

SAVE THE DATE!

Edge of the Wild

Ecopsychology gathering VI

13th—16th July 2017 at Green & Away, Worcestershire

‘FRAKTURED PSYCHE’

“...a mad weir of tigerish waters, a prism of delight and pain...”

(Louis MacNeice)

Come and join us for this 6th UK ecopsychology gathering. The week we met to start planning this gathering a fracking site in Lancashire was given the green light by the Tory government - news which seeped into our meeting. The 'fraktured psyche' emerged from our collective dreaming, alongside flaming tigers, watery shores, and a mighty winged lammergeier, along with other bird, bees and sacred messengers.

This space will be a chance to join together in reflection, resistance, dream, play, and action as we join forces in celebrating the delight and feeling the pain. There'll be offerings of bodywork as we unfurl into the day... social dreaming as we gather together... keynotes and a fascinating panel of TED-style short talks and workshops as we share learning and practice... open spaces for spontaneous and strategic offerings... music and open mic around the fire.

As ever we will have the chance to live alongside the thousands of other-than-human species living in this beautiful part of Worcestershire, with swimming in the river Teme and the lake and scenic walks. We'll be welcomed, hosted and fed by the generous-spirited people of Green and Away at their tented conference centre. So whether this will be your first visit, or you're a seasoned participant, we look forward to seeing you at this year's event....

More information soon:

<http://ecopsychologygathering.org/>

<https://www.facebook.com/The-Edge-Of-The-Wild-856460401094942/>

<http://ecopsychologyuk.ning.com/events/edge-of-the-wild>

Artwork: Fire Tiger Tribal by Black Tiger of Evil on Deviant Art. The quote is an excerpt from 'Entirely' by Louis MacNeice.