

Time to Believe

The meaning of Christmas, this poem's about
Can be a tough thing to try and work out
It doesn't come easy as even something this big
Can lose its true meaning until you look underneath.

Is it the presents, the tree or the dinner?
Is it about the Monopoly winner?
Is it traditions and families together?
Or is it about a change in the weather?

While Christmas is full of all the above
The original plan can be forgotten by us
So let's take a moment and save the applause
To give thanks to a hero who started it all

He didn't fly round with a cape and a mask
But at Christmas we find him beginning his task
For God became man and that's why we sing
To remember a baby, a saviour, a king

So think about Christmas and what does it mean
For the truth is worth knowing and it's time to believe.
