R: this leads to Rubio, Chris Christie, Geitner also

- Adam's mother was killed by the 2 Black Ops who took all 3 guns; the bushmaster gun was never used in the killings; one of the agents had a double set of clothes and ordered Adam to dress up in the 2nd one & drive him to the school; the 2nd agent in car behind - this was a blood ritual sacrifice, as was Aurora
 - In the Movie: Dark Knight Rises - there was a map of Gotham with the names of Aurora and Sandy Hook on the map - they said what they were going to do!
- They walked into the front door, unriggered the emergency system which was brand new a month ago; this door is on the ley line that connects with Stonehenge - the south end is in Titalauchan and various cities in Neastern US - they can do the blood ritual and draw on that power
- It backfired, as the people were aware of the game which strengthened the resolve of the people to get rid of that secret gov't
- The LIBOR goes way back: McCain de regulated in 1999; also took bets on airlines as they knew they would do 9/11

Mother Sekhmet:

Greetings in the Light of the Most Radiant One. In the Office of the Christ and only in the Office of the Christ, we invoke the loving energies of St Germain and the violet Flame.

- We ask that the energies open up in our heart - that the love that we felt tonight from our guest, Frank, can continue to grow and
- Earlier this month, Dr S Greer told Rama on the Ed Show that our energy issues can be solved by our galactic brothers

Greetings, Children of Ra~

Indeed, it is the time you have asked for.

- Be assured you have been recruited for active duty! Consider yourselves on duty!
- There is much transpiring with the awakening on the planet concerning the clarion call "Now is the time for peace! Now is the time for Love!" in the wake of recent events.
 - She speaks for the children: now is the time we come with the one whose time it is. Blessed is this time, for the least among us is the greatest story here.
- This blue-green Garden of Eden, this water is such a precious gift in this galaxy; as we understand about this planet, take care of what you have before you: you are the stewards of the land, the ether - you have been given the keys of the kingdom: take up the gauntlet and heal this situation in this moment.
- We are addressing this moment, we are gathering around this virtual campfire - imagine another gathering on the other side of the galaxy who are watching from the parallel universe: we are simply all lining up with what is transpiring in this great alignment: it is only about love in this moment and the changing of not just one calendar -
- in the moment, nothing going anywhere: planet Earth is still here, you are still here - no extinction level events occurring; that time line has been erased, and only this one timeline is left - heal the feelings of what has occurred. You are in the cat bird seat, to transform this planet in the twinkling of an eye: use this moment for all of human kind this story is about the changing of the guard:
- Goddess has said now it is my turn! We come with the feather on the scale: it is as what has already been laid out - the ferry man will carry these ones across the River Styx - they have already met their fates

Cathy: instead of Happy New Years eve - it's Happy Galactic Centres Eve!!!

- thanks for the Jo Dunning events on the web site: she shared on a call this week that there is 8 minutes when we are on the galactic centre - that is the Sweet Spot; please speak about it.

Mo: the 8 minutes is about how everything is in perfect harmony with everything else. At the particle level, there are light years between the particles

- Focus on the particles within each cell within your body; as the particles accelerate and spin faster and faster; we are our own particle accelerators - every particle is such, and it goes on ad infinitum.
- This affects the outer called matter and anti matter; it is in unison with all of creation - for those 8 minutes, it is perfection, and how you carry that into the next moments is to be in this moment, NOW; as you can experience that orgasmic ecstatic energy, you can create it in this minute: there is the cohesion of the energy coming together, jelling -
- there is the end of nothing, but the beginning of infinity - get ready to experience 100,000 years of orgasmic ecstatic joy!

T: Frank was saying these beings were of thousands of years life span; in Atlantis, we were 10,000 years

Mo: as consciousness diminished, the age of the vehicle diminished too

- As we turn this living god into the the mighty I AM it is
- as we work with the Solfeggio tones, and work with those energies, those energies bring harmony to the present time & space where there is rejuvenation of the flora, fauna, the present matter, anti-matter in our reality -
- all of you are embarking on a journey and all we can say is "Welcome, Well Met! You are on duty: share only love, speak only love, as you work with the Satvic energies"
- As we move higher and higher in energies, we will only be eating satvic things - as we move through these moments, eating our 4 legged friends, our flying or swimming friends - we will lose our taste for them. It is happening already: on Venus, they only eat liquid light, liquid love.
- This grand alignment is only about the grace of the Goddess about the return of what we have all asked for: our own ascension which we have called to ourselves.
- It is not about getting a diploma, but shaking hands with ourselves and beginning to heal the ship we are on, as well as the body we live in. Think perfect thoughts, we will shift eons and eons of karma.

Cathy: what shall we call these bottom feeders? What happens with them?

Mo: as we are moving into perfect alignment with All That Is, ourselves, our beloved children who have put on Darth Vader's mask are having to face the lies they were told by that aspect of Alcione

- they will have to face their constituents and say sorry: have to raise the taxes on everyone!
- Yet know that we can fly: the energies in the moment are ripe for this. Love them as they leave, give them last rites.. this is the great moment: our children have said in these moments when they are acting out of integrity: their actions are an energy out of the time-space continuum which is evil:
 - it is contained within polarity - outside of that, it ceases to exist. This melts into a pile of orgasmic cosmic glue

T: what about the bottom feeders?

Mo: they have already cooked their goose after they left the house giggling when they defeated JB

Cathy: when the media starts behaving differently, we'll know things have started to change!

Mo: yes - the cosmic stew bubbling and ready to be served!

- the bottom feeders, our children, who have worn the sliver of Vader know that their moment is nigh: the ferry man is awaiting them: She is waiting with the feather and the sky
- we will see a shift in our media as people with wisdom come out of the closet and take off the V mask and tell us "I am from light years away and you did not need to die" - all comes full circle now
- the time is now; we send these words out with love & joy, yet how they accept those words is up to them
- We are just getting going!!

T: Francois Allende of France: the 50th year anniversary of Algeria being free of France: they killed 300,000 people in that war - generations of French people who knew only Algeria had to flee - he did acknowledge that it was a barbaric things to do

Mo: this is about the healing that is happening across the planet: and about the original story that Goddess is black, and that the Aboriginal Moabite nation came from Venus, Pleiades

- How we come together in this moment - with thy grace be done; that is how we do it.
- Mr Allende has to save face with his people; this is also the story Ismael and the story of Islam, and the I AM THAT I AM, and that all of us are one family, it is not about the cultures: there are the 12 rays of the various realms

T: Shaun Lennon - a super activist: dealing with fracking!

Mo: this is not how you receive energy to heat your homes

T: not such thing as clean gas or clean oil - all dirty

Mo: we have the technology of Tesla

T: the galactics are going to bring forth the energies from thousands of years in the future!

MR: had to make up shortfall at the radio station -

Closing: Cathy

2012, Dec 20 - Peter Madoff Is Sentenced to 10 Years for His Role in Fraud

By PETER LATTMAN and DIANA B. HENRIQUES

Spencer Platt/Getty Images Peter Madoff was sentenced to 10 years in prison for his role in a Ponzi scheme.

Peter B. Madoff was sentenced on Thursday to 10 years in prison for crimes that helped his brother, Bernard L. Madoff, swindle investors out of billions of dollars in a Ponzi scheme that collapsed four years ago this month.

A lawyer by training, Peter Madoff is the second figure in the scandal to be sentenced. His older brother, Bernard, pleaded guilty in March 2009 and is serving a prison term of 150 years.

Mr. Madoff, in a slate blue suit and striped blue tie, entered the crowded courtroom accompanied only by his lawyers, although many members of his family and friends had written letters of support for him. The 63 character references stood in stark contrast to his brother's sentencing, when the judge in that case noted that he had not received a single supportive letter.

Still, a handful of victims attended the hearing, including two who spoke emotionally about the financial and psychological hardships they are enduring and urged the judge to impose a life sentence.

In his own brief statement to the judge, Peter Madoff said he was "deeply ashamed" of his conduct and had "tried to atone by pleading guilty." He added: "I am profoundly sorry that my failures have let so many people down, including my own loved ones and family."

In June, Peter Madoff, 67, admitted to a range of crimes, including falsifying documents, lying to securities regulators and filing sham tax returns. Prosecutors said that if Peter Madoff had properly done his job as chief compliance officer at Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities, regulators would likely have detected the fraud years earlier.

Peter Madoff was not charged with knowing about the Ponzi scheme, and insists that he first learned about it only 36 hours before his brother's arrest.

During the sentencing in Federal District Court in Manhattan, Judge Laura Taylor Swain expressed skepticism about that assertion.

"Peter Madoff's contention that he did not know that anything was wrong with the investment advisory business is beneath the dignity" of a sophisticated Wall Street executive, Judge Swain said.

"It is also, frankly, not believable," she added.

Peter Madoff's lawyer, John R. Wing, has portrayed his client as a loving, charitable family man who was bullied, betrayed and destroyed by the imperious older brother he had idolized all his life. Bernard Madoff was widely viewed as an honorable and successful trader, Mr. Wing wrote in a letter to the court, "and no one believed it more than Peter did. Peter revered him and trusted him implicitly."

In the geography of the Madoff offices, the money management business run by Bernard Madoff operated from a separate suite two floors below Peter Madoff's office and the firm's trading operations. With separate key cards, Bernard Madoff kept the suite off limits, shutting his brother and sons out of the investment advisory business.

In pleading guilty, Peter Madoff has agreed to a 10-year sentence and a forfeiture order of $143 billion. Though a staggering sum that does not bear any relation to what Mr. Madoff could pay, it is tied to the amount of the crime's proceeds. The government set the amount that high to send a clear signal that it would seize all of his and his family's assets and distribute them to victims.

On the day of Bernard Madoff's arrest, his customers thought their accounts contained a total of $64.8 billion, but most of that wealth was fictitious. Madoff's customers had actual cash losses of about $17.3 billion in the fraud, according to Irving H. Picard, the Madoff bankruptcy trustee.

Mr. Picard has recovered about $9.3 billion and distributed about $3.7 billion of that to eligible victims. An additional $2.35 billion has been seized by federal prosecutors under forfeiture laws and will be distributed separately by the Justice Department.

Peter Madoff worked alongside his brother for 39 years. Though Bernard was the firm's sole owner, he paid Peter handsomely. The government said that Peter received about $40 million in compensation from 1998 to 2008. That money was put toward his and his wife, Marion's, lifestyle that included homes in Old Westbury, N.Y., on Long Island, and Palm Beach, Fla., as well as a $4 million apartment on Park Avenue.

In his letter to the judge, Mr. Wing cited the early patterns of the Madoff family as a reason Peter Madoff dutifully obeyed his brother. "Their mother viewed Bernie as the prince, and Peter longed for the love and approval of his brother and family," Mr. Wing wrote. "Peter had a large build, and Bernie ridiculed him mercilessly, calling him 'Rollo,' which hurt Peter deeply."

But despite that demeaning abuse, "Peter seemed to be blind to his brother's flaws," Mr. Wing wrote.

Judge Swain saw it differently. In her view, Peter knew for decades that the Madoff business operation was "a little bit crooked and he was content to go along with that." She then added, "We all know that a crooked operation is only rarely, if ever, just a little bit crooked."

Before Thursday's hearing, both sides filed letters to the judge highlighting factors they hoped she would consider.

The prosecutors stressed the harm done by Peter Madoff's willful failure to carry out his duties. They cited a letter submitted by Marion Wiesel, the wife of the Nobel Peace Prize-winner Elie Wiesel, whose foundation lost $15.2 million in the fraud. Mrs. Wiesel said the crime that flourished under Peter Madoff's neglect caused "the immediate and dramatic loss of a lifetime's worth of work and savings."

Judge Swain directed Peter Madoff to report to prison on Feb. 6, implicitly granting a request that he not be incarcerated until after his granddaughter's bat mitzvah in late January.

In her own appeal to the court, the granddaughter wrote, "I would give anything just to have him see me reading from the Torah even if it was only for a second."

The judge also complied with a request by Mr. Wing that she ask that Peter be assigned to a nearby prison in Otisville, N.Y., permitting regular visits from his family, though that decision ultimately rests with the Bureau of Prisons.

Besides the two brothers, criminal charges have been filed against a dozen other defendants. Bernard Madoff, 74, is serving his sentence at a federal prison near Raleigh, N.C. Peter's daughter, Shana Madoff Swanson, was a lawyer at the Madoff firm but has not been charged with any crime.

Frank DiPascali, a longtime Madoff employee, pleaded guilty in August 2009 and is awaiting sentencing. Of the remaining defendants, six have pleaded guilty to violations of tax and securities laws that sustained the scheme. The remaining five defendants have denied the government's charges and their trial is scheduled for October.

Among the 41 victim letters submitted by prosecutors was an unexpected one from Robert Roman, the brother-in-law of Bernard's wife, Ruth Madoff. Mr. Roman said that although he and his wife lost their life savings in the fraud, he did not want to see Peter imprisoned.

"Our family is supposed to hate him. But — we do not," Mr. Roman wrote. "Peter in prison is an answer only to those who seek revenge. It is not a solution."

Toward the end of the hour long sentencing, as Peter Madoff fought back tears, Judge Swain counseled the defendant that true atonement required that he fully disclose what happened at his brother's firm.

"Be honest about all that you have done and all that you have seen," the judge said. "In other words, all that you know."
