

Coaching & Mentoring
NETWORK

OXFORD
BROOKES
UNIVERSITY

OBCAMS NETWORK EVENT

10th June 2015

The future of coaching and mentoring: evolution, revolution or extinction?

A collaborative inquiry initiated by OBCAMS, AMED & the Coaching & the Mentoring Network
(Please note that relevant articles will be available to download in advance)

- 10.00 am: Registration and coffee
- 10.30: Welcome and Introductions: Elaine Cox, Pauline Willis and Bob MacKenzie
- 11.00: Parallel group 1 – A facilitated discussion on the theme of why forecasting is problematic based on Kim Stephenson’s article ‘Coaching in an uncertain and complex future’
- Parallel group 2* – Facilitated discussion on the theme of leadership coaching and ‘post-conventional’ leadership, initiated in ‘New coaches needed: Evidence of vertical learning required’
- Parallel group 3* – Facilitated discussion on the theme of systemic approaches, inspired by Peter Hawkins’ exploration of challenges for 21st century coaching, and the consideration of systemic approaches such as the Deming Scholtes’ approach highlighted by Kelly Allan.
- 12.00: Plenary feedback on parallel group sessions
- 12.30: Lunch, Poster Sessions and Networking
- 2.00: Parallel group 4 – Facilitated discussion on the theme highlighted by Lawrence White & Bill Osmond of how coaching is evolving in response to trends within the wider context of the learning and development ‘industry’.
- Parallel group 5* – Facilitated discussion on the theme of neo-feudalism and surveillance in coaching and mentoring, championed by Bob Garvey, incorporating the issues raised by Vikki Brock, plus development of supervision models, including super-vision proposed by Julie Hay.
- Parallel group 6* – Facilitated discussion on the theme highlighted by David Doughty on corporate governance and the role of coaching and mentoring.
- 3.00: Refreshment break
- 3.30: Reflection on key themes: open space sessions to gather new and meta-themes, and for a summary of learning to share with the wider community.
- 4.30: Plenary: Critical collaborations for the future - what’s next?
- 5.15: Close