SO
D@MN
FUNNY

Do you have a demo to shop? Think you're Oscar-worthy or have a business to promote? Are you short on cash?

Then go on a reality show.

Just wear your brand on a tee or create your own catchy slogan like 'Slap me bitch' and people will remember you for years to come.

You don't even have to be pretty to get camera time. And it doesn't matter if what you're promoting is of poor quality or just simply sucks. The important thing is your getting air time and there are no out-of-pocket expenses.

So the next time you see audition 411, don't turn up your nose - go for it!

HERE'S COMES THE JUDGE...AN OLD, WISE LATINA

I don't do a lot of political coverage for a number of reasons. One of those reasons is that it is politics. You scratch my back, etc.etc.

I've never been a fan of it (or ANY form of ass-kissing, for that matter) but in some cases, I do understand the role it plays in the progression of feminism, especially to those of us who are minorities. Like female members of radical groups of past generations who slept with rich men they may not otherwise be attracted to, for the sake of getting a huge donation in order to progress in a worthy cause.

JUST WANNA GIVE A LITTLE SHOUT OUT TO EVERYONE WHO HAS HELPED
GENEROUS CELEBRATE 2 YEARS! YAY!
