HARD NEWS

T: Rama had quite an adventure on Tuesday

Caller: had he received what was sent? Just today – thank you.

- all the energies pouring into this little sector of the solar system: so much going on that is so magnificent and this planet uplifting itself from the maya that has gone on for so long
  - at the same time, the 13 families are flat busted broke and they cannot start a nuclear war
  - Ashtar has assured Rama face-to-face: no nukes
- NATO has so many boots on the ground: THERE ARE NO RUSSIANS ON THE GROUND IN UKRAINE – Putin is not interested in having a war.
  - There are folks in NATO and others in the military in the US who want to get a war going
  - the Euro cannot survive the deal which is being put out - a doomed currency! It was created to take everything down; pretty much followed the formula which has created their own demise – Keynesian economics and austerity do not make sense – no economy has ever succeeded in rising past austerity
- China lost 30% of their market in one day! Seems they made a miraculous turn around today
- Puerto Rico is bankrupt: have to come up with $2 BILLION
- 40% of Greece's children are malnourished due to not having enough of what is needed
  - Greece did not do this: Hank Paulson did it by putting all the wealth of Greece into hedge funds, and the leaders of Greece at the time did the bidding of the 13 families – put the money in their pockets!
  - The 13 families are running their own tape loop. . .
- On Tuesday [7th] R set up his crystal platform and his cell phone battery; got the sense to get horizontal on the ground and call the energies in and put his crown chakra where the crystal energies were coming in – seemed like only a few seconds.
  - Then he found himself on a dirt road on the back side of the mountain – it's gorgeous there; he was in the driver's seat and Tom the Cat was in the passenger seat – all 12' of him
  - Tom had bilocated Rama to where they were able to talk in private; he had an ipad which had the abilities of a universal translator; R saw LM Nada talking live to an audience, discussing the upcoming frequency shifts with earth and our sector of the Milky Way Galaxy as things increase
  - it was a holographic image showed up on the ipad of her on Saturn and the live Solar Tribunal council meeting on Saturn, discussing how earth takes the next quantum leap in evolutionary consciousness
    - As the astrology is saying right now, as Jupiter moves to 28 * Leo and in the first 10 days in August we could see strong energies for earth changes
    - There could be some internal flooding in southern 1/3 Florida - it is coming up from the bottom as the land mass of the southern 1/3 of the land mass is sinking
    - From now until August and into Sept, the energies will exponentially increase again in magnitude and frequency
    - Let us remember that the first law of love is to be calm, to breathe and meditate, give equal time to the spirit of the age we are in
- Sept 23, 24th – Mars will be at 0* , This is now the degree of Regulus the Virgo is the sign of the goddess energy, a 2, 160 year cycle, of Virgo, the goddess - started on July 11, 1991 – to 4, 151 AD
  - we have been slowly integrating love energy into the planetary sphere
- the gist of the message is that the focus is on the new day – the old day is going adios;
  - we are actually living in the age of the 6th sun, beyond our original time of the fortunate fall where before that moment of the fall, we actually lived in the 6th dimensional earth and we fell to a 3rd dimensional earth;
  - we chose to experience this what it would be like to live in 3D; we have found out it has taken a long, long time to raise the vibration of earth to what it is now
  - Tom closed the vortex into the Council meeting going on on Saturn; by the time Rama had put things away, Tom had vanished.
- The way Tom left it: as the energies continue to increase in magnitude and frequencies
  - focus on positive stories; see the deeper messages coming from the peoples' hearts right in the middle of all the news - truth, simplicity, and love – see the goddess in all; for it is in giving that we receive; this is the way of the goddess

- He also said "Go Bernie! Very soon we are going to see Bernie bringing in uplifting messages from the masters on Venus as this is his planet of origin." And that Bernie knows Valiant Thor very, very well as they are in regular contact.

- Nada was dressed in her white and purple robes in her role of the Head of the Tribunal
- this IS REALLY HAPPENING – NOT IMAGINATION!

- The little glitch of yesterday [Sept 8] at N Y Stock Exchange, United Airlines, the Wall Street Journal: it was not Anonymous, but a little galactic taste for the 13 families of something coming they don't want to look at – basically showing them they are not in charge

AR: comments about watching out for another war

T: they want to stir up a hot war in the Ukraine

AR: Russia will be deeply affected by this – it could be a re-occurrence of the US spy plane that was knocked out of the skies

R: this story about Russia: when full disclosure happens, the truth will come out about Putin and some of the agencies in Russia that have had to play dirty games; they are in contact with 5 different cultures – they do not want war; it is only the Khazarians playing the Babylonian money games who want that.

T: KOS talked about bringing this down to earth about NESARA; the Faction 2 reporting about N and how it came into play is not what really happened. They didn't want to go where we need to go – just like the report of a "glitch"

- She reads the Faction 2 version & the sentence is about the 15 members
- the 13th amendment in its original form says one cannot take titles of nobility if they want to work in the US; British soldiers destroyed the copies in War of 1812 because it prevented anyone with ties to the Crown of England from holding office
- Yes, there were 15 individuals putting - the 15th was Senator Barack Obama of Illinois who was in on it. Since he was 18, he's been the 9th Council member of the Sirian Council of Nine – goes to every meeting of the council by shuttle craft.
- The REAL STORY IS THAT The ENTIRE CONGRESS went to an undisclosed location – it was on KOS' star ship which he has had since 1999. All of them were there; the White Knights had their phasers out and said "you will sign this bill, won't you?" - it was the 250 page document.
  - St Germain was present; he gave a little speech about being held accountable and you are aware that this is a galactic operation; those of you involved with intergalactic war crimes
- this has been brought to our attention at this time because things are about to change. No other program has any relevance at the time: this planet is being rebooted into the new dimensions

To read material he has written on the same subject: go to the website, then to Vital Health News Archives: look for the articles titled "The Blessing Transformation" and "Emotion Packed Imagery"

- we are coming to the conclusion of a major cycle; starting Oct 1, the instability, the chaos around the world – regime changes
- between now & Sept 1, some radical changes could take place
  - to be sure the path of the planet moves constructively is what this group is about
  - he has been searching all his life for the most effective way to make a difference

Inner healing is the subject for tonight

- will reveal a method he has found that can have permanent transformation in one or two minutes

Phrases to write down and keep beside you: the phrases can be applied to anything and everything we want to improve in our life no matter what it is.

This method allows us to experience improvements and complete resolution at some point, if not right away, in the way we feel

- this will compel us to take more constructive actions in addressing physical health problems or addressing our expectations of what might be happening including negative emotions

Background

He came in with lots of challenges – emotionally, physically, mentally, spiritually

- By combining an affirmation with an in-depth principles of life and phrases constructed to address issues at deep levels, and completely embracing the truth that life is a mirror and that what we see is an aspect of ourselves, you are working with the memory and releasing it.

The phrases to write down

1. I own this reflection.

[a memory, something someone else does, whatever it is]
[you are taking responsibility by making this statement]

2. Is this who I choose to be?

[a memory, a person, we are older and wiser now - if it's still bothering us, it's an imprint, a belief system that is frozen in place because there is guilt, fear, & belief systems keep it anchored. The procedure can set you free. When you ask the question, you are giving it loving presence and the stuck imprints open when you ask the question – this stops the cycle that has been repeated over and over.

[don't answer the question intellectually: just notice the various places inside and feel something.

[when something outside of us comes and affects us, we are seeing ourselves come back to us so we can address it – when we see nothing but beauty and balance and harmony come back to us, it's because we are progressing; we have healed something; we are evolving.]

3. What is the True Nature of Life in moments like this?

[don't answer the question intellectually – just contemplate the TNL and the experience, as well – do this to merge the TNL into this moment – it's like bringing heaven to earth

[we are doing the opposite to what made us stay stuck – we were not willing to receive new insights as we are criticizing ourselves or others – we've done this “bad thing”

[we remember the unconditional]

4. I forgive this project of my inner self.

[not forgiving someone else because that makes them guilty – and they are not! They didn't mess up your life, you or they are not the victim: we are all one, so it is your responsibility – you forgive the projection of yourself and you will set yourself free – and breathe some more until you feel serenity or joy or gratitude for experiencing whatever it was – in that Oneness, all these experiences have their place

[all we experience is in alignment with our free will and our purpose – this is one of the Laws of Nature which governs all of us, whether we know it or not, or like it or not.]

unconditional innocence of all life

the infinite creative freedom within the boundaries of the Laws of Nature [free will] give Unconditional loving presence to things, and it heals

the exacting Laws of Nature

In reality, there is nothing to forgive [unconditional innocence of life: guilt, fear, shame are illusions]

Return to HARD NEWS:

T: Gives some background on Malala – has been travelling and speaking about education for girls

- Educating girls means the next generation is educated.
- This is making something positive out of an unfortunate experience.
- The young lady who climbed the pole in South Carolina and recited a verse that in the name of the lord as she was taking down the flag. She is multi-talented: created her own song for freedom; sang it a capella; devoted to educating women and girls about the ways to move forward and lead as the times are calling for.
- Thom Hartmann invites the most challenging characters on his show: had on David Duke, former head of the Ku Klux Klan & let him talk – seems General Robert E Lee was against slaves and freed them all;

  - Greg Palast was on Thom Hartman and said Germany has been cheating every day of the week; France is the same!
  - This in combination about the formation of the European Union – there was one man who created Reaganomics AND the euro! ROBERT MUNDELL – goes back to libertarianism

INFORMATION RELATED TO THE NOTES

2012-06-26 Robert Mundell, evil genius of the euro

Greg Palast [modified on 2014-10-06]

For the architect of the euro, taking macroeconomics away from elected politicians and forcing deregulation were part of the plan

John Maynard Keynes in 1944 at the UN International Monetary Conference in Bretton Woods, New Hampshire. Robert Mundell's work on the collapse of Bretton Woods paved the way for European Monetary Union. Photograph: Hulton Archive
The Hulton Archive

The idea that the euro has "failed" is dangerously naive. The euro is doing exactly what its progenitor – and the wealthy 1%-ers who adopted it – predicted and planned for it to do.

That progenitor is former University of Chicago economist Robert Mundell. The architect of "supply-side economics" is now a professor at Columbia University, but I knew him through his connection to my Chicago professor, Milton Friedman, back before Mundell's research on currencies and exchange rates had produced the blueprint for European monetary union and a common European currency.

Mundell, then, was more concerned with his bathroom arrangements. Professor Mundell, who has both a Nobel Prize and an ancient villa in Tuscany, told me, incensed:

"They won't even let me have a toilet. They've got rules that tell me I can't have a toilet in this room! Can you imagine?"

As it happens, I can't. But I don't have an Italian villa, so I can't imagine the frustrations of bylaws governing commode placement.

But Mundell, a can-do Canadian-American, intended to do something about it: come up with a weapon that would blow away government rules and labor regulations. (He really hated the union plumbers who charged a bundle to move his throne.)

"It's very hard to fire workers in Europe," he complained. His answer: the euro.

The euro would really do its work when crises hit, Mundell explained. Removing a government's control over currency would prevent nasty little elected officials from using Keynesian monetary and fiscal juice to pull a nation out of recession.

"It puts monetary policy out of the reach of politicians," he said. "[And] without fiscal policy, the only way nations can keep jobs is by the competitive reduction of rules on business."

He cited labor laws, environmental regulations and, of course, taxes. All would be flushed away by the euro. Democracy would not be allowed to interfere with the marketplace – or the plumbing.

As another Nobelist, Paul Krugman, notes, the creation of the eurozone violated the basic economic rule known as "optimum currency area". This was a rule devised by Bob Mundell.

That doesn't bother Mundell. For him, the euro wasn't about turning Europe into a powerful, unified economic unit. It was about Reagan and Thatcher.

"Ronald Reagan would not have been elected president without Mundell's influence," once wrote Jude Wanniski in the Wall Street Journal. The supply-side economics pioneered by Mundell became the theoretical template for Reaganomics – or as George Bush the Elder called it, "voodoo economics": the magical belief in free-market nostrums that also inspired the policies of Mrs Thatcher.

Mundell explained to me that, in fact, the euro is of a piece with Reaganomics:

"Monetary discipline forces fiscal discipline on the politicians as well."

And when crises arise, economically disarmed nations have little to do but wipe away government regulations wholesale, privatize state industries en masse, slash taxes and send the European welfare state down the drain.

Thus, we see that (unelected) Prime Minister Mario Monti is demanding labor law "reform" in Italy to make it easier for employers like Mundell to fire those Tuscan plumbers. Mario Draghi, the (unelected) head of the European Central Bank, is calling for "structural reforms" – a euphemism for worker-crushing schemes. They cite the nebulous theory that this "internal devaluation" of each nation will make them all more competitive.

Monti and Draghi cannot credibly explain how, if every country in the Continent cheapens its workforce, any can gain a competitive advantage.

But they don't have to explain their policies; they just have to let the markets go to work on each nation's bonds. Hence, currency union is class war by other means.

The crisis in Europe and the flames of Greece have produced the warming glow of what the supply-siders' philosopher-king Joseph Schumpeter called "creative destruction". Schumpeter acolyte and free-market apologist Thomas Friedman flew to Athens to visit the "impromptu shrine" of the burnt-out bank where three people died after it was fire-bombed by anarchist protesters, and used the occasion to deliver a homily on globalization and Greek "irresponsibility".

The flames, the mass unemployment, the fire-sale of national assets, would bring about what Friedman called a "regeneration" of Greece and, ultimately, the entire eurozone. So that Mundell and those others with villas can put their toilets wherever they damn well want to.

Far from failing, the euro, which was Mundell's baby, has succeeded probably beyond its progenitor's wildest dreams.
