

Mind Control technology began in the 1960's during the Cold War and was used on unwitting citizens for non-consensual experimentation for the purpose of research and development, such as the infamous MKUltra programs run by the American CIA. The horror of what was happening was discovered and the program was allegedly shut down in the 1970's, which we now know is a lie.

Neuroscience is essentially the study of the human mind and central nervous system. It has now been weaponized by the CIA and Department of Defense using Directed Energy Weapons and nano-scale devices.

The human body is a 'Vibratory Organism'. It is an 'Electromagnetic Organism' and, as such, each organ of the body 'VIBRATES' at a different frequency of electromagnetic energy. By varying the frequency and intensity of each beam of energy, CIA NSA operatives can manipulate each region and organ of the human anatomy.

Everything started in the 1960's with the Spanish scientist, Dr. Jose Delgado, who conducted his famous 'bull experiment' by implanting an electrode in the brain of one of these animals. Dr. Delgado agitated the bull until it became angry and began to attack, while at the same time standing motionless in front of the bull. When the bull would charge at him, Dr. Delgado had a remote control device in his hand that he would push causing the bull to come to a complete stop and then spin around in circles.

The CIA later hired Dr. Jose Delgado, and other pioneers in the field, such as the notable neuroscientist from Norway, Dr Jacobson.

At that time, non-consensual experimentations on human beings began to occur under the guise of black ops covert weapon testing programs, for which there was no accountability, transparency or oversight, and this continues to our present day in the 21st century.

The CIA DoD paradigm has perfected the manipulation of the human body's five senses: sight, touch, taste, hearing, smell. Now they are attempting to perfect and implement a new Artificial Intelligence (AI) regime founded not on older methods of mathematical equations known as 'If & Then' algorithms, but on a new AI regime based on a 'REVERSE ENGINEERING' of the Human Mind

[I am being hit with directed energy right now to disrupt this paper].

One of the products of this new technology is the field of 'SYNTHETIC TELEPATHY' invented and developed by my friend, former CIA and DoD scientist, Dr. Robert Duncan., whose conscience got the better of him after he realized what they were doing to innocent Americans with this technology. he walked away from the CIA, blew the whistle on the covert program, and exposed it to the world.

With this new technology, the CIA & NSA are able to read your thoughts, see through your eyes, and maintain a direct conversation with your mind.

CIA & NSA operatives can induce directly into your brain, both visual images and auditory sequences, such as voice to skull (V2K).

The British and other European countries are heavily involved in this new weapons program, developed for the purpose of controlling the masses via 'Censorship', 'Memory Management' and 'Direct Behavioral Control' all of which is now possible by what is known as Nano-Technology.

A nanometer is one millionth of a millimeter and these microbic composite materials are so small they can only be seen with a special microscope. On average, these microbic composite materials are around 50 nanometers in size. they interact through streams of photons (directed energy flashing) and can speak to and decode the neurotransmitters in your brain.

As such we are now able to digitally communicate with the human mind via a brain to computer interface or an electronic brain to brain interface.

With advances in medicine, chemistry, engineering, and other disciplines, Neuroscience now includes the study of Cellular, Molecular, Structural, Functional and Evolutionary development of the human mind and central nervous system.

From molecular and cellular studies of individual nerve cell, to sensory imaging and basic motor tasks of the human brain, Neuroscience is no longer just a field of medicine. It has crossed the threshold of medical science and is now a chief weapons platform used by many of the national security agencies of the world.

The ability to decipher the human mind has expanded exponentially in this our 21st century and has now forever altered evolution and society as we know it. They have imposed their diabolical plans into what is most important in our society Freedom to Choose and the Human Will. They can now completely control the mind.

[Now they have switched tactics on me and are hammering me with delta wave to make me drowsy so I will make mistakes in typing this up].

Of course, controlling the human mind becomes more difficult when the Targeted Individual is aware of their schemes, but there are probably hundreds of thousands of Americans who have been exposed to this technology that are unable to determine that they are being controlled in this way.

Again, CIA and Department of Defense are seeking to achieve three things with this technology: 'Censorship', 'Memory Management' and 'Direct Behavioral Control'. These three are the holy grail of all mind control technologies.

CNN recently reported that within 5-10 years we will be able to remotely (Keyword: 'REMOTELY') modify our behavior with this technology. Not then, but it is happening right now.

Again, they are seeking to create a new AI regime based on a reverse engineering of the human mind. They wish to replicate the human soul, which is essentially three things:

1) Will 2) Intellect and 3) Emotion.

They must perfect the technology behind these three parameters of the human soul in order to build the first QUANTUM COMPUTER' which is still in R&D mode right now but which the Americans and other nations of the world are racing to develop. One day soon, this Quantum Computer will interface between the Human Mind and Soul by way of a Neurochip which will connect directly or remotely to a supercomputer.

Mankind is a triune being, meaning he is composed of three things: Body, Soul and Spirit.

This is the weakness of the new AI regime and will be its downfall. They have mastered the human body (five senses) and will master the Human Soul (Will, Intellect and Emotion), but they will never be able to replicate the spirit of man. The spirit of man is the 'Conscience'. The conscience is the 'Compass of the Soul' which helps a man or woman discern right from wrong, which the new AI regime, no matter how sophisticated, will never be able to replicate, because it is not physical, but metaphysical. It is God given. It is an innate instrument every human being is born with and cannot be replicated.

The reason NSA and CIA decided to move away from 'If and Then' algorithms to a reverse engineering of the human mind, is because they realized its ineffectiveness, meaning it doesn't matter how many octillion algorithms you create there will still always continually be those scenarios for which an 'AI' regime based on 'If and Then' algorithms will not cover and will subsequently fail and falter because people are so unique and different, socially, culturally and cognitively. People are too unique in their make up for the math to cover every scenario so they abandoned the math and moved to a new AI regime based on a reverse engineering of the human mind. Essentially, they are seeking an AI regime that functions just like a human brain, capable of adapting, learning, etc. (i.e.: the Quantum Computer).

This type of technology could have great benefits for society such as the ability to augment human intelligence by a thousand times, essentially turning the human mind into a supercomputer. Hence, there are literally thousands of applications that could interface with this technology.

This technology literally has the ability to alter our entire evolutionary experience in life, both positively and negatively. For example, you could literally turn the brain into a supercomputer, or encyclopedia, or a giant search engine., like Google. Unfortunately, instead of using it for good, the NSA and CIA have chosen to use it for evil.

One method of doing this is to alter our memories by way of 'Memory Management'.

They can impose false memories by using a 'fabricated falsified stream' to inject memories into your subconscious which you will believe are real but are not. One way this is achieved is by way of 'Dream Modulation'. These memories implanted in your mind can be good. or terribly bad and can be so powerful that even though you are told they are not real you will not believe it. This is a common prerequisite to electromagnetic hypnotism, such as the CIA used on the Assistant Attorney General of Alabama when they murdered him by forcing him to commit suicide. No matter what, with repetitive reinforcement you will come to believe the memories are your own unless you learn how to read active memory.

This is a weapons system and the government who is first in the world to perfect and employ this new neuro-warfare system will have an incomparable advantage over every other government on earth. In fact, we know for a fact it can be used in mass attacks against many people at one time. in Palm Springs, California they are using it right now against between 50-100 gay men, causing them to hear voices and forcing them to behave in manners which they do not wish to follow. This is an absolute fact and has been reported on by news agencies in California. There is no way 50-100 men could all be having the same symptoms, hearing the same voices etc., if this were not the NSA CIA DARPA arm behind this neuro-attack. It is absolutely happening.

People think all of these recent uprisings in the world, from Arab Spring to Venezuela to Ukraine and many others are just a new wave of cultural and social upheaval. In fact, there is much to suggest that this CIA may be behind it, but that is another story and not the content of this interview.

Soon, warfare between Russia and the USA will include Neuro-warfare tactics. It will also lead to the development of emotional and intellectual perception networks ('thought police') and will be gradually included in our society on the grounds of national security, terrorism, etc. Soon, the internet will be able to perceive your emotions and, by default, so will the CIA.

They will gradually implement this technology by saying it will only be used for to control terrorists and criminals. They will do this by way of a campaign of disinformation and misinformation based on lies and half truths. Effectually turning America into one gigantic Neuro-society that will include a living social conscience that people will be able to engage in by sharing their thoughts with each other simultaneously in large groups over vast geographical regions. A sort of 'Hive Mind' will ensue between people who collaborate on the same or similar issues. Instead of making a telephone call with your phone, you will be able to make one with your mind, hands free of course.

There are many government agencies and private institutions (harvard, yale, MIT, etc) who are involved in this new Neuro-Revolution and it is employed against Americans domestically and against civilians from other countries abroad, by way of a covert inter-government agency operation designed to diffuse responsibility if caught, meaning everything is highly compartmentalized so even if you knew the source of the technology you would still be running down the proverbial rabbit hole because the people involved in this paradigm operate in the dark crevices of government and are firmly entrenched in their positions of power and cannot be removed. Presidents and Senators are mere puppets to these people. Even high ranking generals don't ascend to the corridors of power without their approval. The real power in America is not without elected representatives, or even our mighty military leaders. No, it lies with the upper echelon of the intelligence services, (CIA, NSA, etc). While there any many agencies involved, there are primarily two that are behind it all: CIA & Department of Defense.

Again the three main purposes of mind control are Censorship, Memory management, and Direct Behavioral Control. Memory management is achieved by way of an injection of false memories while simultaneously blocking real memories with a falsified fabricated stream by using flashes of pulsed electromagnetic energy in sync with photonic implants or remote nano-particulates which then match up wit the RNM supercomputer and the remote subconsciousness of a human mind. The RNM supercomputer hooks the Targeted individual to a mainframe and the person is then monitored to their death which is often brutal for the purposes of mind control via what they call rehabilitation by torture. In other words, 'behaviorism' (i.e.: Pavlovs dogs, etc). This is how thought triggered attacks occur. This supercomputer which is capable of hundreds of thousands of calculations per second kicks into gear as soon as the targeted individual begins thinking about a certain subject, etc., and the RNM computer injects those subconscious impulse at speed of light. This is why it is crucial for CIA NSA operatives to be close by the TI or within range of remote surveillance so they can watch the targeted individual in real time so as to achieve verification with the rnm system.

The supercomputer interfaces (integration completion) with the human mind and begins to inject imagery and other sequences into the human mind that the TI does not recognize seeking to establish integration completion between the rnm system and the human mind.

The human brain has been mapped. This Brain Initiative Project announced by Obama months ago was just a cover for what has already been achieved so as to help facilitate its implementation into our new neuro-society. Otherwise, there would be to many questions, such as where did this technology come from, etc. The two main protagonists are CIA and DoD but the main arm of both in this paradigm is the futuristic strong arm of DARPA. It is DARPA that is behind it all if you go to its very core. So this BAM project, known as the 'Brain Activity Map' is just a cover by Obama to integrate these new neuro-weapons into our mainstream society as being necessary and a boon to our high tech civilization when in all actuality it will be nothing more than a tool to control us and certain segments of populations of countries throughout the world. By reverse engineering the human mind they are developing a AI regime that will be capable of making all the important decisions for humanity by way of central planning. They will also use this technology to keep those countries that are enemies of america in internal strife so as to control them as well. They will be able to control the population of America and the world by reconfiguring the human brain and by default they will be able to reconfigure societies. This is a tool the world elite has long sought after and now finally it is within their grasp.

However, there are methods one can employ to fight back against this new technology:

1. Multi-Tasking

Learn how to multi-task as multitasking causes you to think in multiple threads.

When you are constantly thinking in multiple threads (multiple tasks or thoughts) then there is no coherent pattern for the perps to establish and integrate into RNM data. In other words, 'integration completion' between the RNM system and your brain is hindered and without your response to that specific 'impulse injection', the RNM verification process is breaks apart.

The CIA NSA perps are using a 'fabricated or falsified stream' to interfere with your memory and thought process. Once you become dependent (ie. you believe their impulse injections are your own) on the system's output (or they believe your responses to it are consistent) they will begin to fabricate 'subconscious responses' which they will pretend are indicators of honesty/dishonesty, positive recognition, anxiety, etc, and they will use these 'impulse injections' to convince you that the fabricated responses are your own.

If you are unaware of this constant mental manipulation the system will begin to shape your thoughts and behavior. They will use this to [attempt to] restrict your thoughts and behavior by blocking [interfering with] your memory and thought process while these suggestions (injected impulses) are being provided - the interference is triggered and can be activated at will by the attackers.

Again: you can defeat the RNM attacks by constantly multitasking (thinking about multiple things at once) and by ignoring random encounters with strangers you don't know as such encounters are engineered by the perps in order to solicit an emotional response from you which their RNM system can remotely measure. Then you can not only see through the system's attempts to manipulate you but also manage their ability to evaluate your responses by controlling the 'verification process' - by working through the remote neural 'memory blocks' - and counter the system's ability to influence your choices. It will begin to feel as though you are thinking in two 'threads'.

Just learn how to multi-task.

2. Spontaneity

Never follow a set pattern of conduct. Always change your behavior every day at a moment's notice. Do this when you're quickly (not slowly) on the move as it is more difficult for their remote neural system to monitor your thoughts while you're in rapid motion.

If you decide to go to the grocery store go to the convenience store instead. Change it up everyday but don't do the same things over and over as that establishes a set pattern of conduct.

Remember they are trying to alter your daily motives and emotional perceptions.

The remote neural monitoring system is designed to provoke you emotionally so they can generate response statistics which the system will use to determine how to interpret and link descriptions with data captured about your memory references. That is why they are constantly trying to keep you talking, or constantly stopping you and asking for directions, etc.

So always ignore prolonged random encounters with people you don't know. You're not being rude. Just refusing to allow them to manipulate you.

Once they have consistent statistics the system will use previous 'choice references' and inject them into your subconscious thought during normal activity which is also referred to as 'impulse injections' to convince you that the response was your own and influence you to complete or describe the reference by making the appropriate verbalizing or performing a related action, which is known as 'Verification'. You can fight and/or control this if you learn to defeat these memory attacks by learning to read active memory.

Once they see what you respond to emotionally, or intellectually, they will fabricate 'conversational' or 'situational' scenarios (Street Theater) based on events or topics they know will capture your attention.

For example, if you are a football fan they will talk about your favorite team or will wear a t-shirt or hat with your favorite football team's emblem. They do this with me a lot as they know I am a University of Georgia fan.

So they constantly wear UGA t-shirts, hats, etc., pretending to be a Georgia fan or be from Georgia in order to try and stimulate me towards talking with them & to keep me talking to them.

This is why the perps try to keep you talking for so long. Not just to aggravate you but to provoke you into an 'emotional response' so they can map your thought process in order to subsequently inject impulses etc., and control your mind. This is why the feds try to get people close to you (eg by approaching you and/or befriending with a hot girl or handsome guy) with so-called 'Honey Traps'.

Here is how you stop that from happening: ignore all prolonged random encounters with strangers you don't know and be spontaneous.

This same remote neural attack can be used to disrupt your speech if the attackers decide to prevent you from discussing a specific topic or repeating a given word. The system can be configured to disrupt your recollection when formulating a related statement or inject gibberish [triggered substitution] while you are attempting to speak.

The goals of these attacks appear to be threefold: Censorship, Memory Management and Direct Behavior Control.

These people are not concerned with legal constraints or any particularly acceptable way of life. They simply use anything you enjoy, hate or appreciate to abuse you regardless of your behavior so if they give you a compliment, realize that they are only doing it to see how you will respond when they turn around to negate it and torture you nightly.

If you keep a constant handle on your 'state of activity' as well as your situational perception you will recognize conflicting impulses and although it is possible for the system to overpower your impulses, if you understand the attacks you will be able to recognize the physical changes resulting from these powerful impulses and this should prompt you to re-evaluate your current state.

Unless you have been tortured to near-incoherency you should be able to fight the system's influences.

These remote neural attacks are most effective when you are stepping through sequenced tasks so try to avoid 'zoning' on your activities. How? By changing your actions and activities randomly and constantly at the speed of thought. Don't always plan out or think out your daily itinerary, if you don't have to. 'Just do it' !

Remote Neural Manipulation is accomplished via their system's ability to interpret your thoughts and is wholly dependent on its ability to predict and influence your 'reference choices' or 'impulse sequencing' during thought composition. The system maps patterns with impulses and identifiers (evoked potentials) and uses statistical data about your 'composition habits' to predict how you will think or act as you begin to formulate thoughts or prepare to act. The system's ability to define and map these references intelligibly depends on your cooperation [or ignorance] and the attackers' ability to make sense of what they see visually or what they can guess based on your past activity.

3. Quenching

They will constantly run you through a 'verification' routine where the system probes you for a particular set of responses repeatedly in order to establish a pattern. If you are interacting and countering these probes the operator will vary the routine in an attempt to 'verify' via different methods.

Once the system 'verifies' the selected responses they will be used in the next wave of harassment routines - the process is endless and you will see the effects clearly if you are consistently defeating the system. If you are not defeating the remote neural system then you will not see or notice the effects. The way to defeat their remote neural monitoring system is by 'quenching'.

You 'quench' remote neural monitoring by interacting with and countering their tactics.

None of what these people are collecting could ever be used in a case against you.

Every piece of information collected by their system can be considered falsified and/or fabricated because the system is designed to continuously provide 'suggestions' according to data which has been previously collected about your current activity and the accuracy of the reference descriptions [definitions] is extremely low since the attackers don't really care about truth and the system will fabricate statements and/or imagery while they are abusing you. The fabrications are generally the result of misinterpretation of references and emotional indicators as well as distortion of 'injection feedback' in addition to false entries added manually by the attackers as a result of their inability to understand what they are viewing or their malintent.

There is no reliable way for the attackers to determine what is true even if they try to apply their observations to the aforementioned indicators. An attempt to prove guilt with their system would be the equivalent to a cop dropping a gun at a crime scene and claiming it belonged some individual who happened to be passing by - RANDOM and FALSIFIED.

There is no legal application for this system or anything generated by it. They will only capture what they want to abuse you with and when they decide to 'censor' your thoughts they will force you into an abusive or incoherent thought pattern using the injection and blocking methods mentioned above.

For example when you experience 'sudden severe aggression and agitation' its the perps, not you and is part and parcel 'Mind Control'. They injected those impulses. Remember they want to keep you constantly thinking about them.

You can limit and counter this effect by learning to read memory while blocking their system however it takes quite a bit of skill and self-awareness. This is known as 'Redirection'.

4. Redirection

'Redirection' is simple. When the remote neural attack happens and impulses and thoughts are introduced into your mind (by strong urge [high frequency attack] or slight motivation [low frequency attack]) just change your thread of thought. This hinders 'integration completion' between your brain and the RNM system. You do this by establishing what is known as a 'Working Reference'.

The Bible says "...whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable--if anything is excellent or praiseworthy--think about such things". (Phillipians 4:8).

You can thwart their RNM attack by establishing a 'working reference' each time they attempt to inject impulses and thoughts to your brain. This is done by recognizing something in life that makes you very happy and then re focusing or 'redirecting' back to that happy experience in life each time you are attacked through RNM.

If you can do this each day their attacks will simply be an annoyance to you as you can work around it, but it will still hinder performance tremendously as you will be forced to test and validate memory constantly and the physical sensations of the system radiating your brain will be both irritating and distracting.

Note that these attacks can be performed successfully at lower intensities and you may initially only notice them if you are frequently being tested at higher intensities: Torture!

Understanding the memory attacks (blocking your real memories and injecting false memories and impulses) are key because if you do not recognize modification of your 'active memory' the system will cause you to briefly lose time perception which may be enough procedural [functional] disorientation to influence you to respond to an injected impulse. Forced speech for example.

It is possible for the system to influence you to speak unwillingly or, at the very worst, without you knowing it. For example, if you are susceptible to the systems influences you may not realize that it is frequently or constantly influencing you to make minor choices. These motivational impulses can also be used to influence you in a manner that will give you the desire to speak, and I emphasize desire because you need to understand that these impulses will only make you feel the urge [at higher levels set by the attackers] or basic motivation [at baseline levels] to perform the tasks it is influencing you to do.

Now in combination with this motivation to speak the system uses past references to direct you - for example, your personal memory of turning to speak to your wife and the associated impulse - and when you react to this influence the system will block your working memory while streaming the desired output which will result in you making one or more statements under the system's control.

They will test this on you frequently with 'word substitution' and if you can learn to control this in thought then you can control it while speaking but you must learn to multitask constantly and to read memory!

If you do not have a 'working reference' to return to after the forced speech attack it is possible that you will have no recollection of making the statement.

If you have a hard time understanding how remote neural monitoring (RNM) works, just think of how a lie detector works. In theory RNM functions in similar manner to a lie detector: by measuring physiological responses emitted by the body. In RNM, it is those physiological responses emitted via electromagnetic impulses by the brain.

As you learn to defeat the predictive capabilities of the system (quenching, redirection, multi-tasking and spontaneity) their attempts to restrict your 'reference choices' will become increasingly evident and you will begin to perceive what I will describe as 'functional duality' [it might also be described as focal duality] within your working memory. The perps system's prediction error rate will dramatically increase and its attempts to predict your thoughts or intentions will become humorous if not simply annoying.

Thought Triggered Attacks:

Seeing the relationship between your memory references and the systems output [which can be a specific directed energy attack, an audible forced speech sequence, etc., is critical to understanding how to control and ultimately defeat 'thought-triggered' attacks in addition to preventing the attackers from deceiving you with their cognitive magic tricks.

You should be able to redirect the system during 'formulation' (collecting data by reading your mind) or prevent 'predictive integration' (interpretation of data from injected thoughts and impulses) altogether, but when you learn to stop integration, realize that the system will be waiting for completion and will 'probe' you for a response. It will begin to 'inject' again if you attempt to ignore it so unless you have extremely high memory skill and have learned the 'quenching' technique, redirection may be the easiest option.

They will also abuse you in every way possible to convince you that they're in control when you will be able to see clearly that they are nothing more than idiots who need to spend more time studying the systems they are abusing people with.

If the system's suggestions are not acceptable to you [and they won't be if you're consistently blocking and/or redirecting it] then this will result in you making a continuous effort to counter the imposition of thoughts and impulses while contrasting you're 'working state' to maintain active focus.

Although by cooperating and allowing the system to interpret and define your daily activity you may find that the suggestions become more tolerable as the system is designed to mimic your normal cognitive behavior, I would recommend not allowing this as you will tend to more readily accept the system's influence, and the purpose of the system influencing you in this manner is to give the attackers the ability to restrict you at will and to allow them to deceive or manipulate you subconsciously.

You can only counter these restrictions if you are able to contrast the system's influence from your own willful activity. Everyone who is hearing "V2K" is being monitored in this manner and being influenced in this way as well. The phrases you are hearing should be related to information captured during the 'silent monitoring period' and will eventually be used as the foundation for your endless verbal harassment.

What they do is a game of deception and manipulation, nothing more. Do not accept anything they say as truth and do not acknowledge anything the system interrogates you about as truth. The system will take random bits of anything it captures through your senses and fabricate stories which they will use to harass and interrogate you with no intention other than to distract and torture you into submission [to the system's influence].

If you learn to defeat the remote neural memory and thought process attacks then you can render remote neural monitoring useless or manipulate it to your advantage.

Your advantage would be to be able to document and verify it is happening in a court of law.

People who take a stand and try to oppose this evil are labeled by our government as dissidents and are punished or summarily killed. Many are victimized by the government by being forcibly and falsely misdiagnosed with a mental illness so that they are not taken seriously, pushed to the margins of society or altogether removed from society, with their credibility destroyed so no one will believe them. That is why the torture is designed to be so brutal, precisely so that no one will believe it is happening. Their whole lives are completely destroyed because they somehow became a threat to our Orwellian society

As bad as it is it will only get worse. Mind control will soon permeate every facet of our society. They achieve this by decoding electromagnetic emissions of the brain into actual thought patterns. Once those patterns are identified they are used and varied in the repeated harassment and torture of the targeted individual. The mental images of the brain can actually be seen and through this window into the soul, images, sounds and other sequences (aromas) can be encoded into the human brain. They do this with me a lot engaging in situational and conversational scenarios designed to capture the attention of the targeted individual seeking verification like yesterday afternoon and last night.

These electromagnetic impulses are sent into the brain via impulse injections, to trigger evoked potentials, for the purposes of verification. This generates sounds, images, aromas, etc., via the neuronal circuits. Essentially, they have turned the brain into a visual, verbal and auditive communications system.

For example, 'Synthetic Telepathy' is a denomination of DARPA that uses an electronic brain to brain interface or brain to computer interface. Just by touching the arm of another person or shaking their hand a CIA operative can communicate via synthetic telepathy to another operative without ever saying a word as those neural circuits in the hand or arm travel the same pathways to the brain. This takes special software and usually involves direct or remote contact with the human anatomy. It is very similar to cell phone technology and basically amounts to receiving a cell phone call in your head. A computer multiplexer routes the signal through microwave towers then on to a receiver. The receiver is located with pinpoint accuracy and tracked to a few feet of its actual location. However the receiver is not a cell phone, it is a human mind.

Right now they are able to clone the human mind by downloading ones entire persona and psyche into a computer database. This technology is also being used by British Intelligence agencies and is known inside MI6 circles as Project Soulcatcher. This is achieved through transcranial stimulation via directed energy weapon radiation and bioelectric R&D.

Basically the NSA maps your brain and then ties you to a supercomputer which downloads your information back into a database and monitors all electromagnetic activity of your brain 24/7 for life until the day of your death. This Transcranial Brain Stimulation is also used by the military with brain to computer interfaces such as those used by pilots with the new F-35 stealth aircraft.

NSA agents use this technology to covertly debilitate people using directed energy weapons such as microwaves to slowly degrade their minds or other internal organs until they die or become incapacitated. They have done this with me continually for years. The NSA CIA paradigm against me had me forcibly and falsely misdiagnosed with a mental illness which the doctors changed quickly to Delusional Disorder. Since then they have targeted my brain (as well as other internal organs) with electromagnetic low frequency waves so that my brain slowly deteriorates and I develop dementia or some other neurological disease. Then they will say I was mentally ill. But there is a big difference between mental illness and mental injury. They have no fear of God and no fear of Man. The law means nothing to them and has no meaning for those they slowly torture and kill because the law will not help those people. The law only works where it can be applied.

Plato once said, 'All laws are meaningless, because good people will always keep them and evil people will always find away around them'.

"The truth is stranger than fiction".
