T: everything changing dramatically as we speak

Going to get rid of last vestiges of ankle biters! To be a special meditation about it:

Reading: Current situation re: ankle biter grid

[SEE BELOW]

- Benedict is a member of Committee of 300 and part of ankle biter group
The ankle biters are elohim who went to the dark side: fallen angels
- Peter Hans Clovenback was last one as Black Pope
 - in 1997, KOS had long interview with Pope John Paul; after this, Black Pope was taken out
- Benedict XIV acted as the Black Pope but behind the scenes
 - He ordered 9/11 via Cardinal Egan; Joe Biden as sitting chair of Senate Foreign Relations

Committee took the call; he ordered George Tenet, head of CIA, to do his part

- Anklebiter Cheney, 50 stories below the WH, gave the order to start; Rice and Bush Sr as witnesses
 - Larry, Curly and Mo were also witnesses; they are part of the Sovereign Militia Force
- Lucifer has become Lucifera; Jehovah as his shadow side has been shut down
 - Jehovah is shadow side of Alcyone - Mother and Alcyone created us in the 12th dimension in anti matter in Aurora Sun System, a 23 sun system where we spent eons - trillions and trillions of years in linear time - in perfect bliss
- The people who created the stories about Star Trek etc were visited to learn about our galactic family

Cynthia last Wed said that the eclipse on May 20 is the identical energy of Dec 21/12 - so we need to learn

Other ankle biters: ZibginewBrezinski ; Rick Scott gov of FL; Sanford police force will be neutered

- this has to do with the Bush Nazi crime family
- The physical Jesuit archons are still dangerous

R: As we approach Dec 21, 2012, an anomaly appears in centre of Milky Way Galaxy

- it has to do with the Nexus: Rama understands that there is a cosmic shock wave that goes across the Universe of Nebadon - it is hyper dimensional and is real - transformation of our DNA, evolution to next level

- As we contribute physically to this event, we anchor it: There are 947 people on the website and growing greatly in last 5-6 months, so people have been inviting others. If we can defray the cost of the radio station - and there is a backlog - that would help; now there are maybe 20- 30 at the core giving to keep things going.
 - $5 each this month & next month: would allow payment of the backlog + the current amount.
 - It's about supporting the energy of change

R: has heard that with the frequencies approaching the Venus transit: Teran & others said this is the energy of Quetzalcoatl and his Twin Flame: another of the 14 Kumaras coming from Venus.

- Merk and the Lady of the Sun - this brings in the ancient Lemurian masters who are also bringing the Atlantean masters THIS IS HUGE!
- Not about doom and gloom! That has all been cancelled

R: Truthdig.org - Robert Scheer - kind of a wild guy, hangs out with Ray McGovern

- Rama asked are there any high, major alerts going on right now?
- The best answer I can give is to say the biggest story is the distraction which has to do with the do-nothing Congress who want to make Obama a one-term president
 - as McConnell said - they are doing all they can to quash the energy; this creates an energy vibration that is not cool - if we send them love, it changes the game plan

R: asked about the 3 days of darkness: with the Venus transit might be some interesting interplays: the artifact in Iran that has sidereal capabilities might just be unearthed and it will change the conversation, as everything between US and Iran is stalled

T: The physical Jesuit ankle biters are still quite dangerous and the green light will not be given until they are separated from their resources.

- billions and billions of dollars being lost by all the banks right now!
- Drake said he would post more intel as it becomes available - T & R are the de-classifiers!

T: this meditation will be done on Cheryl's call - maybe both days.

- This will not only allow these ones to take their leave, but also has to do with Pentecost

R: Hebrew language is very old; brings in Solex Mal - the language of light which is the language understood across all the 7 super-universes!

- Rothschilds - supposed to have the riches of Solomon - yet do not have it any more
- Al Gore will tell the truth about what it's like to be undead - not fun!

R: asked KOS about this and the movie "V", KOS told him these beings feed on fear and blood - the higher the fear level, the better the meal.

- Now this fear is dissipating on the planet and they are scared ... less

Transcript

We broadcast from Chicago, site of the largest NATO summit in the organization's six-decade history. On Sunday, veterans of the Iraq and Afghanistan wars, as well as members of Afghans for Peace, led a peace march of thousands of people. Iraq Veterans Against the War held a ceremony where nearly 50 veterans discarded their war medals by hurling them down the street in the direction of the NATO summit. We hear the soldiers' voices as they return their medals one by one from the stage. "I'm here to return my Global War on Terror Service Medal in solidarity with the people of Iraq and the people of Afghanistan," said Jason Hurd, a former combat medic who spent 10 years in the U.S. Army. "I am deeply sorry for the destruction that we have caused in those countries and around the globe." [includes rush transcript]

Current Archons Situation Update

Although Reboot of the Grid was very successful, one significant part of the Archons grid on the etheric and astral planes is still intact.

It is a grid that keeps controlling and manipulating human personal relationships for millenia. This grid is the reason for most human conflicts. It is the main reason for delays in final victory of the Light on this planet. It consists of Archons and their minions on the etheric and astral planes in a thin layer close to Earth's surface.

The physical counterpart of this grid consists of people deep within the Jesuit network. I would suggest everyone stop focusing so much on Committee of 300 because the real control lies elsewhere. The physical Jesuit Archons are still quite dangerous and the green light for the Event will not be given until those people are cut away from their resources. The Resistance is dealing with the situation and I will post more intel about this when/if it will be declassified.

It is time now to keep dissolving the Archons grid on the etheric and astral planes with a unified meditation this Sunday May 27th. Please use the exact meditation from Reboot of the Grid so our consciousness stream gets unified.

Instructions:

1. Relax your mind and body by watching your breath for a few minutes.
2. Visualize a pillar of electric blue Light emanating from the Galactic Central Sun, going through your body to the center of the Earth. Keep this pillar of Light active for a few minutes. Then visualize all negative entities around the Earth being removed from etheric and astral planes along with all their negative spiritual technologies and magical tools and all those entities being escorted into the Light by the non-physical freedom fighters of the Light. Visualize this process taking place worldwide peacefully and smoothly. Visualize the world finally being free from spiritual slavery, free from all evil Archons, Reptilians, demons, elementals and other negative non-physical beings. Visualize the vibration of the etheric and astral planes getting lighter and brighter until all dark beings are gone and only Light remains.
3. Visualize bright new spiritual future for humanity, with angels, fairies, dolphins, unicorns, spiritual guides and other beings of Light inhabiting etheric and astral planes. Visualize all wounds of humanity being healed, all humanity being inspired and guided with everybody having their own connection with their own Soul and the Source.

2012, May 26 Paolo Gabriele Arrested: Pope Butler Had Secret Documents In Possession, Vatican Says

AP | By NICOLE WINFIELD Posted: 05/26/2012 7:41 am Updated: 05/26/2012 11:03 am

In this May 17, 2008 file photo, Pope Benedict XVI acknowledges faithful upon his arrival at the Our Lady of Mercy Shrine in Savona, near Genoa, Italy, Saturday, May 17, 2008.

The Vatican has confirmed Saturday, May 26, 2012, that the pope's butler Paolo Gabriele, at left holding the umbrella, was arrested in an embarrassing leaks scandal. Spokesman the Rev. Federico Lombardi said Paolo Gabriele was arrested in his home inside Vatican City with secret documents in his possession. (AP Photo/Luca

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican confirmed on Saturday that the pope's butler has been arrested in its embarrassing leaks scandal, adding a Hollywood twist to a sordid tale of power struggles, intrigue and corruption in the highest levels of Catholic Church governance.

Paolo Gabriele, a layman and member of the papal household, was arrested Wednesday after secret documents were found in his Vatican City apartment and was continuing to be held Saturday, Vatican spokesman the Rev. Federico Lombardi said in a statement.

Gabriele is often seen by Pope Benedict XVI's side in public, riding in the front seat of his open-air jeep during Wednesday general audiences or shielding the pontiff from the rain. He has been the pope's personal butler since 2006, one of the few members of the small papal household that also includes the pontiff's private secretaries and four consecrated women who care for the papal apartment.

His arrest followed another stunning development at the Vatican this week, the ouster of the president of the Vatican bank, Ettore Gotti Tedeschi, by his board. Sources close to the investigation said he, too, was found to have leaked documents, though the official reason for his ouster was that he simply failed to do his job.

The "Vatileaks" scandal has seriously embarrassed the Vatican at a time during which it is trying to show the world financial community that it has turned a page and shed its reputation as a scandal plagued tax haven. Vatican documents leaked to the press in recent months have undermined that effort, alleging corruption in Vatican finance as well as internal bickering over the Holy See's efforts to show more transparency in its financial operations. But perhaps most critically, the leaks have seemed aimed at one main goal: to discredit Pope Benedict XVI's No. 2, Cardinal Tarcisio Bertone, the Vatican secretary of state.

The scandal took on even greater weight last week with the publication of "His Holiness," a book which reproduced confidential letters and memos to and from Benedict and his personal secretary. The Vatican called the book "criminal" and vowed to take legal action against the author, publisher, and whoever leaked the documents.

The Vatican had already warned of legal action against the author, Italian journalist Gianluigi Nuzzi, after he broadcast letters in January from the former No. 2 Vatican administrator to the pope in which he begged not to be transferred for having exposed alleged corruption that cost the Holy See millions of euros in higher contract prices. The prelate, Monsignor Carlo Maria Vigano, is now the Vatican's U.S. Ambassador.

Nuzzi, author of "Vatican SpA," a 2009 volume laying out shady dealings of the Vatican bank based on leaked documents, said he was approached by sources inside the Vatican with the trove of new documents, most of them of fairly recent vintage and many of them painting Bertone in a negative light.

Bertone, 77, had no diplomatic experience when, after Benedict's election, he took over the high-profile job as the main administrator of the Vatican and its external relations. He had long been Benedict's loyal deputy as a canon lawyer at the Vatican's orthodoxy office.

But he has been blamed for a series of gaffes that have plagued Benedict's papacy and, according to the leaked documents, generated a not inconsiderable amount of ill will directed at him from other Vatican officials.

"For some time and in various parts of the church, criticism even by the faithful has been growing about the lack of coordination and confusion that reign at its center," Cardinal Paolo Sardi, the former No. 2 official in the Vatican secretariat of state, wrote to the pope in 2009, according to the letter reproduced in "His Holiness."

At a news conference this week, Nuzzi defended the publication of the book and said he wasn't afraid of Vatican retaliation. In fact, he even taunted Vatican prosecutors to seek help from Italian magistrates to investigate the case, charging that it would be a remarkable turnaround, given that the Vatican has been less than helpful in the past when Italian prosecutors came asking for information for their investigations.

He praised his sources — and said there were several — in his acknowledgements, writing: "They risked their jobs, loves, lives to entrust their big and little secrets."

Nuzzi had no comment Saturday about the arrest.

Lombardi said Saturday the arrest of Gabriele was a sad development for all Vatican staff. "Everyone knows him in the Vatican, and there's certainly surprise and pain, and great affection for his beloved family," Lombardi said. Lombardi said Gabriele had met with his two lawyers and that the Vatican judicial system was taking its investigative course. He hasn't been indicted.

The Vatican has taken the leaks very seriously, with Benedict appointing a commission of cardinals to investigate. Vatican gendarmes as well as prosecutors are also investigating the sources of the leaks.

2012, May 24 Vatican Bank chief Tedeschi dismissed

BBC News, 24 May 2012, at <http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/world-18200083>

Mr Tedeschi is under investigation for suspected money-laundering

The director of the Vatican Bank, Ettore Gotti Tedeschi, has been removed from his post for dereliction of duty, the Vatican says.

The bank's board of directors unanimously passed a no-confidence vote in Mr Tedeschi, a statement said.

It said he had failed "to carry out duties of primary importance", but it did not elaborate.

In 2010 Italian police launched an investigation against Mr Tedeschi as part of a money-laundering inquiry.

Members of the board believed Mr Tedeschi's dismissal was needed to "maintain the vitality of the bank", the Vatican statement said.

The board will now look for a new director to restore relations with the international financial community, "based on mutual respect for accepted international banking standards".

Mr Tedeschi declined to comment on his dismissal. He told journalists: "I'd rather say nothing, otherwise I'd say ugly things."

The Vatican Bank, known officially as the Institute for Religious Works (IOR), was created during World War II to administer accounts held by religious orders, cardinals, bishops and priests.

It lost £250m in a scandal involving the collapse of one of Italy's biggest private banks – the Banco Ambrosiano – in 1982, with which it had close ties.

'Misunderstanding: 'The Vatican Bank has been headed by Mr Tedeschi, 62, a trained economist, since 2009.

When Mr Tedeschi was placed under investigation in 2010, the Vatican said it was "perplexed and astonished", and expressed full confidence in Mr Tedeschi. It said the matter was the result of a misunderstanding, and that none of its employees were involved in any wrongdoing.

As part of the inquiry, Italian tax police seized 23m euros ($29m, £18.4m) that the Vatican Bank had tried to transfer from a small Italian bank called Credito Artigianato. A month later, the Vatican set up a new financial authority to combat money laundering and make its financial operations more transparent, ahead of an EU deadline.

012, May 24 US cuts Pakistan's aid in protest at jail for doctor who helped find Bin Laden

- Chris McGreal in Washington guardian.co.uk, Thursday 24 May 2012 21.56 BST

Afridi, who was convicted by a tribal court in northwest Pakistan, is being held in Peshawar, where he is said to be 'weak and depressed'. Photograph: Qazi Rauf/PA

A US senate committee has voted to cut Pakistan's aid by $1m for each of the 33 years of a prison sentence given to a doctor for helping the CIA to track down Osama bin Laden.

The appropriations committee unanimously approved the $33m reduction as outrage grows in Washington over the conviction of Shakil Afridi for treason. The physician ran a fake vaccination programme in an attempt to collect Bin Laden's DNA in order to verify he was living in the Abbottabad compound where he was eventually killed a year ago.

The aid cut will not be immediately implemented as it comes out of next year's budget, but it will increase the pressure on the Pakistan government as Washington seeks to have Afridi's conviction quashed or his sentence substantially reduced.

The appropriations committee debate reflected the frustration at what many in Washington see as Pakistan's duplicity that has bubbled away for many years over the links between its intelligence service and the Taliban, and was accentuated when it was revealed that Bin Laden was living untouched in a garrison town.

"We need Pakistan. Pakistan needs us," said Senator Lindsey Graham, who helped write the legislation cutting aid. "But we don't need a Pakistan that is just double dealing."

Senator Dianne Feinstein voiced a repeatedly-heard sentiment on Capitol Hill since Afridi's conviction that it was outrageous to convict him of treason when he was helping not harming Pakistan by contributing to Bin Laden's demise.

"It was not a crime against Pakistan," she said. "It was an effort to locate and help bring to justice the world's No 1 terrorist."

Congressman Dana Rohrabacher demanded stronger action from the Obama administration. "Secretary Clinton will have to do more than voice protests over the Afridi case. Both the departments of state and defence need to take punitive actions against Pakistan.

"Carrots are not enough when dealing with an adversary. Sticks are needed to prove we are serious," he said.

Congressman Pete King, chairman of the House homeland security committee, has also blamed the Obama administration saying that it put Afridi "out there" by leaking details of his role in the raid to the media.

Administration officials say that information about the fake vaccination scheme, which was first reported in the Guardian, clearly came from the Pakistani authorities.

However, after Afridi's role was made public, US officials openly acknowledged it including the defence secretary, Leon Panetta – who was CIA director when Bin Laden was killed– who described the doctor as having been "very helpful" in gathering intelligence on the al-Qaida leader.

The Senate appropriations committee has already slashed foreign aid to Pakistan from the $2bn proposed by Barack Obama to just $800m from October 1, in part because of across-the-board budget cuts, but also because of frustration with Pakistan. The additional $33m reduction will come from military aid. But it is likely to be restored if Afridi is released. The US has given Pakistan more than $18bn in aid since the 9/11 attacks.

Pakistan has pushed back, saying that the US should respect its courts. A foreign office spokesman, Moazzam Ahmad Khan, said that the case would be decided not by pressure from Washington but in accordance with the country's laws. "We need to respect each other's legal process," he said.

There is evidence that Afridi may not have realised he was being used to hunt Bin Laden. A retired Pakistani army brigadier, Shaukat Qadir, who obtained access to intelligence reports about Afridi's interrogation said that he may not have known he was helping track down Bin Laden.

"Shakil [Afridi] had no idea of whom or what he was looking for. He was merely paid to follow instructions," Qadir wrote in a report. It is not clear if Afridi knew he was working for the CIA. Qadir's report may explain why Afridi did not immediately leave Pakistan after Bin Laden was killed.

Afridi, who was convicted by a tribal court in northwest Pakistan, is being held at the Central Prison in Peshawar where he is said by Pakistani officials to be "weak and depressed".

2012, May 25 Suicide bombers kills 1 policeman, wounds 17 outside police station in central Turkey

▀ By The Associated Press | The Canadian Press

ANKARA, Turkey - A car bomb driven by a pair of suspected suicide attackers exploded outside a police station in central Turkey, killing one policeman and wounding 17 people, the interior minister said. The two people in the car also were killed.

The car sped through a paramilitary checkpoint, and the bomb later detonated outside the police station in the town of Pinarbasi, in the province of Kayseri, said Idris Naim Sahin, the interior minister.

Sahin earlier said two police officers were killed in the attack but later said doctors were able to save one of them. He said seven of the 17 wounded were in serious condition.

The vehicle was first spotted at the paramilitary checkpoint in the neighbouring province of Kahramanmaras, some 90 kilometres (56 miles) away, when it ignored calls to stop and hit a sergeant as it escaped, the state-run Anadolu Agency said.

Sahin hinted that Kurdish rebels, who are fighting for autonomy in southeast Turkey, might have been behind the attack.

"The crazy attacks of the terrorist organization are continuing," he said, in an apparent reference to the Kurdistan Workers' Party, or PKK.

Private NTV television and the Dogan news agency said a policeman standing guard outside the police station opened fire at the assailants. The bomb went off soon afterward.

Separately, suspected Kurdish rebels kidnapped 10 villagers in a raid on the village of Bayirli near the southeastern town of Tunceli on Tuesday night, the governor's office in the province of Diyarbakir said Friday. The motive of the kidnapping was unclear.

The PKK has carried out several bombings, including suicide attacks, throughout Turkey in the past. The conflict involving the Kurdish rebels has killed tens of thousands of people since 1984.

25 May 2012 Bankia shares suspended amid bailout request reports

Bankia history

Formed in December 2010 from merger of seven troubled banks

Most toxic assets moved into holding company BFA

Listed on the Madrid stock exchange in July 2011

Chairman Rodrigo Rato resigned earlier in the month before Bankia was part-nationalised

Trading in shares in Spain's Bankia has been suspended in Madrid.

It asked for them to be suspended ahead of a board meeting this afternoon to reformulate its accounts for 2011 and submit a plan to shore up its finances.

The bank has now formally requested the government for a bailout of 19bn euros ($24bn; £15bn).

Also on Friday, there were appeals for help from another Spanish institution: its wealthiest autonomous region, Catalonia.

"We don't care how they do it, but we need to make payments at the end of the month," said Catalan president Artur Mas.

"Your economy can't recover if you can't pay your bills."

Catalonia represents one-fifth of the Spanish economy. It has to take out 13bn euros of loans this year to refinance maturing debt, not to mention funding whatever deficit it has for the current year.

The regions have been having trouble borrowing money commercially, so the central government has given them a special credit facility from the Official Credit Institute (ICO).

Those credit lines run out in June and the government has said it will come up with a new mechanism to provide credit for the regions, but there has been some nervousness amid reports that there is disagreement within the government about what form the guarantees should take.

Part-nationalised bank

Bankia, which is Spain's fourth-largest bank, was part-nationalised two weeks ago because of its problems with bad property debt.

Continue reading the main story

Analysis: Tom Burrige BBC News, Madrid

One economist told me that suspending trading in Bankia's shares today "makes sense", given the uncertainty about the bank's position and doubts about how much public money will be lent to the bank to allow it to clean up its bad loans.

Lending money to the bank via a government restructuring fund would be more palatable to the Spanish taxpayer as the government would hope to get the money back in the future.

However, recovering all of the money used to bail out Bankia would be hard given the extent of the bad loans that it has accumulated.

But Spain's economy minister has been at pains to point out that Bankia is a special case and the rest of the Spanish banking system is in better health.

As part of the process, the government injected 4.5bn euros into the bank.

Economics professor Pedro Schwartz said Spain's bank reorganisation fund, Frob, only has 6bn euros left, so the government will have to find the additional money to support Bankia elsewhere.

"It won't try to find that money by issuing more bonds - because the bonds are very expensive."

"The feeling of the market here is that it might have to be a rescue from the European Union. That is casting a shadow over the whole financial sector in Spain at the least agreeable moment," said Prof Schwarz from University of San Pablo-CEU in Madrid.

On Friday, the yield on Spanish government bonds, which are taken as an indicator of how much it would cost the state to borrow money, rose to 6.3% having started the day below 6%.

Potential losses

Spain's economy minister Luis de Guindos said on Wednesday that the government would pump at least 9bn euros into Bankia but that more would be available if it was needed.

Shares in Bankia's parent company Banco Financiero y de Ahorros (BFA) have also been suspended.

Bankia had to reassure its savers last week that their money was safe after a Spanish newspaper reported a run on the bank.

Bankia was created in 2010 from the merger of seven struggling regional savings banks. It holds 32bn euros in distressed property assets.

Its shares fell 7.4% on Thursday to close at 1.57 euros, which is 58% down from their listing price in July 2011.

'Huge exposure'

Prof Santiago Carbo Valverde, University of Granada: "Bankia had huge exposure to bad loans"

There have been four attempts by Spanish governments to shore up the banking system since the global banking crisis of 2008.

As part of the latest plan, lenders are having to make 30bn euros of extra provisions to cover potential losses on property loans, which comes on top of 54bn euros they were ordered to set aside in February.

The health of Spain's banking system is key to whether the country eventually needs to seek a bailout itself from the eurozone and the International Monetary Fund.

But Professor Santiago Carbo Valverde of the University of Granada, told the BBC that he thinks Spain's other large banks are not in as difficult a situation as Bankia.

"Bankia has huge exposure to real estate and bad loans, much larger than other banks. "Other banks may have trouble as the government is demanding more capital, but I don't think we will have another big case like Bankia.

"The three largest ones are in better shape as they have lower exposure to bad loans and they are more internationally diversified."

Spain's credit rating was downgraded by Standard & Poor's last month on the basis that it would probably have to take on more debt to support its banks.

2012, May 25 Chapter 4 THE FORTUNES OF CIVILIZATION (The Neptune-Pluto Cycle)

Far beyond the Sun's light, the two most distant planets of our solar system make their way slowly and serenely through the eerie, silent expanses of space. Within the vast panorama of planetary cycles, theirs is the one rhythm that underlies all the others. It is the base note of the cosmic symphony, and the drumbeat of all civilization. With it we can chart the fortunes of Humanity.

This is the rhythm of mystical, mysterious Neptune, and dark, potent Pluto. Every 493 years they line up in conjunction. When they do, a new surge of cosmic energy is released to renew and transform the peoples of Earth. Old empires dissolve and ancient institutions crumble. Almost overnight art, science and religion take radically different directions, and people change their whole outlook on life. The world's political structure is revamped too. A New Age of civilization has begun which lasts until the next conjunction some 493+ years later.

Although the first effects of the Neptune-Pluto conjunction are felt immediately, the new tone echoes across the landscape for decades afterward. A troubled "time of transition" begins that continues for 100 years or more. But then the magic moment arrives. It has never failed to happen; about 100 years or more after the conjunction the pieces fall into place, and Humanity celebrates a magnificent sunrise. Creative energy bursts forth, as the Earth blooms with spectacular spiritual worlds made visible. The phoenix has risen from the ashes; we have passed through the valley of death and reached the mountain top of new life. A great renaissance of the human spirit has begun.

Before reading on in this chapter, think for a moment. When have periods like this happened in history? You might even want to write down a list of these times of transformation. Verify for yourself if they correspond to the dates when Neptune and Pluto came together in conjunction, which are mentioned below.

Considering the shape of the world today, it should come as no surprise that we have recently been living through such a time of transition. The world wars in the first half of the 20th Century shook up a system that had lasted a thousand years. Every reigning empire was struck down during a nightmare of horror which has no precedent in human history. Technology has threatened to end all life on the planet. But the unsettled seas from this explosion have lasted for decades now. The most remarkable fact to consider is this: the period of transition is over. It is time for the dawn which follows the darkness, because the last conjunction of Neptune and Pluto happened over 100 years ago; in 1892. These planets have been sending us an unmistakable message: "a change is happening!" We must realize that we are in a new age-- and act accordingly. A vast new cycle of civilization has begun that will last until the next Neptune-Pluto conjunction in 2385.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE 1890s

The 1890s are an historical laboratory in which we can watch the yeasty forces of dissolution and transformation brewing and bubbling away. The people living in that remarkable decade witnessed the deepest and most pervasive change since ancient times; it was as if one world had begun and another had passed away. This was the first Neptune-Pluto conjunction since either planet had been known, so it was more significant than ever. You can feel the process of metamorphosis emanating even today from the 1890s; its upheavals still sweep through every corner of society and deep into our own personal lives.

Just picture how drastically different our world is from the horse and buggy era of the 19th Century. More inventions than at any time in history before or since radically transformed our planet in the 1890s. It was then, for example, that the world was set on wheels. And not only did we take to the air in the new airplanes, but thanks to Marconi's invention in 1895 we can now send our thoughts through the air on radio waves too. With the movie camera (1891), the modern newspaper, and later on television, we arrived in our mass media world.

The qualities of Neptune and Pluto pervaded all of society in the 1890s. Europe, for example, was caught up in the mood of "hypersensitivity and decadence." Others reveled in the imaginative clouds of the mind in an atmosphere resembling the drug culture of the 1960s. Artists, always the first to mirror changes in civilization, reached a watershed moment in the 1890s, as Cezanne, Gauguin, Van Gogh and others broke from the 500-year old Renaissance traditions of realism. Soon the wildest forms and visions imaginable were appearing on their canvases. Old classic forms tumbled too in the music of Debussy and Ravel and the spontaneous expressions of jazz and ragtime. Meanwhile forests of skyscrapers spread from their breeding ground in Chicago in the 1890s, and soon they towered into the skies over every city. Other cultural earthquakes transformed the world of the mind. Issac Newton's view of reality had stood for over 200 years until Einstein and the quantum theorists overturned it. Psychological "certainties" were destroyed too when Sigmund Freud opened up the subconscious in the 1890s and invented psychology as we know it. Thinkers like Bergson and Nietzsche simultaneously shattered our unquestioned faith in science and religion. The search for the "new paradigm" began.

But the most noticeable world changes are usually political, and here too the events of the 1890s were crucial. The Populist movement in America began in 1892 and ultimately led to the triumph of bureaucracy in the New Deal. Russia started on the road to revolution. And in Germany Kaiser Wilhelm II came to the throne in 1888 and soon afterward geared up his new war machine for action. An arms race ensued that led directly to the Holocaust from 1914 to 1945 which almost wiped Europe off the map. Probably no event in history did more to change the world than the First World War. What a list of imperial victims: the German, Austrian, Russian and Turkish Empires all fell. Then the Second World War destroyed the colonial empires, and the "second" and "third" worlds emerged. The United States and the Soviet Union gained world dominance for a while, but their imperialistic careers also ended later on in Vietnam and Afghanistan. In 1893 the war between China and Japan set these two Oriental nations on the road to become great powers, the first of many in the Third World to challenge The West.

From 1914 dates the crisis of modern times. The Great War was a form of mass suicide. The World Wars discredited the ideals of the past, and afterwards Oswald Spengler pronounced "the decline of the West." Since then we have found many other methods of destroying ourselves. Before the rude awakening in 1914, however, the world was on its way to new life. We must never forget that fact; a wonderful renaissance, begun in the 1890s, was growing before the Great Wars snuffed it out. And it continues still beneath the rubble of today's broken world. The Neptune-Pluto conjunction gives us the most basic insight into our times; an old world has died, and a new one is being born. And surely it is accelerating as we cross into the New Millennium.

PRECEDENTS FOR A RENAISSANCE

The conjunction between Neptune and Pluto in 1892 is therefore indeed a hopeful sign. But is one example enough to convince us that we live at a time of rebirth? If the fortunes of civilization really march in tune with Neptune and Pluto, then every such conjunction in the past should have coincided with similar radically-transforming moments and times of transition like the 1890s. And every time we should have emerged into a vibrant new renaissance.

From the 493-plus year Neptune-Pluto rhythm we can draw the following pattern of dates stretching back from 1892: 1399, 905, 411, 83 B.C., 577 B.C. When we investigate these dates, we see the course of our own history repeating itself and providing hopeful precedents for our own renaissance of today. For example, the Italian (and European) Renaissance started in Florence precisely during the conjunction of 1399-1400. Beginning with Ghiberti's design for the cathedral doors there in 1400, artists like Donatello and Masaccio created a new style that emphasized our place in the world. Meanwhile prophecies of doom spread across a land still recuperating from the devastating Black Plague. The Church was in the midst of a turbulent Great Schism out of which the Reformation developed. Simultaneously the rulers of all the major states of Europe and Asia began a struggle for power and national unity. In 1399 Henry Bolingbroke usurped the English throne, eventually provoking the Wars of the Roses that brought the powerful Tudor Dynasty of Henry VIII and Elizabeth I to power. In 1400 Tamarlane marched across Asia, and 50 years later his Turkish hordes captured Byzantium and founded the Turkish Empire. The Tsars of Russia arose and took over the mantle of fallen Byzantium. Meanwhile in the early 15th Century Portuguese sailors were making the first of those voyages of exploration that would soon make Europeans the masters of the Earth. Indeed Chinese navigators were venturing out at exactly the same time, but were stopped by their new Ming rulers; thereby leaving their insular and backward country open to eventual Western conquest. The Aztecs rose to power in Mexico around the time of the conjunction of 1400, only to be conquered themselves a century later by the Spanish under Cortez.

One hundred years after the start of all this struggle and strife, Europe had literally entered a New World. Columbus' voyage of discovery opened fantastic opportunities. The famous Renaissance that had begun 100 years earlier now lifted the West out of the Middle Ages. Michaelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael and Durer created Humanity's greatest works of art. The Reformation gave new life to Christianity. The Renaissance quickly spread to France under Francis I, to Spain in the "Age of Gold," and climaxed in England under Elizabeth I. Meanwhile Ming China created fantastic painting, pottery and wooden sculpture. And in India a great rebirth came in the mid-16th Century, almost simultaneously with the one in Europe, as the new Mogul rulers brought peace and unity and sponsored a temple architecture later made famous by the Taj Mahal. Even the Turks had their golden age under Suleiman the Magnificent (1520-1566).

The Renaissance came right on schedule. Is the time ripe now for us to open up "new worlds" too? If it happened once, it can happen again. In fact, it has happened again many times, just at the appointed hour.

If we go back another 493-plus years to 905 we come to the turbulent age in which the Catholic Medieval civilization was born. At that time the invading Vikings, Saracens and Magyars were spreading fire and destruction across Europe. But right during the conjunction new institutions were created to roll back the barbarian tide. In 911 Henry the Fowler founded the dynasty that built the Holy Roman Empire. In 910 the Cluniac reform movement began in the Catholic Church, spearheading a revival of learning and devotion. Soon the churches were organized into a powerful coalition that became the greatest power in Europe. Around 900 Alfred the Great and his son founded England. Soon afterward the royal dynasties of France were founded; as were those of Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Russia. After centuries of turmoil the Byzantine Empire also began a "second great flowering" around 900. Elsewhere, the once powerful, prosperous Tang Dynasty collapsed in China in 907, bringing a highly artistic culture to an end there; half a world away the great Mayan civilization of Guatemala died at about the same time.

But once again a great rebirth was under way a hundred years later, just when the masses of faithful feared "the end of the world;" as many do today. With the support of their new political institutions, Tenth Century artists created the Medieval Christian styles of art and sculpture; by 1000 A.D. the Ottonian Renaissance flourished. The Romanesque style which spread from the Abbey of Cluny culminated in the great cathedrals. The once-dreaded Norse invaders were now becoming Europe's new rulers, and one of their number even beat Columbus to America by 500 years! In China too the Sung dynasty arose to replace the Tang, and by the 11th Century its subtle landscape painting, its inventions (the compass, block printing, etc.) and its spiritual culture made the Sung period China's greatest golden age ever. Meanwhile a new Mayan Empire arose in 1027 in central Mexico. And after centuries of chaos, the Tamils of Southern India produced some of their greatest sculpture and architecture at the very same moment. A great renaissance of faith in East and West had dawned. Once again, the world had destroyed and renewed itself.

Back another 493 years we come to a date we all recognize as the Fall of Rome. In 410 A.D. (just one year before the exact Neptune-Pluto conjunction of 411), Alaric the Visigoth conquered the city. This huge catastrophe brought the great age of antiquity to an end and ushered in the Dark Ages. Government and cities collapsed and knowledge was forgotten. Immediately St. Augustine wrote The City of God (413), which advised Humanity to build its empires in heaven now that the eternal city had crumbled on Earth. It became the basis of all Christian theology. Artists too became otherworldly, turning away from classical styles and pursuing abstract ones instead. Almost simultaneously the powerful Tsin Dynasty collapsed in China, and a similar religious revival ensued. A great empire arose in Ghana in Africa.

But although in 410 most people thought civilization had ended forever, this didn't prevent a glorious new one from blossoming out of its eastern remains at Byzantium! Under Justinian around 520, some of the world's most beautiful religious architecture and mosaic paintings were created at Ravenna (San Vitale) and Constantinople (Sancta Sophia). Byzantine art, law and culture inspired and dominated Europe for a thousand years, protected it from invaders and helped transmit ancient culture to the modern world. Meanwhile Theodoric, Clovis and others set up new barbarian kingdoms around 500 A.D. in The West and promoted Christianity. And in 522 St. Benedict created European monasticism, a new way of life dedicated to spiritual, inward devotion. At the same time Hinduism revived in India and Buddhism was brought to Japan. And in America the great Mayan cities of Guatemala were rising even as the eternal city of Rome fell; their golden age began around 500. So even in the so-called "darkest hour of civilization," the pattern held magnificently and the world bloomed with a renaissance.

Another cycle back brings us to the rise of the Empire which fell in 411 A.D. The dictator Sulla ended the faltering Roman Republic precisely at the stroke of the new cycle in 84-83 B.C. In the next few decades Julius Caesar, Pompey and Crassus carried out the famous bloody conquests which made Rome the world's greatest empire, one which laid the basis for all future Western civilization. It is no accident that historians have more information by far about the 60 turbulent years following the Neptune-Pluto conjunction of 83 B.C. than about any other period before modern times. It was a very crucial turning point!

But it ended with the victory of Augustus, whose rule ushered in the Pax Romana. It was the longest period of world peace so far in history. The new Roman Empire became the closest thing to a universal state that has ever existed, and it extended the benefits of law and culture to all its citizens. Rome celebrated its golden age about 60 to 120 years after the conjunction. Even its name, the "Augustan Age," has come to stand for any classic or golden age in a nation's history. The renewal was made visible in sculpture in the Acra Pacis (Altar of Peace) in 8 B.C., and flowered in the literature of Virgil, Horace, Ovid, Livy and Seneca; among the most distinguished poets in the Western tradition. This golden rebirth was vividly celebrated and impressed upon the people in a huge ceremony, the "Ludi Saeculares" or "Saeculum." Apparently the Roman citizens had inside information about the then still-invisible planetary cycle, for in their own occult tradition a saeculum is a 100 to 110-year period in which the entire human race is renewed; the same period described by the cycle of civilization! And how except by occult means can you explain the fact that even as the forums and aqueducts were being built during Rome's golden age, the pyramids of the Sun and the Moon were being erected during the Mayans' first golden age at Teotihuacan at the same time-- half a world away in Mexico? Or that simultaneously the new Funan empire was rising in Indochina?

But while the Caesars and other emperors were celebrating their glory, a different sort of "kingdom" was being proclaimed. Almost exactly 100 years after the conjunction of Neptune and Pluto, Jesus of Nazareth inaugurated the religion that would later take over the Empire. Christianity was only the most successful of the many religions and cults that arose at this time to meet a spiritual hunger that would grow throughout the Roman Empire's 500-year reign. The same impulse stirred in the Orient too, where the famous devotional tract The Bhagavad-Gita was begun at about the time of the conjunction. A new sect of Buddhism also developed (The Mahayana) which stressed personal salvation and faith much the way Christianity did in the West.

THE AXIS AGE AND THE TRIPLE CONJUNCTION

Tracing back one more cycle we come to the greatest turning point of all. What happened during the years following the Neptune and Pluto conjunction of 577 B.C. has reverberated through the centuries. For this conjunction was an extra-special cosmic event. Around 575 it was joined by Uranus, symbol of enlightenment, making a spectacular triple conjunction of Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. It was an extraordinary union of all three planets of the transcendental trinity; the first and only such alignment in the history of civilization. It was also the closest of its kind in tens of thousands of years.

Many of the momentous developments that followed this grandest planetary event in history are quite famous. But they emerged out of a turbulent time of transition, just like the other golden ages did. In the 580s and 570s the Greek city-state of Athens was a mere agricultural community ravaged by peasant revolt. Rome was under the heel of cruel Etruscan kings. And the Jews had been hauled off into exile by King Nebuchadnezzar, whose revived Babylonian Empire had run rough-shod over the older states of ancient Mesopotamia. In India the decaying Hindu culture was controlled by a corrupt Brahmin ruling class.

But already at the time of the great conjunction the brilliant sages were appearing who blazed the trails of wisdom which Humanity would follow forever after. At the exact moment when the three transcendental planets were lining up in the 570s B.C., the "7 wise men" could be found in ancient Greece. One of them, Thales, opened the great tradition of Western thought by proposing a single underlying principle of the world. An even greater advance was made soon afterward by Pythagoras, who was born during the triple conjunction. He sought that "first principle" in the miraculous power of numbers and proportions and discovered that they were related to musical harmony. He not only founded a religion whose beliefs inspired great minds throughout the ages, but virtually created Western mathematics. Another of the 7 wise men, Solon, promulgated the laws of the Athens around 580, thereby giving his name to legislators everywhere for all time.

But the great awakening wasn't limited to Greece. It was a worldwide phenomenon; the greatest age of enlightenment in human history, in which most of the world's religions and philosophies were either founded or transformed. Historians call it "the Axis Age," because so many of the world's greatest thinkers and teachers were all alive at the same time. It was the great "hinge of history," when changes happened in human thought and society whose results are still with us. In India, for example, the final and most mystical parts of the Upanishads were being written; the basis of Vedantic Hinduism. Their formula of Atman = Brahman became the fundamental principle of Eastern thought. A few decades later Siddhartha Gautama, born to a Hindu king in 563 B.C., found enlightenment under the Bo Tree and set in motion the Buddhist "wheel of truth" that is still transforming the lives of people all across the world. At the same time Mahavira began the Indian religion of Jainism, which teaches the sacredness of all life. Confucius and Lao Tzu simultaneously laid down the great religious and moral traditions of China.

Further west the Persian religion of Zoroastrianism consecrated the "battle of good vs. evil" that has haunted Western culture ever since. In 550 B.C. the Persian Empire arose to become the home of the new religion. When they conquered New Babylon the Jews were able to return home too. They brought back to Israel the Holy Book, for the first time in writing, on which most of the major Western religions are based. Thenceforth the Bible kept the Jews united through over two millennia of wanderings and exile. Its authors, such as the prophets Isaiah and Ezekiel, were influenced by Persian and Mesopotamian ideas while in exile there; and now they proclaimed for the first time that theirs was the One God of all peoples. Even further west the Celtic peoples of Northern Europe entered the period of their greatest independent power and creativity, when many of the myths were created which inspired later gothic tales.

Once again we see the world coming to life in a renaissance about one hundred years or more after the conjunction of Neptune and Pluto. But this golden age was especially golden. Almost exactly 100 years after the conjunction, in 490 to 479 B.C., Athens led the dramatic defense of Greece against the mighty Persian invaders. Buoyed by their great victory, the confident Athenians brought forth their genius in art, architecture, drama and politics over the next 50 years. No golden age in history has ever been so widely celebrated as the first democracy under Pericles, when the Parthenon was built and the writers Sophocles and Aeschylus and the sculptor Phidias worked. It was then too that Socrates began asking the questions out of which the whole Western search for knowledge and truth emerged. Another seminal republican experiment began simultaneously in Rome. And the holy city of Benares in the time of Buddha became the center of culture and spirituality in India during its golden age.

Five conjunctions of Neptune and Pluto; five brilliant golden ages. Each time we saw the old world pass away and a new one bloom in its place. Even before the Axis Age, the fortunes of civilization in Egypt, Crete, the Near East and China rose and fell according to the 500 year pattern, as you can see from the chart below. Clearly we have every right to expect that we, heirs of the latest conjunction in 1892, can make it through today's time of transition (however belatedly) to a Sixth Renaissance and golden age in our time!

Reviewing the pattern then; we have the conjunctions, which correspond to crucial turning points in the times of transition:

- 1892----- Modern art, atomic physics, fall of European empires, etc.
- 1399----- Early Renaissance, Great Schism, first explorers, Turk invasions, Aztecs, etc.
- 905----- Cluniac reforms, early European dynasties, Fall of Tang Dynasty, Fall of Mayans, Viking and Magyar invasions, etc.
- 411 A.D.--- Fall of Rome, fall of Ts'in, barbarian invasions, Mayan cities, Ghana.
- 83 B.C.---- Sulla, Roman civil wars/conquests, Baghavad-Gita, etc.
- 577 B.C.--- Axis Age of enlightenment, Neo Babylonia, Celtic expansion, etc.
- 1071 B.C.-- Fall of New Kingdom in Egypt, Dorian invasions, Israel and Judea founded, fall of Shang and rise of Chou dynasty in China, etc.
- 1565 B.C.-- New Kingdom of Egypt founded, civilizations of Mycenae and Minoan Crete began, Shang Dynasty, Aryan invasions in India, Olmecs.
- 2058 B.C.-- Middle Kingdom of Egypt founded, Fall of Ur to Semitic invasions (probably after 2000 B.C.), Old Palace Crete, Chinese Hsia Dynasty.
- 2552 B.C.-- Old Kingdom of Egypt founded, Great Pyramids built, Ur & Akkad founded.
- 3045 B.C.-- Narmer founded Egypt, Sumerian cities, Indus Valley civilization.

One hundred years later came the Golden Age or Renaissance:

- 2000----- New Age Renaissance, global and green awakening.
- 1500----- Discovery of New World; High Renaissance of Michaelangelo, Da Vinci, Durer, etc.; Moguls, Suleiman, Ming China, etc.
- 1000----- Ottonian and Byzantine Renaissance, Sung China, Tamil India, etc.
- 520 A.D.--- Byzantine golden age, Mayan golden age, Hindu revival, Benedictine Order, Theodoric, etc.
- 10 A.D.---- Roman golden age, Sun pyramid, Mahayana Buddhism, Christ, etc.
- 470 B.C.--- Greek golden age, Greek and Roman Republics, Persian Empire, Buddhism, Benares, Chinese classic age, etc.
- 970 B.C.-- Israeli golden age (David and Solomon), Assyria, Korea, etc.
- 1470 B.C.-- Crete golden age (Minos), Egyptian golden age of Thutmose III, etc.
- 1960 B.C.-- Babylon, Rock tombs of Egypt built, etc.
- 2460 B.C.-- Ur golden age, Great Pyramid paintings.
- 2950 B.C.-- Sumerian golden age.

EMBRACING TODAY'S GOLDEN AGE

The only conclusion we can draw from all this evidence is that, however strange it may seem, we live in a new golden age. Can we lightly dismiss a pattern which has held for 5000 years? Clearly the potential is here. If we are not living up to it, it is only because we don't yet understand the pattern.

Most people still don't believe a golden age is possible today. In fact, the most prevalent opinion (among those who care at all) is that a new dark age is looming. Clearly there is much ground for gloom, what with today's high crime rate, political gridlock and untold threats to the environment. Yet as the above history shows, huge challenges like ours today have called forth greatness in the past. As William McNeill pointed out, "Golden Ages of the past have always been times of vast and fundamental confusion... our age belongs in the high company of those times when people found themselves forced into far-ranging, fundamental creativity." So if ours is a time of dangers, it's also a time of opportunities. Despite President Bush's perversion of the term, we truly have entered a "new world order." As democracy breaks out around the world, we can divert our resources away from constant military confrontation if we choose to.

We live at the end of a time of transition unleashed by World Wars and industrialism. Left standing above the junk and rubble are the shallow and empty remains of a culture which, however powerful it seems, has long since spiritually died. Barbarians have always come in these transition times; this time they arose inside the gates. Even we Americans are still largely barbarian, and will remain so as long as we think money is "the bottom line" and what's beautiful is what sells. And yet we have so much going for us too. We today are the first generations in history able to know and understand all the world's cultures, past and present. More of us, whatever our race or gender, are free to unfold our talents. It's unthinkable that the Neptune-Pluto cycle could fail to bring a golden age at a time when Humanity is actually aware of these planets for the first time. Don't ever let it be said that we are "too poor" or "too busy" to create a renaissance. Other peoples in history have done greater things than we, despite fewer resources and much less comfort than we have. All we need is to remember what time it is, and to put an end to business as usual. The greatest goal of life is to have and share visionary experiences. Now is the best time ever to do it.

A new golden age is dawning somewhere; that seems inevitable. Rebirth follows death as surely as the 21st Century follows the 20th. The only question then is whether you and your society will participate. The moving fact for those of us in the United States is this: every great nation and civilization has had its golden age; we have not yet had ours. We have so far in our history produced only a few brilliant writers, along with fantastic weapons of war and enormous mountains of garbage. Will Americans be remembered a thousand years from now for their wise and inspired contribution, or only for their coke bottles, technical gimmicks and toxic pollution? All nations today, indeed we as a dawning world culture, must ask what our place in history will be. Europe has yet another chance for revival, while the nations of the Far East are poised on the edge of a new prosperity that may enable them unfold their full potential.

The golden age has already begun, but the opportunity it presents may soon pass us by. So look now and decide what contribution you can make. Are you an artist, musician, poet, philosopher, or patron and promoter of the arts? Above all, are you a dreamer? No great civilization was ever built out of cynical skepticism. A new vision or "paradigm" is unfolding today, based on the knowledge that we are one united Humanity composed of Individuals who have the universal, divine, creative spirit within us. Let's dream now of what's possible in this new global, holistic culture; and then make it happen. Open your heart to the vibrant, pulsing, playful energies of our dawning renaissance and New Earth Awakening. The facts are clear: if we don't dedicate our lives now to fulfilling our place on the great cycle of civilization, we will be cheating ourselves of our destiny.

PHASES OF THE CYCLE: the key to our civilization's future

When Neptune and Pluto join together in conjunction, they begin a cycle that lasts for 493 years. It is like a "New Moon" of civilization. And just like the Moon does, Neptune goes through "phases" in its cyclic relationship to Pluto. As these phases come and go, civilization develops, reaches full flower and then decays. Therefore we know that our New Age which began in 1892 will also follow these phases. Since, in the past, civilization has followed them in a quite astounding way, they should give us a good idea of what is to come over the next 400 years.

Each of these phases is indicated by aspects which Neptune makes to Pluto during the 493-year cycle. Thus the conjunction is only the beginning; it is the originating impulse that sets the cycle going. Afterward there are seven other main phases. The first three are "waxing," when Neptune is "increasing in light" and civilization is building its creative power. The last three are "waning," when Neptune is "decreasing in light," during which civilization is either declining, becoming fixed in its ways, and/or releasing "seeds" or new ideas that will only bloom in the next cycle. In between is the opposition, which is civilization's "Full Moon;" its climax and full flowering. The details of the events corresponding to these phases throughout history are shown in the appendix.

Following the conjunction, the first phase is the waxing sextile, when Neptune has moved 2 signs ahead of Pluto. It is like a Crescent Moon phase. These are the creative golden age or renaissance periods when the new civilization overcomes obstacles to its further growth and clearly expresses itself for the first time in serene and classic forms. The Golden Age of Greece, the Augustan Age of Rome, the High Renaissance of Da Vinci and Columbus, and the Turn of the New Millennium in our own age, are examples of the waxing sextile phase.

By the time of the waxing square phase, Neptune has moved 3 signs ahead of Pluto. This is like a First Quarter Moon. It is a time of crisis which tests the foundations of the New Civilization, such as when the Peloponnesian War ended the Golden Age of Greece, and when the Wars of Religion poured cold water on the spirit of the Renaissance. We can expect this phase of crisis to arrive again in about 2065-70 AD. Environmental destruction, ethnic clashes or epidemics could endanger our new Millennial civilization then. We will have to meet and defeat the "ghosts" of the industrial age, such as corporate power and greed and excessive demands for individual "freedom."

The next phase is the waxing trine, which is like a Gibbous Moon. This is the time when civilization is confidently expanding and moving toward its climax, as when Trajan and Hadrian brought the Roman Empire to its greatest power in its brilliant "silver age," or when the First Crusade in 1095 mobilized the Christian Medieval world. The dynamic cathedral art and sculpture of this "Romanesque" era around 1100 AD is often compared to the Baroque style 500 years later. The next waxing trine is scheduled for about 2090. We can expect our new science and art to move ahead confidently, leaving the "old paradigm" forever behind. Earth-centered spiritual ideals will increasingly predominate over the older ideas of "progress." We will move rapidly toward a fully high-tech Aquarian Age culture integrated with the cosmos. But we could also see a rising "crusading mentality" in the following years that may cause a too-aggressive attitude.

When Neptune opposes Pluto across the heavens, it is like a Full Moon of civilization, which now attains its greatest power and expression. During the opposition a culture's ideals are most clearly and scientifically defined. Afterward, however, civilization may start to split apart or rot from within, or else encumber and rigidify itself with too many rules and structures. For example, at the time of the opposition of 323 BC Alexander the Great spread Greek civilization over much of the ancient world. But that year he died and his empire crumbled, and Greek culture began to decline in the "Hellenistic" Age. Similarly, in the mid-17th Century Louis XIV the French "Sun-king" brought classical European Renaissance culture to its height, but then it began to rigidify into the "Ancient Regime" that later collapsed in war and revolution. Greek scientists like Euclid, Roman ones like Ptolemy, and the modern scientific revolution of Descartes and Newton that separated Matter from Spirit, all belong to this Full Moon/opposition phase; so do many of the world's greatest temples. The next opposition is due in 2140. We can expect our high-tech, spiritual and Earth-centered Aquarian Age culture to reach full flower and a new architecture to refashion our cities, but some of our new world-wide institutions may expand too far and attain too much power. These global structures may start to become rigid after 2140, and today's "new paradigm" may become too well-defined and formalized in the following years.

During the waning trine, the beliefs and ideas of the new civilization are disseminated, distributed and institutionalized. The dissemination of Buddhism through Ashoka's empire in India, the establishment of Christianity by Constantine, and the spread of "rational" Enlightenment ideas by the 18th Century "Enlightened Despots" illustrate this phase. This is usually a happy, light or decadent period, so we can expect the 23rd Century during the next waning trine to be relaxed and peaceful but complacent. We can expect that missionaries from other planets, or the "powers that be" on Earth, will be actively sponsoring and disseminating liberating spiritual-green New Age ideas and lifestyles to the people. Global religious institutions may appear.

The period leading up to and during the waning square is a dramatic, powerful, final climax of the cycle. It is like a Last Quarter Moon, and represents the "last glory" of civilization. Usually a powerful leader, such as Ashurbanipal, Constantine, Charlemagne or Napoleon; creates a great empire; but it seldom lasts for long. Hopes of a New World (as in the French Revolution) soon fade, yet the seeds of new ideas are planted that will bloom in the civilization of the future. This turbulent, emotional period will arrive again in about 2300 AD. Powerful seers will then help us glimpse the coming "Age of Light," due to arrive after the next conjunction of Neptune and Pluto in 2385. However, the illumination of these prophets will not yet be bright enough or free enough from the traces of our Earth-bound, corporate, technological society. We will at this time only dimly see this coming New Age of Light-- an era when we will truly be able to transform ourselves into Light Beings and embark for the far galaxies and the etheric dimensions. By then we will no longer be held back by our unfinished business on Earth, or by our slow, rational, scientific, technical 20th/21st Century methods. The strong leaders of 2300 will try to prepare us for this bright future, but the hopes they promise for us will fall short of realization.

Instead, if the pattern holds, a period of dissolution or disintegration will ensue. This is the waning sextile, equivalent to a Balsamic or "dark moon" phase. Typically it is marked by peasant or worker revolts and by barbarian invasions, such as those of the Huns and Vikings. But it's also sometimes a highly inventive period when new economic arrangements are developed. Thus when the next waning sextile arrives around 2340 we know something of what to expect: much revolt, discontent and migration; perhaps a plague, ice-age, famine, atomic and/or ecological catastrophe or two; plus new methods of keeping track of value that could replace the monetary system and allow us to trade with other galaxies and dimensions. We can expect today's "new paradigms" (the fundamental beliefs and world views now emerging) to start to unravel in a time of great skepticism, controversy and perhaps even fanaticism. If we are ever invaded by a race from another planet, this could be the moment; we can expect such "barbarian aliens" to be held at bay until then. Or it may be the time when the barriers between our Earth civilization and those of other planets and planes begin falling at an unprecedented rate.

This World Belongs To Everybody

■ A message from Kryon channeled by David Brown

Wednesday, 25 April, 2012 at San Jose, Costa Rica (posted 15 May, 2012)

Greetings dear ones, for I AM Kryon of Magnetic Service.

Once again, it is wonderful to be with all of you this night, this very night. There's much love and much change coming into this world, and there is a global awakening of consciousness beginning to happen. Most people are beginning to recognize that there are things in their lives that are not working. The love is not flowing, and it's not you as individuals that are the problem, it is the system with which you live on this earth that it is the problem.

There are three specific levels of consciousness. The one is the shape of the pentagon, and this is the lowest level of consciousness, this is the consciousness of the military, and the matrix of the system, this is a plain simple 3D consciousness, it is one of survival, it is a consciousness of man against man, a consciousness without love, a consciousness where a few men want to rule and control the world, and to put the rest in some kind of jail cell, and the few are feeding off the many, and this whole system is going to break down very shortly, slowly but surely it will break down, it will become more honest, and more open, and more free.

The next level of consciousness are those people who have decided to improve their lives, and when you take this decision, then your energy field around your body begins to transform and transmute into the shape of the dodecahedron, when you've taken this decision you will receive your master guides, and you will be guided through the dark night of the soul on a journey into wholeness and completion; and once you are whole and complete, the energy field around will change to the shape of the flower of life, and the flower of life contains the secrets of all of creation; and the whole planet is gently shifting through these different levels of consciousness now, into this new level of consciousness, rich and poor alike, it is the same for everyone. There are many of you who read these channellings, that have been doing the inner work, and moving through, into new levels of consciousness.

The inner world is exactly like the outer world, and if you imagine yourself on the inside, and you image that you are like a DVD and a DVD player and a projector; whatever it is written on this DVD you project it out into the world. One of the big secrets of this work is that all of it can be written on this DVD, all the dynamics of the family and your family constellation. So whatever family you are born into, then what you are looking for is to bring this family into harmony. A disharmonious family constellation would be written on the DVD, or a dysfunctional family constellation; it is for you to do your inner work to bring this family constellation into order, and into harmony, loving each other and caring for each other. Your family constellation is a direct reflection of your solar system, and when you look at the stars and the planets and the sun, you will see them in perfect harmony, and perfect order, and you are looking at the divine, a divine consciousness, of a family in harmony, and that is what you need to do to allow the energy of the divine to flow through you, to bring your family into peace and harmony, just like the solar system.

They say that there are many many ways to the divine, but this is not true, this is simply not true, there are a few specific ways to move into harmony, and the first and foremost rule is to heal what is masculine first; and your father's family is what is meant to be most masculine. So first of all it is for you to heal your father and his family, this is not demeaning to women, for in your father's family there are many women, and they also need healing, but due to the fact that men are supposed to be in a masculine role, the masculine must be healed first, the most masculine of the men in your father's family would be your father's father's father; and your father's father's father is the most spiritually connected part of yourself, and so as you focus your energy on this man, and he begins to become whole and complete, then you will become more and more connected to the Universe, and in turn you will receive Universal guidance; and until this happens, it has to be difficult for you to trust your guidance, but the more whole and complete your great grandfather is, the more clear your guidance from the Universe will be; and this is what's happening now dear ones; everybody's great grandfather and the father's family are becoming more whole and complete, and everybody is beginning to receive much clearer and clearer guidance, and this is one of the main areas where you have to place your awareness, your consciousness, and your healing energies, and remember this man is likely to be born at the end of the eighteen hundreds. He could have lived and fought in the First World War, and men in those days weren't much respected or cared for by the governments and so they suffered greatly. And this man is King in your psyche, and this is what is meant partly by the Fisher King Wound. The Fisher King Wound is partly the wounded masculine. Christ came to this earth around the age of Pisces. Christ means King in Greek, and the fish is the symbol of Christ, so where this man in your family constellation is wounded, then you will find it very difficult to connect to the universe and receive clear guidance. Once you have this man in order then your guidance will become much clearer, and you won't have many problems in taking decisions.

Another aspect of the Fisher King Wound is that we are led to believe that we have the freedom of choice to believe in whatever religion we choose, but the religions in the West that had any real potency have been demolished and have been broken and as a result you have had half a religion, half a story and a world full of half-truths, and consciousness being drip-fed. So as you hear this of your great grandfather, you will become much clearer, and you will have much clarity on your healing journey, as you walk into these new levels of consciousness.

There are one hundred and forty four thousand people coming to very close now to wholeness and completion of Christ consciousness, and those people will be like pebbles in a still pond and then they will be vibrating Christ consciousness, and the awakening Christ consciousness of all peoples of the world. This is Evolution of the Human Spirit, there will be no revolution on this planet, revolution just means to go around and around, from one bunch of despots to the next bunch. And so evolution is beginning to happen, people around the world are beginning to lighten up, in more ways than one, and the love is beginning to flow, there will become a polar shift from negative energies to positive energies, negative energies are your anger, your sadness, your hatred, your revenge; positive energies are your joy, your passion, and your love.

And so on the 21st of December of 2012, one hundred and forty four thousand people will go through a polar shift, and they will be there to teach everybody else how to make the shift. The governments will not be happy, but then again, they never were; their joy and their happiness came through suppressing the masses and pretending to lead them into a better world while keeping them exactly where they were, and this is open to change.

Two thousand years ago, Christ consciousness became available, and the Great Roman Empire suppressed this consciousness, this consciousness has been suppressed now for two thousand years, and now we move to the Age of Aquarius; and there are new levels of consciousness beyond Christ consciousness available. This time nobody will be in power to stop these new levels of consciousness happen. This is the return to the consciousness of the loving God; you will maintain your physical bodies for as long as you choose. Humanity will have many decisions to take, but the ones who'll be taking those decisions, will be taking those decisions out of love. What is happening now is the evolution of the human consciousness. There is no power on this earth that is powerful enough to stop this consciousness from coming; no amount of violence will stop this consciousness flowing. People who use violence against others will find themselves in deep trouble with the Gods, but of course their consciousness is also changing, but karma is karma and the price and the penalty will be paid.

You have to remember that everybody is responsible for their own lives, but children are only fully responsible for their own lives at the age of twenty one from a spiritual perception; any young man joining the military will be voided of that karma, but their fathers and grandfathers will carry the karma for these men. There is no reason for violence on this earth, every problem can be solved without violence; and the cost of violence in relation to karma, your karma will be doubled. And any leader of any nations invoking violence on this earth will pay the ultimate price.

The new world is based in love, there is an evolution here of human consciousness; a consciousness where love will prevail. There are many gifts coming to humanity as you allow the consciousness of the planet to lift up higher and higher. Much understanding will come to humanity, and understanding is like a candle in the darkness; once you understand, then you know it. You are beings of light, vibration, and energy, and you are returning to the light. The days of darkness are over, or at least they are coming to an end; this world is changing, one human being at a time.

We are here to honour and to salute those healers that have walked this path and that are coming close to wholeness. We say to them keep going and continue this journey, we know that you can't give up it's as if you are addicted to your journey; for one hundred and forty four thousand of you your journey is coming to an end and you are here to radiate love and consciousness, and to bring peace and love to this earth; to bring honesty, integrity and fairness to all systems.

This world belongs to everybody, not just a few. Loving and conscious men and women will begin to take their power in this world and take loving and conscious decisions. The financial system is about to collapse, it will never be the same again. Money will never be the same again, and there is only one currency of any value on this planet, and it is the same one currency for men and women of every race, creed, and colour; and that is the currency of love. The more love you send out into the Universe, the more you will receive. When you feel in love and beautiful, no matter how much or how little money you have in your pocket, you will feel beautiful. Love is the prize. When you arrive in the moment, or in the now, you will always be in the now when you are whole and complete and one; your abundance will flow, the sun will shine on your life, and that is what is beginning to happen; your vibrations are rising, the vibration of the planet is rising, the vibration of most of humanity is rising and you are all going to fall in love.

This is a world of love, a world where you will know no fear, and you will know no shame, your heart will expand, and be fully connected to the Universe. So just allow yourselves feel your hearts, just allow your hearts to expand and connect to the Universe, and allow your upper heart chakra to expand also, allowing for the support of the Universe to take you through this next level of consciousness, evolving into men and women of the New Age.

The New World is almost upon us, you have all done a wonderful job and we urge you to continue doing this loving work.

Go well and God bless, for this is Kryon sign out. Thank you all.

Standing Waves of the Crystal -Vortex

Archangel Metatron via James Tyberonn

Greetings All ! I am Metatron, Lord of Light, and I greet you this moment in Unconditional Love !

Dear Ones, that you term the Ascension can be defined as the transition to Crystalline dimensional expansion.

Masters, 2012 is just the beginning, for the crystalline energy is amazingly robust and effusively dynamic. This benevolent energy is indeed a force of omnipotent ubiquity that has not been seen on the planet in many millennia. It is a powerful combination of telluric, hyper-dimensional and cosmic forces that are capable of shaking the earth and opening dimensions. It is also capable of up shifting your frequency. All of these are in fact occurring, and exponentially so, as there are dynamics of crysto-magnetic physics at play that are beyond your current scientific comprehension.

The final completions of the Crystal Vortex of Arkansas are extremely important to the Crystalline Transition of the Earth. And the crystalline transition is tantamount to the 2012 Ascension. On the 12-12-12 the Crystallization of the planet will complete.

Sacred Contacts

That is one of several reasons why so many of you will be drawn to Arkansas for the final Triple Date Portal gathering, the 12-12-12. For those of the Atlantean Law of One, the completion is part of a sacred oath that the Crystalline Energy will one day return...and never again be allowed to fall into the wrong hands. Presence in the Crystal Vortex for many is a soul contract, and many of the Law of One will feel & answer that call. We will also tell you that several of the featured speakers at the 12-12-12 including John Van Auken, Graham Hancock, Dr Semir Osmanagich, Tyberonn and John Jenkins were highly esteemed senior members of the Atlantean scientist priest, the Atla-Ra of the Law of One.

All of their presence will add an immediately recognizable energy of sacred 'reunion', and that will be sensed and felt among all of the Atlanteans of the spiritual Law of One. And indeed several of these will be meeting for the first time, and will share the cognition very deeply. All who gather will feel a sense of exuberance, the magical knowing that what was promised millennia ago, will finally occur...the re-emergence of the Crystalline Energy.

Arkansas Was an Atlantean Colony

Just as the Magnetic Master, Kryon channeled a decade ago, evidence of Atlantis is indeed in Arkansas. Arkansas, because of its crystal deposits was logically and absolutely an Atlantean colony. Crystals were seeded, programmed and coded. There remains in the vast chasms below the surface of Arkansas, ancient structures of the Atlantean era. Some of which remain inhabited by the 'blue-skinned' race.

Although the incredible crystals beneath the lands of Arkansas have been dormant for over 14,000 years, we tell you that they are awakening...and within the next 3 to 4 decades, Arkansas will be globally recognized for its unusual and brilliant crystalline energy. Many Master souls of the Atla-Ra and indeed Masters of the Sirian-

Pleiadean Alliance will purposefully choose to reincarnate in the Crystal Vortex, and in fact have begun doing so now.

These are the Crystal Children, and Arkansas and Brazil are drawing them in the thousands. They will innately understand the importance of these two regions, and will thrive within, and play leading roles in the appropriate utilization of these potent energies of the Arkansas and Brazilian Crystal Vortexes. By the 23rd century, magnificent Crystalline Temples will have been built around the Crysto-Sun Disc of Pinnacle Mountain, and the Temple Crystal locations of Mount Maga, Wilhelmina and Eureka Springs. And while 3 centuries may seem a long time to you, it is present and will manifest within a flash from your nonlinear aspect.

So accordingly the activity of the Crystal Vortex is surging.

This will increase throughout 2012 and continue through 2038.

Arkansas is emerging as one of the most important and powerful vortexial portals on the planet. It is the northern hemisphere source of the Crystalline field. Arkansas is not only the largest singular deposit of natural quartz crystal in the world; indeed it contains a unique quality of crystals, coded to awaken at this time, coded with the energy of the 'Law of One'. In 2012 and forward the crystals will begin emitting a frequency that benevolently interacts with the Human Aura in creating an enhanced gateway of multidimensionality within Mer-Ka-Na.

Sound Fields- Crystalline Standing Wave

Long ago the ancient Mystery Schools of Atlantis contained a section of the Atla-Ra that programmed crystals with light & sound frequencies. The Crystals emitted a hertzian vibration field that were extremely beneficial. These were used for balancing the human field, enhancing health, healing dis-ease, and for awoken into higher dimension. Some were also able to and open an inter-dimensional channel to other 'worlds' and especially to the Divine Self.

In 2012, the Master Poseidon Temple Crystals are initiating a pulsed hertzian field that is capable of living 'form'. This tangible energy interacts by induction with the human aura, and produces something of an altered state. The benevolent effect is akin to deep chanting, but understand that the waves produced are conscious, living, through the crystalline 'conscious spirit' of sound and light. The living energy is similar to that of an elemental field, but of higher resonance. It is more accurately defined as the consciousness of crystalline color and sound. It is projected from the 'living' crystals, you see....an aspect emanation of the crystals themselves.

It is indeed the eventual recognition of this field that will motivate the construction of the Crystal Temples. The effect is myriad and prolific, and will powerfully influence the inner self, the higher emotions, higher harmonics of humanity within its energy reach. It is occurring now, and will progress from the 12-12-12 over the next seven years, forming a standing wave.

This energy is Atlantean Atla-Ra technology and still exists in some of your ancient Temples in Egypt, Peru, Central America, Java, Cambodia and in Newgrange in Ireland. All of your ancient Pyramids built to Phi, contained in their original construct such standing waves within specific and relatively narrow hertz bands.

The Crystal Bowl Effect

In a very real sense, the triangulated within oval vortex of the Arkansas crystalline field, will become what you term, a crystal bowl. Within the bowl will be similar, somewhat fixed hertzian wave-range, yet varying pitches or notes. The differing 'keys' determined by the indigenous mineralogical energies. For example the area of Magnet Cove, will have a differing tonal resonance that that of Crater of Diamonds, or the Radium Waters.

The same will occur in 2012 around the Crystals of Sound and Regeneration in Brazil, in Bahia and Minas Gerais, respectively.

The crystalline standing wave will in time axially join Arkansas to Brazil, and then envelope, bathe the planet. The effect will be the lessening of the 'arc-swing' of duality, by bridging right & left the hemispheres of the brain. The standing wave, when combined with meditation, moves through the prefrontal cortex of the brain, stimulates the pineal, and takes one into higher consciousness.

There have always been certain places on the planet that became recognized as sacred. Stone Circles, Temples, Pyramids and Cathedrals were placed in these areas by the ancients. In the last two decades, your academics have been involved in studying ancient monuments, and have credible evidence that certain ancient monumental structures around the Earth have several common features. One of the most compelling is around standing waves. We tell you many of the structures were planned architecturally and designed acoustically to enable specific sound waves and frequencies that effect your energy field. These can indeed stimulate the pineal in humans of sufficient light-quotient and thus enhance multi-dimensional experience. We tell you that it is not simply the structures; indeed the structures are dependent to a large degree on the vector of placement and the mineralogy of the site. In fact, identical structures built in differing location will have different tonal frequencies, if the geological matrix, latitudinal placement and mineralogy differ significantly.

The 144 Grid Completes on 12-12-12

In 2012, on the 12-12-12, the Crystalline Grid completes. The 12 dimensional fields join, with the dimensions 5-12 in crystalline format. As such all crystals on the planet amplify and harmonize.

Those of you that work with Phi Crystals will be able to sense a great and greater leap within their energy resonance. Utilization of the Phi Crystal into thought amplification will remarkably increase.

The quartz deposits in Arkansas begin in the area of Little Rock and extend in a massive western curve for over 170 miles, with a width of 35-40 miles.

Arkansas also contains unique combinations of magnetic minerals, radium charged aquifers and a diamond deposit, which work synergistically with the quartz. Because of this blend of energies, the Crystal Vortex of Arkansas is the most powerful in terms of the potency and utility of its vortexial-portal field. This is why the Atlanteans were especially attracted to the area, and why the Sirian-Pleiadean Alliance still retain underground bases in the area. It is rapidly completing, and is on path to soon become the Trigger of the Ascension.

Crystal Caves

Masters, beneath the surface of the central region of Arkansas rest enormous beds of exquisite crystals the size and beauty of which are visually stunning. Some of these quartz points are over 40 meters in length, seeded by the early Atlanteans. There are crystal caves beneath Arkansas that are esthetically mesmerizing exuding symmetry and inner light that is sublime. These 'Master Crystals' are beyond the reach of your mining concerns, and that is purposed. These crystal entities are very ancient and have been in a dormant mode for millennia. They were programmed with specialized attributes by the Sirians & Atlanteans, and are now in joyous modes of re-activation. These awakenings are releasing efficacious dynamics and energies that spawn unusual phenomena as they reboot, none of which will be malevolent, quite the contrary. Indeed they are a gift of immaculate proportion and intricate value.

An Omnipotent & Benevolent Power Source

Dear Ones, we again tell you that Crystalline Energy is an omnipotent power source that has implications far beyond humanities current understanding. Crystalline structure is formed by an essence of frequencial light resonance that is multidimensional and coherent, existing in matter and antimatter. It is the Metatronic divine template that sources all creation manifestation, and forms the very matrixial composition of every plane of existence. It is the enzyme of reality transduction and the vitality spring of the Divine Thought that forms the Cosmos itself.

Crystals are great receivers and transmitters and a strong communication network occurs between Master Crystals and indeed Crystal Vortex-Portals. The two most powerful Crystal Vortexes on the planet are indeed Arkansas and Brazil. As such the connection of the Arkansas vortexial portal to the Brazil vortexial portal is extremely important in the Ascension and global crystal network.

Two Master Temple Crystals are located in Brazil, in Bahia and Minas Gerais. The former is Atlantean seed, the latter LeMurian seed crystal. The energies of both are maintained and reactivated in Brazil and connected to the 'Law of One' Crystals in Arkansas. Keep in mind that while LeMuria is acknowledged as a civilization of great spirituality, there were thousands of years in which Atlantis harbored far greater frequency and enhanced levels of spiritual mastery that greatly exceeded that of LeMuria. Atlantis fractured into a polarized society before its demise, but many of the most important crystals were protected, uncontaminated and stored before they fell into misuse and destruction. The greater of these are stored in Arkansas and Brazil.

The Platinum Crystal & the Golden Sun-Disc

The intricate rebooting of the Crystal Vortex is nearing consummate integration, but will not be fully completed, fully networked in a global aspect until the 12-12-12.

On the 11-11-11 the Platinum Crystal was activated, it set forth an enormous cristo-wave pulse that intertwined with the energies of the Blue Crystal of Knowledge and the Emerald Crystal of Healing...both located by design in the Arkansas Crystal fields, by the Atlanteans of the Law of One. These energies will then trigger into Global span, on the 12-12-12 the Crysto-Golden Sun Disc located beneath sacred Pinnacle Mountain near Little Rock.

The Sun Disc activation is a significant event that will be felt across the Earth and Indeed the Cosmos. The Crysto Golden Sun Disc was put in place by the Sirians in alignment with 11 other locations across the planet. It originally weaved the energies of the areas of the Arkansas Crystal Vortex, the crystalline, the magnetic and the radioactive living waters. In addition to the Sun-Disc, there were Pyramidal Structures used to refine the energies of the vortex.

The complexes of the Toltec Pyramidal Mounds (near Little Rock, Arkansas) were the last constructs of these and still remain visible today. The end result was a complex energy generator stream capable of myriad benevolent function.

The capabilities varied from energy feeds to the Atlantean hyper tunnel system, the Crystalline Satellite (Second Moon of Atlantis) as well as feeding refined energies to the crystal poser system that powered Atlantis. The vortex was essentially de-energized in its true function after the demise of Atlantis.

It has in the past decade been prepared for its activation, or rather re-activation. The sacred codes for the reprogramming are within the Akashic Field, the Crystalline Paradigm, within the sacred conscious library of MAX, the 13th Crystal Skull of the Pleiadean-Sirian Alliance. MAX will indeed be in the Crystal Vortex for the final re-programming on the 12-12-12.

Spiritual Emergence in Crysto-Magnetics

The new emerging Crystal Vortex of Arkansas will be far more powerful and serve a different function than it did in the Atlantean era. This is because the Atlanteans placed the aforementioned three Temple-Crystals in Arkansas before the tsunamis inundated Poseida. The purpose and potency of these Temple-Crystals have created resonance that is far more 'spiritual' in aspect and effect. The addition of these three to the huge natural crystals will add their succinctly specialized conscious programming's of knowledge, wisdom, healing and multidimensional awareness. And while their sheer natural attributes are quite capable of shaking the grounds and bending the space- time continuum far more powerfully than the famed Fire Crystal beneath the Sargasso Sea in the area of Bimini, their regulation into refinement via the Sun Disc and Pyramidal controls will insure that they are kept in optimal benevolent purpose and balance.

It is the magnetics of this location in Arkansas, in fact, that has held these crystal energies in balance. That is why the Atla-Ra specifically selected this area in Arkansas for their storage, and seeding. You have no idea of the energy these are capable of generating. You see it is the use of magnetic energies along with etheric light, light above and below the visible spectrum, light you refer to as ultra violet & gamma that is used to both subdue and amplify crystals. An etheric gateway has existed over this area for the past 20,000 years, and a gateway of high frequency light is able to be focused into this area. This capability is sharpening.

Tunnels & Electrum Gold

A vast network of hyper dimensional tunnels networks the areas below central and NW Arkansas. These lead to enormous chasms and crystal caves. Some of these are still in dynamic utility. The ability to detect these tunnels & chasms will not be within your scientific capabilities for many more decades. And that is because they exist in what may be termed intra-space within a frequency of parallel hyper-dimensionality. Yet those humans of sufficient light quotient indeed can sense them, and indeed their energies do intermingle with and code the natural beds of quartz in Arkansas.

But there is still more to the energy. A very rare form of the noble metal gold is present at deeper levels within the beds of quartz crystals below Arkansas. It is a form of unique, crystalline electrum. Much of this rare form of gold electrum was mined and exported from your earth. The deposits in Arkansas were not. These have been purposely guarded and protected in order to serve a great and greater purpose in the unique properties of the Crystal Vortex. Your geologists are well aware that gold often occurs in crystallized quartz, but have not as yet explored the unique fields, uses and energy that octahedral crystalline gold electrum provides.

The Great Atlantean Temple Crystals placed below the lands of Arkansas are actually an alloy conglomerate of quartz, silver and gold. These were manifested through Arcturian technology. The frequency of crystalline electrum gold is capable of combining with specific types of high frequency quartz to enable the 'bending & molding' of dimensional fields through an electro-alchemical process that transforms atomic structure.

Dimensional access tunnels were often created in this methodology by the Atlanteans to create wormholes or dimensional tunnels within the Earth's mantle that could be accessed at a higher frequency.

Many of these hyper dimensional tunnels were laid into place along the flows of existing ley lines of natural telluric currents that flow on the Earth. Tectonic shifts have damaged many, but not all of these. Some of these were simply deactivated. There are higher dimensional beings, from the Sirian-Pleiadean Alliance and the benevolent Ashtar Command Legion that have been given the task of protecting, repairing & recoding many of these currents, dimensional tunnels and crystals over the past three decades. Some of you such as the channel, work with them, and is why you are heavily drawn to be in this energy

Ley lines and great crystals were de-energized at periods when the people of Earth went into the periods of consciousness decline, in the sad wake of Atlantis. This was done without damage to the crystals. The reactivation process of portals, crystals and hyper dimensional matrixes has been taking place since 1987, and will continue over the next year through 2012, when it will be completed.

The Law of One

Your very atomic structures are composed of perfectly aligned geometries, crystalline geometries, knitted into place with the thread of electro-magnetics. Electricity and magnetics are components of light. Your spectrum of visible light is but a candle in comparison to the magnificent geometric light of the higher spectrum. The crystalline aspect of Arkansas is not limited to the quartz. The energy of Arkansas is on higher dimension that of a multidimensional octahedron that has formed itself to the levels of the ninth through the twelfth dimensional fields. The energy is transformed from the hexagonal of quartz to the octahedron of gold quartz and diamond. Diamonds project both an octahedral and dodecahedral geometry, and the kimberlitic volcanic pipes in Arkansas that yield the energy of diamond, transform the cube to the octahedron. The hexahedron cubic is enclosed in the octahedron. The quartz Crystals of Arkansas are imbedded with the energy and wisdom of what is referred to as the Atlantean Law of One.

The Master Crystals placed there have frequentially transferred this vibration to the quartz indigenous to the area, and as we have explained, the Masters Crystals contained a higher dimensional alloy of gold conglomerate that has been received energetically by some of the natural occurring beds. The crystals from the McEarl mine carry this unique harmonic. These are especially potent. All crystals are alive, in a real sense, and have an ordered consciousness, and self-awareness, but each carries unique and specific blueprint patterns. This pattern is greatly varied according to the geology and astrological energies of the vector. Therefore seemingly identical gems and crystals can be quite different in their energetic projections according to the location in which they occur.

Tri-Helix Vortex

The Arkansas vortex is quite unusual in its movement. Most vortexes in the northern hemisphere of your planet spin in either ovaline or circular counter-clockwise flows. The crystal vortex of Arkansas has a very unique, very specialized 'to and fro' vortexial motion. Moving approximately one-third of its circumference counterclockwise, and then rapidly reversing back in clockwise motion. This occurs in 3 separate arcs of 120 degrees. The forward and backward shift of this vortex is most unique, and is purposed in generating greater upward thrust of the crysto-magno-hydro energies. The energy of Arkansas has three succinct telluric forces that contribute to its tri-helixed field. These are the magnetic, centered in Talimena Ridge, Crystalline apexed in Mount Ida and the radium hydro- energy centered in Eureka Springs. These make up the 3 discreet arc- gyros, which are regulated and tri-helixed through the Pyramids below Toltec Mounds and coded in the Sun Disc below Pinnacle Mountain in Little Rock. The unique pattern of the vortex generates the energy into incredible thrusts with both a receiving and transmitting manifold.

The geology of the area is extremely unique, more so than even your geologists recognize, and is precisely why the Atlanteans colonized and developed the area. It is why there are underground bases of the Sirian-Pleiadean Alliance in the area. The area is a rare mineralogical collation of natural quartz crystals, diamonds and magnetic lode stone. Pyramids to coordinate the natural projections of these energies and intricately intertwine their energies have existed in Arkansas for over 25,000 years. Remnants of the last 'surface' pyramid still exist in Toltec Mounds (State Park) just south of Little Rock. The Sirian-Pleiadean Alliance have maintained an enormous sub terranean Pyramid below the Toltec Mounds since Atlantean times. It is among the reasons so many crafts are sensed over the Crystal Vortex. Three such bases are in the Arkansas area.

Last year, on the Triple-Date-Portal of the 11-11-11 the last of the three Atlantean Temple Crystals, the Platinum Crystal of Interdimensional Communication activated from its long dormancy and joined with the Emerald Crystal and Blue Crystal of Knowledge to finalize the combined components of the NEW ARK Crystal Vortex. The three Atlantean Wisdom & Healing Crystals that once beamed magnificent light and celestial energy in the Temple of Healing, the Temple of One and the Temple of Knowledge on Poseida were placed in dimensional lock in the Atlantean Crystal Fields of Arkansas. The first of these was awakened in 2008, the second in 2009. In 2012 these further activate and align with the awakened Temple Crystals held in Brazil, Mount Shasta, and Lake Titicaca.

The Platinum Crystal is a nurturing (feminine) energy of the Platinum Ray and facilitates balance between dimensions and energy sources. It provides an optimal communicative reception between what may be termed inter and intra consciousness planes. It also serves to form a cohesive interface between the duality planes and the integral planes. It lessens the arc of duality.

Final Transition Process

On the 12-12-12 the Crystal Vortex will be surged into Global function. This will be triggered by a Cosmic Force generated through the 144-Grid, initiating an activating pulse from the Emerald Crystal beneath Mount Maga in Arkansas. The Platinum Crystal will then instantaneously reboot into flow with the 3 telluric energies (radium waters, crystals & Magnetics) and the two other Master Temple Crystals, the Emerald Crystal of Healing and the Blue Crystal of Knowledge. This will immediately send a communicative wave pulse to the Golden Crysto-Sun Disc and a recoding will occur that will be fed to the Toltec Pyramid regulators. For the first time in 20,000 years, the vortex will be regionally complete.

Masters, truly all that remains in 2012 is the Globalization of the Crystal Network with the 12-12-12 activations of the Bimini Fire Crystal, and the Crystal of Thoth below Lake Titicaca. This will incur the final rebooting of the 144-Crystalline Grid and the 12 Golden Sun Discs. The trigger will be the 12-12-12, in the Crystal Vortex of Arkansas. ...the rebooting will finalize on the 12-21-12.

And we tell you without the 12-12-12 there would not be a 12-21-12.

Closing

The graduation of your planet, that termed the Ascension, is in effect the critical-mass that will allow for the conversion of this Earth's receival capacity template from, in your vernacular, analog to digital, from black & white to color. An incredible transformation is only a breath away, literally. The Crystalline Conversion thru the antennae of the 144-Crystalline Grid is about to vastly increase the earth's dimensional reception from 3d to 12d and beyond. It is akin to your television changing from the archaic antennae to satellite reception. It is the Crystalline Age, the wind beneath the wings of the Ascension. The fulcrum apexial points are the Cosmic Triggers and the Triple Date Portals.

But release the fear Dear Ones, this time of the Ascension, in this New Crystalline Era, the mega power crystals will not be taken from you and misused as occurred in the sad demise of Atlantis. Indeed they will never again be used for any purpose other than the highest good. Be assured of this! It is a sacred oath that will indeed be kept. For you are the family of the Law of One returning to keep this promise. It is why so many of you are drawn to the completion in the Crystal Vortex, for indeed many of you feeling the call were among the revered Scientist Priest of the Law of One, the Atla-Ra, that relocated the Temple Crystals .

While many of you have carried guilt for the loss of control of the crystals, it was indeed the deceptions of the Sons of Belial, the militaristic Aryans of Atlantis that schemed and took the controls from Poseida that led to the destructive forces and deluge. The guilt some of you carried for millennia, and yet carry today indeed is misaligned. It is time to release this. The clarion call is beckoning.

You of the 'Law of One' took an oath that the Master Crystals would never again be misused, that you would not allow them to fall into the wrong hands. Dear Ones, it is a promise kept. Their sacredness and benevolent purpose has manifested. You have waited a long, very long time for this completion. It is a contract nearing fulfillment, and you are to be commended. Indeed you made this happen! The Crystalline Transition, the heralded Ascension will occur. It is happening now!

I am Metatron, and I share with you these Truths. You are beloved!

And so it is
