Happy Holidays!

The Meadowscaping for Biodiversity (MS4B) team wishes you a wonderful holiday season and delightful new year full of hope and action for a positive future. Speaking of action, check out our “green” holiday song below.

We’re getting ready for an exciting 2018 including a second year of the Youth Environmental Entrepreneurship Program (YEEP), summer Meadow Clubs, updating our website (<http://www.meadowmaking.org>), and selling native plants. Want to volunteer for a good cause? Contact us at info@meadowmaking.org.

Best wishes, Barbara and Jean

Dreaming of a Green Planet

[to the tune of White Christmas.]

We’re dreaming of a Green Planet
Just like the one we used to know,
Where the clear skies glisten and people listen
To hear bees buzzing to and fro.

We’re dreaming of a Green Planet
With every native plant we sow.
May our gardens grow green and right
So that all kids’ futures are bright.

Repeat the first verse, substituting “butterflies fluttering” or “birds flapping” for “bees buzzing.”
