

New Grid Layout Possibilities

The New Grid allows for an infinitely more flexible set of layouts than the current 4-column scheme. As part of the transition process, current 4-column layouts will be possible with narrower gutters and margins. The new groundwork allows us to improve future designs to incorporate new layouts, as can be seen by the lower diagram.

Current 4-column Layouts against Grid:

New Layouts possible with the Grid:

