institutions.

Firstly, the manipulative financial institution went down irreparably, and now all the rest of what has been constructed for the control and distraction of the masses—apparently preventing such from focusing on the real purpose they came to accomplish—is going down.

Egypt in recent weeks showed the rest of the earth masses that no longer would they, under any circumstances, continue to submit to tyranny. Authoritarianism is breaking down and losing its grip on the exploited common people around the globe. Now the masses in Japan and beyond fear a disastrous nuclear meltdown. Everything points to the one end—the final wake-up call to earthlings! How can these significant considerations be missed now?

What's Really Happening?

From the perspective of the Only Consciousness in Existence which is Omnipresent (Everywhere Present) Divine Consciousness, what possible harm or threat of harm could possibly co-exist or be present? None! To Consciousness no contrary power exists period! That means plainly that Japan, yea, the entire seeming material world together with all its apparent life-threatening chaos, is as well non-existent! Its all merely harmless dream pictures, nothing less nothing more! The final scenes of Dream are speedily completing! Where Perfect Love is—and there is nowhere Such is absent—fear and harm are non-existent! What an exciting and Joyous Now! Peaceful Abiding Love Reigns Alone.

The following was taken from among yahoo comments pertaining to the March 2011 Japan crisis.

“Is God willing to prevent evil, but not able?
Then he is not omnipotent.
Is he able, but not willing?
Then he is malevolent.
Is he both able and willing?
Then whence cometh evil?
Is he neither able nor willing?
Then why call him God?”

The following was submitted into yahoo comments march 16, 2011.

Extending Gratitude To Japan

If apparent tragedy of this magnitude was indeed authentic—all so-called “mankind” would have genuine cause to utterly repudiate the notion that somewhere exists a loving and caring God! But great relief comes as all things earthly are viewed via Vedanta. This Eastern philosophical structure pictures the entire earth as a stage whereupon nothing of the so-called 3-dimensional material matrix is real. It says all Reality Beings behind every earth role always dwell in Bliss and therefore enjoy Immutable and Eternal immunity in every way, shape, and form, from any apparent harm or sadness. There is no actual adversity! Thank you Japan for playing such noble role, as this provides an apparent massive wake-up call to all other participants in the Grand Divine Play.
