Rebuilding Community Resilience & Self-Reliance
A Global Movement for Local Sustainability climate change

peak oil
economic instability

Transition Milwaukee is part of a global movement to move away from fossil fuel dependence and towards a resilient, self-reliant community by relocalizing our food, energy sources, economies, and skills. We gather once a month to discuss the Transition framework, plan projects, meet inspiring neighbors and create a more sustainable Milwaukee.

Fourth Monday of the Month
Urban Ecology Center - Riverside Park 6:30pm-8:30pm
