DS As Mission Strategist
Wednesday, August 15th from 2 to 5 p.m.

This three-hour interactive session will be led by Dottie Escobedo-Frank and Joe Daniels, two former district superintendents from the Desert Southwest Annual Conference (Western Jurisdictions) and Baltimore-Washington Conference (Northeastern Jurisdiction) respectively, who used mission strategy as the basis for their superintendency. In this gathering of incoming or recently appointed superintendents, Dottie and Joe will:

- * engage in “real talk” about the superintendency
- * discuss and facilitate discussion on what’s needed now in the superintendency to really make mission strategy work.
- * look at how mission strategy can strengthen and guide the typical district superintendent seasonal year.
- * take a deep dive into mission strategy, what it truly involves, and models for how DSs can make it happen in their districts
- * offer time for inspiration and reflection and open conversation.

We hope that all interested district superintendents will come and join us during this time!
