HARD NEWS

- Finally admitting that people are exhausted; people are voting early to get it over with!
- The spirit of the now Moment – R has an interesting story!

R: early this morning, Richard Wolff's show – about a strike -

- Jim Beam whiskey from Kentucky: workers on strike; want a raise
- the company is a multinational Japanese corporation – they are in serious hot water as the whiskey is not getting made!
- Earlier, the Poppy Lady called, with a Kurdish colonel of the Peshmerga fighters of Kurdistan
 - Kurdistan was separate from Iraq when R went there
 - the Colonel told R that the US corporations are buying up Kurdish oil field in Kirkuk
 - Talked of the stargates in Kirkuk and in Erbil, and the ongoing fake war on terror
 - The Col has witnessed the stargates opening and seeing the 22-25' high golden beings coming through; men, women, Paschats and other Annunaki beings of Mother's people; once saw 300 of them walk through the stargate into area of Kirkuk; a huge deal, he said, as no one is talking of it. Has been going on for eons of time
 - At this time, the invading armies of the Empire of the West since 911 want to control the stargates and can't; they are still occupying. The Kurds are getting help from Turkey; the US is helping Iraq – Iraq wants to take the land away from the Kurds and make it all Iraq: Iraq and Kurdistan are two very distinct groups of beings, yet they are all part of the original story of the ancient people of Babylon.
 - The story will be told by revealing the ancient technologies that are run by sub-etheric generators like the pyramids under the Giza Plateau; Machu Pichhu; Tikkal, Guatamala; pyramids in Bosnia;
 - Mr Moody who found the caves – all these places play into the story of Iraq and 911 because of the stargates, and how this story parallels StarGate SG1 to the letter.
 - The colonel said even if the western corporations took over the oil fields & get in bed with the Kurds – not happy with the current Kurd gov't Kurdistan wants it independence; the Kurds in Turkey are getting killed. Pres of Turkey is a war criminal
 - Behind this story lies the story of nukes – Valerie Plame, Ashtar: NO NUKES!
- The greater story is the fake war going on: war is a lie, & this is one of brinkmanship: a war of words.
 - John Kerry does not represent Americans, but his own interests: he wants to stay alive, and serves Vader and the 13 families – not interested in helping any of the Middle Eastern Countries or anyone
 - when you take the 33rd degree title and play in the tomb called Skull and Bones people with Geronimo's skull – messing around with aboriginal moabite people means goddess shows up when you least expect it!
 - Remember the movie Lucy; when you get in your brain working 199% and are alignment with Creator Source, your siddhis kick in
- The good thing is we are moving forward: the use of these stargates and portals is increasing.
 - The mosques there are huge: 4-5 storeys tall in the inside, with an open space, in the round. They build the mosques around the stargates in some cases.
- R knows the Atlantean grid works with the stones and the sound waves activate the technologies and it is like Tesla – free energy.
- He asked the Poppy Lady can she help us? She said you know the answer; the only way I can help you is tell you that your friends are here; those who have not followed the path of the good side of the force will be meeting the energies they have created, which is why at this time all the stories are coming out about this ancient empire which invaded and occupied the Cradle of Civilization – this area is about Inanna which is also the name of Lady Di's daughter

- the names he lists: Inanna, Ishtar, Mother Sekhmet – different forms of Mother
- Horus was the first incarnation of Sananda Kumara's energy on this planet - father was St Germain, Mother was Isis which is a gentler aspect of Mother
- The ancient, ancient Watchers are back; and we are watching a war over the idea: the idea that Jesus is better than Mohammed!?!?!?!?

We are part of the great circle of the Wise Elders no matter what we look like!

The Kurdish Colonel: the US had better get out now; have already incurred the wrath of the Jinn; don't need the anger of the rest of the folks coming out of the sand!

R: Trump talked of his first 100 days – and he did it in Gettysberg! What a defilement@
• Going to delete all the exec orders of BO as he determines them unconstitutional

T: reads: Keys of Enoch, overview of the first Key

1-0-1 We live in a many and one Universe

1-0-2 The creative mind as the center of this Universe is known as "Lord", "king", and "Redeemer".

[T's comment was that this is the male approach and what is completely missing is the feminine. In the higher realms, the energy is androgynous]

1-0-3 The Creations which survive are creations which desire that the specie gather life and light into the "image and similitude" of the "Higher Evolution" which is the "Living Universe"

Manifest Destiny is the reason we are stuck with this stuff: the masculine over riding the feminine.

Reading: About Manifest Destiny

[SEE BELOW]

- The mindset is about diminishing Egypt at the start;

Caller BW: Oprah Winfrey in the news: not about support for Hillary but lack of support for Trump

- What's up with her – why is she not pushing the Democratic platform for legacy for B O?

R: she knows the story; not gung ho for Hillary; has been meeting with Randi Rhodes, Bernie Sanders, E Warren, Michelle Obama in Costa Rica for the last 8 years to work out how to get Michelle in

- R talked to Michelle who said to him "You keep doing what you're doing; I'll keep doing what I'm doing and we'll get in here!"
- Oprah is Faction 3 White Knights.

Caller: Oct 28 a whistleblower is to come forward; a captain from a secret army on Mars -

R: could be one of the people who got abducted in the 50s and 60s and woke up; now going to tell the story: he didn't go there of his own volition, was forced into slave labour

T: how will he get to talk? R is sure they can find a way to have him talk and not be dead.

Caller: understands that 64 good people will be left standing; how soon does R see this happening?

R: there are all kinds of things that are – the energies and how the Matrix is trying to be held together and cannot be, no matter how much duct tape, baling wire

- people want something new and something that is true!

R: watched a 4 min video from Anonymous about some kind of attempt to try and project something into the sky after the end of the election –

- They will be met with Ashtar, and Bill and Hillary will have to explain

T: doesn't think they will do it
R: when you are exposed
T: they will get arrested and it won't happen.

Caller: Maitraya is in the US – do they know what part he is in?

- There are more than one Maitray; there are many of them which carry a piece of the ray, and they are in all kinds of fields of endeavour
 - the one that B Creme focusses on lives in the Pakistani area of London.
 - The Ray vibration is everywhere and we can all channel Maitraya's ray energy
- this is about how this story gets expanded and ties in with the ancient astronaut theory and the stories on Ancient Alien programs: M's appearance, Tahuti, Kutumo. Viracocha[another incarnation of Kuthumi] - this is all Lord Monca
- they just learned that Mars is not a red planet; those taking the pictures used red filter: the atmosphere of Mars is like ours! No one wanted us to know!
 - so we have to re-adjust our thinking [about this and many other subjects!]- ready or not, it's coming! We are more ready to receive all these different kinds of information.

US prison strike hitting California's pocketbook 2016-10-13

<https://www.rt.com/shows/boom-bust/362593-us-prison-strike-brics/>

South African prosecutors charge Finance Minister Pravin Gordhan over supposed fraud, and new emails surface showing that former Wells Fargo executive Carrie Tolstedt may have been informed about the company's fraudulent practices in 2005. Edward Harrison has details on both stories. Bianca Facchinei kicks off Boom Bust's special BRICS 2016 coverage with a breakdown of the economic bloc's history. Ameera David then reports from Goa, India on how this year's host country has managed to continue growing despite strong headwinds.

Nomi Prins, author of All the President's Bankers, joins Edward to discuss everything from the IMF to Wells Fargo CEO John Stumpf.

In The Big Deal, Ashlee Banks examines the largest prison strike in US history, and how it's hurting California revenues.

- Nomi Prinz is laying the groundwork with the idea of Manifest Destiny and why Mr Stumpf [CEO of Wells Fargo] is not in jail, and going after the 300 underlings who support that work – it's about how Manifest Destiny goes. She goes into detail of how Manifest Destiny goes. And that's why the Mayan Calendar awareness is here, why we are here & knowing that what is going on is [far from ethical!]
 - Nomi Prinz, ex banker and best selling author of All the President's Bankers, and is working on a new book about Central Banks & international institutions like the IMF

Update: Stumpf walked away with a $200 million
And that is why NESARA is coming.

Non-violent prisoners – enhanced 4 fold by the 1994 Clinton mandated prison sentencing – the largest enemy of the slaves is Hillary and Bill Clinton!

- If you commit a crime 3x, can end up in prison for 45-50 years [a judge is not allowed to take into account the severity of the "crime"; a candy bar is equal to everything else]

• Slavery is alive and well in the prisons!

- the strike started Sept 9, 2016 – 45th anniversary of the uprising at Attica prison – reasons for striking are very much the same! There are 22 prisons in strike mode, due to austerity measures that have resulted in seeing prisoners die.
 - better medical attention
 - fair visitation rights – can only talk on an automated telephone system
 - an end to physical brutality
 - better sanitation
 - depending an end to slave labour

Reading: Keys of Enoch – Key 103

we are reading at the level of what NESARA is.

Audio: Kareem Abdul-Jabbar with Art Thiel: Writings on the Wall 2016-09-21

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3lqIZWAbi0>

As an NBA star, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar often seemed uncomfortable in the spotlight. Since retiring from his record-breaking basketball career in 1989, he has embraced a less visible role as a writer, publishing more than ten books and contributing regularly to periodicals such as The Washington Post, TIME magazine and TIME.com.

In Writings on the Wall: Searching for a New Equality Beyond Black and White, he explores our country's seemingly irreconcilable racial and political divides. In conversation with journalist and sports writer Art Thiel, Abdul-Jabbar relays observations and experiences from his perspective as an athlete, parent, African-American, and Muslim and proposes solutions to problems such as racism in sports. Whether discussing political issues or sharing personal stories, Abdul-Jabbar serves as a distinct and culturally relevant voice for our times.

Welcome to Scorpio, as of 1hr 17 min ago

The upcoming week: Looks a little easier than the last few, in a general sense

Tues: Venus went into Sag; Mercury goes into Scorpio on Monday – this changes energies!

Thurs: Mercury conjuncts the sun; Mercury is catching up- sun and Mercury together tends to be more spiritual, optimistic

Mon : Moon into Virgo late at night

Tues: Venus gets far enough into Sag and squares Neptune

Wed: Venus sextile Jupiter

Thurs: Moon into Libra in the morning; Sun Mercury conjunction around noon

Fri: before daylight, moon conjuncts Jupiter in Libra – some balance back in situation

Fri pm: Mars approaching square to Uranus

Sat: Venus conjuncts Saturn; New moon on the 30th; Moon goes into Scorpio

Sun: new moon and it will be dark: no moonlight on Hallowe'en

- major shift in energies Scorpio and Sun; Scorpio likes to uncover hidden things
- Scorpio is multi-layered - also sees bad behaviour – we expect the delivery of some material from Assange, too before the 8th of Nov

By the time we reach the 8th, Tues, Wed and Thurs – moon is in Sag; 4th and 5th, moon in Capricorn, from then to the 8th, moon will be in Aquarius. Mars goes into aquarius on the 9th; moon will be at Galactic Centre on the 8th

*To be truly loved, you must see my soul,
For that to happen I need to let go,
Of protecting and hiding and needing control,
And admit that you have what I need to grow.*

Should be an interesting weekend with the Moon moving through the "personal signs" (Cancer/Leo) while everything else but Uranus is traversing the transpersonal signs. This can be really exciting for some folks getting surprises from their friends and loved ones. It can be challenging for others who get shocked or upset by individuals or institutions blocking or limiting their freedom. The Moon opp Mars/Pluto will stir up our emotions one way or the other and expose patterns we may wish to change.

Tar Sands and Indigenous Peoples: "The corporate onslaught facing First Nations"- Eriel Deranger

Eriel Tchekwie Deranger is a Dene Indigenous activist and member of the Athabasca Chipewyan First Nation (ACFN) of Northern Alberta, Canada. Eriel is currently employed as the Tar Sands Campaign and Communication Coordinator for ACFN. Her work focuses on creating greater awareness about the impacts of the Alberta Tar Sands and demanding that all levels of government and the private sector fully implement the unique Indigenous rights her people hold as described by Treaty 8, and the United Nation Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous peoples.

The Athabasca Chipewyan First Nation is currently suing Shell Canada for unmet Tar Sands Impact Benefit agreements, and is challenging Shell's application for permits to build new tar sands projects. Shell is currently one of the largest tar sands operators. The newly proposed projects would contribute to further erosion of the fragile ecosystems, critical wildlife habitat, and Indigenous territory in Northern Alberta.

Eriel is a wife and mother of two. She comes from a family that has long battled industrial and sometimes illegal activities on their traditional and treaty lands.

"Using a Rights-Based Approach to Promote Self-Determination, Land Rights, and the Rights of Indigenous Peoples: Innovative Legal Strategies and the Beaver Lake Cree Nation" - Crystal Lameman

Crystal feels it is her obligation as a mother to protect her land, water and culture for her children and future generations. Currently, Crystal is the Climate and Energy Campaigner for Sierra Club Canada and is a fellow of the Indigenous Environmental Network. She utilizes her formal academia (two University Degrees), but above all her Indigenous ways of knowing and being to articulate the impacts of the direct exploitation of the tar sands, whilst addressing the environmental racism the Government of Canada imposes on First Nations people in the name of resource extraction.

Published on 11 Sep 2015

Biomimicry, the practice of looking deeply into nature for solutions to engineering, design and other challenges, has inspired a film about it's ground-breaking vision for creating a long-term, sustainable world. This film covers how mimicking nature solves some of our most pressing problems, from reducing carbon emissions to saving water. The film, titled Biomimicry features Janine Benyus, is brought to you by Leonardo DiCaprio, Executive Producers Oliver Stanton, directed by Leila Conners, produced by Mathew Schmid and Bryony Schwan, created by Tree Media with Executive Producers Roe Sharon Peled and George DiCaprio. INFORMATION RELATED TO THE NOTES

2016-10-22 Manifest Destiny

Dictionary of American History

COPYRIGHT 2003 The Gale Group Inc.

<http://www.encyclopedia.com/history/united-states-and-canada/us-history/manifest-destiny>

MANIFEST DESTINY. In 1845 John L. O'Sullivan coined the term "manifest destiny" in reference to a growing conviction that the United States was preordained by God to expand throughout North America and exercise hegemony over its neighbors. In the United States Magazine and Democratic Review (July–August 1845, p. 5) he argued for "the fulfillment of our manifest destiny to overspread the continent allotted by Providence for the free development of our yearly multiplying millions."

Around the time of O'Sullivan's writing, the United States saw an extraordinary territorial growth of 1.2 million square miles, an enlargement of more than 60 percent. Most of this growth occurred at the expense of the newly independent Mexico and the Native American nations. The expansion happened at such an accelerated pace that people like O'Sullivan thought that even larger expansions were inevitable, necessary, and desirable—hence the origin of the concept of manifest destiny.

manifest destiny. Wikimedia Commons (Public Domain)

Manifest destiny was obviously a defense of what is now called imperialism. It was a complex set of beliefs that incorporated a variety of ideas about race, religion, culture, and economic necessity. Some people, like the land speculators that settled in Florida, Texas, and Native American lands, wanted more land to get rich. Some fled poverty in Europe and eastern metropolitan centers. Some assumed that without spreading out to fresh lands the nation would languish. Some sought to perpetuate the institution of slavery by expanding it to new territories. Some believed that expansion into "uncivilized" regions would spread progress and democracy. It was convenient for all to think that they had the divine right to acquire and dominate because they had the proper economic system and the most developed culture and belonged to the most advanced race.

Origins of the Idea

This conviction of a destined glorious future for the United States had roots in colonial times. The influential Puritan John Winthrop wrote, "We shall be as a City upon a Hill, the eyes of all people are upon us." Many colonial leaders adopted time-honored expansion imagery from the Bible, portraying northern European Protestant colonists as the new Israelites and North America as the new Promised Land to justify conquering new lands and dominating other cultures.

When colonists attempted emancipation from Britain, the rebellion heightened the importance of the idea that the North American colonists were special individuals selected by God to rule over an extended territory. Insurgent leaders purposely sought Promised Land imageries for the new nation's symbols. The British forces were seen as the Egyptian soldiers, the Atlantic Ocean was the new Red Sea, and George Washington became the "American Moses."

With independence came new ideas that encouraged the desire to extend the country beyond the original perimeter of the thirteen colonies. Expansionist patriots reasoned that expansion was linked to the survival of republicanism. Not only did the new nation have the divine assignment of spreading the true religion of Protestantism by example and enlargement, but it also had the responsibility of spreading its political tenets in the same manner. An upsurge in births and immigration was directly tied to the promises of expansion, which included cheap land and economic opportunities west of the Appalachian Mountains. The country's population grew from about 5 million in 1800 to more than 23 million by midcentury. The frontier offered relief in the form of land, resources, and commercial opportunities to those affected by the economic downturns of 1818 and 1829. Seizing Native American and Spanish lands would allow the national economy to expand, acquire more raw materials for fledgling industries, and secure new commercial outposts, particularly those of the Far East. Expansion would ensure new markets for an increasing U.S. industrial output. The expansionists saw no contradiction between advancing their capital and improving the world by stimulating economic activity. Popular bourgeois values of self-sufficiency and self-rule received unexpected support from the general public as it tried its luck in the new lands. These expansions, however, also created a permanent economic and cultural underclass composed of the Native Americans and Hispanics who had been living in those territories.

Manifest Destiny in Practice

The Monroe Doctrine exemplified the mood and ideas behind manifest destiny. President James Monroe said that the Americas were "not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European powers," paving the way for an increasing United States hegemony over its neighbors by attempting to cut off European influence in the Western Hemisphere. The gradual inroads of English-speaking settlers from the United States into the Mexican province of Texas, starting in 1823, is one of the clearest examples of manifest destiny's coming of age. Mexico opened the land for colonization, but the response was so overwhelming that Mexican authorities lost control of the province. Motivated by ideas of manifest destiny, the new English-speaking settlers rebelled in 1835 in an attempt to form an independent state. A series of reactions led to the annexation of Texas in 1845 and war between Mexico and the United States in 1846. The war ended on 2 February 1848 with the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo ceding to United States the present-day Arizona, California, New Mexico, Texas, and parts of Colorado, Nevada, and Utah. The goal of reaching the Pacific coast was accomplished.

The Civil War of 1861–1865 did not cool the expansionist impulses completely. The military strength built during the war was now used against Native Americans to gain their land in the Northwest. Expansionists, now freely using the term manifest destiny to justify their wishes, also turned their attention to the Caribbean, Central America, and the Pacific. Times had changed since the antebellum period, and now the ideologies behind manifest destiny contained elements of Darwinism and beliefs in social and climatic determinism. North Americans felt they had "the white's man burden" in the Americas and it was their responsibility to lead the inferior races in the south to better lives. These new expressions of the principles behind O'Sullivan's manifest destiny inspired the United States' intervention in the Cuban War for Independence in 1895 and in Panama in 1903. Military and technical successes in these enterprises led to a transoceanic North American empire. Altered ideas of manifest destiny, combined with other forces of the time, continued to determine international relations through the twentieth century.

Notwithstanding the popularity of the principles advanced by the different expressions of manifest destiny, not everyone accepted the expansionism they entailed. The Whig Party opposed expansion, believing that the republican experiment in the United States would fail if the nation grew too large. Politicians from the Northeast felt they would lose political power in Congress if the United States admitted more states into the union. Attempts to expand further into Mexico were defeated by racism toward Mexicans. The abolitionists also opposed expansion, particularly if it would bring slave territories into the union. Pacifists became gravely concerned with the casualties of expansion and opposed its violence. Yet the overall opposition to the ideas of manifest destiny was modest. Most people gladly embraced the concept that they belonged to a superior culture and race, and that Providence or genetics had preordained the people of the United States for greatness. Even black leaders like Frederick Douglass accepted the principles of manifest destiny when he supported the annexation of Santo Domingo.

Native Americans and Hispanics, however, were not passive victims of the expansion. The stories of Native American and Mexican resistance to Anglo-Saxon occupation are well known. Yet some local elites seeking opportunities for profit adapted their interests to the new circumstances, even when other members of their own ethnic groups opposed their moves.

Thom Hartmann's approach showing the differences between "Hunters" and "Farmers".

Taken from Thom Hartmann's book, ADD: A Different Perception.

Trait as it appears in the "Disorder" view:	How it appears in the "Hunter" view:	Opposite "Farmer" traits:
Attention spans short, but can become intensely focused for the long periods of time.	Constantly monitoring their environment.	Not easily distracted from the task at hand.
Poor planner: disorganized and impulsive (makes snap decisions).	Able to throw themselves into the chase on a moment's notice.	Able to sustain a steady, dependable effort.
Distorted sense of time: unaware of how long it will take to do something.	Flexible; ready to change strategy quickly.	Organized, purposeful. They have a long term strategy and they stick to it.
Impatient.	Tireless: capable of sustained drives, but only when "Hot on the trail" of some goal.	Conscious of time and timing. They get things done in time, pace themselves, have good "staying power."
Doesn't convert words into concepts adeptly, and vice versa. May or may not have a reading disability.	Visual/Concrete thinker, clearly seeing a tangible goal even if there are no words for it.	Patient. Aware that good thing takes time - willing to wait.
Has difficulty following directions.	Independent.	Team player.
Daydreamer.	Bored by mundane tasks; enjoy new ideas, excitement, "the hunt" being hot on the trail.	Focused. Good at follow-through, tending to details, "taking care of business."
Acts without considering consequences.	Willing and able to take risk and face danger.	Careful. "looking before you leap."
Lacking in the social graces.	"No time for niceties when there are decisions to be made!"	Nurturing; creates and supports community values; attuned to whether something will last.

2016-10-16 An Inter-dimensional Message from Ascension From Zadkiel - Through Suzanne Lie

Through Suzanne Lie

Blessings, I am Zadkiel, here to communicate with you. We wish to tell you that there is what may be “membrane” that encompasses every reality. Yes, there are many realities that are birthing within this NOW of your planetary transition from the third/fourth dimension and into the fifth dimension.

“As it is for the greatest, it is for the least!” Therefore, just as each of your physical organs is encompassed by a membrane (skin around each organ), each person, planet, solar system and galaxy is contained in and protected by a “frequency membrane.”

The frequency membrane is that which maintains and distributes the resonant frequency of every reality, person, planet, solar system, and galaxy throughout the entire system of that which is contained within and protected by each frequency membrane.

When any person, place, situation or thing is preparing for the process of ascension from a lower resonant frequency to a higher resonate frequency, the surrounding membrane slowly, or quickly, transmutes into a higher frequency.

The reason why this occurs is that the membrane is the interface between the current resonant frequency and the incoming higher, or lower, frequency of resonance that is about to impinge on that person, place, situation, or thing.

The membrane serves much like your skin serves to protect your body. However, many humans are unaware of these membranes, as well as they are unaware of the higher frequencies of reality through which each membrane progresses.

These membranes begin in your etheric body, which resonates to a slightly higher frequency than your skin, and extend into the fifth dimensional resonance of your personal and planetary ascension. The higher dimensional light enters your planetary membrane from the fifth dimension and beyond to allow for a slow and steady download into Gaia's planetary body.

First the higher light moves into the fifth dimensional frequency of the membrane to await the merging of the fifth dimensional light with the third dimensional persons, planet and all the inhabitants of each reality.

There are many realities that are simultaneously running on Earth's third/fourth dimensional matrix. Each of these realities is surrounded by an invisible membrane, which serves to "separate" each reality.

These membranes serve to create Earth's third dimensional illusion of separation between dimensions, persons, and all aspects of third dimensional reality. These invisible membranes serve to connect all the dimensions into the ONE of Gaia's planetary body.

These membranes are multidimensional and assist the gradually step-down of the higher light, which is entering Gaia within the NOW, from the fifth dimension, through the fourth dimension and into the third dimensional matrix.

Within your NOW, your third dimensional matrix, which is based on separation, is slowly being transformed by the higher frequencies of light. There is an invisible planetary membrane that creates a gradual and safe step-down of the incoming fifth dimensional light.

Once the membrane has absorbed the fifth dimensional light, the membrane serves to slowly step-down the light into the fourth dimension. Then, when the fourth dimension has absorbed the higher light, the light is stepped down to enter the etheric shield around Gaia's planetary body.

As the higher light penetrates and merges with Gaia's etheric body, it slowly flows into and merges with third dimensional Earth. Much as a sunscreen protects your skin from getting a "sunburn" from the hot Sun, inter-dimensional membranes protect your planetary and human earth vessels from accepting more light than your consciousness can control.

Thus, just as you control how much Sun you get on the beach by putting a sunblock on your body, you need to control how much fifth dimensional light that you take into your third dimensional body.

Fortunately, invisible inter-dimensional membranes surround all of your body's organs, muscles, vascular and nervous system, as well as your skin, which is the largest organ of your body.

These inter-dimensional membranes create a gradual progression between your third/fourth dimensional earth vessel and your fifth dimensional body during each NOW of your transmutation back into your true fifth dimensional, and beyond, Lightbody.

To protect your entire earth vessel, there is an inner, invisible membrane around your spinal column to send a message to your brain if you are too vigorous with your transmutations into Lightbody and are in danger of harming the delicate synchronicity of all the portions of your third dimensional form.

When this synchronicity within your third dimensional earth vessel is disturbed, certain areas of your physical body can become "out of sync" with the rest of your bodily systems.

If any of your bodily elements, and elementals rise into a resonance that is too far beyond the resonance for the rest of your earth vessel, the portions of your body that become too high for the rest of your body will likely cause you discomfort and maybe even a "burning sensation."

Also, the components of your body that cannot "keep up" with the accelerated spin of the nucleus of the other cells in your body will fall out of connection with your innate healing systems. Then these parts of your third dimensional body can become damaged or diseased.

It is the function of your inter-dimensional membranes to keep the ascension of your physical body in alignment with ALL components of your physical form. These membranes are "inter-dimensional" because they are able to operate from the frequency of your fifth dimensional expression, all the way down into the resonance of the first dimensional components of your body.

Your body is comprised of uncountable first dimensional cells that serve much a mortar serves to bond each brick together to create a house. As the fifth dimensional light comes into your aura, it will first seek out any components of your thoughts, emotions, and physical body that are able to sustain that higher frequency of light.

The inter-dimensional membranes, which are only activated by the infusion of this higher light into your form, capture this higher frequency of light. Then, just as your digested food goes to areas of your body that are ready to receive it, the fifth dimensional light will be directed to the areas of your body that YOU have prepared for this frequency of light.

There are many "lost ones," which is the term that we use for what you call the Illuminati, who are unable to accept any of the higher light, as that resonance would act like hot sun on dry grass. When we ask you to send Unconditional Love and Violet fire to these lost ones, it is so that you can assist them to accept the Higher Light.

Once anyone accepts this fifth dimensional and beyond light into their third dimensional body, that higher frequency of light moves into the base of the spine to activate the mission of the force of the Kundalini to begin its slow, or fast, transmutation of inner darkness into higher light.

Those who have "done their homework" and have prepared for their acceptance of the fifth dimension light will be able to incorporate these higher frequencies of light into their physical earth vessel.

These awakened ones, and especially those who have already designed a life in which they live in "service to others," have already changed their diets, meditate on a regular basis to align ALL the cells of their body with their ever-expanding higher states of consciousness, and are receiving and documenting their many inter-dimensional conversations.

Meanwhile, Gaia, as well as all the planets in Her entire Solar System and Galaxy are allowing each of their planetary, solar and/or galactic membranes to slowly step-down the fifth dimensional frequencies of light into all third-dimensional, physical realities.

Because all these "membranes" are multidimensional, the fifth dimensional light is easily captured by the outer portions of the membrane to be stored in the fourth dimensional sub-membranes until the collective of the third dimensional person, planet, solar system, and galaxy has aligned their highest resonant frequency with their lowest resonate frequency.

In this manner, each octave of every celestial body, person, place, situation or seemingly thing, will serve as a "stair" on a virtual stairway or bridge across which the higher light can flow into the lower frequencies of each person, place, reality or thing.

This higher, fifth dimensional light will initially move into the highest frequencies of the "bridge," and allow the time-bound third/fourth dimensional realities to adjust before the fifth dimensional light moves down into next, lower octave of that reality.

When that process is completed, the membrane will dissolve into the higher, fifth dimensional light. We remind you that this "light" is alive. In fact, this fifth dimensional light is not only the cause of your transmutation but also the result of how each neural synapse can activate the "birth" of the transmutation of a person, planet, or even solar system.

Light is that which "turns ON" the neural synapses that allow the first spark of life to expand into its own genetic destiny. We Archangels, as well as all the other Angels, are pleased to have the wondrous duty of breathing Unconditional Love into each of these new creations.

It is the Unconditional Love that allows the life force of the ONE to enter into the Heart, or core, of each person, place, situation, or thing. We ask that you, our higher dimensional beings wearing an earth vessel, vow to distribute this incoming fifth dimensional light throughout every aspect of ever-expanding form and reality.

Please remember that Unconditional Love can over-ride any dissonant third or fourth neural patterns and return them to their higher dimensional expression. We speak of neural patterns as that is the component of any physical being, planet, solar system, and/or galaxy.

We remind you that all planets, solar systems and galaxies are alive and are as aware, in fact they are much more aware, than humanity. Because Earth humans are such a young species compared to planets and other celestial beings, they have not yet remembered the "spark of the ONE" that was awakened by their birth.

We are sorry to say that far too many humans lose all connections with that spark shortly after birth, during childhood and/or during the challenges of early adulthood. It is for this reason that the Golden Ones have decided to reveal themselves to the consciousness of those who can expand their perceptual field to encompass the Threshold between third/fourth dimensional Earth and the newly awakening fifth dimensional Earth.

The Golden Ones are much like "planetary doulas" in that they assist with the planetary birthing, actually the re-birthing, of a third/fourth dimensional planet into the fifth dimension. To the perspective of the Golden Ones, Gaia's Earth is having Her labor pains and needs their inter-dimensional assistance to open the threshold between the third/fourth and fifth dimensional frequencies of planetary resonance.

Humanity was meant to be the most evolved beings on the Earth during this time of planetary transmutation. However, due to the constant bombardment of darkness from the laggards who could not ascend with their own planet, as well as the negative extra-terrestrials who invaded Earth long ago, Gaia is having a difficult "rebirth" into the next octave of Her reality.

It is for this reason that so many higher dimensional beings have volunteered for the difficult assignment of sending their higher dimensional energy field into a third dimensional earth vessel. In fact, we, the Archangels, Elohim and Ascended Masters, have been directly assisting Gaia's planetary being.

Fortunately, just as many of the laggards have taken human forms, many higher dimensional beings have also taken a human form. Furthermore, any human who can expand their consciousness into the frequency of the fifth dimension can directly merge with their Higher SELF to perceive their changing reality from the vantage point of their higher dimensional home world or star ship.

As more and more of those wearing an earth vessel merge with their higher expressions of Ascended Master, Elohim and Archangel, the resonance of Gaia's energy field can easily expand into the resonance of the fifth dimension.

It is for this reason that we invite all of our volunteers who took an earth vessel within this NOW to remember their Ray of Service, which will guide them to remember their higher expressions of Ascended Master, Elohim, and Archangel. (Please see: HERE)

Yes, you ALL have a primary Ray of Service on which you have specialized so that you can best prepare for the process of assisting Gaia to transmute into Her fifth dimensional expression. You see, our beloved ones wearing an earth vessel, you volunteered to assist with planetary ascension when you first entered your earth vessel. Once you took your incarnation on Gaia, you moved into different timelines and locations during your myriad incarnations.

We call you NOW to remember your true Multidimensional SELF, as well as the many incarnations in which you served on Gaia's Earth in preparation for Her planetary re-birth into Her fifth dimensional, planetary expression.

Within the HERE and NOW of the fifth dimension, you are merging with your Multidimensional SELF to fulfill your pledge to assist with the ascension of planet Earth.

I, Zadkiel, vow to assist you during your process of personal and planetary transmutation.

2016-10-21 Leaked Document Recommends False Flag Alien Invasion to save Clinton Campaign

Written by Dr Michael Salla Posted in exopolitics activism

A document released by the Benenson Strategy Group on behalf of the Clinton Foundation reveals that Hillary's Presidential Campaign is in dire straits due to mistrust over mainstream media coverage and polling. The document analyses a number of salvage scenarios and recommends one called FIRESIGN which is a false flag extraterrestrial invasion using advanced holographic technology.

The seven page document is titled "Salvage Program" was written less than a week ago, and was leaked by Anonymous on October 18, in a video, and later made available through the Before Its News website which has a questionable reputation for releasing accurate information. So is the document genuine?

Anonymous Nov 8 Clinton Strategy Leaked document 'Alien Invasion'

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jbcBgwRBMA8>

The Benenson Strategy Group website describes itself as a "strategic research consultancy that marries language expertise with innovative research to frame choices so that your brand is the only answer."

The document is headed by logos for both the Benenson Strategy Group and the Clinton Foundation.

Benenson Strategy Group has worked with the Clinton Foundation in the past to conduct internal polling, as Fox News reported in an October 16 story about Wikileaks. Joel Benenson, founder of the Group, is "currently the chief strategist for Hillary Clinton's 2016 presidential campaign." Here is what is further known about him:

the CEO of Benenson Strategy Group, a strategic consulting firm, and serves as a communications and polling advisor to the [Obama] White House. He has been a strategist for U.S. senators, governors and mayors, as well as Fortune 500 companies. He was a pollster for the DCCC in 2006, when the Democrats won back the majority in the House of Representatives. [...] Benenson is also the Co-Founder of iModerate Research Technologies. In January 2015, Hillary Clinton hired Benenson and Robby Mook as strategists.

The Salvage Program document uses internal polling data from a survey of 2,021 adult Americans. It goes over the respective strengths and weaknesses of the Clinton and Trump Presidential Campaigns and paints a dire scenario for the Clinton campaign despite mainstream media fixation on allegations of Trump groping women.

The document begins its executive overview with the following:

At this point Donald Trump has both momentum and enthusiasm. Distrust in the mainstream media is blunting the impact of the collective polling narrative. As Election Day approaches, Hillary Clinton's favorable ratings have crashed to historic lows (12%) in non-partisans and Donald Trump is consolidating support (97% of LV Republican-identifying respondents are either enthusiastic or very enthusiastic about voting for Trump).

One of the most damning statements in the document is the following:

On a disturbing note, some 70% of Republican-leaning voters are aware bussed-in voting, false-face operations, and dead-man's-party registration drives. This may necessitate severe strategy changes for November.

This is supported by alternative media reports that Hillary's campaign rallies are poorly attended, and that its plausible that large numbers need to be bussed in order to provide the illusion of popular enthusiasm.

The document goes on to analyze a number of aspects of the internal polling data, most of which is bad news for the Clinton campaign. It concludes that "Trump Voters are Virtually Unstoppable," and that "The Public Has Lost Faith In Polling" which is viewed as a propaganda tool as the following extract shows:

Q34 I trust polling to
Provide an accurate overview of the race	11%
Provide a general point-in-time assessment	13%
Provide pro-Democrat propaganda	56%
Be damaged, misleading, or absurd	14%
Not sure / other	6%

The Benenson document further reveals that mainstream liberal media has lost much legitimacy and that people are increasingly turning to social media for their information as the following diagram reveals:

Q35 For an accurate view of the race, I trust
FOX News	6%
Broadcast News (ABC/NBC/CBS)	5%
Cable News (CNN, MSNBC, FOX)	2%
TV or newspaper analysis	2%
Social Media	31%
My gut instincts	21%
Donald Trump	29%
Hillary Clinton	1%
Not sure / other	3%

To remedy the situation the document analyses a number of "Salvage Options." It begins with a “non-recommended list” which contains a number of very alarming false flag scenarios involving a “Red Dawn” foreign invasion, a “Cobalt Rain” radiological attack, civil unrest, ZIKA virus, etc.

Non-Recommended Salvage Options

Optional Scenario	Notes	Risks / Issues
Red Dawn	Support is too wide-spread. While an RD scenario using UN forces and Canadian-border infil would be effective in shutting down northern voting, it would simply delay the inevitable and result in hardened support for Mr. Trump.	Loss of property (& life) Alt-Right forces are prepared for battle
Cobalt Rain	The public has been primed for radiological attack and stockpiles have been positioned but while the psychological impact of a Co-60 weapon is severe, the threshold of opportunity may have passed for this to stop a vote.	Loss of profit under martial law. Leaks could compromise
BLRiot	Again, while staged civil unrest could prevent pockets of America from voting, the damage is too wide-spread.	Command and control is dicey at this point as substantial numbers of employed minorities have defected to Trump
Zikpocalypse	Improved strains of ZIKV have been delivered and we have disseminated them to operatives. Unfortunately this will suppress women voters more than men (even as ZIKV ₂ is lethal in adults). This would hurt Hillary Clinton and Trump voters are willing to risk lethal pathogens to vote	Post-election control
Sharia Escalation	States have blocked key immigrant operatives. Without the required Muslim-Islamist population in place, the IE plan will not be sufficiently impactful.	LEO is pro-Trump and will not roll over due to Muslim demands of political correctness
Unnatural Disaster	HAARP is in skeleton crew mode. Subterranean thermobaric devices in fracking mines are untested. Surveys suggest this might not stop Trump voters	Unproven techniques / unintended consequences Reactivating HAARP may have PALE HORSE PROTOCOL ramifications

The recommended salvage option is FIRESIGN which uses holographic technology to create a religious “awe effect” as the following extract illustrates.

Recommended Salvage: FIRESIGN

For almost two decades the Department of Defense and NASA have coordinated on a black book project under the codename FIRESIGN. FIRESIGN’s aim is to create a religious “awe effect” in enemy populations to create an instantaneous psychological soft-kill (abject submission). The operation uses high powered lasers to project real-seeming images on the sodium layer 100km above the surface. These images can cover hundreds or even thousands of square miles and can appear completely real, three dimensional, and can move.

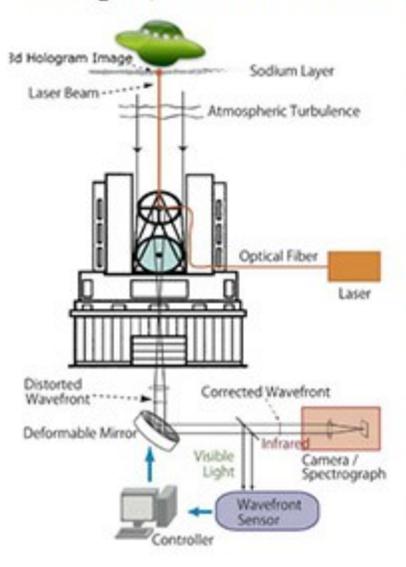

These visual cues are augmented with pulsed ELF electromagnetic emissions (see: PROJECT SANGUINE) that attack the specific areas of the prefrontal cortex that are stimulated during religious experience. In limited tests, subjects have been able to be overwhelmed on both axis of vastness (an overwhelming of the subject’s frame of reference) and a powerful need-for-accommodation. The mix of these two will produce inaction, lack of focus on self or individual interaction, and gross transformations in mental equilibrium (a Road-to-Damascus Experience).

The recommended use of the FIRESIGN technology is to create the illusion of an extraterrestrial invasion which would allow the creation of an emergency situation that leads to a cancellation of the Presidential election. President Obama would subsequently hand power directly over to Hillary Clinton once the invasion is put to a stop.

The ability to produce these effects across 23% of the continental United States is the objective of FIRE SIGN and field tests in the Levant have proven successful.

The FIRE SIGN scenario is that of an invading extraterrestrial force of nearly incomprehensible scale (massive floating cities descending, god-sized "walkers" among the clouds with terrifying weapons, wheels of fire and eyes, etc.). This phenomena, when activated will bring electoral and social systems to a halt and, in afflicted areas, will permit a narrative wherein POTUS is able to "Call a halt" to the invasion and then "hand over the torch" to Clinton, providing a basic continuity of state.

AFTERMATH

The aftermath of FIRE SIGN will be the psychological subjugation of areas where uprisings are most likely to occur. The induced trauma of FIRE SIGN will provide ample cover to government and NGOs who will be "providing aid" (psychotropic to induce docility) and counseling services which will ensure further domestication.

FIRE SIGN will require a great deal of power, mobile command stations with nitrogen-cooled super-computers, and the co-opting of the ELF arrays. We have created a schedule and teams roster that can be moved into position following the third debate.

Many elements in the Salvage Program document appear to be based on an accurate analysis of prospects of the Clinton campaign succeeding as distrust in mainstream media and polling reaches unprecedented heights. The FIRE SIGN technology has been well known to many UFO/exopolitics researchers who over several decades have described it as Project Blue Beam.

Nevertheless, there are a number of issues from the document that raise doubt about its authenticity according to the popular blog author, Kauilapele. These include the document using an old 2012 logo for the Berenson Strategic Group, and an incorrect street address being used for its Washington Office. These discrepancies may be indicative of a hoax, or included in order to introduce plausible deniability in case of any unintended leak.

While it is possible that the Salvage Program document is an elaborate hoax, it is also very possible that a majority of the information in it is genuine. If so, then Clinton's Presidential campaign may ultimately rely on a false flag extraterrestrial invasion, which might be a factor in why she and her campaign chair, John Podesta, have repeatedly raised the UFO issue during the election campaign.

2013-02 – 06 New Year, New Beginnings - Launch of "ITS" Campaign

Posted by Daniel Cayley-Daoust 18.20sc on February 06, 2013

New Year, New Beginnings

It is with great pleasure that we announce the launching of the new Indigenous Tar Sands Campaign (ITSC). Since its inception, the ITSC has been a project of the Indigenous Environmental Network (IEN) based in the United States, and we have enjoyed working with IEN while the program has grown and developed. However, given the realities of organizing in Canada we have decided that this campaign needs to be based in Canada with a Canadian fiscal sponsor to help administer the program and help ensure its financial viability and management needs.

Therefore, as of January 2013, the Indigenous Tar Sands Campaign will be located in Ottawa, Ontario, based at the Polaris Institute. We are excited about building this relationship, and more importantly we are profoundly committed to stopping the tar sands. It is with a heavy heart that we thank IEN for many great years of collaboration and we hope the best for the continued work that IEN does in the area of environmental justice for Native American communities.

In this next year we have high hopes for the campaign to grow and develop. We remain firmly committed to standing with the Athabasca Chipewyan First Nation, and the Beaver Lake Cree Nation in their ongoing litigation. We are working on implementing a plan for the Line 9 expansion in Ontario and we will continue to support the work in British Columbia to stop the pipeline tanker plans to deliver tar sands crude to the West coast. We are continuing to work on the other side of the pond with the financial sector highlighting the "risk" of investing on disputed First Nations lands. The campaign will be sending delegations again this year to BP and Shell AGM's with our partner the UK Tar Sands Network.

Overall, our program of work will continue to grow and we hope to be more effective, more accountable and most importantly do the best job that we can to support Indigenous communities taking on the largest extractive industries on earth.

For more information please feel free to contact us at the Polaris Institute: (613) 237-1717 ext. 106
