T: how important is the shift into the 1320 cycle

R: the ending of one cycle, the beginning of another: the pathless path is showing up before us

- Archbishop Desmond Tutu, the Vatican, the King of Egypt, Mohammed el Fayad - father of Dodi Fayad who is married to Lady Di; they have 2 children.
- The Arab world slaughtered millions African people, and the white people have slaughtered millions and millions of African people -
 - the intelligence of melanin was coded in the skin, and the melanin was taken out of the skin to create white people, and the Annunaki put in their own program to control us -
 - those who volunteered to incarnate as those of light skin have a real uphill battle
- KOS told them 20 years ago that Desmond Tutu would be the last pope, and would straighten out the dogmas and catechisms - starting with the idea that god is a woman, either Mother Zudiachus or Mother Sekhmet
- Tutu has been in the last 4 months with the true King of Egypt
 - 40,000 BC Britannia was right beside Egypt - this is before the land broke up

 - Bill & M were told to give it all away, every penny.
 - Tutu and KOE have been all over the world and told them ALL to do it.

- Our new work is to take the full responsibility of what has not been done and do it:
- Tutu called for the arrest of Bush, Blair and cohorts: this war in Iraq caused the biggest division, biggest devastation and biggest destabilization of any conflict in the world

R: intervention is at hand because Prime Directive [of non-intervention] is superceded

T: brought up that the standards are different: none of the western leaders have been arrested yet; only some from Africa and then for not a long time [14 years];

- the judge from the case of one from Bosnia-Herzegovina said there are things that were not orchestrated by these ones - there were overlords who told them what to do.
 - The word was the overlords would be next - and those ones are Western leaders. This will include religious leaders

T: big jump in markets today: had to do with European Central Bank - a big bond buying program

- short term bonds in Euros that different countries could use to keep their countries going
- Cities in Spain cannot pay their employees, and 13 cities in US in same boat
- risk is what happens if the country defaults? Then all goes down the tubes.

R: all tied in with pensions and hedge funds - and LIBOR

T: the torment and hunger of people all over the world: massive fires in Indonesia, losing homes, disenfranchised to the max! Yet there is hope: the people are making sure the stories hit the limelight to shut up! If not, will expose him - if he pays up, he is caught paying up to shut them up!

Cathy: is this the 2nd time?

T: Harry Reid said a long time ago that Romney has not paid his taxes for 25 years!

- So this is the 2nd time!

T: in 1985 Canada signed on to anti torture of citizens - has not lived up to this [SEE BELOW]
" . . . former Supreme Court Justice Frank Iacobucci found Canadian officials responsible for the torture of Canadian citizens abroad . . ." - tied in with 9/11

Caller: regarding collective consciousness, she thinks the dark ones are trying to take us all backwards and don't get it that

- the cosmic hierarchy told her that the last step is full disclosure is unity consciousness & sacred heart consciousness - it is what we all need to be focusing on

T: Ed Schultz mentioned that the criminals who have done 9/11 have not been arrested

Larry of Larry, Curly & Mo: Donald Rumsfeld, Dick Cheney, Condi Rice; Colin Powell, Hillary, too.

- 2 stories: one is continuing the empire; the other is the REFORMATION ACT which gets us back in the black

Guest: Lloyd Mear

MR: Lloyd has a system of using numbers that he uses to help people with health challenges

LM: programs evolve as he learns more and receives new challenges

Background: looks at human body as a ball of energy;

- it is made primarily of water, and operates as an electrical system
- the electrical system can have as many as 1.2 million variations in the human body, and each variation is controlled by a frequency, and each frequency is controlled by a number.
- The idea is to establish what normalcy is in a numerical sense, and they have created a manual that records those numbers
- They then use the manual when they are checking people, and look for missing numbers
- The missing numbers suggest that this is presenting of a problem, so he gives the number and you repeat it 6-7 times as your intention to your body which recognizes the number and makes the change required.
- It is like taking a pill which is programmed through its chemical make-up to replace the frequency / energy that is required in the body.
- He reviews the body and finds the missing number; if he cannot find a number which works, he will work on the condition and find numbers which will help, then the person uses those numbers to repair the situation
- He uses a piece of wire as a dousing rod to help him develop any new numbers that may be required.
- Manual now has 130 pages
- they also have a water product which manages all the systems in the body.
This helps the endocrine and other systems
The 2nd water supplies, in an energetic formulation, for all the minerals, salts & nutritional needs.

- He is 76 years old; had a heart attack at 60: started to work with putting something in water
 - he now takes no supplements or medications since he was 60, other than the water!
- The water is nano water [de-stressed so it goes into your cells]; it has an alkalinity of 8.6 - it moves the body into alkaline state. So the water manages your systems, supplies nutrition, hydrates you and keeps you in an alkaline state.

Phone Number: 760-362-4679

- There is a necessity to be able to help ourselves keep healthy and in an inexpensive way which this water will help with. The medical route has its dangers; supplements can also not be so powerful because they come from poor soil, for example
- Telomeres are portions of chromosomes in our blood; the chromosomes have a "tail" which is quite long when we are young when the chromosome is healthy.
 - As we age, that tail breaks off and gets shorter and shorter -
- he has developed a number which lengthens the telomere again and increases the numbers of telomeres as well.
 - Working on an article which describes telomeres and what they do
- Describes what doing the telomere number for his dog has done.

MR: knows that telomeres have to do with aging; first time she has heard Lloyd talk of them

- Work is being done by a doctor: a product to keep the telomeres from breaking off
- Lloyd uses numbers and frequencies - it will be in the Intention water in due course: they are in the test stage at the moment.

MR: A friend who uses Quantum, computer-assisted radionics: says most people she works with now are suffering from congestion - due to what's in the air

LM: seems there is lots of vertigo going round - no infection, but all the symptoms of vertigo - maybe something evolving as the earth is changing - we learn to manage it, but can't get rid of it
The numbers keep it under control, but little issues show up, nothing that stops you from functioning

LM: no such thing as a dumb question

Cathy: last year, diagnosed with diabetes - seeing more of it these days?

LM: Diabetes is steady -

- when you go into a supermarket and use plastic bags from a roll in the produce department
- The energies of selenium and iron are in an energetic state in that plastic and will contaminate that food within 10 minutes, and diabetics have those 2 minerals

MR: everyone needs selenium - has it to do with the wrong kind of selenium?

LM: Yes, it is the wrong Isotope!

- The good isotope is in their water; they don't deal with the bad ones - the numbers are in the book so repeat the number and get rid of the bad ones

Tara: Pres is starting to speak.

Ross: what are numbers relevant to psychic abilities - what numbers might help with the pineal gland or other glands ?

LM: There are numbers that support the chakras and the 3rd eye 78364768466 [3rd eye]

Discussion about balance in the body allowing use of psychic abilities

MR: if you do the one for the hypothalamus that will help a whole lot of things that are connected - still true?

LM: Yes, it is a good stabilizing number: 98376778488

Cathy: has had 3 years of the numbers, and can feel the energetic tune-up

LM: heart is one area he specializes in: virus in the heart, congenital heart disease

- You can be quite sick, and within 15 minutes you can be recovered, but you do the numbers for a few weeks afterwards to make sure the virus is gone.

Leukemia: they have good success with this - in 45 minutes, the leukemia can be gone!!!!

Tara: re plastic on breads - what about them?

LM: it is the rolls of plastic bags that have proven to be bad, not every bag like bread comes in, and the bags groceries in are OK.

MR: so wondrous - the value of having guests on the programs and how we can take care of ourselves!

- Have you found anything to counter-act GMOs in the crops? Eg, corn, beans - problem is that 60% of processed products in grocery stores have corn-based fructose - once people quite eating this, they get better.
- Describes the experiments and testing that has shown what GMO does to people/

LM: basically, corn is worthless; has tested it and found nothing

- his wife steams the corn with their water and the vitamins and minerals are restored !!
- As for eggs, she sets them in their water for half an hour, then takes them out and puts them back into the egg crate!
- The bananas, the oranges, etc - she puts them on the bottles and leaves them there for a while, and then puts them away
- Their mineral water is used for cooking and baking.

Tara: asks about organic corn

LM: can only deal with what is in the super market - and that is pretty much useless for food value

MR: has to do with getting the biological activity back into the soil so the minerals can be utilized

Most food grown in this country is pumped full of nitrogen so it's big, but it has no food value

Once the bugs in the soil are active again, the plant can take up what is needed from the soil.

One of the best ways to check this is to use a refractometer which measures the "sugar brick" [or "sugar bric"] -

- If food is highly mineralized, the sugar bric will be high and it does not rot, it just dries up
- There is something created by Roundup [glycosate] that prevents plants from picking up the minerals in the soil

LM: the soil was long ago exhausted - this has been going on for a long time.

- Talks of Idaho potatoes: 1st year, quite large, because of the minerals in the soil
- 2nd year will be half the size because the mineral is somewhat depleted
- 3rd year potato will be half the size of the 2nd year pot
- If they put their water container on the lava rock, the energy would go into the water, and then water the potatoes with that water, and could very well get 1st year
- A common lab measure common solids; to measure isotopes, difficult to do
- there are 20 - 22 isotopes in every mineral family, and only one is good.

MR: www.growbetterfood.com - trying to teach people to grow

LM: food has a DNA - eg, spinach will pick up iron Isotope 57; bring home some spinach and sit it on their Intention water, it will have all the minerals! This will not happen when you grow food

Tara: There are certain foods that do not grow in certain areas. When we import foods from different areas, and our bodies are rooted in our local areas, what is the effect? Any research on this?

LM: he lives in a desert and nothing grows there, so he is not in a position to know!

In a farming area, the food you grow is part of your diet. Today, food is transported from place to place - can't really answer the question.

Tara: has heard that cans have an endocrine disrupters like the plastic bags.

LM: some tins are also lined - not sure about that plastic but not too concerned.

Cathy: what about baggies for freezers, lunches?

LM: Food Saver has a good quality bag, and the baggies mentioned by are OK too

Contact info: repeat the number twice, slowly

760-362-4679

- He does not worry about where the food comes from; they treat all that comes into the house, so they do not worry about it!
- Final words: wishes people the best!

Closing: Cathy

2012, July 1 Canada held responsible for torture ~ Rights violations in the West

Dimanche 1er juillet 2012, par Tomi Haxhi

In 1985, Canada signed onto the United Nations (UN) Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, and was one of the first countries to do so. In a report released by the UN Committee against Torture on June 1, 2012, Canada has not lived up to its obligations; rather, the report accuses Ottawa of being “complicit” to various human rights violations, including the ill-treatment of three Arab-Canadian men held and tortured in Syria following 9/11.

A judicial enquiry headed by former Supreme Court Justice Frank Iacobucci found Canadian officials responsible for the torture of Canadian citizens abroad, made possible through the sharing of information with foreign intelligence and police agencies. Iacobucci’s official report later deemed this shared information to be “inflammatory, inaccurate, and lacking investigative foundation”. (1) The UN committee has urged the Canadian government to issue an apology and compensate the three Canadians who were tortured by foreign powers.

The three torture victims—Abdullah Almalki, Ahmad El Maati, and Muayyed Nureddin—are now suing the Canadian federal government over its role in their detention abroad.

The report goes on to critique the federal government for stalling the repatriation of Canadian Omar Khadr from Guantanamo Bay. The Canadian Supreme Court has found Canadian officials, once again, complicit in Khadr’s ill-treatment overseas. As in the previous case, the UN committee also urges the Canadian government to extend their apologies to Khadr and compensate him for his poor treatment.

Public Safety Minister Victor Toews has been heavily criticized by the UN committee for his directive to catch suspected war criminals by posting their names and faces online. Toews’ recent move to allow the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) to use information obtained through torture, whenever it deems public safety to be at risk, is also seen as highly problematic, and, moreover, contradictory to the UN Convention against Torture. The Convention requires Canada, and other participating states, to take effective measures to prevent torture within their borders.

The report also goes on to urge the Canadian government to create a policy that plainly prohibits the transfer of prisoners to countries where there are “substantial grounds” to suspect a risk of torture.

If Canada is to conform with basic UN standards, a severe examination of the Canadian prison system is also necessary. The UN report calls for Canada to “clamp down on overcrowding, reduce institutional violence and in-custody deaths, and add more mental health treatment centres” for prisoners with serious mental health issues. To this day, it is not uncommon to hold mentally ill prisoners in solitary confinement, often further exacerbating their conditions. Overcrowding in federal penitentiaries has also risen to an all-time high : “We’ve actually seen the daily count exceed 15,000 offenders for the first time in Canadian history,” says Howard Sapers, Canada’s correctional investigator.

The Canadian government’s reaction to such criticism has been undeniably negative. “In times when there are serious concerns regarding human rights violations across the world, it is disappointing that the UN would spend time decrying Canada,” said Julie Carmichael, a spokeswoman for Public Safety Minister Toews. “Canada is a nation of laws and the actions of our government uphold the highest standards in the protection of human rights.”

In an even more alarming move, Conservative Member of Parliament (MP) Larry Miller is now urging the Canadian government to rethink their position in the UN. “The United Nations is an organization that was designed to work collectively to solve the major problems facing the world,” said Miller. “If this is the type of action that the UN will be taking then I think that it is high time that we review our participation in the United Nations.”

Such a conception of the UN and its duties is perhaps the most problematic aspect of Canada’s reaction to the aforementioned criticism. The UN must not only criticize, condemn, and hold responsible those countries with the most blatant of human rights violations ; the West is not unsusceptible to the same form of criticism, despite the reaction of the Canadian government. Rather, if we are to hold ourselves in such high regard, we should also hold ourselves responsible for our missteps, mistakes, and downright offenses.

Such an attitude on the part of the Canadian government has, undoubtedly, strained relations between Ottawa and the UN panel. Claudio Grossman, head of the UN Committee against Torture, has most succinctly replied to the Canadian government by simply saying “we need to treat everybody in the same way.” The UN committee has asked Canada to respond by means of an official report by June 2013. In the meantime, the Canadian government has one year to enact the more-than-20 reforms suggested by the UN report.

Ezat Mossallanejad, a policy analyst with the Canadian Centre for Victims of Torture, welcomes UN oversight and criticism. “[It is] extremely important that we subject ourselves to the same checks that apply elsewhere,” Mr. Mossallanejad said.

Nevertheless, the Canadian government’s overwhelmingly negative reception to the UN committee does not bode well for the next UN panel deadline. One week following the release of the UN report, Foreign Affairs Minister John Baird said that Canada has no intention of withdrawing from the UN, but will continue to voice its concerns over, what the Canadian government deems, its questionable actions.

In this instance, however, the concerns of the Canadian government are questionable, at best, and downright dismissive and irresponsible, at worst.

Canada’s record on preventing and punishing torture and ill-treatment should not go unquestioned. We must take our commitment against torture seriously, if others are to do the same.
