Greetings from the CLN!!

If you have not visited the CLN lately, take a look at the interesting discussions and respond to questions that have been posted lately. One of the recent posts is a request for all of us to fill out a survey from a Biola University student. Georgiana is doing a project related to her ministry which is teaching children how to read. She needs the brief survey completed by tomorrow night so click here to share your perspectives on teaching children how to read and libraries. Remember, her deadline for us is tomorrow evening, April 25th. Georgiana, please let us know the results of your survey!!

Taking Church Library Ministry Beyond the Church Family

Jenn Burwell recently wrote an article about an exciting experience for their church library. We've posted the article on the CLN. Great ideas here! What about you? How are you tearing down the walls to your community? We would love to hear your story! Share your story on The Circle here on the CLN or email Morlee Maynard so that we can share your story in a future broadcast.

CVLI Process

Hope Ferguson has been faithful with her church library to follow the CVLI procedures for getting permission to show movies in her church. She recently discovered information that may be new to others so we are sharing the link to the answer to the question: "How do I determine if a movie is covered under the Church Video License?" Let's start a discussion on the CLN about all things related to legally using movies in our churches. Click here to share what you are doing and to find out what is happening in this aspect of our ministry.

Children and our Libraries

Since Georgiana is doing a survey on teaching children to read and Jenn has shared her story about connecting her library with a nearby pregnancy center, here's an article on how our libraries can reach children for Christ:

"Seven ways libraries can share the Gospel with children" by Skip Arnhart.

Let's stay in touch here at the CLN!! May our circle of prayerful support strengthen our ministries.
