

13.01.2017 – Join us in Hobart 9-10 February for AMMC's hands-on maritime museums Workshop

Only one month left until the next AMMC Workshop!

From Thursday 9th to Friday 10th February the AMMC and the Australian Wooden Boat Festival (AWBF) have teamed up to offer an interesting program for the next regional AMMC Workshop!

Thursday's program explores the success of the first AMMC/ANMM travelling exhibition collaboration and then sets out to expand on that success with an open discussion which will scope themes for future exhibitions. A full afternoon will be spent on a hands-on workshop creating a travelling exhibition where you can work together with others and meet new people!

Thursday's daytime workshop program will be followed by dinner at which an AWBF-linked guest speaker will talk to us on the subject of Dutch exploration of Australia, a theme of this year's AWBF. Dr Wendy Duivenvoorde is an acclaimed speaker and it will be a very interesting evening. (Dinner is a Workshop optional extra to be held at Hadleys Hotel, Hobart.)

The Workshop dated again – 9-10 February 2017. We hope to see you there!

Registration fee only $50 per delegate which includes refreshments and lunch on both days.

Don't forget to book your accommodation as soon as possible, Hobart is very busy during Festival Time!
