HARD NEWS

R: thanks to all; a good time to be alive & in joy, in spite of technological hick-ups!

- Still not sure what's going on in terms of their technology
- the same guy who owns paypal owns skype, a multi-billionaire: lots of updates coming in regularly on Skype – another one just recently

T: many unusual things going on in the news – going to do an eclectic show today! Will honour the idea of bringing good vibrations! Grateful for the family we all have together

R: met KOS in 1979-80; things began in earnest on Oct 1, 1979 – Oct 1 is always the beginning of the next year's fiscal year for the US government

- NESARA deals with the economic high treason that is going on; because this has physical repercussions on everyone's life, it's about caring and sharing; it's about the work we are here to do in service to humanity. The idea that we are All One gives us an intimate connection to everyone, and what we do unto others, we do to ourselves – this doesn't register with some folks!
- they love everyone; may we be ever vigilant and in service to taking care with our bodies – it is us doing that together - the potentialities and the probabilities discussed by NK
 - Naomi Klein has been following the climate conference like a hawk: what the NOW moment brings, sets the tone for the next moment
 - Describes a card they have received: a mosque like setting in the Middle East, and also the sheep and the nativity, as well – T goes to the mystical Islam which is Sufism which they play every night: Rumi, Kabir, etc – the sufism brings Judeo, Christian and Islamic together in a higher level, a mystical context
- a young lady works with immigrants in NTC – she was on Melissa Harris-Perry to day and said that For the first time, as a New Yorker who lives in the Bronx yet she is not sure she is safe living in NYC – our test is to work through this with love

Counterspin: Keith Olberman was on; he's a point person to help move things through – NESARA is going to break through . . .

- As is Jon Stewart: when we hear Jon Stewart asking what is going on that Congress won't support the First Responders by signing the omnibus bill – this could kill some people who are on life support – withdrawing the funding will affect them badly!
 - Keith and Jon are complete white knights, Faction 3, who come from the Hollywood /media scene and have a gag order – when they show up it is courageous love!
 - Keith said Trump is a fascist and he is aiding and abetting Congress – needs to be gutted so we can start over again
 - Melissa Harris Perry today said it is not challenging to see and know what Trump is presenting; what is challenging is seeing people supporting this and walking us right into WW III
- Keith also spoke to the blatant, outright hatred of Obama and family – a lot of folks calling themselves sovereign militia people in the US are taking up arms against those of Islamic faith; what is going on here?
 - It's not the folks over here; it's what we have been taught over here about the higher principles and the teaching of Rumi, Kabir & others who say that we, as a global story, are all in this barge together. Keith left it – he'll be back on Bill Maher to present his next two cents worth !
- They also got into some of the stuff going on with some of the other terrorist groups in the world:
 - Keith said this is the result of not holding the criminals who did 9/11 to account right from the start: when Jon Stewart has to put on a wig to get people's attention – what's going on?
 - Keith said Trump is a two bit carnival barker who needs to be tossed out; if you don't like it here, pack your bags and go back to South Africa where you came from! [where his people, the Dutch royals were] – he alluded to the idea that Trump was born in South Africa

- Right at the end Dr Greer's presentation from Nov 21 in London, he said they knew all about 9/11 long before they did it
- Even Cheney is denouncing Trump – just doing it because of his own skin!

Camp Lovewave: had on cat, dog and horse whisperer

- talked about the energies pouring in during 12/12 opening: the animals are completely aware of what is coming in at this time and are saying to us to be aware of the increased levels of frequency and how grace is landing on this planet; as we work with that grace, it heals the hardest of hearts – the cat whisperer put that prayer out to people
- Teran brought up that the 2 people in San Bernadino – they did not do it: it was Black Ops – Mossad, MI5, MI6; they want to create an incident like Gulf of Tonkin which gives the impetus to Peter King in congress who is one of the most dangerous people in congress, right in bed with the Nazis: goes all the way back in his family
- this is why the animals are saying: focus on grace and send it out to all the planet's issues

T: wants to commend what is being said by some in the media: there is a co-ordination going on

- Several people on the call last night told what they had seen on TV and heard elsewhere

- Keith trashed MSNBC big time: what they did by going to the people's homes in San Bernadino and went through their things; trashed the house in the venue where the police said they could do this to the belongings of these two supposed shooters
 - Keith said to MSNBC as you have no respect for others, there is no respect for MSNBC
 - Got rid of Ed Schultz and Al Sharpton because he knows where all the bullets are! Has to do with Rev Ralph Abernathy who killed MLK, not the CIA
 - Sirhan [a Palestinian] DID NOT KILL BOBBY KENNEDY – R met someone who was a body guard of Bobby Kennedy; he was literally a few feet away from B K Sr and saw that it was NOT SIRHAN, but the CIA who shot him right in the nape of the neck!
 - T & R played the footage once

T: are we getting good at this yet – Sandy Hook, Boston [and they went to Florida and killed a person who knew exactly what happened], Aurora, San Bernadino,

R: This is also why Israel is not the true name of that land; an invented name and the land was stolen from the original people of Palestine

T: our job is to be here and do the forgiving, and hold them accountable in love – a LARGE, LARGE, LARGE order!

- brings up for T the 3rd day at the temple when everyone died – a complete destruction of the temple – in Thomas Jefferson's bible he cut out the miracles yet they still happened
- we don't have to wave a magic wand, but just be single pointed in the point of love within the heart of god – works every single time!

R: THIS IS THE REAL STORY

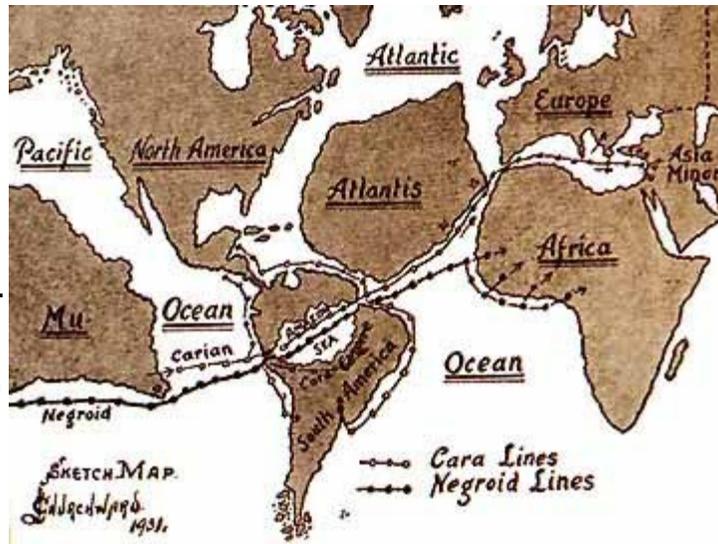

As you read the article, listen to the comments from T & R.

Uranus goes stationery, direct on Dec 25 – all planets moving forward beginning that day.

This is the map T is describing.

Medusa: the lady with snakes for hair. She was called Gorgon in the Greek story: Perseus had to cut off her head and place it on the shield of Pallas Athena. Perseus had to rescue Cassiopea as she was chained to a rock and a being came every night and ate her liver: it regrew every day.

The metaphor is about the Cassiopean constellation and a star in her constellation went Super Nova when St Germain / Sir Francis Bacon moved higher up in the English gov't in 1604.

Also about the evolution of humanity and came over here – bringing Atlantis into its final stages of its consciousness, as Dr Greer said.

Perseus: the son of Zeus / Jupiter; a half god like Hercules.

The Annunaki fell from grace by messing with Mother's creations

The story of Star Trek, created by Gene Roddenberry, was talking about this: the development of consciousness in the human race.

- Cutting off the head of Medusa is decapitating the devolutionary plan to destroy 1/3 of the Milky Way Galaxy, and Cassiopia being rescued by her Twin Flame [St Germain] depicts a real man in his highest state, in his 5th dimensional state.

The magical mystery of Spirit,
Is that it descends from above,
As I let go of my personal needs,
And desire to serve with love.

Well, Yup, these are still crazy times, and I don't see the craziness coming to an end anytime soon. Saturn/Neptune aspects are traditionally associated with depression. Saturn in Sag NEEDS to find a deeper meaning and purpose for our existence (thank goddess we have 2 years!) or we can go down the wormhole of "why bother?"

So in some ways we can say that if your boat is getting tipped, your world shook, it is Spirit pushing you out of your distractions, routines, and dependencies TO ASSIST you in expanding your reality to include a greater, bigger, deeper, broader, and wider purpose for your existence on this planet at this time. Go for it! Connect with something bigger than you are, take the challenge and you will find a brighter, fuller future. Namaste'!

Audio: The Oracle Report – about Trump

CONFERENCE CALL

Re: Trump report – he was really born in South Africa, not NYC - the time is different, also

South Africa is below the equator: there would be about 6-7 hours difference

T: Have to be careful about what we say, as we are all ONE; reads the closing commentary of the Pele Report

- Trump is doing poorly with money; Scott Walker did not quit the race – he only suspended the race so he gets to keep the money and use it later; Marco Rubio – to get down to 2 candidates, it might be Ted Cruz and Donald Trump. Just remember that everyone of these faucets gets turned off at the same time.
- Same thing with the Climate change conference: they are all patting themselves on the back – there is no agreement – every square inch of what is happening is being run from the US Congress – which needs to be gutted and started over, as Keith Olberman said.
- The Oracle Report said that if he were to be assassinated, it would be right now; Keith indicated that that idea is on the menu!

Gerry: statements about last night – a confirmation that the US landed on the moon only once. The people from Agarthans confirmed that. The 2 Agarthans he was talking to said that the school teacher and the shuttle that was blown up was done by the Agarthans, after they removed the astronauts

T: there was a 200 ft angels who did it

Gerry: when they found the pod, they found uniforms laid out neatly and no bodies; the people will make themselves known in due course

Caller: saw a picture – will find it again

T: wants to have a copy of that photo

Caller: it's all about fear and making the liver quiver!

T: everything we can do to start getting the truth out is what has to happen

Gerry: call Deborah at Bush Willow: 818-352-4600; she's from South Africa - yesterday, T was talking about Mike Kodosky -

T: warns Gerry that he will not get anything from N ever if you talk about the names of the programs! Call it the big O – not safe for you to say that

G: heard he was on a dialysis machine; heard that he was dead because of what happened via the dialysis program; talked to Dove who said she was working with St Germain – someone said that Mike was still alive – the daughter was nowhere to be found, but apparently is in a women's prison. Dove was a smallish woman with a huge ego – was going to take the Japanese gold that was hidden in the Phillipines but never got her hands on it.

- When Gerry finished talking, T said THE REPORT HE GAVE WAS A COMPLETE BLACK OPS OPERATION!

G: said he was told Mike was not alive

T: Mike K NEVER WORKED FOR ST GERMAIN; there were "Wingmakers" working for the Bush administration: they were not real Wingmakers and ; they went to Dove and asked her if she would like to work with them and help get N announced.

- the Mossaud took her over at that second, and arranged for a hit and run. Her soul left her body and they brought in another soul; took her about 3 years together to start writing again – took about 3 years to get back. By this time, she was very mind-controlled; Ted Gunderson was a paid hired hand of Bush – she was taken out because of her weak spot [ego] –
 - she got on the Carol Davis calls - at end of 2006, she wanted to raise a huge amount of billions and put it in the hedge funds so she could get lots of money

Caller: went to the 2006 meeting that Gerry referred to - she had a fall and injured herself – she died on May 30, 2010. She thought that St Germain had turned on her

T: speaks to the 2 callers: in 1999, Raelyn Allen of Faction 2 [there is a huge difference between F2 and F3 – F2 is the military, the government; F3 is located at 38th level above the president, and the ACIO organization is there – that organization is where the rea; Wingmakers, the Ashtar Command and the White Knights sit]

- The rules are from 1979, Oct 1, F2 would do what they would do, and F3 would do what they did – and never the twain should meet - because corruption can mess things up. St Germain says “May you pass every test” , not “I love you.” Dove was working her business and rubbing shoulders with people who gave her money – and she did not realize about the Wingmakers.

- Dr Greer was talking about only 1/millionth of what is going on; Dr Herman vs Hermans of the Peruvian gold trust – the gold came from Mars, Monca's turf. LM Nada that tries to get after that money will be 6' under.

Gerry: spoke to both Hermans, and with Russell Herman before he was abducted and returned,

- When he died, he gave his document to a group in CA, and has talked to folks from Peru who said the document exists – it's the same document as Bush Sr and the ? - the bond's value was at 21 figures – almost bankrupted – did not know it was galactic gold!

T: this is not the level it's at at all: the information is at 3D level and is only a little bit of the info

- it's way more than 40 figures – it IS NOT ABOUT THE MONEY! WE ARE GOING TO NO MONEY IN THE END – we cannot comprehend what 175 million years into the future is, or what losing 1/3 of the Milky Way Galaxy is about.

- The old, old dragons are very quiet, very trapped, very rabid – it was very presumptuous of Dove to think she could do what she thought she could do; goes back to 1996 when a dark angel got in and managed the personality and the old soul could not handle it – quite an event to have this happen, given the number of beings on the planet
- we are going into the Age of the 6th Sun where we are All One – gong back to what Dr Greer said: the final frontier is consciousness! Getting more and more important that we don't get caught up in the details – are to be working at the soul level.
 - What these ones are doing is waking us all up and Trump is a good example: they have a plan and may the best man win as per Oct1, 1979 when the horse race began to raise the souls with the whole of humanity: don't get caught up in the money – the only people who can receive money is those who have worked at the soul level – has to do with the weight of soul, the ascension frequency – rembmer: DON'T WORRY, BE HAPPY!

Gerry: about the contract – it was based on fertilizer between Peru and the US; the fertilizer was guano; the actual certificate is missing, and Russell Herman was a partner with Bush Sr – he wanted to help humanity, and Bush Sr said what you know is not good to do – he meant not to help humanity!

T: Bush Sr cut off Herman's arms, legs, head, etc and left the remains in the back of a pickup truck.

Gerry: now is able to connect the dots and see a better picture. Gary Holland of Arlington Heights, out side of Chicago, during the court proceedings, turned evidence – some people who did that got their money back.

T: the Bushes have never had any money at all: they are controlled from farther up. They are nazies and had their name changed when they went through Ellis Island.

- Trump is of the Dutch royals who are the ones who control Thyssen Chicken etc – Can you imagine bill and Hillary having the White House to themselves again? It's worse than having the Bushes back
- It is really about that they don't know how to get out of the trouble they are in – Keith O told Rama that Hillary is in so much trouble – she looks so calm because we don't know which clone is being used, and what program is being played.

Another caller:

R: when you play with the Club of rome and think you're on top, you end up in a coffin.

- About Jhimmy Carter and that the clone is cancer free: that does not mean he's out of the woods, just that he is OK at the moment. And they have the ability to kill him in any moment:
 - T said his energy is very thin as it is so close to his body; he told Rama not long ago, that he wants to announce to the world that he is the brother of JFK Sr

Caller: If this is a clone, how relevant is the aura and the other things?

- When you make a clone, you need an piece of the soul to do it; a hologram is different. Jimmy Carter is a master being and he found out he is a clone and is living his life to the hilt

Caller: respects his contributions - does not understand the clone part

Caroline Ocean Ryan: announced that John Trudell – the native american activist who was part of the Al catraz

R: knows about him; a native american poet – he marched on The Longest March in 1978 and 1987 when they want ot UN

- the FBI had a 17,000 page dossier on him! He is “extremly eloquent and therefore extremely dangerous” was what the CIA said. His family ended up dead in retaliation – house was on fire and they could not get out wive, 3 children, father in law – he was destroyed at some level; began writing, doing poetry; he was a survivor – managed to keep going – died 35 years to the day that we lost John Lennon.

T: now she brought up the date of Dec 8, the Immaculate Conception – Mary was Syrian; this is important when they are trying to kill Mary's people and eradicate them from the planet.

- We are being asked to pass the ultimate test, remain neutral and send love, and be aware of the sending of love and not
- Reads a small bit about the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, first observed by the eastern christian church as early as the 5th century in Syria – Dec 9th

T: a rich community of love we have, and all the folks here know what is about to hit the road with all of us here together!

RB: Gratitude for our ancestors – 7 generations back, and 7 generations forward! With this divine time and divine choreography, with all the planets in the universe lining up for the dance through the holiday season – a beautiful way! So much gratitude for the universe we live in. Everything on this planet is local, and galactic too.

Music: Rumi-Civilization & Poem of The Atoms- Armand Amar - Salar Aghili - English Lyrics

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IGgwzcbUx58>

Oh.. sun, do rise so the atoms dance
THE one who causes the earth and the heavens to dance

Joyful souls, in ecstasy, they dance
I whisper into your ears where it is that they dance

Inside the cell or out in the space
In the wilderness and in the air
Adore every atom that exists
Cause they, too, like us
Are befuddled and amazed

Whether in the state of keen pleasure
Or in the state of deep sorrow
Each atom,
By the ineffable sun,
Is mystified and perplexed ...

INFORMATION RELATED TO THE NOTES

2015-12-11 12:12 Golden Gateway ~ Solar Christ consciousness, resurrection phase, closure

Blessings Love Tribe

We are in for another form of manifested creation through the potential of the 12:12 Gateway. For a few days now I have been seeing the first glimpses of that gateway which is a Golden Light entering our spheres and our consciousness. A welcomed gift many will appreciate and so will it inspire many of the Love Tribe to continue and hold on to their mission.

The Love Tribe has been going through phases of waking up to certain illusions which have been strongly held before and so a new phase of clarity will show you the way as the Golden Light enters in a new format during the 12:12 gateway.

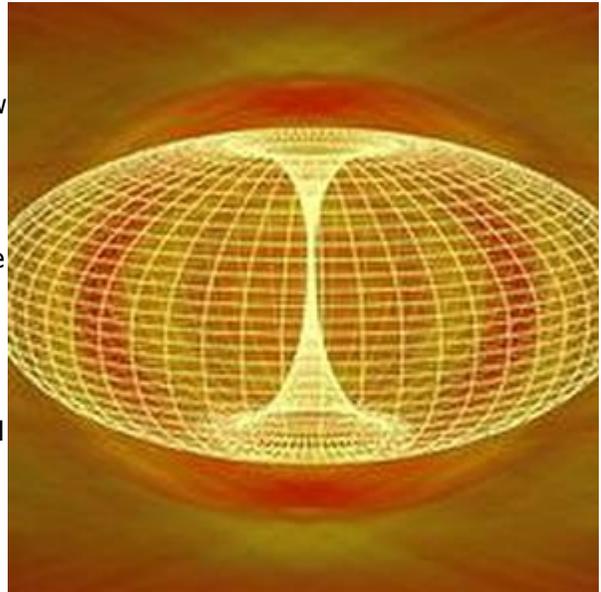

This implies keeping many things in mind and remembering them as you gaze upon this new wave of Golden fabrics. There is a matrimonial phase held in this gateway passage that holds the unique keys to enlightenment and to the upliftment of mankind's infinity. This means that a resurrection of this Divine infinity shall find a way through all of your skeletal structures, your bones and your bloodstream to infuse them all with this Golden Light.

In other words, this is another gateway of holding the light intent for new structures of Light and crystallizing already existing structures to another platform and different vibration. The intel on this mission is clear and simple: keep things in your minds and in your hearts very clear, to the point, detailed but simple. What you are receiving here is another beautiful opportunity through this gateway to hold your heartfelt intentions and to bring new furniture to your sacred houses. The houses are becoming temples and you are transforming these into Temples.

A further phase will be that even the furniture shall not be needed anymore and that all you will come to bring in will be pure light and consciousness on whatever level you can be by heart.

This Golden Gateway shall point out as an existing force within the matrimonial field of existence into Being. Another level of merging on different Dimensions and therefore one that can only be held by heart and experienced through the heart. That is your role, your mission and your intent once more: to keep things balanced and to give a way for these beautiful forces to come about and be anchored in your world.

Yet what is being added as a message is that those who are willing to do the gate-keeping work shall have new glimpses and adventures of an already new world in the making. This new world is only in the making within your own defined mind but already existing and formed as a fact in your own true heart. Gate-keeping shall be important in this Now and will assist in the closure of this year that has almost come to an end within the planetary cycle of 1 year.

Referring to those who are willing and open to see behind the veils of separation: you will have remarkable changes and new seeds being created within you during this gateway which will lead you onto a path of manifestation of these seeds later on in the next year. Fruition is what comes to mind when I think of it.

This Golden Light is not only amplifying already activated gate-keeping work but will also infuse the light grids with lots of new potential to arise. It only takes the willingness to be open for it and receive. It does not matter when or how this will come to unfold for you, what is important is to stand your ground on Earth and to take it all in while knowing you are one with the Universe.

Golden pillars of Light shall enter your realm and further activate the Solar Christ consciousness within. New formulas of the body cells shall be available and thus the reforming of the physical body continues as the Light body within yourself expands and starts to shine from the inside out.

The Gateway of 12:12 holds you in its womb for a while as it takes you with her for a specific duration of time until it decides to release its hold. This is so because there lies an importance within the creating in the womb of this Gateway itself. It is the Birth of your Solar Christ consciousness within the totality of your Being right here on Earth, and the Golden Light takes you in and through this recreational process. I call it a recreational process because it is a level of consciousness which is experiencing itself and making something different out of this experience. Traveling to new levels which abound in light.

Keep your eyes close to your own body and heart at this time. In other words keep your focus and attention where it is necessary to Be present. The Solar Christ is experienced and only born through you and nothing else. Keeping your eyes elsewhere shall bring you more of the truth of what you already know and just make things clearer than they already are concerning your external world. You already know what is finished and what is not, therefore spend some quality time within you at this time and let it all be found and unfold from within you as the gateway shall speak through you and deliver a song that is best for your heart for this moment.

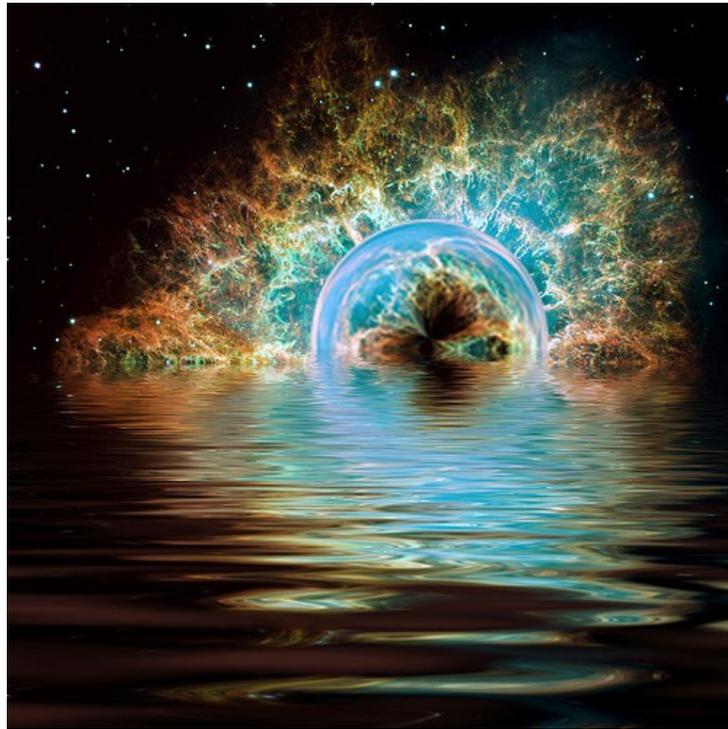

Having trust in your gate-keeping work is of paramount importance! For you are the crucial builders of this new world and the ones which hold the bridges available and accessible for others to travel over and receive those same glimpses as well. We, all of us together, want to treasure and cherish this moment by heart.

Happy Golden Gateway to you all

2008-07-09 The Moors: Navigators of the Celestial Ship of the North and Al Khem-Muria

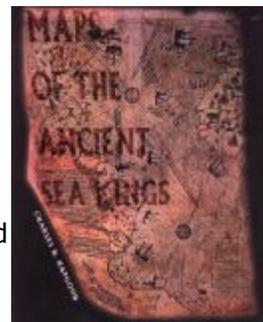

"Their dominion and inhabitation extended from North-East and South-West Africa, across great Atlantis even unto the present North, South, and Central America and also Mexico and the Atlantis Islands; before the great earthquake, which caused the great Atlantic Ocean." – Noble Drew Ali

The ancient North African/ Proto-Saharan region stores treasure of the Moor's ancient past when that region of Africa was bountiful with paradise-like scenery, beautiful greenery and colorful plant life. The Atlas Mountains were surrounded by water as suggested by the name Atlas. The "Atl" signifies water in ancient languages (i.e. Nahuatl) which gave rise to bodies of water and place names like Atlantis, Atlan, Atlanti and Atlantic. In connection with what is now called the Saharan Desert, we will find a great link with the ancient cultures that once governed that area and flourished as a high level of civilization.

The Sahara ("The Great Desert") is the world's largest hot desert and the world's second largest desert after Antarctica covering over 3,500,000 square miles. It stretches from the Red Sea to the outer bounds of the Atlantic Ocean. The name originally derives from the original Tuareg (Moors) who are known indigenously as the "Imazighen" meaning the "Free Men". The Tuareg are also known as the Blue Men of the Sahara and are identified as the "Fremen" in the Dune novels and movies written by Frank Herbert.

The Sahara region has a rich history that veils the ancient technology and advance science possessed by the Moors of the days of old. The spiritual system that was developed by the people of this region was of Primordial Moorish influence. This is evidenced by scientific discoveries that were found around a former lake that existed in North Africa around 9000 to 10,000 years ago. This is further supported by facts that include other Saharan cultures that resemble the cultures of Khem, Nubia and ancient Sudan (Kush). During the olden period, two great bodies of water existed in this area. These aquatic bodies were known in ancient times as the Triton Sea and the Triconis Lake. The Triton Sea is documented in the book entitled, "The Chotts of Tunis, Or, The Great Inland Sea of North Africa in Ancient Times." The term Triton is associated with Poseidon, the Trident symbol and the planet Neptune which are all associated with the control and navigation of the sea and also with the esoteric symbology of the fish. Poseidon is identified with Neptune and represents the personification of Atlantis. In mythical lore Neptune was called the grandson of Uranus and became a symbol of Atlantean Spirituality. Astrologically, Neptune is associated with water signs, the feminine side of nature and the Moon. Triton, the son of Poseidon, is represented as a man above the waist and a dolphin below the waist. This symbol was placed into the constellations as the sea-goat: Capricorn.

From a geological standpoint, the great and ancient Triton Sea was located in the now Libyan desert as early as 9000 B.C. The prehistoric appearance of a great lake in Libya has recently been supported by satellite images of the Eastern Desert which indicate that a lake was located in the Qattara depression of northwest Egypt. 10,000 years ago rain dense conditions existed in the Saharan region which led to the creation of numerous river beds now buried under sand along with other temple and pyramid structures. Due to the abundance of streams, rivers and lakes in the Primordial Saharan region, men who were knowledgeable about navigation and agriculture and that could harness the powers of water were considered Masters and great Scientists.

During this ancient time of Primordial Sahara, these Super Scientists were the grand Asatic fathers and mothers of Continental Africa, the Americas, Ancient India, and the middle eastern fertile crescent region inhabited by the Phoenicians, Assyrians and the Sumerians. Today we call this Primordial Saharan civilization the "Fertile African Crescent", because the highland regions formed a crescent shape across the Saharan region of middle Africa. These ancient masters were a seafaring nation and have been called the Atlantides or Altean Serpents of Wisdom. It has been stated that the primordial Moors of Ancient North Africa traded and traveled the great Atlantic when North Africa contained within its borders a large body of water known as the Triton Sea. The Triton Sea is referenced in "The Histories" of Herodotus, this great sea was bordered on the West by the Atlas Mountains and populated by a number of small islands. It has also been noted by occultists that the Moors inhabited several islands and created civilizations on these islands. One particular island was chosen to serve as a base for a mystery university because its three centrally located mountains formed a trident, a classic Moorish symbol which again is hidden in Greek mythology and veiled in stories about Poseidon, his son Atlas and the planet Neptune.

The ancient Moors also established ports in other parts of North Africa, but after catastrophic events, the Triton Sea was drained. The Moors later established settlements in various parts of North Africa including the Ahaggar Mountain range of Southern Algeria and the North African lowlands. Today, these regions of the Atlas Mountains and the Ahaggar Mountains contain hidden caverns with treasures of the Atlantean Civilization which have been confirmed and written about by European authors, i.e. L. Taylor Hansen in the book "The Ancient Atlantic." The ancient Moors further established colonies in and around the present day Tyrrhenian Sea. These people of this region would be later known as the Phoenicians who settled in a region called Canaan as evidenced in the Armana letters which were found in Egypt. Noble Drew Ali reminds us of this connection by first establishing the old Canaanite Temple in New Jersey.

The people who lived during this time of High Civilization created a federated system which maintained equal rights and liberties among both women and men. Women created agriculture and men engineered civilization. The evidence of the (sub-conscious) agricultural knowledge can be seen in the braided hair styles (i.e. corn rows) and patterns on African cloth, all representing the science of agriculture. Never-the-less, the term "Ma" appears in the languages spoken by the descendants of Primordial Sahara which denote both "mother earth" and "natal land mass". The female seafaring Moors were identified with the goddess entity Neith who is strongly associated with stories of Atlantis and also linked to the snake headed goddess Medusa who also is associated with Poseidon. Again, this leads to the planet Neptune, the Sea, the Deluge and the symbology of the fish.

The Primordial Saharans claimed descent from the Maa (Mu) Confederation or the Confederation of the Fish. The Maa Confederation included the Egyptians, Dravidians, Manding, Sumerians and Elamites which all later became known as Moors. In honor of the great ancestor: Maa, they worshipped a god called: Amun/ Amon. Amun being the deity representing the flowering life force which is hidden and established in the primordial ocean (waters) of consciousness. In honor of this great deity, the descendants of the Primordial Saharans used the term Ma, to denote greatness or highness, e.g., Manding "Maga," Dravidian "Ma" and Gara-Ma-nde (Garamates). Other tribes claimed direct descent from the great Maa, founder of the Confederation of the Fish. For example, the Manding call themselves Ma-nde: children of Ma, while the Sumerians were called Ma-Gar-ri (exalted God's children).

However, the ancient Maa Confederation also finds itself intimately connected to the astrological cosmos as scientists of that time always remained in order and alignment with the times and the heavens. All ancient myths and allegories were created by Asiatics who dealt with the principalities of both Earth and the Cosmos. These Asiatics were highly spiritual and in-tune with forces that created their reality. Thus the creation of meta-physical science which would be veiled in spiritual text as Astro-Theology.

The Primordial Saharans shared place names and this is evidenced by discoveries made by Dr. Vamos-Toth Bator. Dr. Vamos-Toth Bator, calls these shared place names of the ancient civilization and root culture: Tamana. The term Tamana can be interpreted in the Elamite, Manding, Magyar and Dravidian languages as "Place of Strength", "Stronghold" or "Original Settlement". The term Tamana is found in over 24 countries and is one of over 1,000,000 place names Dr. Vamos-Toth has found which link Africa, Asia, and Europe. The term Tamana, was a popular place name with the Primordial Saharans, as they expanded out of the nucleus of the Saharan region. There also appears to be a connection with the various Primordial Saharans as their writing system was used by Dravidians in the Indus Valley, the Manding in the Western Sahara, and the Egyptians in the Eastern region of the ancient fertile African crescent: Sahara.

It has been noted that although the Dravidians, Manding and Sumerians lived in different environments and climates, they used the same terms to denote the earliest elements of civilization. These terms show little phonetic divergence. Moreover, these terms are mutually intelligible. This shows that the speakers of these languages came from a common ancestral language.

The early contact between the Dravidians, Manding and Sumerians in the ancient Saharan region led to great resemblances in the area of the cultural vocabulary. This is particularly evident in the affinity between culture terms referring to the Proto- civilization of the speakers of these languages. The Primordial Saharans were great sailors and navigators. They used celestial navigation to make long voyages. The Proto-Saharans also used boats called "kalam." Many of the long distance voyages made by the Primordial Saharans were made in search of precious metals as they were excellent metal workers. These facts are veiled in Masonic lore about the grand metal workers that developed masonry and the mystery of Tubal-Cain and Pan. All linked to Atlantis and the age of the "Navigators."

Such men were recognized as the great ancestors. For example in Sumeria and Egypt gods were described as "reed-boat navigators". In Egypt some of these great deities associated with the "reed boats," "Ship of the North" or the "Ark of Life" included Thoth, Osiris and the great mother Typhon (the celestial waters of the Abyss, the mother of the Beginnings, the Water Horse, the Zodiac). This is supported by both Dravidian and Egyptian traditions and is seen in the symbology on ceiling of the temple of Denderah. In ancient Egyptian tradition Ptah, came from the Sahara below Egypt in Kush. He found Egypt inundated , so he performed great works of dyking and land reclamation so the land was more habitable. The first avatar, Tirumal of the Dravidians is regarded as a fish. Tirumal, is the same as Vishnu of Sanskrit scripture, another name for this god is Mayan and Mal. According to references in the Bhagavata Purana, a fish who is identified with the first sage of Dravidian lore. Moreover, it is interesting to note that the sages of the Dravidians were also called Vellalar "lords of the flood." These sages earned these titles because of their skill in navigating the floods and in storing water for agricultural purposes. Hence the association to the story of Noah, a great navigator who is also identified as a fish in many Moorish related cultures. It has also been noted in esoteric text that the story of Noah represented the survival of a race from Atlantis and their re-population in Africa and the Americas.

Early spiritual symbols of the Primordial Saharans included a serpent and the sun. In Egypt and Kush, both Amon and Kush were depicted as heavy melanated olive toned figures. The Kushites also worshipped a "lord of the mountains", which is analogous to Murugan, a Dravidian god in India. In India, Khrisna, Mal ,Vishnu, and Kali were usually depicted as dark olive toned deities. In Egypt, these deities were pictured together in an Ark, the Ark of Sothis or the Ark of Life.

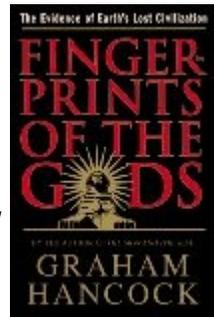

Many of the Primordial Saharan beliefs originated during the wet African Aqualithic period. As a result their great ancestors whom they referred to as "Fish" or "reed-boat navigators", Maa became the common terminology for these ancient and wise men and women. In the languages of the Manding, Maa is used to refer to the ancient inhabitants of the African continent (Maars), and the invisible spirit who inhabits the water courses. Hence the development of the word Maar or Moor in relation to navigation. The Ancient inhabitants of the fertile crescent deeply honored the great Maa.

The Primordial inhabitants of the fertile crescent used the ox with the sun disc between the horns as the symbol of their God, prior to it being associated with Hathor. This god, again, represented Amon of the Dravidians, Egyptians and Manding speaking people. This use of a ram god, with different names among the various groups indicate that the ancient Moors worshipped the same religion: the all encompassing hidden deity; however, outwardly represented by the solar disk (MHK 35:2). For example among the Dogon of West Africa, the god Amma is a ram. In Yoruba Amon, means concealed the same as in Egyptian."

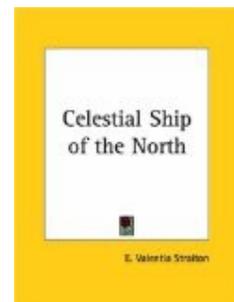

Before the Egyptians conquered Greece the worship of Amon had already been established in the region. It was the Garamante Manding speaking tribe, another group of Moors, who took Amon worship to Greece. Moreover the Manding concept of N'ama as a dynamic spirit among the other Mande tribes point to an earlier worship of Amon, before the Mande re-organized their spiritual system under Islam. The Bambara call their ancestral god Nia, this has affinity to the Greek term for the Libyan god called Neith. The goddess Neith or Athene was known by many names. According to Greek traditions the father of Athene or Neith was Poseidon.

The identification of Poseidon, with a boat (i.e., a boat on the ocean is like a mountain on the sea) suggest that Poseidon, is another name for the Fish, that showed Maa the boat that saved mankind from the ancient great flood. Obviously, a connection with the biblical deluge and the grand navigator Noah. The identification of the trident (which also has affinity to the serekh sign of kingship in Egypt and Ta-Seti), and the Fish emblem of the Pandyan Kings show the spread of the Maa worship from Middle Africa to India. The agreement of Poseidon's name Potidan with Pandyan suggest that this entity was popular among the Dravidians.

The Dravidians are the descendants of the Harappan people. In the neither world of the Harappans there was a place called "lapis lazuli mountains".The Dravidian speakers founded the Harappan civilization and wrote the Indus Valley seals. The miners from the Indus Valley controlled the lazurite ores of Badakhshan and Afghanistan. The Dravidians exported these metals to Mesopotamia. Lapis lazuli is found in metamorphic limestone or dolomite. Lapis lazuli was a central factor in Dravidian colonization of Central Asia.

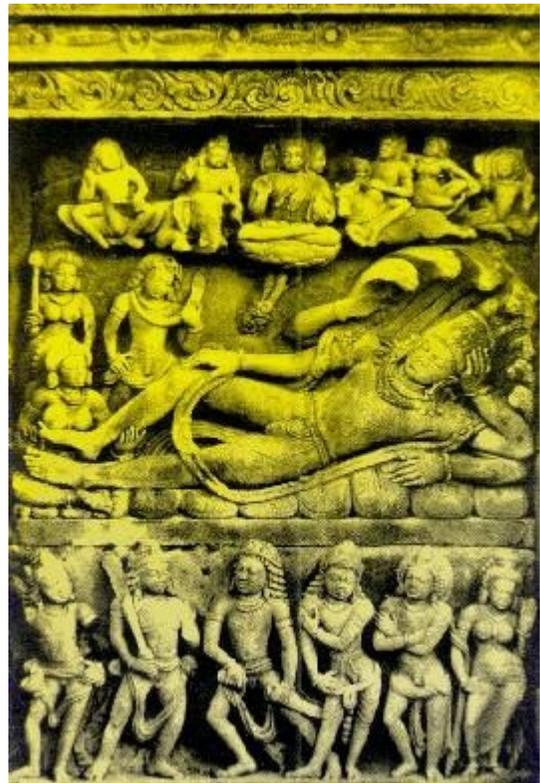

The possible ancient exile of people from Sumer to Proto-Dravidian sites would explain the genetic unity of the Sumerian and Dravidian languages. Interestingly, the Sumerians called themselves proudly sag-gigga "the dark headed people". In Tamil gig, means dark(ness). This points to analogy between Sumerian and Dravidian. During the reign of King Asoka, of India the Dravidians were called Kalinka, which appears to be an evolute of Sumerian (sag) gigga . The Sumerians obtained lapis lazuli from the Harappo-Dravidians. The identification of Poseidon, with a "wooden mountain" or boat (i.e., a boat on the ocean is like a mountain on the sea) suggest that Poseidon was aslo popular among the Proto-Dravidians. The identification of the Fish, with Maa and Manu, suggest that while the Fish or Poseidon was the inventor of boats, Maa or Manu built dams that controlled the water levels in areas settled by the fertile crescent inhabitants where they cultivated their crops. It is interesting to note that when Eudoxus of Cyzicus visited the coastal regions of Kush, he called this area Posidonius. This is interesting because the ancient people of Abyssinia and Somalia, were said to be Ichthyophagi, who worshipped the god Poseidon a more ancient form of an ancient people and not a single person of deity. Poseidon represents the Atlantean Moors that survived each paradigm shift and deluge to create and re-engineer civilization.

The mountains in the Saharan regions, called Atlas Mountains, are located on the northern edge of Africa. The "Daughters" of Atlas include the Hesperides, Atlantides, Atlantis, etc. This surely indicates where the Atlas family (inc. Atlantis) were regarded as being located, namely to the west of the Pillars/Straits in the ocean sharing its name with Atlas, Atlantes, Atlantis, Atlantides, etc.

Yet another set of "Daughters" are the Pleiades best known as a star-system. As they appear on the horizon, they are taken to indicate the start of the ploughing season for farmers, the start of the sailing season for sailors, the start of the fishing season for fishermen, etc. Pleiades coming from Greek pleien (Sailing-stars) is to be put alongside the consistently western linkage given to the Atlas "family" seen to include the Pleiades. Underlining all this, is the actual location of Mount Atlas. However, cosmologically, Pleiades represent the conceptive powers of the cosmos in embryonic receptivity to the birth of light. Moreover, Merope, the lost Pleiad is connected to the mortal man symbolizing the conceptiveness of the cosmos made manifest on Earth. The seven stars of Pleiades, also associates with the Dravidian seven Rishis, is sometimes known as the "Commander of the Celestial Armies" who was astrologically the planet Mars, to whom they gave the name Karttikeya. Krittikas was the Sanskrit name for Pleiades, the daughters of Atlas.

The several traits seen right across north Africa from Egypt to Morocco/Mauritania are added to by forms of boats and ships both earthly and celestial. There is a type of reed-boat that is referred to by Eratosthenes as ocean-going in the Indian Ocean. He also informs us that this was the standard Nile-River type and it is usually as having barely changed from the days of the Egypt-to-Punt trade. It probably attaches to what Winters describes as a desert-wide half-man/half-fish deity called Maa. There is also the resemblance that many writers compare with that of the earliest images of the Ark of the Covenant. In reduced size, it is likely to be represented by west Magrebi reed-boats called almady itself later applied to almadias (canoes) by the Portuguese.

This indicates that Siva was the god of a people that had conquered the worshipers of Mal (as bullock and fish) and also Murugan (who was symbolized by the Tiger) the god of the mountains. Siva's riding of the bullock, suggest defeat of the mother goddess (worshippers) and rise of a patriarchal clan system as a result of the many wars the Dravidians had to fight against the Indo-Europeans. Siva is also sometimes analogous to the fish god Maa or Mal. In South India, Siva is referred to as the "Great Fish", and is represented by Fish signs. Throughout Tamilnadu tridents are found in association with Siva temples. Among the Dravidians the god of youth is called Ku-Mara. Kumara is said to be the son of Siva. This Kumara is analogous to the Egyptian god Horus, the son of Osiris.

The ancient Asiatic empire was vast and was a global civilization of high science and social development. This ancient race of Els and Beys (Priest Scientists and Governors) were an enlightened people often known as the Cyclopeans as related to the active Pineal gland providing clear vision and in some adepts hyper-dimensional vision. These celestial missionaries were known by many ancient cultures as the Elders, Merus, Murus, Aramus, Amaru Muru and Moors. The Polynesians have myths of an advance people they call Merus who possessed flying machines and who built pyramids throughout the Pacific. These are the great ancestors of Mu and Atlantis: the navigators of the celestial ship of the north and the empire of Al Khem-Muria.

The above image was taken from ceiling beams of a 3000-year old Temple located several hundred miles south of Cairo and the Giza Plateau at Abydos.

2015-12-11 Oracle Report

Friday, December 11, 2015

New Moon Phase: begin, initiate

Moon in Sagittarius

Goddess of Wisdom: Tara and Dhumavati

God of Will/Desire: Elias - God of the West, God of Transformation

Skill: take time to see and plan ahead

True Alignments: the spirit of renaissance, evolution of understanding/learning, unbound, childlike wonderment within a mature mind, motivation, enthusiasm, bending time, things that are ahead of their time, leadership, providing assistance, contemplation, warmth

Catalysts for Change: feeling or need to be in total control, diving into something before thinking, moodiness, unacceptable, showing off, facades. hopelessness, self-denial, refusing to learn/arrested development, restrictions

Sabian Symbol for the Solar-Lunar Month: "in winter, people cutting ice from a frozen pond for summer use" (time; seeing and planning ahead)

Sabian Symbol for the Solar-Lunar Year: "the music of the spheres" (recalibration/ re-tuning of consciousness)

Happy New Moon! In lieu of a written report today, I am instead recording a brief overview of the new lunar month. Stand by for that. In the meantime, here are a couple of things I will cover:
