

Parenting Beyond Belief

A Half-day Workshop with Author and Educator Dale McGowan

Raising Children Without Theistic Religion

Learn how to effectively:

- ➔ Encourage religious literacy without indoctrination
- ➔ Help kids interact productively with a religious world
- ➔ Help kids develop active moral reasoning, weigh church-state issues in the public sphere, address sensitive issues with religious relatives using the principles of nonviolent communication
- ➔ Help children develop a healthy understanding of death and a joyful love of life
- ➔ Build a family atmosphere of fearless questioning and boundless wonder

Newsweek called Parenting Beyond Belief a "compelling read" and it topped the Amazon Parenting Best-Seller list for 30 weeks.

“ Rather than being non-believers, humanists have always known that they are in possession of a rich array of values - a respect for human dignity, a strong commitment to justice, an abiding compassion for others, reverence for nature and a sense of responsibility for our own destiny and the destiny of humankind. These are values that we cherish and which we lovingly pass on to our children.

Dale McGowan's book and his seminar will help point the way.”
