HARD NEWS

T/R: had a tuneup and brakes done
Need to have shocks – 127.80 + 123.00 for rear oil sending unit pressure hose + labour
6 hrs of labour for the ball joints

- Need a group of folks to really help out: they are driving on borrowed time!
The Town Car was a tremendous gift! It's a keeper, though it needs parts . . .
thanks to Cheryl for praying abundance: we can all pray abundance for everything! As our cars are our bodies, behooves us to look after them.
- Had a hefty conversation on yesterday's conference call; in general believing that things will at change at the radical level it needs to change – won't happen without our input
– all the divisions and kinds of ways of dealing with reality, and WHAT IS REALITY? -
- the financial system was created intentionally to serve only a few people and that there would be no freedom for anyone, including white people!

R: today's Farmers market, Richard Wolfe was being broad cast live; tore into Shelly Adelson, Ted Cruz, Rubio, Romney, the Koch bros, Wolfowitz, Scott Walker, Jeb Bush

- talking about the "global elite banking cartel" that is run by dynastic families who "are shitting bricks", as they see the hand writing on the wall.
- As Max Keiser said last night, whatever is there, ain't there! Rama brings it back to the poker scenario: I have 4 aces, you have a pair of 2s – who will win?
- All the planets go direct on Jan 6th and all is now in forward movement; this is the time where 99% get the movement politics necessary to change the story, as Richard Wolfe said

R: has seen it on Twitter and other places: Trump is being linked with the ISIL recruiters – though inadvertently, Hillary started this going as subterfuge to get her on top

- He and Hillary are still doing human trafficking together, no matter what it looks like on the outside – it's a false war between them! Mother is on the prowl.
- Wolfe's conclusion: need a public bank in every city in the US where the people tell how the money is to be used to run the city, not the other way around
- Wolfe: there is an unseen war against Mr Obama and it is getting very blatant.
- They know that the 13 families are represented by Hillary Clinton on purpose, and that there is no intrinsic power in the presidency
- to meet the people Rama is talking about, the race card needs to be dropped
- Hillary is talking about investigating UFOs – that is said and done already!

T: "Our republic and its press will rise or fall together; an able, disinterested, public-spirited press with trained intelligence to know the right, and courage to do it, can preserve that public virtue without which popular government is a sham and a mockery. A cynical mercenary demagogic press will, in time, produce a people as base as itself" Dec 30, 2015
[source not mentioned]

- The power to mould the future of the republic will be in the hands of the journalists of the future". Joseph Pulitzer T: and the future is here now!

T: Turkey: yesterday Erdowan said Hitler had a great presidency and he's going to model his presidency on that ! 26 MILLION PEOPLE DIED UNDER HITLER, not 6 million!

T: in the inner earth, light comes from the crystals – Diane Robbins – no fossils, so no air pollution; what they don't use, they de-materialize. [what T read is directly below]

2015-12-31 Wishing you and your Family a Happy and Healthy Holiday Season!

The following message is from my book: Messages from the Crystal Kingdom

Happy New Year!
Love, Dianne

Using Crystals in the Inner Earth

Our Light comes from Crystals, coupled with electro-magnetism that generates all the power we need to meet our needs.

Our Chariots

In the underground cities, we have chariots — so to speak — that carry us through the air from one location to another. Everything operates through a combination of Crystals and electromagnetic energy. We have no fossil fuels, hence no air or land pollution. What we don't use we de-materialize instead of discarding. This way our land remains free and not cluttered as on the surface.

What Gemstones Do You Use in Your Homes?

Know that in the Hollow Earth we live in caverns, underneath the inner surface of the hollow cavity of Earth. This way, we don't disturb the land outside our caverns or on the inside of the inner surface. This is the most economical way to build a dwelling, since it comes already built. The caverns were already in existence when we arrived here many eons ago.

They were already in place and we just further hollowed them out and designed them to meet our living standards. The earthen cavern is also fuel efficient and holds in the heat. We are very creative in architecturally designing our living space with the materials from the Earth herself, without disturbing the Earth in the least. We use mainly Crystals, gemstones, lapis, gold, and other varied stones along with technologically created materials for our furniture, and hemp for all our clothing and bedding.

We Use Crystals to Navigate Our Way Around the Inside of the Globe

We use Crystals for all our needs. These Crystals direct and guide us, and bring into unison all that we need. Our sky is bright from the projection of our Crystals and our thoughts. We don't have clouds or rain. We have an abundance of water for all our needs that is pure and clean, and we bless the Earth daily for this abundance. We go about our daily business in Love and Gratitude for all that we have.

The Crystals, the Earth, and all lifeforms are One Consciousness

When you can understand and integrate this concept of Oneness, your life will gain a new flow, and synchronicity will be a common occurrence, as you will operate on a higher wavelength that re-connects you with all life everywhere; thereby allowing you to access all the avenues that will lead you to the fulfillment of your dreams on Earth.

<http://blog.diannerobbins.com/>

- It is why Mother said long ago that within 30 days or less, things can be reversed: it has to do with consciousness
- T: talked about Thom Hartmann and how much he gets done: he loves what he does and it is not work; it is joy! LOVE= work made manifest -
Fear is much deeper than we have seen in ourselves; we are being asked to go deeper.
- this is not an ordinary incarnation period:
 - up until now there were many fewer ascensions, as individuals had to do 99% of the work
 - then it was changed in the late 80s / early 90s: the Ashtar Command said now 50% - you do 50%; we'll pick up the rest. This shows how much we have de-evolved as a human race since we destroyed the Atlantis great crystal which was the nerve centre of the planet at the time. The Belt of Isis has been keeping that broken crystal functioning somewhat
 - In the Hollow Earth, the people live in caverns [reading Dianne Robbins with commentary]
 - there is an 800 mile crust, and they live totally in 5th Dimensional consciousness – the sun in the hollow earth doubles as the heart of Mother earth -
 - when there is the dirtiest planet that has ever been and people are dying in droves in New Delhi and Beijing and the types of fossil fuel travelling machines are not the worst things: it's the animals who eat grass and are eaten by us; and genetically modified things are being put in them, as well
 - Listening again to material that's been played before: things we've listened to the past when our minds were half way there, like dongs and dinars: as people have found themselves in financial straits, they have gone after the above and been distracted from the true purposes
 - Living in the hollow earth, they do not disturb the outside land
 - Ashtar is in charge of the crystal kingdom
 - Yes, frustration exists and instead of entrenching it more and creating negative thought forms, we need to praise, respect, thanks, and love the feelings that emerge.
- R: energetically, the dark ones win when we get angry with ourselves or the situation

<http://garalperovitz.com/nextamericanrevolution/#>

While there's been no shortage of commentary about the structural crisis plaguing the American economic and political system, from wage stagnation and chronic unemployment to unchecked corporate and state power and growing inequality, analyses that offer practical, politically viable solutions to these problems have been few and far between. This illustrated presentation from distinguished historian and political economist Gar Alperovitz is a rare and stunning exception. Pointing to efforts already under way in thousands of communities across the U.S., from co-ops and community land trusts to municipal, state, and federal initiatives that promote entrepreneurship and sustainability, Alperovitz marshals years of research to show how bottom-up strategies can work to check monopolistic corporate power, democratize wealth, and empower communities. The result is a highly accessible look at the current economy and a common-sense roadmap for building a system more in sync with American values.

ASTROLOGY

<http://newparadigmastrology.com/december-30-2015-pele-report-astrology-forecast/>

<https://youtu.be/rzSrDJzQJyw>

In my search for clarity, truth and light,
A very good place to start,
Is to own my projections and self delusions,
And stop pretending to be something I'm not.

OK, you have to say it kinda fast at the end but it does have its own beat! The aspects that are happening now at the end of 2015 and into 2016 are simply telling us to roll up our sleeves and dig into the work that needs to be done. A good time to put on some good music, have a good attitude, let go of resistance, and just get down to the business of self reflection and self improvement and leave each other alone.

But not exactly or totally alone! Because actually, there is absolutely no replacing intimacy. It is really through our intimate relationships that we get the accurate, deep feedback that is like the soap in the bucket of water that we are using to clean up our act now and thru 2016. May you cultivate deep, true relationships that mirror back to you your highest potential that you may then strive (or fly) to reach above and beyond your wildest dreams! Enjoy!

CONFERENCE CALL

T: Everything going so quickly! On the 8th day of Christmas – we're in it over our noses!

C: how do the astrological conditions fit into NESARA?

T: more than ever before, this depends on the people – it is in our lap! NESARA takes it out of their lap and put it in ours, though some think that things are going to be done for us. They give us an opportunity to show our stuff.

C: she learned everything about swimming when she was 7!

T: grew up in the same area as Hillary in Chicago! Park Ridge

Caroline: asking about how T & R are doing?

T: He's 94 lbs which is a bit better – he's teetering above and below 100; another blow is needing $1300 for the car. Challenge at the moment – people are getting more of a sense that it is necessary for them to really change, to shift in their consciousness to be aware of what is coming available – have to have a complete shift in our attitude:

- if you want demagogery, latch on to Mr Hair

Caroline: did he literally make the statement about Hitler?

T: it was President Erdowan of Turkey who made the comment about Hitler; he is the 3rd Reich to the Kurdish people – he's eating out of the same oil trough as ISIL and he likes ISIL which is US Black Ops. Yes, he's kind of piggy backing on the money coming from the west, and the US Black Ops is giving him access to the money – which is what the Russian plane shooting down was about – it was right over the oil fields

Caroline: T & R have mentioned about Bill Cosby, now arrested in Montgomery County – he disappeared in the 70s or 80s – was he programmed to do these things?

T: yes he was programmed by an MK Ultra program which has to do with the female escapades; he and 3 other wealthy black entertainers were going to do something about the military something; Cosby's son was killed as a result. His wife is saying something else is going on – a strong case was made for this and compared to the case against Michael Jackson – when you talk about MK Ultra, let's go to the day Obama was inaugurated and the official luncheon when Senator Bird was killed

- he'd been put in a trance and would go out the door and be gone for 4 days; when he came home, he knew nothing – there is something about this kind of program that started on a certain timeline and they said they would take care of him [Cosby] – that whole TV series about being a family man was authentic.
- In the case of Michael Jackson – that was a total lie: in 1993, he was cloned and T recalls the Coca Cola ad on TV and they started his hair on fire which lasted for 8 sec; a bunch of Black Ops ran out and grabbes him off the stage as he did not feel the fire – it was a clone!
- His father turned all 5 of the kids over to Bob Hope; from the time he was 5 or 6, Michael was being raped by Bob Hope. Hope was doing the things in the I AM sanctuary – the theosophical society is owned by the Lucis Trust which is connected to the Vatican and is the Luciferian materials –
- The Ballards were murdered from the inside in the 30s; one of them had been Geo Washington and the other was Ben Franklin in previous lifetimes; they brought through all the channelings in the green books; those materials are not fake, are good materials.
- Madam Blavatsky was dead by 1891; took at least 5 years to die from poison

Question: Michael Jackson did become a child molester?

- NO not him, but his clone. The clone died; at the eulogy to him, Michael Jackson was on TV, 4th row from the front. He had on quite a costume, and sun glasses –
- where does he stay? The Sultan of Brunai is taking care of him – why? MJ has billions of money, yet someone wanted to get rid of him – as far as T knows, Elvis is still alive in South America – with identity changes, etc. JFK is 98+
- why did anyone want to remove someone like Michael Jackson?
T: he had a very high consciousness and he was helping a lot of people – the clone was wrecking the true story.
- where was the real MJ when this was going on? In 1993, the clone was in the Coke ad – and there was probably another clone. Every time something like this happens, it is because [the Black Ops and some kind of program are involved]
 - Elvis was a transcendant being – it was the clone that was the drug addict.
 - The ability to clone was perfected as early as the 30s; Hitler got the cloning technology from Kahotep who was the barbarian guy living in the stone age after the Atlantis crystal was destroyed; ISIS [of Osirius and Isis] was born in Australia of aboriginals; when she was 12, Osirus, the first incarnation of St Germain on the planet, went to get her, and they stopped in Siberia to pick up Kahotep, then they went to Egypt and started to bring back the dark civilization back: the hieroglyphics showed cloning –
- Egypt was part of the civilization of Atlantis and cloning has been going on forever! Atlantis was many millenia ahead of what we have today: the Atlanteans lived for 10,000 years with no issues. The bad guys turned themselves into bad guys: they had the stuff available and did things just because they could, and experimented with ways to get some more power because they had no experience or spiritual awareness to use the processes wisely.

NO! Neither Sanders or Obama are cloned!!! The Dark side know how to clone and can use it as does the Light side, yet with the discernment and awareness: you don't clone a consciousness of Akbar the Great.

- Bernie has been a Venusian light being since the day he came on the planet. There are websites that talk about Sanders or Obama doing dark stuff – a youtube video, Troy Jones is the name. T: he is part of Faction 2 and the Viet Nam vets – yes! - they are completely programmed against Obama and they want to kill him. Talk of the Pegasus Project, located at 38 levels above the president and Obama being the first president to be at that level even before he became President: he worked with the real, true wingmakers.
- People who are not functioning at these higher levels – Dove of Oneness wanted to work at those levels and to do that, she had to be able to discern. She was also into the power stuff; she was into the money of Silicon Valley long before she got tapped for the N project by the Bushes.

About the horoscopes T was reading – source? Triple Water Astrology for week starting Jan 1st

- Something is going on to put things in the hands of the people; people like Robin Williams were taken out because of his last performance – he was drinking a lot of water, and making fun of Geo Bush. Rama had a long conversation with Robin: they were born at the exact same time zone, same time of birth, one year apart – quite uncanny! Yes, there would be a lot of alignments: 8:48pm, July 21st, Rama 1953; Robin 1952 – Rama in LA; Robin in San Fran!

- They got to talk for about an hour! Robin knew the whole thing about NESARA and lots of other things; had a sliver of manic depression. But he didn't kill himself – was just made to look like it - when Thom Hartmann is not doing what he is passionate about, he's not happy – and goes home to write another book!
- Rama is a 3-9-9; Robin with a 3-8-8 which brings a lot of karma, things to work out. Another way to look at it: it could be because he had the mastery that he took it on!

Question: what is the deal with Woody Allen?

- Had played in the circle of serial killers – ultimately, there is an agony going on with those involved in the money game – they are suicidal – we need to love them a whole lot more in a higher way!

BBS

Music: LIVE FROM LINCOLN CENTRE: the New York Philharmonic – all things Parisian a varied program!

- Eric Clapton [talked about his son being killed on the Conference Call] – Pavarotti [discussion about the use of the white handkerchief!]
- Sting is singing with Pavarotti!

In this final special, "Winter, Why Not?" episode of the Keiser Report, Max Keiser and Stacy Herbert conclude with their thoughts on the 2015 that was and the 2016 that is: from increasing productivity, declining wages and decreasing fuel efficiency, rising alternative energy superpower. In the second half, they talk to Charles Hugh Smith of OfTwoMinds.com about a "radically beneficial world" in a post-jobs economy.

<https://youtu.be/wElbSFWgseA>

However stiff they may seem on the show, the cast of Downton Abbey can let down its hair and have some fun. Last Christmas, they put together a fun parody episode, where, borrowing from It's a Wonderful Life, they asked us to imagine what daily life at the Abbey would look like if Lady Grantham spent her days cavorting with George Clooney rather than Lord Grantham.

Now, right before the show's final season starts airing in the US on January 3, several cast members are giving us another scenario to consider: What would it look like if Downton Abbey was performed only with American accents? Appearing on The Late Show with Stephen Colbert, Michelle Dockery (Lady Mary Crawley), Hugh Bonneville (Lord Grantham) and Allen Leech (Tom Bransom) performed an actual scene in their best American accents, and it's a sight to behold. Particularly Allen, he's a trip.

The TREES Speak

Living here on Earth gives you the opportunity to strive to develop all your talents and learn new skills - this is why you are here. You are not here to do "nothing", but to learn to do everything. And you have the time to do this...at least you did up until now. Now you only have the time to wake up quickly, and gather your wits about you, and start taking responsibility for changing what you allowed to be created. Start taking part in your community activities and forums and local governments, and start standing up and speaking on behalf of your rights and the rights of other life forms to live in peace and abundance. Start taking responsibility for others. You still can stop all this. It just takes a majority of people to align their consciousness to topple the current regimes of darkness. It just takes all the people to come together in consciousness to break the spell...and then it is over.

We give you this advice, because in our long life spans here, we have seen it all. Because of your short life spans, you have been unable to see it all...you have not been able to see even a small part of it. Your lives hang on a thread - a thread of awareness that you can either strengthen or snap. Unbelief in what you see occurring around you will snap the thread, and you will become unconscious and a willing slave.

It is so crucial that you all wake up now to this game of folly. From our vantage point, we can see that no one wants to play anymore, but you are so mesmerized that you cannot stop. It is like you are caught in glue and can't pull yourself away. Well, we will help you. All the kingdoms are aware of each and every one of you, and we will help you if you just call on us. The more you call on us and the more you become aware of us, the more of our consciousness we can share with you. As you merge with us, we become a greater forcefield of Light, and your consciousness expands exponentially until you can finally see through to the Light, and know instantly what you are to do to save your race. This we offer you.

So start walking among us, talking and communing with us, touching and embracing us, sitting under our boughs and lying under our branches. Our strength will then come up and permeate you and you will feel our connectiveness and become alive with our strength and vitality and encompass our awareness and merge with our consciousness and then, voila, we are ONE, and no one can imprison you again. We live in the Light - and we live on Light. By uniting with us you can free yourselves from your chains of density. It is only in density that you can be prisoners. Do you understand this? Good day.

We ELEMENTALS understood this eons ago; this is why our evolution has excelled beyond yours. We want to unite with you also because we, too, can show you the way to free your souls from the darkness surrounding you. But the pre-requisite is to unite with us and to recognize us as part of your family, your brothers and sisters of Light who have come here to experience life with you and to join with you now so that we can all work together to bring Earth into her ascension.

There is no time to lose. This has been a closed system, and it is time to bust it wide open so that we can all move into the next higher octave of existence, where all of life awaits us. This is your WAKE UP CALL. All the Kingdoms are calling you to wake up out of your deep sleep of the ages. For new ages are about to burst forth into a glorious future for human kind...so join with us now. Good day.

We are the NATURE SPIRITS, and our hearts are filled with love for humanity. We are the FAERIES, SPRITES, and DEVAS who grace your lawns and live in your Trees and walk beside you when you are outdoors in Nature. And being outdoors is the key. The more you are outdoors, the more you come in contact with us and the sooner you can begin to feel our presence. For feeling our presence will bring you into our presence, where you can then begin consciously connecting with us through your heart.

Once you are conscious of us, our merging begins and our hearts intertwine into the one heart of Creation. This oneness creates a vast portal that will speed our ascent and more rapidly propel us all into the next octave of Light.... that you call "ascension". See you there!

2015-12-01 Divine Liberty and Justice for All - December 2015

a message from Emmanuel Dagher

My friend,

Something very powerful is occurring right now within the consciousness of the planet.

A Sweeping Change

Over the last three years, we've moved through a celestial occurrence known as the Pluto/Uranus square. During this time, the energies that accompanied this square initiated within us an eagerness to make big changes in our personal lives and in the world.

During these three years, since December 2012, a new theme has taken center stage for billions of people around the world: the motivation to take real action for the betterment of humanity as a whole.

Though the mainstream news tries to convince us otherwise, the previous patterns of control and manipulation that have reigned for thousands of years are now being greatly dismantled.

That's why things seem to be way more amplified right now, in the way the news outlets deliver their fear-based content.

Yet the majority of the citizens of Earth are seeing right through the fear-based propaganda, and are no longer allowing this tactic to influence the way they live their lives.

Recently, we shifted out of the Pluto/Uranus square and entered a new celestial occurrence known as the Saturn/Neptune final square. This alignment is activating and initiating an eagerness for humanity to experience a major awakening in consciousness.

This is especially true in terms of us choosing to recognize ourselves as Spiritual Beings in relation to our connection to the Universe.

It is very clear that we are living in a time of radical change right now.

And of course, the mind often fears change, because it fears losing its role and identity.

One of the major roles of our Spirit in relation to our mind, is to grant the mind the right to exist exactly as it is, including the stories it has created for itself, and to honor the dignity of all its experiences.

The mind only desires to be loved, accepted, and nurtured. Think of the mind as a three-year-old child. When the mind does not feel like it is receiving these things, it often looks outside itself to fulfill these desires. The mind then uses coping mechanisms such as fear, judgment, blame, lack, worry, guilt, and shame to protect itself.

But now with this new awareness, the mind no longer needs to be so hard on itself.

When we can pause for a moment, and ask our Spirit to give the mind the love, acceptance, and nourishment it desires, a paradigm shift can occur within the mind. This shift allows it, in its own time, to move out of patterns of living in separation from our higher self into new ways of being that allow it to joyfully coexist with our Spirit.

What we are seeing in the world, especially with the unconscious acts that took place recently in Lebanon, France, and other parts of the world, is a very clear cry for help from the collective mind to receive the love, acceptance, and nourishment it has always desired to feel safe.

Of course, when things like this happen, our first reaction is often to go into fear or blame. But what is actually happening, is that because the mind is digesting and processing information that feels unsafe, it immediately goes into the survival patterns it has grown accustomed to using.

Although it's important to honor this process, it's also important to understand that if we remain in the fear, we are actually contributing more panic to a world already experiencing waves of fear and separation.

To shift out of the fear matrix, the first step is to remember that we are Spiritual Beings having a physical experience, not the other way around.

This allows us to create an energetic opening in our thoughts and emotions that moves us out of reacting, and into the Creator part of ourselves.

From here, we can love every aspect of ourselves, even the parts that our mind tries to convince us are unlovable. The Spirit doesn't judge! It loves us unconditionally.

After we are able to do this for ourselves, we can then begin to learn how to do this for others. Yes, even those who have forgotten themselves to such a degree that they blame, hurt, and harm others, thinking that's what they need to do in order to protect themselves.

The Magic of the Season

I often hear many people in the spiritual and New Age communities mention how Christmas and Hanukkah are not "spiritual" holidays, or not "of the light."

Though I honor all perspectives, I also know that closing ourselves off from these and other traditions often leaves us missing out on some amazing opportunities to contribute our gifts to the world.

Even though the original reasons these holidays developed may not have been of the highest vibration, what if, over the years, they nevertheless created a unique time each year when people put aside their differences and believed in magic again?

What if doing this allowed people to gain a sense of childlike wonder for even a brief moment in time, which actually contributed to the raising of consciousness on the planet?

What if these holidays eventually helped us reach a collective awakening of consciousness that is shifting us out of a world of separation, and into a world of peace, unity, and respect for all life?

If you are someone who has closed yourself off from the extra magic available to us this time of year, don't be too hard on yourself.

During this holiday season, I invite you to love and make peace with the three-year-old child within you, and within every person you meet. This is the part of us that just wants to be loved, accepted, and nurtured.

Miracles will soon follow.

Till next time,

Miraculously yours, Emmanuel

2014-12-2014 An Economic Agenda for America: 12 Steps Forward

By Sen. Bernie Sanders

Illustration by Donkey Hotey \(CC-BY\)

The American people must make a fundamental decision. Do we continue the 40-year decline of our middle class and the growing gap between the very rich and everyone else, or do we fight for a progressive economic agenda that creates jobs, raises wages, protects the environment and provides health care for all? Are we prepared to take on the enormous economic and political power of the billionaire class, or do we continue to slide into economic and political oligarchy? These are the most important questions of our time, and how we answer them will determine the future of our country.

The long-term deterioration of the middle class, accelerated by the Wall Street crash of 2008, has not been pretty. Today, we have more wealth and income inequality than any major country on earth. We have one of the highest childhood poverty rates and we are the only country in the industrialized world which does not guarantee health care for all. We once led the world in terms of the percentage of our people who graduated college, but we are now in 12th place. Our infrastructure, once the envy of the world, is collapsing.

Real unemployment today is not 5.8 percent, it is 11.5 percent if we include those who have given up looking for work or who are working part time when they want to work full time. Youth unemployment is 18.6 percent and African-American youth unemployment is 32.6 percent.

Today, millions of Americans are working longer hours for lower wages. In inflation-adjusted dollars, the median male worker earned $783 less last year than he made 41 years ago. The median woman worker made $1,337 less last year than she earned in 2007. Since 1999, the median middle-class family has seen its income go down by almost $5,000 after adjusting for inflation, now earning less than it did 25 years ago.

The American people must demand that Congress and the White House start protecting the interests of working families, not just wealthy campaign contributors. We need federal legislation to put the unemployed back to work, to raise wages and make certain that all Americans have the health care and education they need for healthy and productive lives.

As Vermont's senator, here are 12 initiatives that I will be fighting for which can restore America's middle class.

1. We need a major investment to rebuild our crumbling infrastructure: roads, bridges, water systems, waste water plants, airports, railroads and schools. It has been estimated that the cost of the Bush-Cheney Iraq War, a war we should never have waged, will total $3 trillion by the time the last veteran receives needed care. A $1 trillion investment in infrastructure could create 13 million decent paying jobs and make this country more efficient and productive. We need to invest in infrastructure, not more war.

2. The United States must lead the world in reversing climate change and make certain that this planet is habitable for our children and grandchildren. We must transform our energy system away from fossil fuels and into energy efficiency and sustainable energies. Millions of homes and buildings need to be weatherized, our transportation system needs to be energy efficient and we need to greatly accelerate the progress we are already seeing in wind, solar, geothermal, biomass and other forms of sustainable energy. Transforming our energy system will not only protect the environment, it will create good paying jobs.

3. We need to develop new economic models to increase job creation and productivity. Instead of giving huge tax breaks to corporations which ship our jobs to China and other low-wage countries, we need to provide assistance to workers who want to purchase their own businesses by establishing worker-owned cooperatives. Study after study shows that when workers have an ownership stake in the businesses they work for, productivity goes up, absenteeism goes down and employees are much more satisfied with their jobs.

4. Union workers who are able to collectively bargain for higher wages and benefits earn substantially more than non-union workers. Today, corporate opposition to union organizing makes it extremely difficult for workers to join a union. We need legislation which makes it clear that when a majority of workers sign cards in support of a union, they can form a union.

5. The current federal minimum wage of $7.25 an hour is a starvation wage. We need to raise the minimum wage to a living wage. No one in this country who works 40 hours a week should live in poverty.

6. Women workers today earn 78 percent of what their male counterparts make. We need pay equity in our country—equal pay for equal work.

7. Since 2001 we have lost more than 60,000 factories in this country, and more than 4.9 million decent-paying manufacturing jobs. We must end our disastrous trade policies (NAFTA, CAFTA, PNTR with China, etc.) which enable corporate America to shut down plants in this country and move to China and other low-wage countries. We need to end the race to the bottom and develop trade policies which demand that American corporations create jobs here, and not abroad.

8. In today's highly competitive global economy, millions of Americans are unable to afford the higher education they need in order to get good-paying jobs. Further, with both parents now often at work, most working-class families can't locate the high-quality and affordable child care they need for their kids. Quality education in America, from child care to higher education, must be affordable for all. Without a high-quality and affordable educational system, we will be unable to compete globally and our standard of living will continue to decline.

9. The function of banking is to facilitate the flow of capital into productive and job-creating activities. Financial institutions cannot be an island unto themselves, standing as huge profit centers outside of the real economy. Today, six huge Wall Street financial institutions have assets equivalent to 61 percent of our gross domestic product - over $9.8 trillion. These institutions underwrite more than half the mortgages in this country and more than two-thirds of the credit cards. The greed, recklessness and illegal behavior of major Wall Street firms plunged this country into the worst financial crisis since the 1930s. They are too powerful to be reformed. They must be broken up.

10. The United States must join the rest of the industrialized world and recognize that health care is a right of all, and not a privilege. Despite the fact that more than 40 million Americans have no health insurance, we spend almost twice as much per capita on health care as any other nation. We need to establish a Medicare-for-all, single-payer system.

11. Millions of seniors live in poverty and we have the highest rate of childhood poverty of any major country. We must strengthen the social safety net, not weaken it. Instead of cutting Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid and nutrition programs, we should be expanding these programs.

12. At a time of massive wealth and income inequality, we need a progressive tax system in this country which is based on ability to pay. It is not acceptable that major profitable corporations have paid nothing in federal income taxes, and that corporate CEOs in this country often enjoy an effective tax rate which is lower than their secretaries. It is absurd that we lose over $100 billion a year in revenue because corporations and the wealthy stash their cash in offshore tax havens around the world. The time is long overdue for real tax reform.

2016-01-02 Astrology for January 2016~ Preparing to Begin by Sarah Varcas

<http://www.mysticmamma.com/astrology-for-january-2016-preparing-to-begin-by-sarah-varcas/>

Here is the Astrology forecast for the month of January 2016 from the always wise and wonderful Sarah Varcas from her Astro-Awakenings.uk:

"2016 may get off to a slow start. We may even be tempted to write off January before we've given it a chance! If so, don't!

"Granted, it's not the most upbeat and inspiring start to a new year, but the overall feel, this month, of setting straight our lives, getting unfinished business sorted and matters in order stands us in good stead for February when an eclipse season begins (heralding two eclipses in March) and things begin to pick up pace.

"This is very much a month of getting down to business whether that means sorting out cupboards, paying outstanding bills, catching up on correspondence or deciding, once and for all, which bits of our life we're definitely going to sort out his year!

"Don't overlook the power of such seemingly inconsequential activities. This month they form the fertiliser for growth to come in due course.

"In essence, the key message of January is exactly that: don't divide life into spiritual and mundane, special and ordinary. It's all special and all mundane. Everything we do has power. Every word, action, thought, feeling and intention carries weight in this universe.

"If we deem the everyday world of work, commuting, shopping, cleaning, earning enough to keep ourselves afloat, as somehow less worthy than when we're 'being spiritual' we deny the presence of the sacred at the heart of our life.

"Doing this results in the feeling that we have to go somewhere extraordinary to 'be spiritual', behave a certain way, look a certain way or live a particular kind of life.

"The trappings of a spiritual persona thus become the deciding factor of our worth, and that of everyone else. Judgements are made based upon surface appearances and not quality of being.

"Pursuing spiritual enquiry becomes something that makes us special and thereby a tool of ego rather than spirit.

"This is a frequent phenomenon these days when the 'spiritual marketplace' is full to bursting with holy materialism, devoid of the one thing that no one can buy: presence.

"Clear, unadulterated, vibrant presence: the fundamental connection with Source, available to everyone everywhere.

2016 is a year of blasting through pretense and personas to reveal what lies beneath. Nothing will be spared this penetration of reality which exposes the truth at the heart of everyone. Those who claim spiritual accomplishment will have to account for their claims.

"Those who present a certain face will be challenged to make that face a reality throughout their lives or discard it to reveal what lies beneath.

"There may be moments of painful exposure, deceptions highlighted, lies revealed and pretensions up-ended, but throughout all of this runs the clear, golden thread of truth which illuminates all that is authentically real.

"We can no longer get away with dividing the world into pieces, with some parts more worthy than others. We must live it all, embrace it all and be it all. Ourselves, fully lived in all our glory, not shaped and honed to present a favoured face to the world.

"Likewise, if we think awakening makes life easy, this year may cause us to think again! Awakening is not about getting life to unfold to our tune, but about getting in tune with life such that we and it are one and the same, flowing in tandem through all eternity.

"This doesn't come easy to us human beings so intent on controlling events, getting our desires met and seeking acclaim for what and who we are.

"Humility is key, as is a willingness to believe we know nothing and no one in order to allow life to surprise us again and again. Which it will do if we let it. Not always in ways we may appreciate, but always in ways that wake us up ever more to the deeper currents of becoming that flow through and around our being.

"Mars's entry into Scorpio on 3rd January sets the scene for two months of powerful activity which reaches the stubborn roots that need to be severed.

"Often we may facilitate surface changes which look good but fail to penetrate the more hidden, deeper aspects of our psyche where we wrestle against real change.

"Mars in Scorpio both resists change and forces it, knowing that in its very resistance lies the energy needed to break through obstacles and old patterns that keep our energy stuck and our perspective limited.

"During this time we may find ourselves both desperate for change and fearing it, creating ambivalence and pent up energy that will disrupt our everyday experience until we can address what's really going on.

"The rebirth that lies at the heart of Scorpio is not secured with a small gesture of faith but a huge demonstration of our endurance and resolve to burn through those things that bind us.

"Mars is happy to fuel that burning and fan the flames, even when we'd rather he just lay off and stop pointing to those truths we've worked so hard to bury!

"But truth will out this month, not least with Mercury travelling retrograde between the 5th and 25th, mostly in Capricorn but with a few days in Aquarius. This particular Mercury retrograde is especially powerful and full of surprises.

"If we're trying, deliberately or inadvertently, to pull the wool over anyone's eyes (including our own) this combination will scupper our efforts!

"Mercury retrograde in Capricorn exposes the cold hard facts whether we like it or not, but in doing so reveals alongside the freedom that comes with simply saying it like it is and being prepared to live with the consequences.

"This is good practice for the rest of the year, when truths may be searing and yet profoundly necessary to recalibrate our relationship with each other, the world at large and our beautiful planetary home.

"If we want truths wrapped up in sparkly paper with a bow on top this year may disappoint. If we simply want it spelled out to us, plain as day and undeniable, we're in for a fruitful ride!

"The New Moon in Capricorn on 10th January, squared by Uranus in Aries, reminds us that the blazing fire of the divine within is not the same as the heat emitted by ego which believes itself to be the source of all power.

"It's about to become increasingly difficult to force anything by sheer will alone, and efforts may come to nought if we fail to align them with the greater current of conscious evolution that requires devotion to a process beyond our understanding.

"This New Moon reminds us that whatever we think awakening is about, it isn't. If we can think it we're already wrong! Concepts don't come close and nor do these words. We simply have to become it and see what happens, moment by moment, awake to the pulse of creation that shapes our days.

"The general sense that we can't quite get into our stride may catch us off guard if we're too focused on what we believe should be happening this month, versus what's actually going on!

"An alignment involving Jupiter, Eris and the Sun which spans the sky between 11th and 16th January turns the spotlight on how well our relationship with the material world reflects our inner wisdom.

"There's little point seeking truth if we're not prepared to live it and wisdom left to shrivel in the corner does more than limit our effectiveness. It diminishes our very being as we cast aside the divine nourishment that feeds our awareness.

"We can't cherry-pick truth for those tasty morsels that make us feel good. We must consume it all and digest it well, allowing it to nourish us and fuel further insight and deeper freedom.

"The Full Moon in Leo on 25th offers us a boost if we need some encouragement. It's okay if we're starting to see through new eyes what once seemed obvious, causing us to question who and what we are.

"This Moon reminds us that only by testing out perspectives and living our way into our dreams can we discover their truth or otherwise. We cannot assess it all beforehand and decide prior to the start which paths are worthy of effort and which will lead us astray.

"We have to embrace life from the inside to find all that stuff out, revealed in our encounter with the present moment and born of past decisions and current realities.

"This Moon offers the confidence to step onto the path no matter how uncertain we feel, for only in doing so will we ever discover the next step and then the next, each choreographed from within and without as we pay attention to the truths which arise along the way.

"Mercury stations direct the day after the Full Moon, heralding a gradual change of pace and the opportunity of forward motion.

"If we've lived this Mercury retrograde well we'll be prepared, at this point, to begin stepping out and making waves, taking a stand and committing to the long haul however it may look.

"Whether we hope this will be a year of personal changes or public achievements, spiritual awakening, financial riches or the whole caboodle, the final week of January invites us to begin, after three weeks of tying up loose ends and unfinished business that may otherwise have made new beginnings unlikely."

"As January comes to an end energy runs high and inspiration with it, although we'd be wise to keep our feet on the ground! A sequence of small alignments to end the month remind us that energy is information and our task is to interpret the clues and follow the trail.

"If something's not working energy is either blocked or too diffuse. Discerning the difference is an important skill to develop this year so we might as well start now! The first clue is found in our attitude: are we gritting our teeth and forcing progress no matter what or letting go too readily and 'trusting the universe' to do what is, in fact, our job!

"Finding the balance between surrender and effort, dedication and flexibility, will pay dividends now as we more greatly appreciate the internal nuances which shape our experience and thereby fashion the future from how we live our every day."

2016-01-20 The Oracle Report for Jan 2, Jan 3, 2016

<http://www.oraclereport.com/>

Saturday, January 2- Sunday, January 3, 2016

Third Quarter Moon Phase: revise, realign

Moon in Libra/Scorpio Sunday 2:37 pm ET/7:37 pm UT

Aspect of the Aeon Sophia (Wisdom): Tara - Goddess Who Guides Through Troubles and Dhumavati, Goddess Who Sorts and Winnows

Aspect of the Aeon Thelete (Will/Desire): Elias - God of the West, God of Transformation

Skill: witness; find gratitude

True Alignments: mastering something, strong willed, openness, flexible, going with the flow (especially if plans change), reinforced structures, sources of ancient wisdom, role models, translating or interpreting for others, consulting others, simple solutions, relating, wonder and beauty of nature, balance, pursuit of dreams

Catalysts for Change: ignorance or thinking we know it all, anti-humanistic agendas, stunned by the complexity of something, blindness to or denial of one's true self and potential, radical and impulsive action, projection of one's feelings onto others, negative outlook of the future, imbalance, self-aggrandizement, poor estimates, aggressive

Sabian Symbol for the Solar-Lunar Month: "in winter, people cutting ice from a frozen pond for use in summer" (preparing, seeing ahead)

Sabian Symbol for the Solar-Lunar Year: "the music of the spheres" (recalibration/re-tuning of human consciousness)

The Sun released a CME from an M2.3-class flare Friday night at 7:11 pm ET/Saturday morning at 00:11 am UT. The Moon was located at 9 Libra and the Sabian symbol of "miners are emerging from a deep coalmine." How fantastic! This energetic indicates a release from darkness and coming into the light. We come into fresh air, with something to show for it. This solar emission is just what we need to counter any heaviness (or darkness) that is present with this weekend's Moon-Black Moon conjunction. The Black Moon "rules" rebirth, and we would guess that coalminers would feel reborn after completing work deeply within the mines of the earth. Saboath (Gnostic name for the being that is our Sun) calls out the darkness and shines bright light to bring us out of darkness.

Of special note is the fact that at the minute of the CME, the Sun had just moved to 11 Capricorn 00 or the Sabian symbol of 12 Capricorn: "a student of nature revealing little-known aspects of life." The "parliament of wise owl readers" of Oracle Report are students of nature. We practice this energy on a daily basis, but we lived and studied it thoroughly during the New Moon in Capricorn lunar month of January 1-30, 2014.

(Longtime readers of OR may recall that the daily reports that month took on a story form, with the Wisdom Goddess Kali writing a little story that continued each day. That story is the basis for my in-process book on the Band of Brothers, my name for the emissaries of the aeon Thelete.)

There's more. On Saturday, Venus begins to discharge the energy of 05 Sagittarius: "an old owl up in a tree." Is Sabaoth winking at us?

Wisdom tells us that as we journey with the Black Moon and our shadow sides this weekend, we, as "students of nature" and "wise old owls up in a tree," are to observe what is happening and what is emerging. What's happening and emerging is Second Renaissance, the time when the human collective is redressed and rebalanced. On the micro level, each of us is redressing and rebalancing ourselves. We are moving beyond our fears.

This is the little-known aspect of what's happening with life on Earth. Gnosis (knowing) is returning. The time has come, as we are "cutting through the ice of frozen consciousness."

As we continue to make friends with our shadow sides this weekend (see Friday's post below), many things are happening. Here are the revelations:

SATURDAY, 7:02 am ET/12:02 pm UT: The Moon conjuncts the Black Moon at the degree of "circular paths." Are we tired of going around and around in circles, repeating the same patterns, actions, and habits? That path is getting worn out, isn't it? We can choose to rise out of it and set off in new directions, doing things a different way. The energy strongly supports evolving out of the past. And the dynamic is in effect pretty much all weekend.

SATURDAY, 11:23 am ET/4:23 pm UT: The Moon, fresh from exact conjunction with the Black Moon opposes Uranus, bringing potential for sudden changes, shocks, and surprises. This energetic puts things the way they need to be. It can be shocking, sudden or traumatic, but it always brings a silver lining. Those with the Sun, Black Moon, or Chiron in Aries or Libra are the biggest recipients of this energy. Recall that Uranus is located at the degree of "two prim spinsters sitting together in silence," which is about breaking down emotional barriers and blocks. What is being set free?

SUNDAY, 9:33 am ET/2:33 pm UT: Mars leaves Libra (where it has transited since November 13) and moves into Scorpio (where it will transit through March 7). Mars is the "original" ruler of Scorpio, before Pluto was discovered. The "grassroots" rises with this. And it usually comes about through anger or refusing to tolerate things any longer. This should be interesting, wise owls. Be aware that the natural reaction to Mars moving into Scorpio is heightened anger and the potential for things to get "down and dirty." This transit is going to energize awakening from the shadows of the underworld, and is a much longer discussion.

SUNDAY, 2:37 pm ET/7:37 pm UT: The Moon moves into Scorpio, ending the intensity of the Black Moon's dynamics for this go-round.

SUNDAY, 2:50 pm ET/7:50 pm UT: The Moon meets up with brand new Mars in Scorpio at "a sight-seeing bus filled with tourists." We are entering new territory, friends -- an adventure. Be aware of the heightened potential for anger, aggression, and potential for "terror traumatizing" as this energy enters.

One other thing: As Mercury is preparing to retrograde, it is a good idea to back up data and files or make copies now. Mercury will retrograde at the same time the Sun is conjunct Pluto, so it will pack a punch. The good news is that Mercury will retrograde at the degree of "an old adobe mission." Plans for the future will be fine-tuned.

This weekend, we are wise owls in the tree, peering out, observing, and grateful to witness the re-emergence of wisdom. Happy weekend, everyone, and remember to find beauty.

2016-01-01 Triple Water Astrology – The Critical Degree! Weekly Horoscope – Week Starting Friday, January 1, 2016

Mercury sneaks into his tutor's (Uranus') sign, Aquarius, on January 1, and he remains in early Aquarius throughout the week due to stationing and beginning another retrograde. Mercury becomes the only retrograde planet among the ten main planets on January 5; while all ten planets will be direct in the first half of the week, Moon's Nodes, Admetos, Hades, Kronos, and Vulcanus (Transneptunians) currently exert a retrograde influence in the transits. Still, Sun in Capricorn, and a rare phenomenon of all planets direct, signifies a steady start to the week, containing all modes of operation within normal parameters.

Sun makes a cazimi aspect to Pluto in Capricorn on the same day Mercury goes retrograde. No doubt that January 5 has potential as a powerful day! Sun joining with the tight Uranus/Pluto square, and Uranus additionally represented through Mercury's dramatic retrograde in Aquarius, also suggests turbulence and change as a theme for January 5. Shocks and surprises are not necessarily "bad" (although the unexpected can be unsettling); but a sense of permanence regarding changes is additionally present with Pluto's influence. Mercury's antics in early Aquarius contains a key to dealing with sudden change – intelligent use of the mind assists in finding ways to quickly adapt. Mercury's square to Mars in Scorpio can be useful as well, with Mars signifying a powerful drive to help acclimate to changes. Using both active determination and intelligent action is promising regarding reaching goals and dealing with competition this week, but the tradeoff is the requisite effort! Indeed, the squares in the transits this week are challenging, but Sun's transit through Saturn's sign is a sharp reminder that serious, disciplined effort can lead to expanding limits.

Jupiter will station in Mercury's sign, Virgo, this week, and Mercury and Jupiter are additionally connected via a wide trine. Perhaps Jupiter gives a more upbeat feel to Mercury starting his retrograde this week, but Jupiter also magnifies what he touches! Flashes of insight and novel ideas are of potential use, but are accompanied by sudden wide variances brought by Mercury retrograding in the electrical Aquarius sign, and further amplified by Jupiter.

What might this week portend for you? Consider your Sun sign and rising sign/ascendant as well.

Aries

Sun aligning with the Uranus-Pluto square has a strong influence on Aries Sun this week. Additionally, several indicators in the transits this week add up to create a nice "power" theme for you. Therefore, the sudden change theme can be met with a sense of ability to take assertive action, quite natural for your fiery, initiating personal core. January 1 to 3 contains opportunities to convince other people of your point of view, and make mighty efforts to push your agenda forward. January 4 to 6 shifts to using influence in a different manner – looking sharp, showing your more charismatic qualities, and using current or new knowledge help to expand your goals in the second half of the week. Mercury's station and retrograde also have a greater than average effect on Aries this week. Reverting to a more "all or none" type of mode to networking and communication requires some adjustment, but be aware that given the effort, a large volume of ideas, and logical problem solving via starting from an end point and working backwards, is promising in helping you make your week successful. Final thought for Aries: finding missing information or solving puzzles will likely require heightened dedication and strong focus.

Taurus

Past influences become a strong theme for Taurus Sun this week. January 2 is the strongest day of the week for the 'past' type theme for Taurus. If more unpleasant issues from the past surface on January 2, bear in mind that a disciplined, practical approach to dealing with recurring issues this week may help to finally solve them! Taurus is definitely also continuing to be influenced this week by a long standing "controlled expansion" theme in the transits, which is useful for career and work. Working with authority and being cognizant of how to operate effectively within established structure is important for you this week, and this theme is strongest towards the end of the week. January 4 is a peak day for using imagination, and other important themes for Taurus on that day (January 4 is a key date for you, just before the critical January 5 date in general) include a sense of commitment to people or projects you care about, and a subtle source of support from close relationships. January 6 is an opportunity to consolidate gains and be a source of direction for other people if they need it or choose to consult you, which flows well for your earthy Sun, with transiting Sun conjunct Pluto in an earth sign. Final thought for Taurus: consider how a partnership with a peer or someone at the same level, in work or other areas of life, might be of benefit this week.

Gemini

This week is an opportunity not to be missed by Gemini Sun! Most of the week has a benefic influence for you. Mercury retrograding certainly affects Gemini, but Mercury in an air sign generally works well for your airy conscious self. The opportunity to learn and shine brightly is pronounced for Gemini, starting on January 2 and lasting until the end of the week. Mercury retrograde may increase or decrease your loquaciousness, but regardless, this week is about looking your best, expanding your knowledge base, pertaining to your work or simply for enjoyment, and perhaps a bit of luck in moving your objectives forward. Gemini also has an added benefit of increased passion and drive starting on January 3...several shifts in the transits this week affect Gemini directly, but your adaptable qualities and quick mind can shift the changes into advantages, particularly if you are willing to give the necessary effort. Relationships also contain potential for support around January 1 and 2. Final thought for Gemini: no additional insights for

Gemini this week.

Cancer

The week tends to have a lighter feel for Cancer Sun, although the January 5 date might feel a bit heavy. Pluto cazimi Sun occurs in the middle of the sign opposite yours – a prime opportunity for building and expressing your personal power, particularly to accomplish what you want or need to this week! The beginning and end of the week can help you to make the most of the basically mid-week theme of Sun/Pluto in Capricorn. January 1 and 2 contain opportunities for Cancer to network and collaborate with other people in order to set up favorable conditions (at work or elsewhere) for creating change or obtaining valuable perspectives later in the week. January 6 and 7 are opportune days for expanding what was created or altered during the middle of the week. January 3 and 4 contain potential for a bit of risk-taking and bias towards action, a broader approach to dealing with problems or strategizing, and gaining insights in order to optimally approach the important January 5 date. Cancer has a nice balance of work and leisure ahead this week, if you manage to navigate the transits well. Final thought for Cancer: Another “balancing” type theme arises this week. Finding both time to rest and the will to expend sufficient energy to handle challenges – tougher than it sounds – can be to your advantage this week.

Leo

Despite the “change and revolution” theme in the transits this week, Leo has a rather rigid start to the week. That feel does not entirely evaporate over the course of the week, although sudden change can certainly enter the picture for Leo, with January 5 as an important day for you. January 2 contains a more cognitive theme, of interest with Mercury stationing in the sign opposite your Sun’s, of using the mind to comprehend abstract concepts or attaining insight via connecting ideas. The week may have a somewhat grinding feel, but the necessary discipline and stamina demanded of Leo has a nice tradeoff of attaining a sense of power and self-improvement, if you are willing to consciously approach the challenges of the week with a sense of determination to adeptly handle them. The payoff – likely involving how successfully you handle the various changes and demands headed your way – tends to make itself known at the end of the week. Final thought for Leo: while acting as an intermediary for other people might be appealing and even to your advantage, caution regarding being caught up in unpleasant situations is warranted.

Virgo

Mercury turning retrograde is of importance for Virgo Sun, but transiting Jupiter in your Sun’s sign, about to go retrograde, is also notable. The week definitely has its bright spots for Virgo, but the week is also one of evaluation for you, very apropos with the New Year upon us. You might feel as though information is descending on you at a frenzied pace this week; thus your analytical function might feel taxed, even though it’s your strong point! The transits still have a somewhat earthy feel, which is to your advantage. Work tends to have an upbeat feel this week, even with Jupiter grinding to a halt in the Virgo sign. January 5 is important for career, and the grounded, structured power exuded on January 5 flows well for your earthy core. January 4 and 5 are prime days for giving sharp presentations, exchanging information, and using learning experiences to assertively push your goals forward. Final thought for Virgo: Be aware that extra effort to reach a conclusion this week may be necessary.

Libra

Extra assistance and oversight might be a welcome influence this week for Libra Sun, depending on given situations. Use of logic and generating a large volume of ideas flow well for Libra on January 1 and 2, with a bit of concentrated effort. Fresh ideas and flashes of insight, another apt theme for your airy Sun, gain steam starting around January 5. A narrow window of support from close relationships potentially gives you a boost on January 4 and 5. The squares in the transits are more direct than average among the signs for Libra this week, but bearing in mind that you can probably find support when you need it, and that the effort can be worth the reward, is a nice source of motivation to make the most of this week. January 6 contains possibilities for dealing with “higher ups” or those who are very knowledgeable in their craft; both possibilities have their advantages if you manage to find a way to take advantage of them, likely not a problem based on your natural people skills and proclivity for collaborating. Also watch for results of past actions showing more prominently on January 6. Final thought for Libra: with Mercury stationing and starting his retrograde this week, careful attention to body language in addition to hearing spoken communication becomes important.

Scorpio

Mars moving into your Sun’s sign this week isn’t bad! Scorpio Sun has plenty of opportunities during this week, centered around the “power” theme in the transits. Inevitable or sudden change can be handled in a conscious and practical manner this week, obviously a prime opportunity for you to sharpen your Scorpio perspectives and use the intensity of Mars to passionately push your objectives forward, or perhaps to simply relish the challenges of the week. No doubt that January 5 is an important day this week for Scorpio. Mercury retrograding in a sign squaring your Sun’s might feel a bit odd, but a sense of strength also permeates the transits and directly affects Scorpio on January 5. Thus you have a chance to alter situations, express greater intensity in your activities, and even experience a profound depth and meaning in your endeavors. Look to January 7 as a day of feeling the calm after a storm – but also realize that fantastic opportunities are awaiting you earlier in the week. Final thought for Scorpio: if someone or something becomes problematic this week, forming a coalition might be the most effectively way to deal with it.

Sagittarius

A certain wisdom and creativity flows well for Sagittarius Sun this week, particularly if you find ways to experience solitude. Relationships have a tendency towards feeling empathy and kind words and actions, but also be aware that situations involving more than one person have a tendency towards “taking sides” or elevated competition among members of a group. Despite the Sun-Pluto conjunction in the sign succeeding your Sun’s (Capricorn), the earthy “power” theme on January 5 flows well for Sagittarius. Consciously experiencing perspectives this week is also helpful in focusing on your future direction, both for the week and in terms of developing strategies for dealing with the New Year – and the timing of this theme is a stroke of fortune for your expansive, fiery Sun. Venus in Sagittarius is also a plus this week for Sagittarius, even with her conjunction to Saturn. Focusing on work and career, particularly within a framework of how you operate within a set structure among colleagues, is another productive way to start the year. Final thought for Sagittarius: taking a low-key, yet passionate approach to the week resonates well for Sagittarius.

Capricorn

January 1 is quite a conscious day for Capricorn Sun, and also apt for setting goals for the New Year and making a running start to attaining them this week. In this week of transiting Sun in the middle of your Sun's sign, January 5 is an important date for you. Gathering perspectives and assessing your capabilities describes the energies of January 5 that suit Capricorn almost perfectly. January 2 is the beginning of an important, reasonably lengthy theme for you. Most of this week, and continuing into next week, is a more spiritual time, in which seeking true understanding of various concepts, situations, or even yourself is of potential benefit. In accordance with the start of the year, it's also an amazing opportunity to put your best foot forward through reaching a wide audience or somehow influencing a large number of people. Relationships, particularly in work and career, also become a potential source of support this week, with the strongest effect at the end of the week. Final thought for Capricorn: no additional insights for Capricorn this week, other than to wish you a happy solar return!

Aquarius

Making too much of Mercury stationing and retrograding in your Sun's sign is probably unwarranted, but the event definitely deserves mentioning. Aquarius Sun will experience Mercury's logic and thought in unity with your conscious self this week, and additionally with the experience of thought and logic acting within both relatively normal, and extreme, parameters. The idea of generating large volumes of ideas – this is an outstanding week for brainstorming, particularly for Aquarius – and enjoying the company of a selected few people, alternating with meeting a variety of many new people, particularly in work and career, works well for Aquarius this week. Relationships at work become more important and perhaps beneficial for Aquarius as the week progresses, if you actively seek contacts or form alliances to compete with other people or groups. The icing on the cake for you this week, as with several of the other signs, is January 5. Innovation and revolution, new ideas, and evolving friendships have an influence of helping you develop fresh perspectives and developing your personal power, if you have the determination and reserves to activate the significant work and effort to effectively ride the waves of the transits this week, especially on January 5. Final thought for Aquarius: no surprise if you find that someone is seeking your support or an ear regarding a difficult, private issue.

Pisces

January 1 is a very conscious beginning of the week for Pisces Sun, a nice synchronicity in the transits for you that provides the opportunity to consider goals for the New Year and use your Sun's qualities to look forward and consider how to best achieve them. January 4 is a powerful day for experiencing relationships. Relationships in general this week tend to be competitive, with this theme reaching a peak on January 4. Close relationships, however, tend to flow smoothly this week and provide support if necessary. Stresses and resistance to inevitable change that may characterize various relationships this week paradoxically can make them very productive for you – team efforts require a great deal of work and care to administrate, but they can also help you make decent strides ahead in the first week of the year, particularly at work. A renewed sense of passion and initiative also takes effect for Pisces somewhat early in the week, giving you access to ambition and personal will to help you navigate your busy week. Final thought for Pisces: in dealing with closures, seek a symbol or person to show you the way to a new cycle.
