

1.) Our students can't always relate to , math concepts we're teaching.

2.) We teach other ways of reaching correct math answers.

3.) Calculators get in the way — or not?
— sometimes necessary.

4.) Drawing pictures to allow students to understand the concept of dividing fractions — or "eating leftover brownies" ...