DISTRICT SPOTLIGHT: ELIZABETH

The Elizabeth Public School District is currently involved with the Being United in Leadership Development (BUILD) Project run through Montclair State University. Through this project, Elizabeth has been building induction capacity and achieving systemic change in schools by developing teacher leaders as well as fostering ongoing professional development. The project also focuses on creating and sustaining school-based professional learning communities and establishing policies and practices that enable administrators, school leaders and teachers to support novice and developing teachers, as well as sustain experienced teachers throughout their careers.
