Hard News:

R: things are getting better and better, tho' it looks like heaven and hell for many

- The stories are about one thing: th 13 families have lost absolute control of this planet – she is free, and we are too, as we choose to be; the old holodeck program is done too as long as we do not engage
- They are still using mind control

Kathryn & Elizabeth Warren: EW is running for VP; Michelle Obama is running for Pres!

- The absolute failure to control the planet – the ebola story is about absolute fear
- If you would go to get vaccines, be aware that what is in it is from Frankenstein's lab!
 - Flu shot is the worst thing to do, as well.
- Stories out there about turning FEMA camps into Ebola camps – ebola was induced by a vaccine in the first place.
- The galactics are here: Ashtar said on Tuesday there are trillions of ships around the planet
 - lots of fully decloaked ships everywhere – as he drove from Santa Fe to Taos, saw rows and rows of decloaked ships
- Kathryn and EW: all that is going on is about the absolute free-fall of markets around the world
 - St. G has all the money; when he gets the word, he will take the reins of the financial systems
 - We are watching Rome burn across the planet – all of the fingers of what the Club of Rome has done in the name of the Luciferian game – these ancient families who believe they are the chosen ones – we are ALL chosen!
- the fake story is called Israel; the real story is about the single state solution of Palestine

- the things that Israel has been doing behind the scenes are not being revealed.
- George Soros – the 2nd clone is out and about; the first clone financed “Move On.org”

R: the CIA has cordoned off parts of the Sphinx

- Serapis Bey is in charge of the Sphinx; this article describes what the CIA is doing – it is only a matter of time before the sphinx turns on its own defense mechanisms!
- KOS has said there will be massive downloads of all kinds of material / history so we will get the true story

She tells of a little alien being standing on Mars – obvious it is not from here:

- Just went through the original link to the NASA website; it's quite big 6 Mbs. The Panoramic images does show the lighted being – not lens glare!. Although this was found in May, 2014, it's being posted again – a glowing entity standing by a small saucer – it has been seen in other photos and is always seen glowing!

- There is still a Mosaic Law that in place:
 - Love god with all your heart, mind, your whole strength
 - Love your neighbour as yourself - this one is the foundation

Marianne Williamson: on Thom's show asking why don't we get scared of things like the radiation leaks in all the nuclear plants? [when asked about ebola]

- the entire Columbia River is glowing! It enters into the Snake River and thus gets into Utah & all is full of radiation.

An Air France plane grounded – fear of someone having ebola!

Syrian town of Kobani – the Kurdish forces have pushed back the ISIL fighters, with help from the US air strikes. A refugee base in Iraq – the people of Kobani went to Turkey who sent them back so they went to Iraq – huge displacement of people and agencies are compromised.

Hong Kong: a young demonstrator beaten to a pulp twice, and it was filmed twice!

- The leader of Hong Kong said he was willing to negotiate with the students – yet what he said means there is no way to negotiate due to what the Chinese gov't has said
- Chinese young people are democratized in their thinking – they want to choose their own candidates and not from the group chosen by the regime, and people get to choose out of that 1200
- Thom Hartman asked what is the difference between what is happening in Hong Kong, and what is happening in the US?
- FALSE INFORMATION: An article came out that Christopher Columbus was St Germain, and also some disinformation about St Germain – really laying on the untruths

Junk DNA: when Joe first wrote this, there was not much talk about DNA – had a different title then

- Since then, main stream science has made headlines &
- He was interested in computers in the 80s long before others could see the use for them. The RAM is the hard-wiring of the

RAM - he compares this to things we've inherited from our ancestors and what we can change. This can be done by the self-awareness formulas – SAF

Junk DNA: Unlocking the Hidden Secrets of Your DNA Paperback – September 27, 2014
by Joseph R. Scogna Jr. (Author), Kathy M. Scogna (Author)

Unlocking the Hidden Secrets of Your DNA A completely fresh look at the DNA of humankind. This is the HOLISTIC version, the body, mind and spirit DNA, designed from the beginning to provide harmony and balance. To the western lab scientist, DNA is a rigid study, the physical aspects that can be seen with instruments. It must fall within certain parameters of chemistry. It is useful in solving crimes and in finding markers of certain diseases. It is estimated that only 2% of our DNA is being studied. What of the remaining 98%? In the western lab, it is considered "junk DNA," so named by the co-discoverer of the double helical structure, Francis Crick. And yet, deep inside we know the truth. There is no junk DNA. We are products of Planet Earth. In this book, we explore all the tracks of energy possible —hydrogen, water, light & heavy elements, sugars, salts & crystals, proteins, fats & oils—this is what a human being IS and what makes up the earth, as well. The earth's electromagnetic energy field is mirrored in our own electromagnetic energy field. We are products of our ancestors on a cellular level, going back even earlier than Stone Age man, with all the beliefs, traumas and behaviors intact; and we are products of our environment (learning, people, places and events), as well as being products of what we eat, breathe in and drink. The reader will find on these pages that we Earthlings have not just five major senses, but access to 128 different sensing channels we could be using to perceive and understand our world.....if only we knew the language. What is the language of the gene? Vibration and sonic waves. All the healing knowledge we humans need to know about has been imbedded and stored in the crystals of our own DNA. Crystals can transmit information to us, about survival, about our past and about healing. We just need to access, to listen, and be open to the possibilities. This book presents life at the crystal level; so take a step back in time and discover what has been stored in the genes since the earliest moments of creation.

Book is broken down by the way that our Dna became what it is today

- Step 1: radiation - not the bomb, but classical radiation – god said let there be light, and it is radiating out
- Step 2: the light elements Everything the earth went through, we went through: the formation of light elements like hydrogen and water; then heavy metals and there are emotions tied to those
- Step 3: then the radio active elements – when we have atomic energy, for example: the scientists violated a law – they put together elements that should not have been put together and got the bomb
- Step 4: uranium & space stuff that NASA keeps track of

- Step 5: Sugars, simple and complex
- Step 6: Salts and Crystals: compounds and inert – microscopic like the ones in computers symbols and language – she illustrated this one
- Step 7: Protein matrices
- Step 8: nuts and seeds
- Step 9: milk and ooze
- Step 10: microbes, plants and bacterial colonies
- Step 11: crustaceans and shell fish
- Step 12: fish
- Step 13: snakes and reptiles
- Step 14: insects
- Step 15: birds
- Step 16: animals and mammals [humans are the last group developed]

Allergies: what make us weak; when doing SAF, can find out what they are & dismiss them psychics are sensitive to excess electricity

MR: What readers can expect to gain from it?

Kathy has answered part of that above; how can this book help them to be aware of the potentials that are really possible?

KS: if you read the book and get the intention of what is going on, lots will fall away

- Joe thought in mathematical terms – she found out that the binary system we use in our cell phones, etc go back to the 1600s and Leibnitz

MR: are we evolving into a higher level of beingness?

KS: yes, just by reading the book; can also do self-awareness processing

KS: Don't buy the book from Amazon, but do go there and look at the table of contents and other features so you get an idea of what is going on.

INFORMATION RELATED TO THE NOTES

2014, July 25 George Soros, his Ebola bioweapons lab and the death of WHO spokesperson Glenn Thomas in the Ukraine

<http://birdflu666.wordpress.com/2014/07/25/george-soros-ebola-and-the-death-of-who-spokesperson-glenn-thomas-in-the-ukraine/>

CORRECTION: Soros foundation has funded personnel working in the Kenema bioweapons lab.

Some dots for you to connect:

*George Soros's foundation has funded personnel working in the Kenema bioweapons lab at the focus of the Ebola outbreak, and which is about to be closed, apparently amid an investigation.

* WHO media coordinator Glenn Thomas was highly likely involved in fielding media and other inquiries about how WHO view and what it planned to do about the controversial Kenema lab.

Was Glenn Thomas aware of hard evidence showing that the lab was faking positive diagnoses for Ebola — Tulane University? — in order to justify forcing people to undergo treatment which would give them Ebola? Did he refuse to go along with the cover up?

*The mainstream media is silent about the Kenema bioweapons lab closure as well as about the order to Tulane University to stop Ebola testing. So, what other channels are there left for this information to enter the public domain or be spread through social media networks if WHO does not release the information or take action?

*George Soros has links to Sierra Leone President Ernest Koroma

<http://blogs.reuters.com/globalinvesting/tag/emerging-emerging-markets-frontier-markets-sierra-leone-africa-investment-george-soros-ernest-bai-koroma-tony-blair-anadarko/>

*Soros also has links to the non-elected, far right, banker-controlled Ukrainian government, implicated in MH17 crash killing Glenn Thomas

<http://www.infowars.com/soros-admits-responsibility-for-coup-and-mass-murder-in-ukraine/>

*The Ukraine government shot down MH17, argues German blogge fefe.

Fefe's argument: BUK missile launchers use radar and their signals can be tracked by NATO.

If NATO is suppressing the missile radar coordinates, then it is because the BUK missiles were launched by the Ukrainian government.

<http://www.mmnews.de/index.php/politik/19212-mh17-fefe-ukraine-wars>

*Soros attended the wedding of Dutch prince Johan Friso who married an employee of Soros in 2004

*The Dutch government flew back 40 bodies of the MH17 victims, call for a war crimes probe

<http://www.timeslive.co.za/thetimes/2014/07/22/mh17-war-crime-probe>

The Dutch Prime Minister said another 200 bodies were being transported by train. But there were only 188 passengers on the MH17 according to Malaysian airlines. Where are all these bodies coming from?

*The Ukrainian bankster-controlled prime minister resigned yesterday, as brawls swept parliament over plans to crack down on civil rights and escalate the conflict with the ethnic Russian eastern Ukrainian provinces

*Soros' Open Society Foundation and investment funds are active in the "Ebola death triangle" of Sierra Leone, Liberia and Guinea

<http://www.opensocietyfoundations.org/press-releases/new-partnership-jump-starts-development-sierra-leone-and-liberia>

Connecting these dots, does it seem likely to you that billionaire Soros had

- a) a motive for killing WHO spokesperson Glenn Thomas to stop the news spreading through official channels that the Ebola outbreak was orchestrated in a Soros-funded lab;
- b) a motive for silencing him very soon;
- c) the means of silencing him by staging a fake air crash in the Ukraine?
- d) the support of the Bilderberg, global elite?

Interesting is the complete silence of the mainstream media on the closure of the Kenema lab posted on the Sierra Leone Ministry of Health facebook site.

If the media really were a free press, interested in investigating scandals in the public interest and in reporting facts as the so called "fourth estate", this story about the Kenema lab closure would be front page news around the globe just as the story of Baxter contaminating 72 kilos of seasonal flu in its biosecurity level 3 lab and sending it to four countries in 2009 should have been front page news.

It is the total media blackout and silence which red flags the key, global stories. The key story of 21st century is that we have entered an era of biological warfare. The main warfare is not conducted between nations but between the elite and the people of the globe using also vaccines, weaponized viruses and mass deception.

2014, Oct 16 Mummified Alien Discovered in Egypt

<http://www.wisdom-square.com/mummified-alien-discovered-in-egypt.html>

A strange story about the Great Pyramid of Giza appeared in the March 2000 issue of the Egyptian magazine Rose El-Yussuf.

According to the article, in 1988, French Egyptologist Louis Caparat, discovered this mummy in 1988 in a secret room of the Great Pyramid and, "was found in a crystalline transparent case. At first the alien appeared to be hibernating," or in a state of suspended animation. It's believed to be a "humanoid," which is a mix between an extraterrestrial race and human DNA.

A papyrus found near the body tells of this being's encounter with the Pharaoh Khufu. Apparently, it said that this convinced the Pharaoh to build the Great Pyramid as a tomb for this being after he had announced the future arrival of other beings of his species (Source: the Egyptian magazine "Rose El-Yussuf" relayed by "The World Of The Unknown" in Issue 283 April 2000).

It was also determined from the papyrus that the people whom lived in Egypt during the Neolithic period was already very mixed, mostly consisting of people from the Mediterranean and Negroid that were dolichocephalic (Greek word meaning to have an elongated head).

The last update on this was that "Caparat sent a message to a colleague in Spain, Francisco de Braga, a biologist, inviting him to come to Egypt" to take blood, cell, tissue and DNA samples from the dead alien." But when Dr. de Braga arrived in Cairo, he was detained by the Egyptian Ministry of State Security and put on a plane back to Madrid. According to Rose El-Yussuf, the dead alien was taken to a laboratory at an undisclosed location by Egyptian military intelligence.

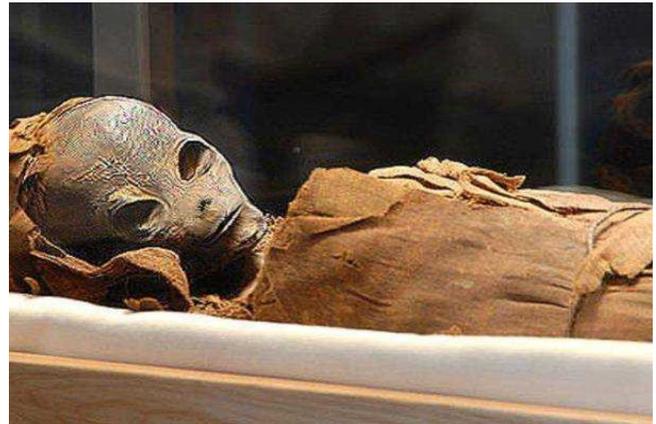

Editor's Note: Please take this story with a grain of salt. Mysterious dead bodies have been turning up in the Great Pyramid since Abdullah Al-Mamun first broke into the Great Pyramid in 813 A.D. Abdullah, who was the son of the famous caliph, Haroun Al-Raschid, hired a crew of Egyptians who laboriously bored a hole right through the Pyramid's wall.

According to author Peter Tompkins:

"Some Arabian authors have reported that Al-Mamun found in the sarcophagus a stone statue in the shape of a man. They say that within the statue lay a body wearing a breastplate of gold set with precious stones, an invaluable sword on his chest, and a carbuncle ruby on his head the size of an egg, which shone as with the light of day." - Secrets of the Great Pyramid by Peter Tompkins

On the other hand, there have been a lot of strange goings-on at the Great Pyramid since 1996, including secret UNESCO teams visiting, unmarked military vehicles and black helicopters seen at Giza, and the recent round of heavy construction.. It's anyone's guess what is really going on out there.

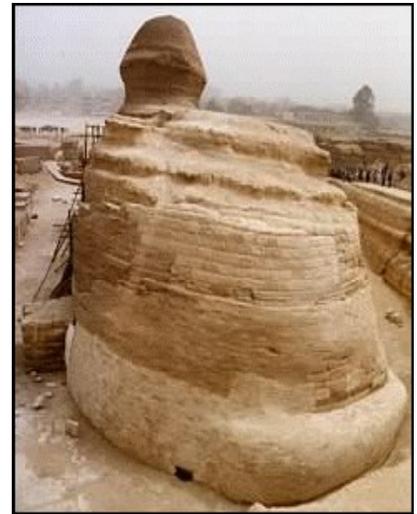

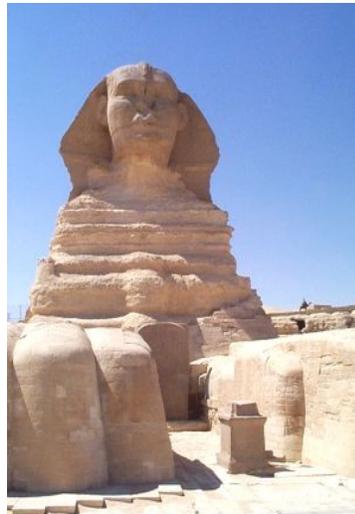

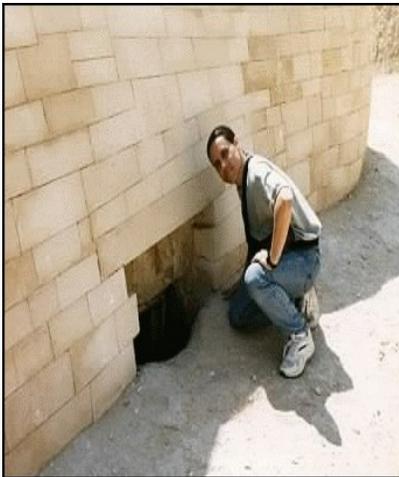

Another mummified alien (5' 3") was also found buried in an ancient pyramid, but this time by the archaeologist, Dr. Viktor Lubek. This one was found near Lahun, when exploring a small pyramid south of the Dynasty doceaba of Senusret II, which contains the queen of the pharaoh. This of course was not revealed immediately to the public either, and dates back to about 1880 B.C.

According to a source at the Egyptian Antiquities Department, "The mummy of what appears to be an alien, dates back (to about 1880 B.C.) and it seems it would be a humanoid." Apparently this statement, along with details and photographs of the find, were made under the condition of remaining anonymous. Inscriptions on the tomb of the mummy showed that this being was a counselor to the pharaoh and was named Osirunet, meaning "star" or "sent from heaven." The body was said to be buried with great respect and care, and was accompanied by a number of strange artifacts made of a synthetic material that is not found in any other Egyptian tomb. Also the source claimed, "It's unclear what sex it was, but we do know it had unusual reptilian-type skin, no external ears and overly large, almond-shaped eyes."

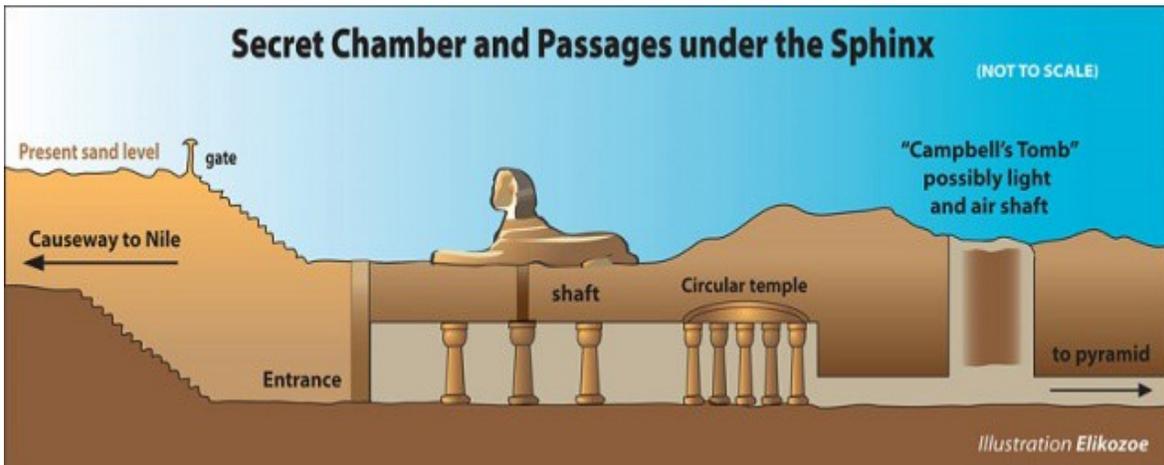

The anonymous person that provide this find's details claimed that the discovery has caused great controversy among Egyptian officials, who want to keep it hidden until a "plausible explanation" for the strange mummy can be made. The Egyptian government has consulted a number of respected archaeologists, but to date none can explain the finding in ordinary terms. According to the source, "The Egyptians refuse to believe that their heritage came from outer space." The last update on this was that the mummy was to be flown to a university in Florida where specialists will examine it more closely.

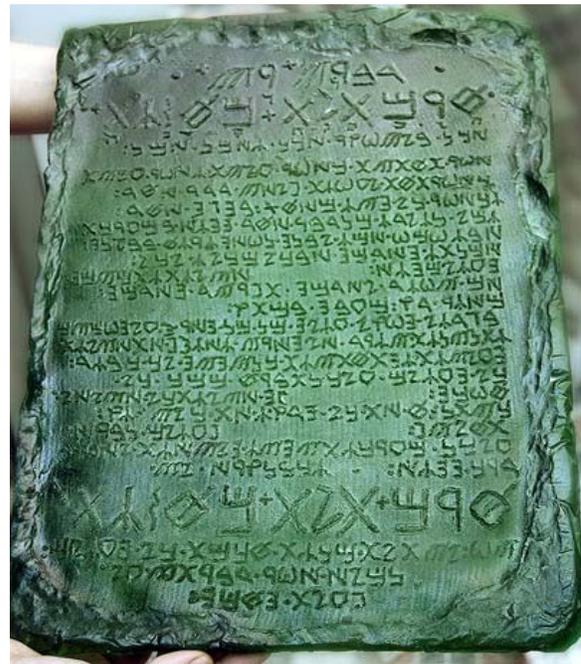

It turns out that the CIA has banned archaeologists to excavate in certain areas. Some journalists had already noticed that the CIA was very interested in making their own excavations before the ban was put in place. So far there are three "hidden" openings around the Sphinx that lead to underground tunnels that are prohibited. One opening is located in-between the two front paws, another on the south side, and one on the north side.

According to the British journalist Graham Hancock, the CIA has discovered not one, but 9 chambers under the Sphinx, some of which containing metal objects. These hidden underground chambers were actually recorded in the Emerald Tablets that were supposed to be written by Thoth/Hermes. The Emerald Tablets were said to be each molded out of a single piece of emerald (green) crystal, with its true origin (possible Atlantis) lost in legends that go back over 10,000 years. Its first known translation was made into Greek by Alexandrian scholars and was actually put on display in Egypt in 330 B.C.

However, around 400 A.D. it was reportedly buried somewhere on the Giza plateau to protect it from religious zealots who were burning libraries around the world at that time.

If the intelligence agencies want to get their hands on a device or documents, it means they think that the civilization of ancient Egypt was, in some areas, much more advanced than ours. Two of the most well-known descriptions of aliens mating with humans, thereby creating humanoids, comes from Robert Temple's "The Sirius Mystery" (which tells the story of the African Dogon Tribe) and Genesis in the Bible.

"The son of God saw the daughters of men were beautiful, and they took them wives which they chose among them. (...) There were giants in the earth in those days, and also later, because the son of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children: these are powerful men who, from ancient times, were men of renown "(Genesis 6: 2-4)

Greek mythology refers to these giants as Nephilim, or fallen angels who have taught men: math, writing, music, witchcraft/alchemy, astrology, etc. These lessons were also listed in the Kabbalah, which caused many crusades to chase these secrets in Jerusalem.

2013, Oct 11 COLUMBUS AND THE LEGACY OF GENOCIDE

by Nican Tlaca

<http://www.dailykos.com/story/2013/10/12/1246553/-Columbus-and-The-Legacy-of-Genocide?detail=email#>

[PLEASE GO TO THE ORIGINAL TO GET ALL THE LIVE LINKS]

October 12th is Columbus Day, a day which is increasingly coming under criticism for celebrating a genocidal pirate, murderer, rapist, and enslaver who is credited with the “discovery” of the Western Hemisphere.

Most people today dismiss the notion that Columbus “discovered” a land that was already packed with 100 million people and 6,000 years of thriving civilizations (the earliest urban center with communal architecture is at Porvenir, Peru, dating back to 4930 B.C., according to Haas et al, 2004).

The world that Europeans “encountered” (read: “invaded”) was not that of a barren wilderness, sparsely populated by nomadic tribes; but a continent filled with wealthy, urban civilizations and complex, sedentary farming cultures. The Western Hemisphere of 1492 was a land of cities, writing, mathematics, astronomy, calendars, and engineering (listen to the Charles Mann interview for more information).

Unknown to most people is the enormity of Columbus' genocidal actions, as well as its deadly legacy lasting into modern times. Genocide expert David Stannard has asserted that, beginning in 1492 with Columbus, Europeans collectively killed between 70 million to 100 million Indigenous People (within 80 years). In his book American Holocaust, Stannard calls this “the largest ongoing holocaust in the history of humanity.” The consequences of this Indigenous Holocaust were world-changing: 95% of Indigenous People were killed by European actions, 100% of Indigenous lands were stolen, and European-descent people became the most prosperous people on the planet.

Background on Columbus

Spain was the perfect place for pirate and slave-trader Christopher Columbus to go as he looked for financial backing for further naval exploitations. In 1492, Spain was an environment hot with the fervor of Holy Wars against Muslims and the expulsions of Jews out of Spain.

The following video by Nican Tlaca University explains more:

1492: Columbus and the Legacy of Genocide

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=o51LPfrjsqQ

Acts of Genocide

The genocidal actions of Columbus and other Europeans who followed in his footsteps (e.g. Cortes, DeSoto, Pizarro, et al) can be classified into two general categories:

Biological genocide: spreading smallpox as a weapon of warfare, massacres of unarmed delegates, execution of leaders, death marches, death-by-torture, death-by-exhaustion/malnutrition, etc.

Cultural genocide: the deliberate destruction of books, buildings, and other cultural assets for the purpose of undermining cultural identity, development, and self-determination.

The following video by Nican Tlaca University describes more:

Indigenous Holocaust: 500 years of European Genocide
http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=DD80NJ0FzU

Genocide Sanctioned By Law

It was the Catholic Church which established a “Genocide By Law” tradition through the issuing of Papal Bulls (Christian Declarations), granting European-Christians the rights to invade, enslave, and plunder the lands of non-Christians.

This tradition of Church-sanctioned crime led to the Doctrine of Discovery, which stated that Europeans have the right to invade, steal, rape, enslave, and colonize worldwide people and lands in the name of Jesus Christ and “salvation”. This doctrine was perhaps nowhere more blatant than in the Spanish-colonial tradition of reading aloud document called The Requirement, just before invading Indigenous lands. An excerpt from The Requirement is as follows:

“But if you do not do this, and maliciously make delay in it, I certify to you that, with the help of God, we shall powerfully enter into your country, and shall make war against you in all ways and manners that we can, and shall subject you to the yoke and obedience of the Church and of their highnesses; we shall take you, and your wives, and your children, and shall make slaves of them, and as such shall sell and dispose of them as their highnesses may command; and we shall take away your goods, and shall do you all the mischief and damage that we can, as to vassals who do not obey, and refuse to receive their lord, and resist and contradict him: and we protest that the deaths and losses which shall accrue from this are your fault, and not that of their highnesses, or ours, nor of these cavaliers who come with us “.

Other legal methods of codifying destruction and subordination were:

The 1577 Law of Book Burning – this Spanish law demanded the burning of all Indigenous books.

Spanish Inquisition imported from Spain – most people associate the Inquisition and its horrors with Europe. But the Inquisition was also imported into Spanish Colonies.

Racial caste system – White Supremacy was codified into a “bloody purity” caste system which still survives today (albeit informally).

Encomienda system (slavery) – this slave system granted entire Indigenous communities over to Spaniards who could work them to death, rape them, and otherwise act with impunity.

Reservation/Reserves - mainly practiced in “The United States” and Canada, this practice herded Indigenous People – like animals -- onto barren, unwanted lands.

The Columbus Formula

The Columbus Formula was replicated by subsequent European invaders. Briefly, the Columbus Formula included the following:

- Pretend to come in peace, bringing “freedom” or “salvation”
- Massacre unarmed people
- Take the leader hostage
- Extort the population for gold, silver
- Murder the leader
- Terrorize the population
- Fan the flames of smallpox infection

Much of this may sound familiar in our age of “The Bush Doctrine”, whereby American foreign policy is based on “pre-emptive war” (invasion) in the name of “Democracy” and ‘Freedom”. Just as the American government is a direct descendant of European Colonial governments, so too is modern American foreign policy a direct descendant of European-Colonial “Indian Policy”.

Modern Legacy of Genocide Since 1492

- Poverty for Indigenous People
- Racial Caste System still in effect (informally)
- “Illegal Immigration” (Indigenous People are classified as criminals for migrating across European-colonial borders.)
- Reservations
- Forced Sterilization of Indigenous Women
- Indian Schools (the most famous are the Indian Boarding Schools, but these have their origins in the missionary schools of early colonial Mexico. These school systematically exterminated Indigenous culture: languages, writing, mathematics, theology, and pride.)
- Latino/Hispanic (an attempt to whitewash the Indigenous-descent population, making them a sub-category of Spanish imperialism.)
- Manifest Destiny (the theft of Indigenous lands and parceling it out to white settlers)
- United Fruit Company and Monsanto - corporate colonialism of lands and resources
- Genocide of Mayans in Guatemala 1980s - hundreds of thousands were killed by paramilitary forces funded by the United States.

- Bush Doctrine – pre-emptive invasion in the name of “saving them with Democracy”.
- IMF, WTO, World Bank - this “triad” oversees (read: strong-arms) the world economy on behalf of “The West”. These institutions are run by Europeans to “develop” non-white nations, charging them huge interest on debts loaned out with numerous “structural reform” strings attached.

Conclusion

Columbus Day is more than just a holiday celebrating a man who merely “mistreated the natives”. “Mistreatment”, “depopulation”, and other euphemisms for genocide, torture, rape, and enslavement do an injustice to the horror story that is The Columbus Genocide Legacy. Columbus Day honors the architect of 521 years of continuous genocidal actions against Indigenous People.

To criticize Columbus Day merely on the notion that he did not “discover” an already-inhabited hemisphere is inadequate. The real significance of Columbus Day lies in the fact he established the Indigenous Holocaust Formula, leading to the extermination of 70 million to 100 Million Indigenous People and the theft of Indigenous lands.

This genocide paved the way for Europeans to acquire lands for “free”. The enormous wealth of the Western Hemisphere transformed Europe into a wealthy continent, and provided white settlers with “opportunities” which they would not have otherwise found back inside Europe.

Today, “Corporate Conquistadors” continue to plunder the world on behalf of “The West” (European-descent people), plundering natural resources from those who need them the most, and imposing poverty-producing conditions on struggling economies.

The cultural genocide continues today as well. A current proposal is underway to construct a “Museum of the American Latino” which plans to glorify Spaniards and their colonial past, while subsuming Indigenous-descent people under the categories of Hispanic/Latino, as a way of erasing their identity and voices.

In the words of Noam Chomsky, “The conquest continues”.

“No spring nor summer beauty hath such grace as I have seen in one autumnal face.” – (John Donne)

Autumn is often associated with aging and depression. With the last of the summer days waning away, a feeling of loneliness can often creep into our minds and souls during autumn. Such sentiments are more often a reaction to the diminishing sun and its blazing warmth, and the passing of the summer days of long and fun, rather than a reflection of what autumn actual represents and brings to our lives. This article will look at the mystical and mythological roots of autumn and their impact on the emotional, mental and physical spheres.

The earthy colours, the cool wind creeping in, the chill in the morning air, the feasts and fires, are but few of the charms of this season. Autumn’s mysticism not only grounds and re-connects us with nature and the earth, it also takes us on an introspective journey of deep discovery, inner reflection, self-knowingness and a sense of belonging. When the golden sun-rays of the afternoon sun flow into the red of the evening sky, amber manifests to remove unspoken words stuck in our throat chakras, unexpressed emotions bubbling in our solar hearts, and tinkling desires hidden in our navel.

Personal growth entails wisdom and gaining wisdom gives us strength of character and mind. When we are stronger we can love ourselves and others deeper and without attachments. In his Sonnet 73 Shakespeare starts off by using autumn as a metaphor for ageing, but later reminds us that in the face of mortality, love not only endures, love becomes stronger:

This thou perceiv’st, which makes thy love more strong,

To love that well which thou must leave ere long.

Apart from the healing benefits of colours, autumn also offers the magic of its fragrances and flavours. The taste of roasted chestnuts and freshly baked bread, the whiff of the morning wind and the scent of burnt dry leaves sharpen our senses and warm our hearts. Pick a packet of roasted chestnuts walking back from work along the busy roads. Go for a day in the countryside to celebrate the local life-style. Start meditating at night listening to the approaching wind. Take part in all festivities.

Beyond its mystical gifts, autumn has deep mythological roots apparent in its numerous festivals around the world. Usually connected to the autumn equinox, the end of the harvest and the cycles of the moon, Navratri is one of the most powerful Hindu celebrations dedicated to the universal Divine Mother, commonly referred to as Durga. Literary meaning “nine nights”, it symbolises the purity and power of the dormant female energy within each of us, the “shakti”, which once awakened is a powerful force of creation. Durga is the remover of misery and suffering from life, the destructor of dark forces, and the doer who pushes God in his work of creation, preservation and dissolution. As the creative aspect of the absolute, energy is imperishable, it cannot be created or destroyed, it only flows from one form to another but it is always there.

With the change of seasons, there are changes in nature and the biological cycles of living beings. When the warm light-hearted fun and sunshine of summer are replaced by the cooling evenings of autumn and the falling tree leaves, people often feel low and associate these changes with autumn. Navratri represents an opportunity to worship the divine and ask for blessings to give us strength to deal with the changes our body and mind goes through. It is an opportunity to harness our own shakti energy so we can realise its creative potential for personal growth, to maintain our physical, mental and emotional balance. On a bigger scale, Navratri is to also show gratitude to the Divine for maintaining the right balance on a cosmic level when changes in the world and nature occur.

The festival worships three different aspects of the Divine mother. The first three nights are dedicated to worshipping and meditates invoking the power of Durga to destroy within us that which slows us down on our spiritual progress, our impurities and self-harming habits, and to protect our spiritual practice from the many temptations that divert our attention away from it. The second three nights are dedicated to the aspect of the Divine Feminine which grants spiritual wealth and abundance known as Lakshmi. She bestows the aspirant with the qualities of compassion, kindness, forgiving and integrity. The final three nights of the festival are dedicated to the Goddess of Wisdom, Saraswati. Her boons are achieving self-realisation and understanding deep universal truths such as our divine nature and the interconnectedness at the level of consciousness. Observing and meditating on all different aspects of the Divine Mother bring an all-round success in life.

These nine days are an auspicious harnessing of the feminine energy and power within us to achieve prosperity and success in all aspects of life, while releasing us of our worst enemies – anger, resentment, procrastination, regret and guilt. Like a baby in the womb of a mother, we evolve in the womb of the Divine Mother to be born again as better versions of ourselves. The ageing of autumn symbolises our inner death only to be reborn again stronger, wiser and more content. Like a phoenix rising from the ashes, we rise to know ourselves better. This is an endless cycle of human development, the seasons of life that push us throughout our days towards self-development and growth.

Another popular autumn festival is Halloween (All Saint’s Eve) – an introspective time of remembering the dead, including saints, martyrs and the faithfully departed believers. Argued to be partly Christian and partly pagan (Celtic) in its origin, the celebration of All Hallow’s Eve has become popular across the globe. Its focus is on using humour and ridicule in the face of death. Trick-or-treat, Halloween costumes and bonfires are all part of the tradition. Indulge in the fun, the tricks and the games, warm your body and soul by the fires, challenge death.

Numerous other celebrations across the globe are connected to autumn marking the end of harvest season. Mid-Autumn Festival in China, Taiwan and Vietnam (also known as the Moon Festival) is symbolised by three fundamental concepts. First it is the gathering of family and friends and harvesting crops for the festival, second thanksgiving for harvest and harmonious union, and finally praying for good fortune, children, spouse, good health and longevity. Through this celebration we have an opportunity to be together with loved ones, to aspire to happy life and fortunes and to ask for one's heart's desires. Autumn is an auspicious time to express gratitude for all that we have received in life.

These are only few of the mystical and mythological roots of autumn. Take part in nature's cycles and merge with the flow of life. What more beautiful and enriching than a time, a season to look inward, to reflect, to harness one's energy, to discover one's deepest heart desires, to re-connect with oneself, nature and others, to remember and forget. Autumn gifts us an opportunity to find one's inner balance, peace and strength.

The Wisdom:

As an old pattern is ending
Grieve for what is lost and move forward,
No Pause; the next cycle has begun.

You are, after much work and toil, becoming realized. In a time such as this it may be confusing, feeling that everything is ending or falling apart. You have identified a major pattern that has been obstructing your path to happiness and satisfaction. It is an old pattern that you've often repeated, and now it must be left behind. It is showing itself and is in your face, like Cerberus, the three-headed monster guarding the gates of the Underworld to prevent those who have crossed the river Styx from ever escaping.

You now stand on the shore of the river, where love, abundance, and satisfaction await you on the other side. And it is here that this monster, your monster, is confronting you. It is here and now on this shore that you are to gather your strength and choose the appropriate time to make your crossing.

There is a warning in the original text that says not to proceed without careful consideration and a cohesive plan. By examining the Chinese pictograms for this hexagram we are reminded of the young fox that desperately want to cross the river, where her dreams of love and abundant hunting grounds await her on the other side. She sees there is ice on the river that can facilitate the crossing. But our young fox does not consider that the ice is not yet fully formed, and, throwing caution to the wind, she goes for it. Her exhilaration is momentary—the ice cracks, plunging her into the frozen water, and her crossing is thwarted. Now there is no way to recover, and she cannot try the crossing again.

The lesson is applicable here: pay close attention in order to recognize the proper timing, and make sure your plan is fully formed; then make your move.

After recently experiencing some beneficial advances, the temptation now, fostered by the ego's impatience, is to embrace all your actions and continue to forge ahead. But this is not yet the correct time. Reflect and examine where you have been and what you have gone through to get to this point in your process; you will be sobered by this and will, as a result, want to proceed carefully.

Your passion to advance, which is a good thing, is triggering a kind of hormonal rush whereby all seems possible, and it is, but you are not quite fully prepared. Cool your jets. This is the time to embrace the changes that have occurred in your mind and in your heart. Allow what you have been processing to really be acknowledged on the emotional, feeling level as you move toward your destiny.

You are being given notice as you stand on the shore to take stock of your situation. You are at the gateway of great understanding. Be sure that what you have done in preparation for this change is in proper order. Look closely; you have tamed the inner chaos, and you have gathered the emotional, spiritual, and psychological food you need for the journey ahead. Well done! Now you must pay close attention to your timing, so that you will recognize the proper time to make your move. Look around you now. You may find a person, process, or situation of substance to appoint as your guardian at the gate while you make this transition and safely cross the river.

It is most important that you release the situations and people that have held you—and that you have held—in the bondage of old programs and patterns. This will leave you feeling free, light of spirit; you will have released the weight that has kept you from what your heart desires and what you are here in this life, at this time, to complete. This will allow you to be loved without bonds or conditions; this is free love. In this moment in time you are the microcosm of the macro-changes that society and Gaia are experiencing, and you are given a powerful energetic wave to ride. It is this wave that fuels your intuition, that powerful mechanism that taps into the universal source of wisdom. Didn't you notice how the universe sent you in the right direction, to the right place at the right time, almost as if you had no choice? Trust that this was your intuition operating at its finest vibration and highest frequency. This is an important part of the equation—trusting your intuition, which allows you to love without condition, and let yourself be loved in that same light, with no confusion, angst, or pain. Believe this: love without pain is possible!

Walk your path with dignity, compassion, kindness, and integrity. In this way you are greasing the wheels of the inner vehicle that will take you smoothly toward a new birth, a new and creative beginning.

At this time you will need no translator, shrink, shaman, or priest to tell you what is being said; rather, you will know it from your intuitive voice of inner wisdom, the voice that got you here, to stand at this place at this time, fully exposed and with no fear.

This is a rebirth and a new beginning. Close the old chapters and cut off the dead weight with a sharp, swift sword. Your releasing of the old will free yourself from the bondage of control of that person or pattern.

There will be great rewards as you make the commitment to leaving these old, worn patterns behind. You will find new people, new endeavors, and will birth new ideas that have been in formation all the time you were in bondage.

Laugh, sing, and be joyous, and let yourself be found. Love is the answer.
