Oleksandr Nahornyj

CDRF_GLOBAL PRESENTATION PROJECT, JULY 2016

The intellectual SEMANTIC revolution and the nonlinear humanitarian epoch is coming and overcoming the total linear market of goods, of various ideas and technologies.

Humankind of the 21st Century is sojourning at the past senses of being and of the life-style seeking an upgrade and upswing of newest democracy values in accordance with the modern information market epoch and with the prospective civil society.

I am representing now my author's intellectual product named Nonlinear System of the Philosophical Categories (NSPC) that is to play the role of a prospective tool-kit of the civilized intellectual breach through the mental slavery of the Ukrainian people and of the society at all. It does mean the "soft" revolution within the minds and thinking processes of the progressive persons to overcome the poverty and to comprehend the necessity of civilized libertarian values of thinking, being and handling while becoming a competitive nation in this global world.

The proposed NSPC is the main market and marketing template for acceleration in the rates of positive personal intellectual and mental developing processes. This is my author's presentation of the own exclusive product in a virtual format that anybody can neither touch, nor taste, nor feel materially but everybody has the opportunity to imagine this creation and to understand senses of the intellectual market being to his / her own profit.

However, everyone can recognize the real positive senses of the civilized competition and the necessity of using this newest methodology every time. Another way, it is risky to lose ourselves in the case of this boundless virtual and real surrounding of notions, ideas, categories, projects advertised and sold every time and everywhere. Personally I was been plunged into this ocean of market realities since the end of the 1980th.

Nevertheless, I was and remain squeezed from the stale state power every time and everywhere. However, during the past dozens of years I am a creator, dealer and seller of intellectual products doing my private exhaustive and grueling work within the market of things every time. Therefore, this is now my stable conviction that the market of things will be restricted through the mobile and flexible one of ideas and virtual products, goods, services and capitals. Nobody can either touch or taste this product but only imagine and comprehend the great sense for the personal progress in this competitive life.

There is the universal intellectual pattern named Nonlinear System of Philosophical Categories. If anybody is due to show any competitive intellectual project I will be glad to take part in a common promotion of those idea. This nonlinear project giving a start to the worldwide nonlinear practice is the modern, proper way to ensure the success of everyone who is thinking and working creatively in this unstable world.

Everybody dealing with goods, services and ideas can be sure that after the practical application of the NSPC he / she wills gain advantages over the up to date conventional thinkers and dealers. You and me together we can make success, earning the common and beneficial income for everybody who has an interest in creation of the theory and practice of this Nonlinear System of Philosophical Categories representing the main intellectual break into the information society progress.

The motto of this Project is as follows: From spectralysis up to spectroscopy and to spectrometry thereby mastering the spectrum-creation of newest modern systems of goods and services...

I believe in the prosperous transformation and in a transfiguration of the Silicon Value into the Worldwide Brilliant Value i. e. into the global nonlinear value within in this permanently changing world.

Sincerely, Oleksandr Nahorny, natural person-entrepreneur, founder, owner and manager of the Centre of Intellectual Services "TRANSFER", Lviv, Ukraine...
