Nov 1 is an important day because it follows Hallowe'en – it is All Saints Day; Nov 2 is All Souls Day –

Samhain (pronounced /'sɑ:wɪn/ SAH-win or /'sɑ:ɪn/ SOW-in[1] Irish pronunciation: [sʲɑunʲ]) is a Gaelic festival marking the end of the harvest season and the beginning of winter or the "darker half" of the year. It is celebrated from sunset on 31 October to sunset on 1 November, or about halfway between the autumn equinox and the winter solstice. It is one of the four Gaelic seasonal festivals, along with Imbolc, Beltane and Lughnasadh. [Wikipedia]

Hard News:

T: this is not just another event: this is the crack in the cosmic egg!

- Melissa [MSNBC] was saying today that by 2043, white people will be a minority forever – across the whole planet, not just in the US.
- And even white people if they go back far enough, will find all kinds of other things!
- Appropriate for Michelle Obama to be Pres, and E. Warren as VP
- Heard about the voting tampering in Kansas, where the Koch Bros live - all the money in the world and all the ads, no matter what you try – money will not buy you what you want without heart!

The Return of Quetzalcoatl - A book she's going to read

- we learned the day we celebrated the entrance of 2012, and the mayan elders have said over and over again the complete transition period can take 50 years
 - But just imagine that we are reversing our aging processes: the acceleration of the reversing of the aging process has to do with what is discussed in the book: all that is in true in part, ceases to exist: the whole truth and nothing but the truth is what it's about !!!
- Today is All Saints Day; Sunday is All Souls Day;

Camp Lovewave: guests were Wavy Gravy and Starman

- Said on air that Robin Williams was murdered.
 - He worked with Robin to get ready for the Patch Adams movie; every USO tour they did, Robin was there with the troops in Iran, Afghanistan
 - as they did the Patch Adams movie, RW was going through his depression stuff;
 - Wavy Gravy helped him with meditation techniques – smoking joints helps a bit, but it was not Robin's stuff. Said he's dancing on that rainbow bridge.
 - They repeated the piece from Robin at Woodstock where he said how about breakfast in bed for 400,000 people. There were that many people at the climate change march on the east coast.
- Everyone of voting age needs to get out and vote; we can change the fundamental thing going on here – if goons get in your face, tell them politely, respectfully you have a right to vote and you will not be denied your constitutional right! We are at a critical point in the planet's development.

Starman was on: talking of the Andromedan, Pleiadian, Sirian visitors on his property

- more and more of these ones are showing up all the time; the ships over his area show up daily.
- There are fairy rings on his land; if you sit inside them, fairies come and dance with you! As Tara read last night – if you open your mind and your heart, they will come, sit on your knee & talk with you. R had 125 fairies sitting in front of him and they had a discussion about the solutions

Wavy Gravy: the Koch Bros are dinosaurs; they are dying; send them love before they go. They and their masters have something to learn about receiving love, and the 12th strand of DNA

- Our law enforcement / police have become SS in every sense of the word and they reflect every bit of the story of the Nazis – and they need love too
- they have been so programmed to believe that counter-insurgency is what is needed in the streets
- they did not receive PTSD closure when they came back from the wars in the Middle East, and they carry that on Starman: talked of how we can change this right now, by sending these life forms even more love as it changes the atmosphere and the very nature of the earth – she responds to love.

- Our temples of the living god, our bodies: there are ideas that they are “rental units” - yet we are taking them with us and transfiguring them into the mighty I AM PRESENCE, where our light bodies are merged of these temples of the living god so we never get sick, old or die.
- When Starman stands in the presence of these magnificent beings, he said he just cries tears of joy! They are like Swami Purna and Yogi Bhasan and others – cannot fake love! He say everytime they show up, he just stands there and cries! Such love cannot be faked or manipulated, and that love just emanates from them.

T: in the angelic realms, you don't do freewill choice; you are in the realm of The One and no one is forcing you, that is your mission.

- We volunteered to come into this experiment & to come into a more limited space; it spurs us to find out who we are and there are emotions involved which sometimes clouds our minds and our physicality which abides in the polar universe and things start happening with the body – we are all learning about the Laws of Nature and Nature/s god and how they conform to our consciousness
- when we are All One, to think that a small group of people think they are better than the others and that they can leave their externalities of pollution of the earth and the minds for others to deal with means we have to nudge them.

WG, Starman: brought up the program in NM: vets coming back with PTSD get to work with horses – they groom the, clean up the barn, feed them, learn to ride – sometimes the horses out of divine compassion and understanding, will just come up and kiss them; rub up against them like a cat – they are as varied as people.

- As it could be funded and the program expanded, that would be very helpful for the vets.

WG: still working with the feelings of loss of Robin who is dancing on the Rainbow Bridge with brass balls on!

- The Rainbow Bridge is the actual bridge that takes us to the realms of Asgard, the holy city where Thor, Odin and Frieda live; it is an actual light city
- use duckduckgo. Com or startpage.com which don't track you & look at the picture of the great tree
 - there are pictures of the spiral limbs of the Great Tree that go up to Asgard & each of the 9 realms
 - there are beings there who are ready to dance with us!

NHK, Japan: there are Japanese gardens placed in US by people from Japan: some of the gardens need attention now; people are coming together and donating and re-doing the gardens; the one in Oregon has been maintained – gardening from the Zen-japanese point of view.

Rudolph Steiner's bio-dynamic gardening: all is mixed together the flowers and the veggies eg, garlic and roses do well together

- Talks of carob trees which are very ancient in California
- We need to learn of this [Steiner's work] as we need to turn things around
- Talks of the water system they are learning about, and how the water can turn pesticide-laden land and turn it into organic fertilizer
 - good organic soil will literally absorb CO2 out of the air [see Abby Martin and interview with Elizabeth Kuchinich]
- It appears that power is still invested in the elites who want to continue to profit at the expense of making the earth better
 - There is to be a big meeting in China of all world leaders – yet people are dropping like flies due to the pollution in the air
 - Instituting a new law: 1/3 of the people will not be allowed to drive for 2 days, choice made by licence plate; then the next 1/3 & their licences plates, and the last 1/3 – in Beijing
 - So if they do this for 6 days, are they going to turn it back to what it was?

R: we have the potential as beings on the planet with the divine compassion and grace to change this –

- one of the inventions – Judy Beebe's gem sphere can change things on the planet – no connection to wires, and we never need to rape and pillage mother earth.

T: There is a balance: we will still be working with where we are: for the water technology to work, people have to learn about it & how to build them and teach others how to do this around the world.

Starman: concerning the rocket that exploded in Virginia and the one in the Mohave Desert – we are going about travelling into space in entirely the wrong way! Don't need to strap yourself into a rocket!
• Richard Branson: not thinking right; did not need to use that system Virgin Galactic Space project.
R: We can just sit in one of the craft of the Intergalactic Federation of Worlds – don't need fire and explosion: there is no noise and it just takes off. All these technologies will be revealed.

Weather: snow on east coast: symptom of the jet stream dipping down!

CA: 3 teenagers died in a hit and run event on Hallowe'en

R: the violence in the schools is about creating the atmosphere where the SS can step in
T: enough folks have been alarmed by this turn of events & are taking steps to make change
• The ISIL executed 50 people on hallow'en

TX: the nurse was re-united with her dog – Nina Pham

Elections: Steve Kornacki can talk faster than Chris Hayes!
• either way the election turns out , as Cheryl read from Patti Cota-Robles, the system is entirely broken
• Reviews 7 senate races:

R: on RT TV, saw that a whole new set of folks took over the EU; they still look like the mafia!

Reading: The Return of Quetzalcoatl published in 2006
Reads the introduction

The acclaimed metaphysical epic that binds together the cosmological phenomena of our time, ranging from crop circles to quantum theory to the resurgence of psychedelic drugs, to support the contention of the Mayan calendar that the year 2012 portends a global shift-in consciousness, culture, and way of living-of unprecedented consequence.

T: another name for Quetzalcoatl: Sananda Kumara, Kuthumi

R: Lord Kuthumi has things well in hand [this at the end of Tara's reading!]

Naomi Klein: Capitalism vs. The Climate, TRT 1:08 recorded 9/28/14

Naomi Klein: Capitalism vs. The Climate, Mon. 10/6 8-9 pm, Thurs. 1pm, Sun. 1am on SCM

Climate change has a variety of negative effects on the economy, and according to award-winning journalist Naomi Klein, the time has come to shift the debate from climate to climate economics. This Changes Everything: Capitalism vs. The Climate analyzes the current fight against global warming, how “disaster capitalism” makes things worse, and why the “free market” structure needs to be dramatically altered. She'll give insight into how reducing greenhouse emissions could solve a variety of inequalities in society and rebuild local economies. According to Klein, climate change is “the fight of our lives” and it’s up to us to change the direction the world is headed. The author of The Shock Doctrine, Klein is also a contributing editor for Harper’s. The program also features KC Golden, Senior Policy Advisor with Climate Solutions.

- R: talks about what Big Will was so excited about today - a 2 minute clip he saw on Yahoo.com today
- there are ET visitors working for the federal gov't at Area 51! Since when does ET get a paycheck from the Fed???
 - R received a 32 minute piece about a man [Boyd Bushman] who was leaving the planet & doing a death bed confession on Area 51 & sightings over Tuscon & the Arizona mountains – the Phoenix sightings
 - this guy worked for Loughheed Martin & created 27 patents; was at the Citizens Hearing on Disclosure
 - he showed pictures of 5 craft that showed up: the Phoenix sightings; also talked of various other pieces of the story

R: many things coming out now in the face of the absolute collapse of what is happening on the planet

- As Neil Young said, there are no good leaders showing up – and Hillary is not the answer!

T: that statement is part of the preparation for the announcement regarding Michelle and E. Warren

R: Bernie Sanders is the best one to take the reins and do things the way the people want batteries, Mars in Capricorn coming up to Pluto is a time of great ambition, drive, and accomplishment. AND, the evolutionary process is furthered through integrating its opposite polarity, that of Cancer, the watery, deep, inner feelings. If we can go in as far as we go out, we can stay in balance which is both healing and more fun.

The downside of these aspects is falling into becoming an obsessive compulsive obnoxious pushing and shoving everyone around to get your way. The fear and insecurity that drives such behavior can have its roots in guilt, shame, and feelings of unworthiness.... "I have to push because Life doesn't want to give me anything (because I don't deserve it)... and can go further down to simply "I'm a bad person, its hopeless, who cares." What's more, these feelings can then be projected out on the world so we can think that everybody is no good and it is a dog-eat-dog world and the patriarchal programming will have succeeded in keeping everyone at odds with everyone else! Time to bust the programming and move into a more loving, united, community of co-workers instead of competitively feeling our feelings which connect us to Spirit and each other..... Injoy!

T: what we see on the world stage is a reflection of what we are feeling and experiencing

Ri: It's making us stronger, and we're not dead yet!!!

Coming Week:

Interesting evening right now:

Sat pm: started with Mercury sextile Jupiter in Leo; at 7 pm EST, Venus was exactly sextile Pluto – which is Scorpio to Capricorn – the dance is between inner and outer planets

- Mercury sextile Jupiter are in the divine astrological triangle under divine Wisdom
- Neptune transforms divine wisdom and passes it on to both mercury and Jupiter
- Uranus, the masculine, delivers experience to Saturn & the Earth
- Divine Wisdom which is the combination of Divine Will and Divine Love [Pluto]
- Paired with that is Mars sextile Neptune a little while ago – this is Capricorn to Neptune, Capricorn to Pisces -
- We have Jupiter in Leo sextile Mercury in Libra, with Venus in Scorpio talking to Pluto in Capricorn and Mars in Capricorn talking to Neptune in Pisces - this makes a very sweet triangle!
- Around Pluto, we have Mars which is connected to Neptune, and Mars and Pluto are in Capricorn, and Venus is connected to those 2 from Scorpio, and next to Scorpio is Mercury and Jupiter is feeding the whole triangle from the position Leo - This is a powerful evening – feminine energies for the most part.

T: what can we do with this powerful double two days?

Ri: work on the inner planes

- Scorpio Capricorn Pisces, with sun in Venus in Scorpion, Pluto and Mars in Capricorn , Mars in Pluto - have 3 conjunctions making a triangle
- Remember the T square: Uranus square Pluto and opposite Mercury in the north node still in Libra
 - a powerful T square and a powerful sextile trine, anchored at Mars & Pluto in Capricorn
- There are continued difficult energies; the trine/sextile/triangle will last at least another week – this will carry us

Ri: not sure it is possible to solidify magnetics but if it is, there might be a coming together of people at the level of heart energy: Capricorn wants the best for all people; Pluto – we have to get rid of some shit & activate; Mars is saying let's get busy with Pluto stuff, this transformation: lots of cleaning, lots of purging, forgiveness, sharing, heart to heart talks; don't forget to forgive self and to love self

- He bought himself a present this week – a new hat for $15! a wide brimmed hunter's hat – dark muddy green! Looks like tree bark - made by a company called Real Tree!

Conference Call

C1: What is the meaning of being a triple Capricorn?

Ri: means have 3 planets in Capricorn – depends on where they are; have to know which 3 positions caused the comment - as a general comment, Capricorns, personality wise, are drivers and builders who go for it; they will get to some depth in whatever they are interested in

- for Capricorns to say they have 3 planets in Cap – a way of saying they are ambitious!
- In terms of giving directions, watch out – will try to run you!

Ri has a Capricorn moon – means he has high ideals, he's romantic -

- Has friends with Mars in Capricorn
 - we'll be seeing lots of expression coming forth from men – we'll see continued inventions and technology to make life easier for people
 - Capricorn is an earth sign – will see technologies for farming, gardening
- We have 20 days of Scorpio some days of ?? and then Capricorn comes in

C2: had a rally about the pipeline: drizzling, overcast, cold, 150 people out – feeling that they could beat it and that this thing can grow! The county citizens are united around this

- Trinitypointproject.org is the new site - still waiting to get a logo

C3: tells of a letter published in The Oregonian from a doctor to the lady who moved to Oregon to take advantage of the “death with dignity” option. He is offering to try healing her tumour and to pay her – offers 2 different ideas. Dr Sam Choua and gives a You Tube

www.youtube.com/watch?v=TG30xPfJs

From Dr Choua (1) proton beam which is a conventional technique that is not widely available and (2) a virus that attacks brain cancer which is just being experimented on

- one of the approaches will eliminate the convulsions in a few days

Asked T about the proton beam – has heard of it, Has a lot to do with the vibrations of the person doing it, and on the rapport between the dr and the patient. The dr who offered is pure of heart, as is the gal who is suffering.

T: these issues are waking people up more and more

Even when Thom Hartmann cannot or does not say things, his listeners are saying it for him.

T: and psychic surgery is another option!

C4: knows a dr who has a Rife machine and has healed a lot of people with it

T: when Rife designed the machine in late 40s, it was very advanced; the gov't got in and changed some stuff; she knows there are new Rife machines and maybe they have been fixed.

C4: the person who has it got it from Royal Rife. Healed the caller's wife, and people who have come from Hawaii

T: has got that the young lady has the power in her!

- Laurence O'Donnell played something: ask him to get in touch with the gal and give her the info about the rife machine.
- With all the possibilities coming up, it sounds like the universe is showing us there are various ways to heal people

C4: in another place, allowing use of Reiki to heal

T: also Qi Gong – in 10 minutes, the tumour shrank from the size of a lemon to the size of a pea!

R: going to re-open the case of George Zimmerman / Trayvon Martin and have him for murder one.

T: tells of another killing of a black man – 9 shots in the back!

In this episode of the Keiser Report, Max Keiser and Stacy Herbert discuss how, in the words of Laura Ingalls Wilder, once you begin being naughty, it is easier to go on and on, and sooner or later something dreadful happens. And in a world of very naughty bankers, many dreadful things have happened. In the second half, Max interviews Dan Collins of TheChinaMoneyReport.com about the emerging post-dollar order as evidenced in the newly launched Asian Infrastructure and Investment Bank and the Shanghai-Hong Kong Connect scheme. They also discuss how in China Jim Rickards went viral and how steel costs as much as cabbage.

INFORMATION RELATED TO THE NOTES

2014, Oct 30

YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

by Patricia Cota-Robles

www.eraofpeace.org

In the United States of America we are in the midst of midterm elections. I know everybody is more than disgusted with this process and the incredible reports of greed, corruption, and negativity we are being bombarded with in the media. There is absolutely no doubt that our political system is completely broken, but the only way we can move forward in the Light is to do something about it. That statement probably makes you even more frustrated, but please contemplate the following information from the Company of Heaven.

There is a purging process taking place on this Planet that is unprecedented in the history of time. Everything that conflicts with the patterns of perfection for the New Earth is being pushed to the surface to be healed and transmuted back into Light. What we are witnessing as far as the governments of the World are concerned is the antithesis of what government will be like on the New Earth.

These obsolete behavior patterns do not reflect the reality of the Divine Plan that is unfolding on Earth at this time. At a grass-roots level there are literally millions of people striving to cocreate the patterns of perfection for the New Earth. One of those patterns involves the establishment of Divine Government. I am sure that most people think that term is an oxymoron, but when you experience what Divine Government really is, through your newly awakened consciousness, you will feel differently.

Divine Government is a government that functions from the highest level of Humanity's newly awakened consciousness. A government OF the I AM Presences of Humanity, BY the I AM Presences of Humanity, FOR the I AM Presences of Humanity. It is a government that clearly comprehends the Truth of Humanity's Oneness with ALL Life. It is a government that functions with reverence for ALL Life in alignment with the highest good for all concerned.

As our consciousness is raised and the Light of God increases in our lives, we are beginning to "see with new eyes and hear with new ears." This phenomenon has the wonderful effect of allowing us to clearly perceive the Oneness of Life and the Divine Truth that all Life is interconnected, interrelated, and interdependent. We then know beyond a shadow of a doubt that WE ARE ALL ONE and that there is no such thing as "us and them."

If we participate in the elections taking place in the United States of America this year, we will make a positive difference by cocreating the archetype for Divine Government. However, if we just stand in the wings being cynical and judgmental, while feeling helpless and hopeless, nothing will change.

The Beings of Light in the Realms of Illumined Truth have indicated that due to the urgency of the hour the need to change what is occurring in our political system is critical. What happens in the USA, whether it is good or bad, affects everyone, everywhere.

It is difficult for the average person to fathom how we will ever get out of this political mess. It looks like an impossible task, and it seems as though our humble efforts are futile in the face of such powerful adversity. But that is not true, we are powerful beyond our knowing. In order to change what is happening in the outer world, we do not have to do battle with the forces of imbalance and the power mongers. Buckminster Fuller once said, "In order to change an existing paradigm you do not struggle to try and change the problematic model. You create a new model and make the old one obsolete." That, in essence, is the mission to which we are all being called.

The Truth is that fundamental change never begins at the top. Change of this magnitude begins with a shift of consciousness at the grass-roots level and expands into an unstoppable momentum, a critical mass. People at the top who are in positions of power, however, do have the ability to either improve the quality of life or to wreak havoc in our lives.

The Beings of Light in the Realms of Illumined Truth will not interfere with our free will by telling us who to vote for or what the result of the elections will be. They did say, however, that there is a shift of consciousness taking place within every person on Earth whether he or she is aware of it or not. Since you and I are One with every person on Earth, we have the ability to invoke the I AM Presence of every person associated with the governments of the World. We can ask their I AM Presence to guide them in making decisions that will enhance the Oneness of Life and result in the highest good for ALL concerned.

Lightworkers all over the World are being asked to be the Open Door for the Light of God during these elections. Even though the Company of Heaven is standing in readiness, they will not intervene without our permission. Once we ask for their assistance, however, the floodgates of Heaven open in response to our heartfelt pleas.

This is how we can help. The Beings of Light are beseeching all of us who are able to VOTE in these elections to take advantage of this powerful opportunity. When we physically participate in the elections our Light is woven into the process and makes a tremendous difference in the outcome.

The Beings of Light have asked us to evaluate the candidates according to our wisdom and our understanding, then to ask our I AM Presence for guidance and illumination. After listening to our inner guidance, we should VOTE for the person who resonates in our heart-of-hearts as the one who will bring about the highest good and the Divine Destiny for this country by focusing on the Oneness of ALL Life. Then after completing the voting process, we should affirm within our hearts: "Thy Will, not mine, be done."

Since we are One with all Humanity, we have the ability to serve as surrogates on behalf of every voter in this country. Therefore, we have the ability to ask the I AM Presence of each one to intervene in his or her voting process, just as we have asked our own I AM Presence to guide us through this process.

We have the ability to create the sacred space for the right and perfect outcome of these elections. The Beings of Light have given us a very powerful invocation for God's Will. This will give the Company of Heaven permission to intervene in powerful ways in the election process in the United States of America.

If we will do this invocation, knowing that we are joining in consciousness with Lightworkers all over the World who are invoking God's Will with us, our efforts will be expanded a thousand times a thousand fold.

Divine Government Invocation

(This invocation is stated in the 1st person, so that each of us will experience it personally and tangibly in our own lives. But KNOW that we are simultaneously invoking this activity of Light on behalf of ALL Humanity.)

Beloved I AM Presence within me and within all Humanity, Beloved Legions of Light throughout Infinity, and the great cosmic momentum of God's Will for ALL Life evolving on this Planet, COME INTO ACTION NOW.

Blaze the full-gathered momentum of God's Will and God's Divine Plan for the United States of America, and every country on Earth, through the heart and mind of every man and woman who is now or ever will be associated with the governments of the World at national, state, and local levels.

Dissolve all opposition to the acceptance and manifestation of God's Will as a way of life and service for every voter, every candidate, every elected official, every appointee, and every employee in the Federal Government, the state governments, and the local governments in the United States of America and in the World, NOW and FOREVER.

Blaze the power of God's Will directly into all that opposes the dignity of Humanity. Transmute and dissolve forever the cause, core, effect, record, and memory of all behavior that is not reflecting God's Will, the Oneness of Life, or the Reverence for ALL Life.

I invoke the I AM Presence of every person to replace all destructive behavior patterns with Divine Love, integrity, honesty, generosity, compassion, respect, acceptance, eternal peace, and the innate desire to respond in alignment with the highest good for all concerned in every instance and situation.

I ask the Legions of Light to blaze God's Will into the Heart Flame and the conscious mind of every person associated with the governments of this Planet. Clear away any destructive activity of their own free will which might rush in to impede their conscious desire to do God's Will. Help them to remain obedient to the Law of Harmony and to BE God in action at ALL times.

Seal all governmental positions, individually and collectively, in the radiance of God's Will. Reveal through Illumination's Flame the Divine Purpose and plan for each office and each individual, and give to each person the spiritual courage, the wisdom, and the desire to fulfill that plan perfectly.

Let the Will of God be MANIFEST in, through and around all the governments of the World NOW and FOREVER! Let the LIGHT OF GOD THAT IS ALWAYS VICTORIOUS enlighten and lead the voters, the candidates, and ALL Humanity everywhere! I consciously ACCEPT this MANIFESTING NOW...even as I call.

Great Ascended Host of Light, I thank you for the fulfillment of this Divine Fiat, which I decree in the Sacred Name of God-I AM.

And So It Is, Beloved I AM.

2014, Nov 1 Inside Out Change: November 2014 Astrology Report by Sarah Varcas~

<http://www.mysticmamma.com/inside-out-change-november-2014-astrology-report-by-sarah-varcas/>

Here is the Astrology Report for November 2014 from the always deep and insightful Sarah Varcas from Astro.Awakenings.uk:

“My report for October highlighted the need for patience... all efforts made to patiently co-exist with difficult feelings, challenging circumstances and those difficult to bear aspects of ourselves and others, begin to pay-off in November as Pluto aligns with Uranus and Chiron for a relationship which continues until February 2015.

“This alignment points a way through challenges and out the other side. It invites us to actively engage with any areas of struggle in our lives now – the time of patient waiting is over – and to do so with a wholehearted commitment to living the questions, challenges and conflicts which confront us.

“The more willing we are to do this the more we will recognize just how much we set ourselves up for difficulties simply by failing to recognize the truth when we see it, be it the truth about ourselves, other people, or the very nature of life itself.

“Truth is a major theme this month. Whilst for those on a journey of awakening the discernment of truth is always prevalent, the nature of truth is changing now and there are fresh truths & perspectives to be gleaned.

“If you feel your spiritual practice is letting you down, or you’re just not inspired like you once were, if you’re having to face recurring problems in your life, aspects of yourself, which you thought were long gone and are wondering whether you’ve really changed at all, this month holds promise of fresh perspectives and new opportunities to step back into the flow of life with renewed faith and focus.

“Pluto, Chiron and Uranus are clearing the path ahead to support those who choose to walk it. It won’t all be sprouting roses, and some of it’s up hill, but with these three formidable companions we have great strength and wisdom at our side.

“Which isn’t to say we can just chuck patience out of the window though! We still need it, towards ourselves and other people. And perhaps most importantly, towards the evolutionary process of conscious awakening occurring on this planet, to which each one of us contributes every minute of every day.

“We may find ourselves, this month, in the midst of very familiar circumstances, experiencing very familiar responses, except this time we can readily choose a new way to act rather than repeat old habits and patterns which have gotten us nowhere fast.

“The deepest changes at this time are not those which can be measured in physical and material terms but in terms of attitude and understanding. When we can see a familiar situation through completely new eyes, perceiving heretofore hidden dynamics and truths, we are deep within the process of transformation, no matter how things look from the outside.

“Shifts in circumstance are the icing on the cake, but it is the inner changes which truly matter: new truths perceived, old perceptions released, a willingness to follow one’s heart no matter how misaligned it seems with everyone around you! These are the shifts highlighted for the coming month – an internal re-ordering which will bear external fruit in due course (hence the need for patience!).

“These fresh energies, triggered by Pluto at the beginning of the month, bed in for the first week of November. We may find ourselves on something of a see-saw, up one minute down the next. That’s okay. We’re finding our feet in a new terrain which can take time.

“Come the Full Moon in Taurus on 6th/7th November we run the risk of rejecting the invitation to jump in and see life through fresh eyes, preferring instead to stay put and do things the old way.... Whilst still complaining, of course, about how life isn’t fair and nothing ever changes! Best we don’t tumble into this trap!

“There are many opportunities in the coming weeks to embrace significant shifts in understanding and experience. It would be a monumental waste to forego them simply for the familiarity of tired wounds, old pain and the apparent safety of ‘victim consciousness’.

“No matter how unfair life appears to be, no matter how hard we have struggled to change with no change happening, this month offers countless opportunities to do things differently if we are willing to take responsibility for our future, even when the state of our past has seemed completely beyond our influence.

“Mercury helps out from 8th to 11th November, returning to Scorpio after its retrograde journey through Libra, crossing the degree of the recent solar eclipse (23rd/24th October) as it does so, then traversing the degree in which it turned retrograde at the beginning of October.

“If you’re wondering how to implement insights gained during the course of October, Mercury could well bring you the information and connections you need to do so. Its gift could be as straight forward as a few handy facts or as convoluted as insight into an aspect of your character you’ve just never really seen before, but whatever Mercury brings pay attention, even if it seems inconsequential, because pieces falling into place in the coming weeks will place information received now into a useful context.

“A powerful backdrop to the first couple of weeks of November is formed by a conjunction between Mars and Pluto, peaking between 10th & 12th. This is something of a notorious combination with a pretty bad name, often indicative of aggressive and intimidating behavior, a need to get one’s own way no matter the cost.

“We are not, however, obliged to embody the more destructive nature of this alliance. There is another way, not least because the Uranian planet Kronos opposes these two heavy weights, keeping them in check and reminding them (and us) that ‘might makes right’ is the old way.

“The true warrior of the burgeoning Aquarian Age is a warrior of the spirit who embodies fierce compassion for all of life, who occupies their heart not their head and who knows authentic power as that which enables truth to rise like a bubble to the surface, not that which suppresses truth in favor of egoic lies and authoritarian mind-sets.

“Mars, Pluto and Kronos invite us to become spiritual warriors now, to brandish the sword of unflinching truth and use it to break open the hardened ego into which the healing balm of insight and wisdom can be poured. And before we decide to use it on someone else they remind us to check our own ego in the mirror first!

“If we’re too focused on everyone around us and what they need to do to change, it’s time to look back at ourselves and see what’s really going on. What do we avoid in ourselves by pointing the finger at someone else? Pluto, Mars and Kronos hold us to account now, each and every one of us, demanding unflinching honesty about what and who we see when we look in the mirror. Honesty which will be rewarded many-fold when Uranus and Pluto form their next exact square in mid December.

“16th November sees Neptune station direct followed by Chiron doing the same on 23rd, both having been retrograde for five months. Those with planets in Pisces in particular will begin to feel this subtle shift in the coming weeks, but we will all benefit from this change of direction. Neptune and Chiron in Pisces, both powerful forces of compassion and healing, have been unveiling those places within which need the most tender and patient care these past few months.

“The process has been a painful one for many, especially those with deep losses to face and grief to traverse. Open wounds around loss, separation and isolation can feel like an endless dark tunnel with not so much as a glimmer at the end. For those who have been in just such a space this year, the light is beginning to flicker, very gently, at the end of the track. And not at all before time! The broken pieces of lives shattered by loss are beginning to reanimate, even while the grief goes on.

“None of us are immune to loss. It is an unavoidable part of life, but these past few months have especially laid bare the impact of just such experiences. As Neptune and Chiron begin a forward journey once more they lead each and every one of us toward a deeper appreciation of life and love in the face of loss, of the preciousness of what we have in the present moment and the joy available when we can fully appreciate the blessings of the now.

“The Sun enters Sagittarius on 22nd November followed hot on its heels by a New Moon which reawakens the issue of patience and its role on the path of conscious evolution. This Moon speaks to our inherent desire to ‘solve’ life. Against a backdrop of centuries during which the mind has been deified and the spirit increasingly ignored, if we can’t come up with an answer to a problem we can end up feeling hopeless, ineffective, a failure.

“The ability to apply logic to life and make it better as a result has been the standard against which so much has been measured. This standard is shifting now. Tired logic won’t cut it in the burgeoning astrological Age of Aquarius ruled by Uranus who couldn’t think ‘in the box’ even if its life depended upon it!

“We must be open to a new way now, to challenges which demand illogical responses: hope in the face of despair, love in the face of aggression, wisdom in the face of ignorance, and most importantly of all for this New Moon, patience in the face of not knowing what the heck to do about something!

“Because nothing will curtail progress faster than pre-empting a deeper and more enduring solution with a quicker more convenient one. So if this New Moon brings us conundrums that leave us itching to sort them out, we’d best wait up for a while because there’s more to discover before we take action and more wisdom to be gleaned before we move on to the next thing!

“And glean it we will, now that the Sun is in Sagittarius until 21st/22nd December, welcomed there by a square between Mercury and Jupiter which assists us in discovering with both the mind and the heart how different the world could be if we ourselves decide to live in it differently.

“For this is the essence of change: from the inside out, rebirthing our minds and hearts in order for the world itself to change, not the other way around. Throughout the final week of November a square between the Sun and Neptune once again challenges us to embrace new perspectives, fresh truths. We cannot experience change from the application of old truths now out-dated.

“It is only the timeless truths which can really transform and until we are living them we are forever trapped in someone else’s ideas of how life should be, even if we now call them our own. A sacrifice is called for: of who we thought we were, of old truths adopted from someone else’s life, of beliefs that no longer hold water in the face of rapid evolutionary change.

“A sacrifice, that is, of anything and everything which has overlaid our core self, to bolster identity and give us substance where once we felt empty and incomplete. Of everything to which we have clung, at first to save us from the emptiness, but which eventually simply anchors us to a past self no longer vibrant and alive.

“To bring the month to a close, the Quarter Moon in Aries on 29th November reminds us there is no destination on this journey, no matter how much we may perceive there to be. That was the old way: do this and you’ll live happily ever after in a life filled with success and everything you could possibly dream.

“The new way says this: ‘you can’t even begin to imagine what’s possible so don’t bother trying!

“Simply live, present to the moment, follow the clues, listen to the wisdom whispered on the breath of life every day’. In doing so we will know what to do, who to be, and we will know when to stop being and doing and move on again.

“The freedom which arises when we live in this way reveals that the letting-go was no sacrifice at all but simply a return to our true self, there all along but hidden beneath the shell of identity, hardened to resist the fact that nothing to which we cling is true and only now is real.”

The battle for the planet earth is reaching a climax

The battle over the psychological process of deciding what humanity does in the future is reaching a climax. The most dramatic development is probably the fact that the so-called ISIS campaign is now becoming a civil war within the military industrial complex of the sort seen during the last years of the Roman republic.

Also, the old cabal is ramping up its ebola fear campaign in the US even as it is being damped down elsewhere. The 188 nation BRICS alliance, for its part, continues to seek new friends for peaceful development and is succeeding in drawing England, France, Germany and Japan into its orbit. The BRICS alliance members will make sure the world does not trade US unipolar hegemony for Chinese hegemony. Last week Japanese military forces staged simultaneous military drills with Russia and the United States. The United States military in Japan welcomed this move.

<http://www.bloomberg.com/news/2014-10-26/just-500-miles-apart-japan-forces-hold-drills-with-russia-u-s-.html>

Russia has also staged drills with India, even as the US stages repeated drills with many countries in Asia. This is all aimed at China, multiple sources agree.

According to Marco Di Mauro of the Italian P2 Freemason lodge, in 2008, the last time he went to Asia to negotiate a new financial system with the Chinese, they demanded 80% control of the world's assets. More recently, he says he was forced to cancel a trip to Asia because he was warned by the Italian secret service the Chinese were planning to have him killed in Manila.

Di Mauro also says that a "Vatican congregation manager" by the name of Rienzi Franco met with Chinese secret service agents in Hong Kong in 2011 and offered China $13 trillion.

If this above is all true, it goes against the deal the White Dragon Society made with the Asians which was that there would be a 50/50 split between East and West with each retaining veto power over their own region.

The point being made by all the drills is that if China tries to take sole control of the planet, there will be war because India, Russia, Japan, Europe, the United States and many other countries will not let that happen.

The goal is to have a multi-polar world along with reformed international institutions capable of ending poverty and stopping environmental destruction. It is not to replace the dictatorship of the US secret government with the dictatorship of the Chinese communist party.

In any case, the brinkmanship is on the rise these days because the governments of the US, the EU and the UN are all showing visible signs of insolvency.

Last week, for example, evidence emerged the United States of America Corporation has been shut down. The corporation has been removed from the Dun & Bradstreet corporate data base. In addition, the Puerto Rican government's site lists the:

“SUPREME COUNCIL OF THE UNITED STATES STATES OF AMERICA ATLANTIC JURISDICTION GRAND ORIENT”

<https://prcorpfilg.f1hst.com/CorpInfo/CorporationInfo.aspx?c=73-122&m=oce> as “cancelled” (cancelado).

According to British MI5 intelligence, this is the entity that presided over the East Coast of the United States of America, including Washington D.C., Yale University and Skull and Bones. Its’ mandate was cancelled by the French Freemason Grand Orient Lodge, the source said.

This is almost certainly connected to the many suspicious deaths of J.P. Morgan bankers since J.P. Morgan is controlled by the Skull and Bones Bush clan. One aim of the attacks on J.P. Morgan insiders is to gain access to a database of over 119,000 people, including President Barack Obama, who are receiving bribes from the Bushes, according to a CIA source in Asia.

The same source also says there are daily shouting matches in the White House these days, often between Michelle Obama and top presidential adviser Valerie Jarrett. Michelle Obama appears to be getting the best of these encounters, he notes.

A further indication of insolvency in the US is that the Internal Revenue Service has started arbitrarily seizing bank accounts owned by individuals with no criminal or tax evasion record. In the past we have received reports from people who claimed the US government raided safety deposit boxes and also arbitrarily stole millions and in one case hundreds of millions from them. What is different this time is that they are going after accounts with less than $10,000 in them.

<http://rt.com/usa/199883-irs-structuring-civil-asset-forfeiture/>

There was also another sign that it is not business as usual for the Federal Reserve Board to be seen on the Chinese government’s Xinhua News site. It is a series of eight photographs showing a meeting at the Federal Reserve Board with the subtitle

“Fed Board Governors held an open meeting to discuss a final rulemaking requiring sponsors of securitization transactions to retain risk in those transactions.”

http://news.xinhuanet.com/english/photo/2014-10/23/c_133735725_2.htm

What this means is that the derivatives worth in theory hundreds of trillions (according to the BIS), and even quadrillions and quintillions according to intelligence agency sources, that are keeping many megabanks afloat will have to be taken off the books. The banks cannot retain risk in transactions that are worth far more than world GDP because there is no reality to back them. Chinese sources are saying that allowable leverage from now on will be returned to the 10 times maximum historical experience shows to be sustainable. Right now in the US, thanks to President Bill Clinton, it is 100 times.

The EU, for its part, has suddenly, out of the blue, asked the British to fork over two billion Euros by November 1st and is trying to hit up several other countries as well. This sudden request for cash is for an amount that is suspiciously similar to what Russia is asking for in payment of Ukraine’s unpaid gas bills.

The EU has also suddenly added black market drugs and prostitution to their GDP figures in order to make their economies appear healthier and bigger than previously reported.

The UN, for its part, last week out of the blue asked Japan to fork over $1 billion for “climate change.” The desperate cabalists are also trying to stir up trouble in new regions. Last week people connected to former US president Bill Clinton contacted the White Dragon Society to make threats to start a nuclear war between Pakistan and India. Sure enough the threats were followed by artillery barrages between Indian and Pakistani forces in the disputed region of Kashmir.

India and Pakistan have acted badly over Kashmir ever since independence. It is as if in the story of two women asking King Solomon to decide who is the mother of a disputed baby, they both agreed with Solomon’s decision to cut it in half. Both India and Pakistan are parents of Kashmir and they should give birth to an independent Kingdom of Kashmir that can become a free trade and friendship zone between the two giant neighbours. Then cabal troublemakers will no longer be able to stir up trouble in that region.

The ISIS situation is also now an obvious cabal civil war by proxy. American and Israeli agents are using American weapons to shoot down American air-force planes for reasons that have nothing to do with the US.

Meanwhile there is lots going on this week in the X-files category. First of all, Vincenzo Mazzara of the P2 freemason lodge wrote to say the black sun they worship is the Zoroastrian god. He went on to say “the dark energy is everywhere in this dimension...my mission is to erect a temple to the Black Hole, the real lord of the universe.” He adds that the dark matter has “recently entered the solar wind and the earth’s atmosphere is transforming into X-rays.”

His evidence was the recent appearance of a pumpkin face on the sun.

<http://fox6now.com/2014/10/11/pumpkin-sun-picture-snapped-by-scientists-shows-jack-o-lantern-face/>

This appearance was followed by major solar flares and, likely as a result, US, Japanese and European weather satellites went offline last week.

Furthermore, we can confirm through MI5 British Intelligence that last week NASA abruptly terminated live coverage of a comet approaching Mars after a planet sized explosion suddenly appeared there. Here is a link to an independently filmed video of that explosion:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Sx3WdyOihH8>

A US based source who correctly predicted the trouble in the Ukraine and the disappearance of the Malaysian airliner, says the “the US Mars base was destroyed.” British intelligence confirmed that contrary to what the world public has been told, the US did in indeed have people on Mars. A spokesperson for Japan’s national observatory said “if NASA is not going to comment on that, then certainly we won’t either.”

This writer was also contacted over the phone recently by people claiming to be part of the group that seized the US underground bases. They say they found people in cages and signs of gruesome genetic experiments. The bases remain closed to prevent the Western cabal elite from fleeing to them, the sources say.

In any case, the X-files stuff will matter when we actually see it affecting our daily lives. For now, if the White Dragon Society and their allies win the battle here on the surface of the planet earth, there will be major visible changes. First of all, all US and allied armed forces will be redeployed to put an immediate stop to world environmental destruction. They will also act to stop all ongoing conflicts on the planet immediately.

The UN and other international institutions will be fundamentally reformed, poverty will be ended and an era of unimaginable prosperity will begin here on earth. Then, hopefully, the quarantine this planet is obviously under will end and we can visit the rest of the universe.

Samhain is the neo-Pagan festival that marks the start of winter, around the beginning of November. In the modern world, it is known as Halloween. Several ancient cultures, such as the Celts, recognised a two-fold division of the year- summer and winter. When the sun is stronger in summer and the days are longer, we have light, warmth and plentiful food as animals produce young, and plants grow. In the winter, the power of the sun declines and we have darkness and cold, vegetation dies back. Nature is in decline; hunger and death may come to many.

The festival of Samhain is known in Irish as Lá Samhna, in Manx as Sauin and Samhuinn in Scots Gaelic. The Brythonic languages call it the "first of Winter", in Welsh Nos Galen-Gaeaf, in Breton Kala-Goañv and in Cornish Kalann Gwav. [i] Samhain is taken from the Old Irish for the festival samfuin from sam "summer" and fuin "sunset/ end". Samhain is still the name for the month of November in modern Irish and Scots Gaelic. The earliest record we have of the name 'Samhain' comes from the Coligny Calendar, dated to the 1st century CE, a Celtic lunar calendar. Its year consists of twelve months which are divided into two groups, one headed by the month labelled Samon (Samonios) and the other by the month Giamon (Giamonios) - summer and winter. The two festivals were polar opposites; Samhain was the beginning of the winter as Beltane was the beginning of the summer. While Beltane marked the season of growth and life, Samhain marked the season of decline and death. The Celts seem to have believed that that there were two suns, the summer and the winter- one strong and hot, the other weak and cool; perhaps even that the appearance of the summer sun in the ordinary world meant the appearance of the winter sun in the underworld and vice versa.

Modern Pagans generally celebrate Samhain on 31st October or 1st November. Others calculate the sun's cross-quarter day, when the sun has reached 15 degrees Scorpio. Others argue that Samhain should be celebrated on the nearest dark moon. However, the real astronomical marker for Samhain is the position of the Pleiades. During November the stars of the Pleiades rise in the east as the sun sets, reach their highest place in the sky - almost directly overhead - at midnight, and then set at sunrise. They can be seen in the sky for nearly the entire night. At Samhain the sun and the Pleiades are in opposition (on opposite sides of us), which happens only once in each Wheel of the Year. The Pleiades pass through the zenith of the heavens quite often, but only through the zenith at midnight on one day each year. Conversely, starting about the middle of May (Beltane Old Style) the sun is aligned between the Earth and the stars of the Pleiades i.e., the Sun is conjunct to the Pleiades, and because of this the cluster is not visible at any time of the night; and it seems to disappear from the sky for a time.

Noting and honouring the position of the Pleiades in the night sky was extremely important for the ancients, and continued to be so in many parts of the world well into the twentieth century. The ancient Greek astronomers Eudoxus of Knidos (c. 403-350 BC) and Aratos of Phainomena (c. 270 BC) referred to them as The Clusterers. Hyginus, in Astronomica (2.21) wrote:

"Our writers call these stars Vergiliae, because they rise after spring. They have still greater honour than the others, too, because their rising is a sign of summer, their setting of winter - a thing is not true of the other constellations."

Many ancient monuments, including some British stone circles, Polynesian temples and the pyramids in Egypt and South America, were aligned to the rising of the Pleiades at October's end. In ancient Greece several temples were lined up with the rising and setting of the Pleiades, including the Parthenon and Hecatompedon for the rising, and the temple of Bacchus in Athens, and the Asclepieion at Epidaurus and Sunium for their setting. In Mexico the Pyramid of the Sun in Teotihuacan was orientated to the setting of the Pleiades on the horizon, as were all of the city's westerly running streets. The Pleiades are also believed to be connected to the Great Pyramid of Giza; at times in history they have been perfectly aligned with the southern entrance and their light could be seen within.

The ancients used the heavens as their visible calendar, and we often underestimate the power and importance of star cycles and star myths in the ancient world. The turning stars, the course of the sun and the waxing and waning of the moon were used to plot the passage of time, in days, months, years and greater cycles still, like the fifty-two year cycle of the Pleiades midnight zenith, called a Great Year (every fifty-two years a celebration in Mesoamerica was timed to when the Pleiades were directly overhead at midnight.).

In the Doric era of ancient Greece, the calendar was also regulated by the position of the Pleiades. It had two prime times, at the beginning of May and the beginning of November, relating to the location of the Pleiades. Between May and November it was considered safe to sail, and some think the Greek name of the stars means 'to sail'. Furthermore, Hippocrates divided the year into four seasons based on the Pleiades and their relationship to the Sun and referred to the "Pleiad-month" that begins "on the day of midnight culmination" - about November 17th (near Old Style Samhain). Samhain, the Celtic festival of the dead, fell at the midpoint between the autumnal equinox and the winter solstice, and the Celts knew exactly when that was because it took place when the Pleiades culminated at midnight.

Moreover, for some, they signalled not only the Night of the Dead, but the end of the world itself. The energy of this period was considered so powerful and potentially dangerous that it was the time when major cataclysms were reputed to have happened such as the biblical flood or the sinking of Atlantis. For the Aztecs the Pleiades were Tianquitzli: 'Marketplace' or 'Gathering Place', and they linked the date when the constellation reached its highest point at midnight with the end of the world. They believed that every fifty-two years, when their 365-day sun calendar and 260-day ritual calendar came into alignment, the possibility existed that the heavens would cease to move and demons would fall from the sky. However, if the Pleiades reached their zenith at midnight and then continued harmlessly across the sky, all would be well. The Aztec and Maya not only believed that the world would come to an end on one of these Pleiades overhead-at-midnight points, but were convinced that the world had already been destroyed and recreated four times on just such a night. The end of this fifty two year cycle was celebrated with the New Fire ceremony, which involved a human sacrifice. The last recorded New Fire ceremony occurred on November 14th, 1507.

The Pleiades may also represent the Seven Hathors of Egypt, the goddesses who appear at birth and death, and who in this form, are connected with doves, as the Pleiades were in Greek legend. In many mythologies, the dove or some other bird represents the soul after death, and it seems that the Pleiades were intimately connected with the mysteries of death at Samhain, and rebirth at Beltane. It may be that they were thought to guard the gates of the afterlife, opening them at Samhain so that contact with the dead could be made, or even conveying the dead souls into the afterlife during that period. In Northern European Countries there was an All Souls Day tradition of offering prayers for the dead in the direction of the Pleiades, though this was actively suppressed by the Church.

By Samhain, the grain harvest has long been gathered in, the root crops, nuts, berries and apples have been stored against the hungry winter. Animals were brought down from their summer pastures to more sheltered winter quarters, to be fed on stored hay. Any surplus animals were culled and the meat preserved. Some of the animals would have been ritually sacrificed to propitiate the powers of winter, like the Irish Formorians, gods of blight, and to feed the spirits of the dead that came to visit the Samhain feast.

With the death of vegetation and the decline of the sun, the spirits of winter, decline and death were released from the Otherworld to stalk the land. Good spirits such as the Irish Tuatha Dé Danaan and the English Puck retire from sight until spring returns. Wicked spirits, such as the Scottish Unseelie Court become very active from now until Easter along with cailleachs and hags, the crone goddesses of winter who ruled over the season. Evil omens such as black dogs and the Bean-Nighe or Washer at the Ford also appear. Sidhe mounds open at Samhain and at Hollantide (11th November- old Samhain) the Hillmen or Hogmen, the most feared of the Manx fairies, move their abode. After Samhain all the crops left unharvested belong to the sidhe. In Ireland, Halloween is called Phooka Night and after this time he renders all the crops unfit to eat and spoils all the blackberries. Welsh gryphons blight any crops left in the field after Halloween and the Lunatishee will not allow blackthorn to be cut on November 11th (Old Samhain).

The Otherworld draws close, and it is time to remember and speak to the souls of the dead. The God dwells in the Underworld as Lord of the Dead and rides out with the Wild Hunt to collect souls.

The stag, the symbol of the Horned God, loses its horns in autumn, echoing the year's loss of virility and power. In parts of western Brittany the coming of winter is still heralded by the baking of kornigoù ('little horns'), little cakes in the shape of antlers to commemorate the winter stag.[ii]

The declining sun was encouraged with bonfires. Even into Christian times, villagers cast the bones of the slaughtered cattle upon the flames. Every other fire in the village would be extinguished and re-lit from the central blaze. At the festivals where all torches and lights were extinguished and re-lit from a central bonfire (such as Samhain or Halloween), the brand was called a 'butterfly'. The Celts saw the butterfly as symbol of renewal and rebirth. The Celts suspected that butterflies might be human souls in actuality, and wore butterfly badges as a mark of respect for their ancestral spirits. It was said that the soul of a newly dead person could sometimes be seen hovering over the corpse in the form of a butterfly, and this was a good omen for the fate of the soul.

Doors and windows were left unlocked to allow the dead to enter, and a candle placed in the window to guide them. Foods were set aside for them which were not to be touched by living beings. As late as the nineteenth century in Ireland, blood was scattered at the four corners of the house to protect the dwelling from malign fairies during the winter.

It is the beginning of the time of chaos that rules until Yule and the return of the sun. The social order is reversed, and guisers play tricks and demand food. Cross-dressing was one of the most widespread and popular ways of expressing the dissolution of the norm. In parts of Wales groups of young men in female garb were referred to as gwrachod ('hags') as they wandered through the countryside on Calan Gaeaf, indulging in all kinds of mischief.

According to the monk Bede, there were two seasons in Anglo-Saxon England. He said that summer comprised the six months in which the days are longer than the nights and winter the others. He defined when winter began, at Winterfylleth ("Winter Full Moon", the Saxon name for October) but not summer, which has given rise to much speculation as to whether the year's division would have run equinox to equinox or May Day to Halloween. The Northern Traditions had a major festival around 15th October (or possibly at the full moon) called Winter's Day, marking the start of winter. Like the Celtic Samhain, this festival honoured the dead. The Anglo-Saxons called November the Blotmonath 'Blood Month' or 'Sacrifice Month'. On November 1, rites for Hela, the Underworld Goddess, raised the dead. The next day, Odin rode his eight-legged horse through the mortal world.

Activities outdoors come to an end. Darkness returns, the year itself returns to the otherworld womb from which it came. All growth takes place in darkness from idea in the mind to seed in the ground. Here is the cauldron of Ceridwen which transforms. All things, no matter how shrunken and devitalised, can regenerate when subjected to the processes of the underworld womb as plants survive the frosts of winter. So a new cycle begins, and a chance to return to the cauldron and the blessing of the Goddess's power of transformation.

#30 Li Radiance; Omens Shine Bright

Above: Li Glowing light, the power of consciousness

Below: Li Glowing light, the power of consciousness

The Wisdom:

Lights burn bright all around you
You are illuminated
Words are without value
The voice of the heart is heard and is gentle

People get ready, there is a beneficial force coming for change. It is so bright that you might confuse it with the end of the world, as you know it. And it may just be that if you allow yourself to trust in your intuitive voice of wisdom, and recognize the voice of the singing bird of spirit who reveals your calling.

We exist between lightning and thunder and thus you are illuminated by the light and woken up by the thunder. Surprise, you are fully awake! There is no way you could have planned for a change like this that is nothing less than transformation. The timing of this present situation where heart meets soul is so dynamic and clear that the hope you had lost has returned and stands before you and opens to the heart of the matter. The lingering doubts are lies, lies that the ego is throwing at you cloaked in fear of failure, but it has no effect. You have become tempered by the suffering and are able to quell the fears with the antidote of risk. Risk is the ingredient you have been leaving out of the formula. In your quietude you will be shown why you have incarnated at this moment in time as the core of your life's purpose is being revealed. Find your stillness and listen.

This feeling around you now is showing you that you have been met by spirit, have no doubt, it has ignited a fire in the heart. It is excitement; quell any fear with your truth. You have been here before, but the circumstances were not fortuitous, they were dangerous. You flirted with the danger and were abused and then out of self-preservation, you hid your trust and your true heart from view. This time the bridge to what you thought was safety, is burning; that is the heat you feel licking at your backside. If you try to turn back through the flames and destruction you may get the illusion of freedom, but you will be scarred at the very place you want liberation, the place of love and your true purpose.

This present time is an omen shining so bright you are illuminated and seen, finally seen feeling the power of love of self, which opens to the knowing of your purpose and will open to your allowing yourself to be loved. You need no special gifts to see yourself in the light of truth because your light, Li, is doubled at this time. You can see and feel everything clearly now. Trust what you see and trust what you feel, it is real. Affirm that you will destroy old, negative patterns and, when you do, they will no longer have any power over you. You will be released to revel in a new freedom of thought, feeling, spirit, and loving light. Pay attention; take the risk and say yes to join in the spirit of change and transformation that is being symbolically presented to you.

You have worked and worried hard on this last leg of the journey. Now use every tool you have gained and held in your virtual and very real medicine bag, the place where you keep your power totems. Using these tools of spirit, examine your habitual, patterned behavior and change your way of thinking. Change the words from the past playing in your head, the words that stopped you from loving and from being loved. Convert the negative to the positive; this is the gift of the human process. You are in the mode of learning to receive, learning that receiving does not hurt, it inspires. Embrace and rededicate what works, but destroy and burn what doesn't, and be ruthless about it.

You are moving into the space of making the alchemical mix of true love and your true purpose. Once it is found and recognized, it will need tending, like the fire in your belly and heart. What will allow you to cultivate this loving light are diligence, dignity, kindness, grace, honesty, fearlessness, and compassion.

Integrity and compassion will open the doorway to trust, to accepting your greatness and strength. Using the proper fuel will allow you to create a fire that can spread clarity to your tribe and family who also yearn for the light. Be assured that you are the one—and at this time the only one—who can deliver this light in all its fullness. By increasing the light by using the proper fuels, the intensity of the flames cause no damage; it becomes a healing light, the light of love, creativity, health, and passion.

You will find that along with old ways and preprogrammed behaviors you will be leaving the worn-out and painful alliances of family, friends, and associates, breaking the unsaid contracts that have bound you to old ways, the ways that did not leave room for you to remember your truth. You will again find the beauty of what was etched in the original canvas of your heart, the memory of who you truly are and for what purpose you came to Earth at this time. Joyous spirit now just needs an invitation to dance, not an insistence, but a graceful poetic invitation. Your spirit companions have been waiting just off stage for you to make the move... now make it, shake loose the fear for there can be no failure in this dance, all you have to do is... do it. You will not dance alone.

The feeling that is stirring within you is the power that allows you to remember who you truly are in all your magnificence as you step out from behind the veils in your glorious garb of light for all to see. You are at last safe! Enjoy the ride and bring a friend, a child, a lover. Recognize the loving beings of spirit that have been standing with you, waiting for you to step forward into the light of truth, beauty, and goodness.

Have no fear—he, she or the offer at hand is an omen, a good omen. The image of a clinging fire is represented in the original ideograms that comprise Li. It is a fire that clings to the heart and makes way for the new as it burns away old doubts, beliefs, and patterns that have kept you in bondage for a lifetime. Beliefs formed in childhood and ingrained societal patterns are the fuel for the fire that illuminates the jewels of life that have been shadowed by doubt and shame.

All is in the right place at the right time.... look with a discerning eye at where you sit or stand. This is the right place.

The unexpected is here, bringing together what belongs together.
Give it all of your heart, body, and soul.

Be the love you desire and that you will receive. This is the magical inner alchemy you have been preparing for.

This is the magic hours, the magic days, the magic time...love in the light of the heart is here and it is the catalyst for change.

Wear a costume, put on make up, express the sound of your soul.

Ahh Ho !
