MR has received calls from some who talk about having problems with sleeping

- Ability to sleep is critical to carrying out purposeful endeavour
- Has done a lot of research into inability to sleep, one of his own physical issues

Results of his research about restoring sleep patterns:

1. consuming a complete array of earthen minerals /

- Mineral Wheel shows the interdependency of all the minerals and how important it is to maintain a balance between all that you consume

- Need sufficient quantities of minerals - consuming high quantities of water and minerals means he sleeps longer and deeper
- Need care taking calcium
- Earthen sources are superior to chemically produced minerals, etc
- Veggies are not the main way to get nutrition especially if you want to regenerate quickly need other forms of nutrients
- full earthen blend helps with restless leg and other things

2. earthing - getting your feet on the earth & wet grass; drains out the static energy which builds up as you walk on carpet, artificial fibres we wear, sit on -

- can take only 2- 5 minutes of standing on the earth to slow down the body - drain out static energy and bring in earthen energy
- Can also do this by visualization - see self standing on the grass, & connecting to centre of earth and energy draining into earth

3. re-building the deficient organs and glands with herbs and super foods

- adrenal exhaustion from diet, life-style habits - to re-build this, need an abundance of herbs, super foods and earthen sources
- most effective re-builders are adaptogen which pulls system into balance a tonic means it tones up an area
- all work primarily on hormonal system which needs re-building
- superfoods: nettles, pollen, sea weed -
- spleen builder - very effective - will ground body, increase mental focus
- taking just one thing like magnesium can create serious side effects - dehydration, dizziness, mood changes, unusual drowsiness

Mother:

Greetings in the Light of the Most Radiant One; in the Office in the Christ and only in the Office of the Christ, we invoke the loving energies of St Germain and the Violet Flame

T: we ask for the changes to be done in such a way that everyone understands that it's time and that surrender is the greatest gift; that you will take the talking stick on the 21st and that the meeting happening on the 21st [Bilderberg] is truly the last one.

Greetings, Children of Ra:

Yes, we will be taking the talking stick; Enshallah - god willing; the stories, the songs, the legends of what this is about - the biggest story ever!

- Nibiru is in orbit, can see it; many of the websites out there are mis-informing about Nibiru : something about asteroids and extinction level events as we approach your planet
- This is about the kids in the play pen have taken it to the level at which the insanity is too much!
- In your terms: it is time for a nap and a little journey to the center of the Milky Way Galaxy, called the Void - we are making new universes there. It is imperative that you come to dinner! That is how we best describe it!
- The reality of what you understand since 4th dimension has collapsed -
 - 3rd dimension - harsh reality about the story here: this is an amusement park on the greatest scale - as you think, therefore it is - it is like it was in Pangea, only there, the safety protocols were functioning.
 - In this side of the story, the matrix is unstable; the mainframe is unstable - it is about the reality in which we [the people on the planet] are the keys opening the door in the greatest of stories;
 - the biggest piece is that the least among us is the most imperative story at this moment in terms of the fact that there is enough water, there is enough food, there is enough love, there is enough air, there is enough time -
- the story is at such a critical juncture that we would put it in concepts that can be understood as the good, the bad, the very, very ugly as you ride this crest of this wave of these legends, stories, myths - yet they are not: they are just as real as this [she hits something hard]
- this is why we say 4th dimension has collapsed ; 3rd, 4th, here, now; this amusement park is no joke - you leave this temple here which is altered in such a way, as we have heard from the master here [M King] about how to heal it - this temple - and put it back together
- We are living in the 5th dimension with concepts, thoughts, words, deeds - as you experience this in your minds, think about it with your heart, what this feels like to be in 5th dimension
 - yet all around you, you are looking at what is happening and you can turn it off as you choose, and change your perspective, change your point of view - this is the key to understanding this reality
 - it is about meditating every day, working with the energies, building the momentum: changes the physical matter - as billions, millions do it, changes the whole issue -

- this is what is occurring at an evolutionary scale; like it or not, your DNA is calling you to active duty; you are moving forward, and you are along for the ride; the energies are so intense that ascension symptoms are creating quite a physical drama for these temples of the living god - this is the biggest test for our selves to walk through this in the moment
- To live, being in the 5th dimension with the concept of unconditional compassionate love for whatever these life forms are at this moment, yet knowing we sit across the table from a genocidal homo maniac - it is about love, no matter what the conditions are
 - we all chose to come here at this moment and experience the depths of what this is about - ascending with this temple, experiencing every nuance of emotion - we asked to be in the thick of it and not forget one micron or a nano second of it - this is how deep it goes, with the highs, the lows, the in-betweens
- To describe it best for your understanding:
 - many of our children were genetically engineered without emotion;
 - they do not feel or think about what effect some act will have on others: it is simply a scientific principle - begin the experiment, complete it, compile the results
 - T inserts: and ignore whatever goes on in between those steps
 - This is the part that has the greatest to do with our reptilian brothers and sisters that have the last little remnant of what you call ankle biters
 - the remnant of what that represents on the planet is the unhealed energies that keep getting perpetuated by the so-called magic media machine [TV] with the one eye looking at you
 - She refers to the big screens in Times Square or outside 30 Rock - how many ways do you get the microwaves through the 3rd eye??

T: the news today is that Hillary is lying [about the Syrian thing] & Russia is not sending attack helicopters

Mo: Of course she is lying - it is about the slush fund that goes to the Vatican

T: the purpose - all kinds of bombing, and going to Iraq

Mo: they want to escalate this world wide - it [Armageddon] has been cancelled

T: Now we know that Iran is building space ships; we knew that Iran had nukes, so the story was screwy

Mo: the story is very screwy; there is no need to put Iran in the cross-hairs; it should be the 13 families

- the issue is the 13 tribes of Is Ra El - Ariadne - how to do this with love - we have a soap opera on the planet!

Mother's Closing Comments:

- As you go through this weekend, look for things in the skies which are of the most miraculous nature
- People see them - the 4th dimension has collapsed into the 3rd
- now it is about unconditional, compassionate love;
- starfleet academy is in session - remember who you are.

Cathy: a deep collective breath of thanksgiving, praise respect thank and love!

Federal Reserve Directors' Banks and Businesses Took $4 Trillion in Bailouts: Report

'Inherent conflicts of interest' in 2008 bailout aftermath revealed - Common Dreams staff

A report released today by US Senator Bernie Sanders (I-Vt.) has revealed the names of 18 former and current directors from Federal Reserve Banks who directly benefited from financial bailouts after the 2008 crisis. The Reserve directors worked in banks and corporations that collectively received over $4 trillion in bailout money allocated by the Federal Reserve.

Jamie Dimon, chairman and chief executive of JP Morgan Chase, and other Fed board members' benefited from Fed actions. (Reuters/Keith Bedford) Essentially, action taken by the Federal Reserve overwhelmingly benefited directors of the Federal Reserve, above other beneficiaries. The report titled Jamie Dimon Is Not Alone names the top 18 Reserve directors including Jamie Dimon who received the largest Federal Reserve loans and other financial assistance during the crisis.

"This report reveals the inherent conflicts of interest that exist at the Federal Reserve. At a time when small businesses could not get affordable loans to create jobs, the Fed was providing trillions in secret loans to some of the largest banks and corporations in America that were well represented on the boards of the Federal Reserve Banks. These conflicts must end," Sanders said.

Senator Bernie Sanders: Fed Board Member Conflicts Detailed by GAO: Banks and Businesses

More than $4 trillion in near zero-interest Federal Reserve loans and other financial assistance went to the banks and businesses of at least 18 current and former Federal Reserve regional bank directors in the aftermath of the 2008 financial collapse, according to Government Accountability Office records made public for the first time today by Sen. Bernie Sanders.

On the eve of Senate testimony by JPMorgan Chase CEO Jamie Dimon, Sanders (I-Vt.) released the detailed findings on Dimon and other Fed board members whose banks and businesses benefited from Fed actions.

A Sanders provision in the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform Act required the Government Accountability Office to investigate potential conflicts of interest. The Oct. 19, 2011 report by the non-partisan investigative arm of Congress laid out the findings, but did not name names. Sanders today released the names.

"This report reveals the inherent conflicts of interest that exist at the Federal Reserve. At a time when small businesses could not get affordable loans to create jobs, the Fed was providing trillions in secret loans to some of the largest banks and corporations in America that were well represented on the boards of the Federal Reserve Banks. These conflicts must end," Sanders said.

The GAO study found that allowing members of the banking industry to both elect and serve on the Federal Reserve's board of directors creates "an appearance of a conflict of interest" and poses "reputational risks" to the Federal Reserve System.

In Dimon's case, JPMorgan received some $391 billion of the $4 trillion in emergency Fed funds at the same time his bank was used by the Fed as a clearinghouse for emergency lending programs. In March of 2008, the Fed provided JPMorgan with $29 billion in financing to acquire Bear Stearns. Dimon also got the Fed to provide JPMorgan Chase with an 18-month exemption from risk-based leverage and capital requirements. And he convinced the Fed to take risky mortgage-related assets off of Bear Stearns balance sheet before JP Morgan Chase acquired the troubled investment bank.

Another high-profile conflict involved Stephen Friedman, the former chairman of the New York Fed's board of directors. Late in 2008, the New York Fed approved an application from Goldman Sachs to become a bank holding company giving it access to cheap loans from the Federal Reserve. During that period, Friedman sat on the Goldman Sachs board. He also owned Goldman stock, something that was prohibited by Federal Reserve conflict of interest regulations. Although it was not publicly disclosed at the time, Friedman received a waiver from the Fed's conflict of interest rules in late 2008. Unbeknownst to the Fed, Friedman continued to purchase shares in Goldman from November 2008 through January of 2009, according to the GAO.

In another case, General Electric CEO Jeffrey Immelt was a New York Fed board member at the same time GE helped create a Commercial Paper Funding Facility during the financial crisis. The Fed later provided $16 billion in financing to GE under this emergency lending program.

Sanders on May 22 introduced legislation to prohibit banking industry and business executives from serving as directors of the 12 Federal Reserve regional banks.

2012, April 25 Robert Draper Book: GOP's Anti-Obama Campaign Started Night Of Inauguration

stein@huffingtonpost.com

WASHINGTON -- As President Barack Obama was celebrating his inauguration at various balls, top Republican lawmakers and strategists were conjuring up ways to submarine his presidency at a private dinner in Washington.

The event -- which provides a telling revelation for how quickly the post-election climate soured -- serves as the prologue of Robert Draper's much-discussed and heavily-reported new book, "Do Not Ask What Good We Do: Inside the U.S. House of Representatives."

According to Draper, the guest list that night (which was just over 15 people in total) included Republican Reps. Eric Cantor (Va.), Kevin McCarthy (Calif.), Paul Ryan (Wis.), Pete Sessions (Texas), Jeb Hensarling (Texas), Pete Hoekstra (Mich.) and Dan Lungren (Calif.), along with Republican Sens. Jim DeMint (S.C.), Jon Kyl (Ariz.), Tom Coburn (Okla.), John Ensign (Nev.) and Bob Corker (Tenn.). The non-lawmakers present included Newt Gingrich, several years removed from his presidential campaign, and Frank Luntz, the long-time Republican wordsmith. Notably absent were Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-Ky.) and House Minority Leader John Boehner (R-Ohio) -- who, Draper writes, had an acrimonious relationship with Luntz.

For several hours in the Caucus Room (a high-end D.C. establishment), the book says they plotted out ways to not just win back political power, but to also put the brakes on Obama's legislative platform.

"If you act like you're the minority, you're going to stay in the minority," Draper quotes McCarthy as saying. "We've gotta challenge them on every single bill and challenge them on every single campaign."

The conversation got only more specific from there, Draper reports. Kyl suggested going after incoming Treasury Secretary Timothy Geithner for failing to pay Social Security and Medicare taxes while at the International Monetary Fund. Gingrich noted that House Ways and Means Chairman Charlie Rangel (D-N.Y.) had a similar tax problem. McCarthy chimed in to declare "there's a web" before arguing that Republicans could put pressure on any Democrat who accepted campaign money from Rangel to give it back.

The dinner lasted nearly four hours. They parted company almost giddily. The Republicans had agreed on a way forward:

Go after Geithner. (And indeed Kyl did, the next day: 'Would you answer my question rather than dancing around it—please?')

Show united and unyielding opposition to the president's economic policies. (Eight days later, Minority Whip Cantor would hold the House Republicans to a unanimous No against Obama's economic stimulus plan.)

Begin attacking vulnerable Democrats on the airwaves. (The first National Republican Congressional Committee attack ads would run in less than two months.)

Win the speaker point of the House in 2010. Jab Obama relentlessly in 2011. Win the White House and the Senate in 2012.

"You will remember this day," Draper reports Newt Gingrich as saying on the way out. "You'll remember this as the day the seeds of 2012 were sown."

Draper's timeline is correct. On Jan. 21, 2009, Kyl aggressively questioned Geithner during his confirmation hearings. On Jan. 28, 2009, House GOP leadership held the line against the stimulus package (Senate GOP leadership would prove less successful in stopping defections).

The votes, of course, can be attributed to legitimate philosophical objection to the idea of stimulus spending as well as sincere concern that the secretary of the Treasury should personally have a clean tax-paying record. But what Draper's book makes clear is that blunt electoral-minded ambitions were the animating force.

Whether or not that's shocking depends on the degree to which one's view of politics has been jaded. What's certainly noteworthy is the timing. When Mitch McConnell said in October 2010 that his party's primary goal in the next Congress was to make Obama a one-term president, it was treated as remarkably candid and deeply cynical. Had he said it publicly in January 2009, it would likely have caused an uproar.

By extension, however, the Draper anecdote also negatively reflects on the Obama administration for failing to appreciate how quickly congressional Republicans would oppose the president's agenda.

2012, Apr 27 Darrell Issa: Hold Hearings To "Expel" Ryan, Cantor & Other GOP Who Plotted To Undermine U.S Economy

by cc

It's no secret now that GOP in Congress literally plotted to undermine U.S. economy during President Obama's Inauguration.

In Robert Draper's book, "Do Not Ask What Good We Do: Inside the U.S. House of Representatives" Draper wrote that during a four hour, "invitation only" meeting with GOP Minister of Propaganda, Frank Luntz, Senior GOP Congressmen plotted to undermine and destroy America's Economy.

The Guest List:

Frank Luntz - GOP Minister of Propaganda

Rep. Paul Ryan (R-WI)

Rep. Eric Cantor (R-VA)

Rep. Kevin McCarthy (R-CA),

Rep. Pete Sessions (R-TX),

Rep. Jeb Hensarling (R-TX),

Rep. Pete Hoekstra (R-MI)

Rep. Dan Lungren (R-CA),

Sen. Jim DeMint (SC-R),

Sen. Jon Kyl (AZ-R),

Sen. Tom Coburn (OK-R),

Sen. John Ensign (NV-R) and

Sen. Bob Corker (TN-R).

Non-lawmakers present: Newt Gingrich

During the four hour meeting, the senior GOP members plotted to bring Congress to a standstill regardless how much it would hurt the American Economy by pledging to obstruct and block President Obama on all legislation.

These members of Congress were not simply airing their complaints regarding the other party's political platform for four long hours. No, these men were literally plotting to undermine and destroy the U.S. Economy.

On that date, January 20, 2009, America had been losing over 750,000 jobs per month because of policies these Congressional Leaders had enacted and their goal, their goal that night, was to plot ways to undermine any and all legislation that would pull American families up and out of the economic calamity they had helped create.

Everyone of these members of Congress supported the very Bush/Cheney policies that caused America to teeter on the brink of the 2nd Great Depression and caused the 2007 US Economic Meltdown.

These guys can't say they were sitting at dinner for four hours discussing any objection to Stimulus Legislation and raising the Debt Ceiling because of political ideology as each one of them voted yes on Bush/Cheney Stimulus Bills and yes every time Bush/Cheney wanted to raise the Debt Ceiling.

Here's how they all voted:

- "Yes" to Bush/Cheney January 2008 Stimulus
- "Yes" to Bush/Cheney bailing out Bear Stern
- "Yes" to Bush/Cheney bailing out AIG
- "Yes" to Bush/Cheney TARP (sept 2008)
- "Yes" to Bush/Cheney TARP (oct 2008)

And these same members of Congress:

- Supported Bush/Cheney keeping cost of two wars out of the Budget
- Supported Bush/Cheney spending $4Trillion on Top 1% Tax Cuts while trying to pay down Debt on Two Wars

Ahhh ... but at their dinner they plotted to suddenly stop supporting any stimulus legislation:

"Show united and unyielding opposition to the president's economic policies."

Rep Kevin McCarthy said,

"We've gotta challenge them on every single bill."

Not only did these Senior members of Congress plot to destroy the American Economy more than it already was destroyed? They actually carried out their mission:

- Every one of these Senior members of Congress have threatened Government Shutdown over things like:
not funding planned parenthood, not raising the Debt Ceiling which, in-and-of-itself, would cause US Economic turmoil.

... oh, and stay current, these same House GOP members of Congress are still, today, threatening a Government Shutdown.

- Senators: Jim DeMint, Jon Kyl, Tom Coburn, John Ensign, and Bob Corker have
- Filibustered more Bills than any Congress combined in US History.
- Voted NO on every single piece of Legislation brought to the Floor including: NO on Al Franken's Anti-Rape Amendment, NO on Lilly Ledbetter, NO on Fair Pay Act.

- Representatives: Paul Ryan, Eric Cantor, Kevin McCarthy, Rep. Pete Sessions, Jeb Hensarling, Pete Hoekstra and Dan Lungren
- Voted NO on every single piece of Legislation; including NO on increasing FEMA during natural disasters.
- Have been on tv constantly chanting the lie that they were guilty of ... the lie that "President Obama's policies undermine the US Economy."

Yes, these Republican Congressional leaders used Karl Rove's playbook and falsely accused the President of what they were guilty of: Intentionally Undermining the US Economy. And, again, in keeping with Karl Rove propaganda, they chant the same lie over and over and over again.

America had been at war since 2001. The Constitution says a person can only be guilty of "Treason" while America is engaged in war -- we are at war. The Constitution says "Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. I believe that plotting to undermine the President of the United States by destroying and weakening the US Economy directly aids the enemy. Treason?

As for impeachment, only one Senator has ever been impeached.

These members of Congress are paid to do The People's work. They are not paid to plot ways to undermine American families by destroying the US Economy.

Their acts that night are disgusting, repulsive, unbecoming of a member of Congress and they should be expelled from Congress for their covert plot to destroy and weaken America's Economy and for obstructing The People's work from getting done.

I urge everyone to contact Darrell Issa and tell him to:

Hold Hearings to Expel the following people from Congress for plotting to undermine the President by destroy to the US Economy:

Rep. Paul Ryan (R-WI)

Rep. Eric Cantor (R-VA)

Rep. Kevin McCarthy (R-CA),

Rep. Pete Sessions (R-TX),

Rep. Jeb Hensarling (R-TX),

Rep. Pete Hoekstra (R-MI)

Rep. Dan Lungren (R-CA),

Sen. Jim DeMint (SC-R),

Sen. Jon Kyl (AZ-R),

Sen. Tom Coburn (OK-R),

Sen. John Ensign (NV-R) and

Sen. Bob Corker (TN-R).

I don't know if they committed Treason, but I do know they are Traitors and Traitors have no business writing or voting on US Laws.

Oh, the next time you hear the GOP say "Obama wants to destroy the economy" or "Government Shutdown" ... remember ... as Newt Gingrich said after their four hour dinner on January 20, 2009 "You'll remember this as the day the seeds of 2012 were sown."

To Translate GINGRICH:

"You'll remember this day as the day we became Traitors to the United States."
