Meditation: Rainbird

Mayan Calendar: Rainbird

We are in the wave of Akbal, the Knight – lots of opportunities to participate in our own abundance, knowing that we are under the protection of the Knight

15th May Thurs – 1 CIB – the yellow warrior energy; we are beginning a new wave yellow warrior –

16th Fri – 2 CABAN - a portal day; CABAN is the earth – pay attention to our relationships as we create planetary harmony

17th Sat – 3 ETZNAB – the mirror; people in our lives are mirrors for us; it is also the flint, a cutting tool – so we might be aware of something we might want to cut, get rid of – addictions, habits, re'ships

18th Sun – 4 CAUAC – the storm energy lighting clear thoughts; 4 is a building structure; a solid place to make changes

19th Mon – 5 AHAU – this day completes the unial; Ahau is cosmic consciousness that is transformative; and we move around the wheel and start it over again

20th Tues – 6 IMIX – this begins the zolkein wheel again; IMIX the dragon energy, Mother - begins the 11th unial which means only 60 more days in the harmonic module we are in

21st Wed - 7 IK – time to listen to inner guidance: the angels, ancestors, our own guides;listen for their messages on the 7, peak of the mountain; look for the winds of change & see it happening

22nd May Thurs 8 – akbal – another portal day; Akbal demands we take part & gives us the gift of learning in our dream time.

MR: reports from Annie Rose that the stress of the last while will be relieved due to the passing of the Cardinal Grand Cross energies

T: From Carl Boudreau:

There are a kite and a yod of god that are coming up in May; we will be super challenged yet the Yod of God and the kite are the energies behind the scenes: Carl Boudreau FINISH THIS

T: reads from Carl Boudreau – a new paradigm?

“This Yod is powerfully placed, too, tucked right into one of the Kite’s angles. It injects a concern for fairness and common sense into the the difficult and fateful proceedings.

= a New Paradigm?

On one level, May’s chart tosses an abundance of disruptive and divisive energies at us. At another level, it provides stabilizing, adaptive, supportive energies (the Kite) and an important additional focus (Yod) making sure that key issues are not glossed over.

The dynamic generated by this structure is hard to predict, control or distort. It’s inclusivity provides a multiplicity of voices that will act as an effective system of checks and balances. It has a progressive, conciliatory cast that would be very difficult to frustrate.

One also has to participate actively and earnestly on many fronts to have an influence on the outcome. A small, entrenched elite cannot rely on political inertia to preserve the status quo. Nor can a small army of lobbyists and paid political operatives counter the many facts and varied opinions flowing into the debate.

May's chart provides a robust alternative to polarization and confrontation. It is highly unlikely that we will allow a settlement that leaves the status quo in place on any count.

In the end, we are left wondering whether this constructive, transformative dynamic will become a permanent feature of our public life, and hoping that it will."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS: Tara and Rama

Caller: about the status of the Pope and the International Court of Justice

T: there are never, ever any dates – it is up to us! The pope is in the position of owning every square inch of real estate on the planet in the venue of the powers that were! They have never had any power, ever – it has always been an imposition of power, the programming, and the use of force like torture and killing which has been ordered - the arrangement is that the vatican orders everything that happens, or it does not happen – we often forget this!

- This is why the papacy has to be dismantled, along with everything else. We do this from the inside out, the bottom up: Where are the grass roots voices about this? The help we are getting is in the background coming from galactic energies and portals opening – and portals open when a small group does the spiritual work and calls it in.
- Chris Hayes [May 14] had on a picture of Antarctica from the sky; the western part is where the whole ice sheets are collapsing – 2-3 x the size of Texas – the colours were from orange to blood red [the colour of the degree of heat] ; also a large part in the centre where you could see the heat was disturbing the force fields. Tara's question was what are we going to do? Under both the north & south poles, there are millions of tons of methane gas and when it collapses and leaks into the ocean and is 100x more lethal than co2 emissions, and the ocean is the largest breathing apparatus the planet

From Rana Mu, Rama learned this: the galactics have a way to lighten up the density of the molecules of the ocean, the gas and of the molecules of our bodies; the result is the expansion of space so the rising of the waters is not happening. So what happens with those people who have not done their part and out of their rigidity continue to hold on to old beliefs, "values" - can you call racism a value?

R: Rachel was just talking about the operation called American Spring – ex-generals & colonels, co-called sovereign militia people who are on the wrong side of the tracks as they get their info from Rand Pual, Ron Paul, the KKK who are inspired by hatred for the black man in the white house: pointing loaded weapons at law enforcement officers is dangerous stuff and has ramifications.

- Related to what Tara is saying: On the higher levels, the frequencies pouring in with Buddha's birthday and what is being done in the Wesak Valley with all the masters meeting there – there is a chill across the planet which effects the vibrations.

As Rana Mu said: there is a chill in the air and it has to do with the frequencies coming in from the Galactic Centre; as we are moving closer and closer to the Galactic Centre, the western spiral arm of the Milky Way Galaxy is pulling in our solar system closer to the GC, a re-positioning of the solar system in conjunction with the upliftment of the plan.

T: in the middle east in the Gulf of Aden, the land is expanding from the floor of the ocean and ships from all nations were sitting there, watching. Things are happening and even when you listen to the status of the world from the science world, they do not have all the information

- Also there are many beings being moved to other planetary systems, and whatever needs to be erased from memories so that life can continue without that part interfering with the time-space continuum called free will choice is also going on; this is for the highest good of all concerned to happen here: When the frequencies of reducing the densities is happening, this also means the frequencies are too high for people who are not finished learning about the issues of separation as in Suzanne Lie's discussion. This gives us a lightening up experience so we can penetrate the densities because it is lighter, and we can move forward. So the galactics and that knowledge that we are so fortunate to have

- The situation of the vatican is as a peanut: the false religions hold no power, and this coming Monday is 11 weeks since the world's economy completely collapsed. R: the fake story is still going on - market is at 16, 040 something: it's a lie, a total joke – all smoke and mirrors as there are no assets backed by precious metals.

Magic Mary: fell and broke some ribs; in a care centre and out of this comes good things!

Her poem: Eash day is a blessing

Each day is a blessing to be sure,
A gift to be treasured so we can endure;
A time of being grateful every day because we can move, work and play.

We can help each other to have a good life;
We can create a planet without pain and strife.
We can evolve and transform, you see,
Allowing the birthing of a new world to be.

With much love from me
Magic Mary

T: the vatican can take a back seat; they can make their peace with Mother;

- when they erased, and the Vatican as Nazis did this, they erased the 520 years of the key period when Mother Sekhmet was in a body and teaching about school of the Right Eye and the Left Eye of Horus; they obliterated the feminine from her rightful place as an equal balancer of the masculine, and we are now in the extreme of that imbalance.

- When you are in the beginning cusp of a new age as we are now, we are planning for the next age; the next age is the Age of Capricorn, the Age of Ma'at, the age of Balance when the masculine and feminin are in balance:

- no more borders, no more reincarnation – it is already done, except for the special dispensation of those who have died since 9/11; other than that, the vast majority of the children coming in now have never been here before: the crystals and those coming after - this is a precious time: these kids are angels in the sense that angels only follow the oneness, with no negative karma.

- Whatever remnants of negative karma are here – the NESARA money is ours to receive, to be dealt with by the prophets and the world bridgers – we played like the others and we learned the hard way about balance due to the evolution of our spirit – we learned that if we played on the wild side, we are either not here or we learn our lesson pretty quickly: the darkness likes to reach out and pull on that energy

R: It pulls on that energy via enticements and enchantments, and the realm of free will choice – what are 30 pieces of silver among friends is the attitude of the dark ones, and it gets you right in Mother's face!

- Randi Rhodes is taking a 6 weeks hiatus [house in Florida & Costa Rica] and is in negotiation with XM Sirius radio and Oprah Winfrey; says she will show up one of these Sundays on Super Soul Sunday [Oprah's show] and will tell her story and drop names; she respects Bill Clinton but you have to watch him as he has fast hands; he's not as innocent as others want to make him out to be - talks about Kathleen Wiley whose husband was killed by Clinton when Kathleen testified in front of Kenneth Starr's court room – that very same morning, Clinton had her husband killed right behind their home! .

T: more stuff coming out about 9/11, the war criminals; Bush & Cheney did not show up at the museum opening

T: talks about Randi Rhodes saying that Oprah and Michelle are planning to run together as Pres and VP: the return of the goddess! And the return of the ancient ancient energy! Dennis K in Dep't of peace; Carolyn Kennedy as Sec of State; E. Warren too – need really evolved women in this administration. Chile is 50/50; US has 17 % women

R: Randi Rhodes played a tape of Oliver North who outright lied and said he was not indicted;

T: Thom Hartmann: why did Bush and Cheney not show up? And the body parts underneath of the museum: it's a repository, not a burial ground and those who need to, will continue to be use them for research which says things are not resolved.

MR: questions from listeners: 1. why did Bush and Cheney not show up at the opening of the 9/11 museum? 2. if we had our blood tested, would it be shown to be turning to crystal?

T: that's all relative to everybody: one test of the blood has already shown up with the children who had AIDS and in 5-6 years no longer have AIDS; and there are millions who no longer get sick.

R: their immune systems have risen to the level where they have a shield around them, and they are at a higher spiritual evolution; cannot be affected by viruses – has to do with consistency in spiritual work

T: only 2 paintings of Bush of himself: one in the shower, the other in the bath tub looking at his feet

- Thom Hartmann spoke of the psychological thing of washing the blood off, about guilt

- Thom Hartmann had a caller who wanted to see Santa Clara County vs Southern Pacific 1886 decision overturned; he said no. He is talking about corporations being people – in the 1886 decision, the corporations WERE NOT acknowledged to be people - it was the clerk's note in the head note where it was said corporations are people - the clerk note has no legal status.

T: we have to think about what we're going to do: receiving the money is only about stewardship for what we are going to do to raise the issues to change things and move from the left hand path to the right hand path

- the vatican is in the dust and was the money launderer for the fraud high economic treasons until 11 weeks ago this coming Monday & now it is in the dust; it is difficult to face things when we have no money.

T: Another caller during The Big Picture [Thom Hartmann]; he was a veteran and most people do not know that you are not automatically enrolled in VA health programs; vets have to buy insurance like everyone else & pay the price; there are 100s of thousands of families, children, adults, vets on the streets, completely homeless – living in sewers, underground, living in caves, in the mountains

R: people who are homeless in Santa Fe; Vets from the first gulf war with Gulf War Syndrome say the VA will not treat them as they have mental issues – they live in the hills and go to a shelter to get help.

T: the caller suggested, given that we don't want any more war any way, that every single soldier forget about the guns and learn how to build infra structure for agriculture, hospitals, schools, etc

R: the returning vets can get into a program in with horses and this helps them get over their trauma; The BLM is shooting horses from helicopters and is to blame as much as those who are “sovereign militia” types. [BLM – bureau of land management]

T: All they wanted to do in Nevada was frack which is not being talked about; most of the other people were thrown off their land

T: we are expecting a mega drought in the South West ; she saw a chart and Chris Hayes also had it up: the country was divided into what it looked like weather-wise; the entire SW was at 5% for this year and next; in southern California, it is over 100* - the kinds of fires seen there now are not usually seen until the fall.

MR: how much of the 5% is natural or unnatural / created because of climate.

T: COMPLETELY UNNATURAL because of what they have been doing - this is the first mass extinction that we are in the middle of that is human caused – due to the expanded use of fossil fuels –

- In 1964, Andrew [Metatron] and Janet [Neptha El Ra] met with the head of the Bowland Chemical Company who was looking for a new cleaner for his business; he showed Andrew a molecule of water that showed up in the course of his experiments. Andrew sent it to a friend at MIT who sent Andrew the results but said he'd never be able to print those results. This molecule became known to Joshua Stone and some others: when they made the product for cleaning boats and floors, no elbow grease was required to clean the bottom of the boats.

- The same molecule could take 1 part of oil and 1000 parts of the molecule and you could make oil that could run your car for ever – he was bridging the gap between OIL AND HYDROGEN – THIS WAS KNOWN IN 1956!
- Andrew went to the UN and created an oil fire in front of everyone; he threw the water molecule on the oil fire and it was out in a split second which means instead of pouring fire retardant from helicopters which gives everyone a terrible sickness – every time this happens, the hospitals are full of people coughing up blood, that molecule could be thrown on the fires & put them out in seconds:
 - HOW CRIMINAL IS CRIMINAL? NONE OF THIS IS NATURAL: WE CAUSED IT ALL AND WE HAVE TO TAKE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THIS AND THE SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT THIS IS THAT WE CAN CHANGE THE WHOLE THING: WE ARE NOT GOING TO THROW UP A SACRED DOCUMENT CREATED BY St Germain who took 3 months to get the signatures.

MR: asks about Joshua Stone R: he worked with Ascended Masters and Mt Shasta's ascension frequencies; his annual meetings at Mt Shasta were attended by people from all over the world -

- MR talks about staying overnight once and seeing a huge space ship and all the small ones going into the top of the mountain: the larger ship!

T: the QXCI machine as you work with it over time you get to see how your body is evolving and how your DNA is actually changing – there are many healing modalities which can be applied to you: your body is in 5th D because it is hooked up to the computer which is sentient, and you get the perfect treatment your body asks for to hold the perfect frequency for your body at the moment.

- a type A is a yogic body; a type O is an aerobic body – no more than 20 minutes of exercise at the time, otherwise you are disassembling

Rana Mu told Rama “you have no idea how close this is: things are being done to take them completely and totally out of power”

- T sees this everywhere: Thom Hartmann talking about the effects of the austerity program in Greece which lacks basic health care, and in Syria has only 3 doctors in the city of Homs – we had to go to the bottom of the barrel.

MR: QUESTIONS from callers

T: all of NYC is polluted with radioactivity

- Those who are vibrating a higher vibrations will not get sick; they have been told again that there will be a mass exodus – lots of people leaving. Rana Mu said the density is being made less dense which means people will not be able to hold that light; there is massive combustion of the heart going on.
 - The gun being used by the dark ones like the one used on Hugo Chavez – the first shot gave him stomach cancer; the second one gave him spontaneous combustion of the heart
- Muktananda – his followers had phrase in their song – “you lose; love will always win” - they caused a revolution with this; also the ones following Baba Ji “Baba Ji why don't you come to me?” - but it wasn't just to have fun and forget but many of the flower children got into money – when the young people first learned how to make money, they were called into Wall Street

R: we are at the same place now: the lobbyists talk to the Congress reps and say for $5000 we can do this or make that.

T And then it was let's privatize this and privatize that, including privatizing genes! Wake up and smell the coffee – which allowed her to refer the TED talk about 2 weeks after coffee is picked, it is dead – now fresh coffee beans will be sold from the field and technology you can use at home and use it before 2 weeks is over.

- The explosion of how fast this is going to turn around – everything is moving exponentially at light speed.
- Ed Snowden is back in the news; remember, ONE HALF A MILLION PEOPLE GET ARRESTED AT ONE TIME! It's a galactic operation – when Paul Craig Roberts was talking and the interviewer said what Obama did was dumb – have to know the back story.
- Shinzo Abe wants to change Japan's constitution so he can use their nukes etc to protect other countries that don't have the same kind of defence: has to do with the oil rigs planted close to Viet Nam in the South China Sea – there is more to it than what he is saying.
- Have BRICS going AWOL on the US dollar; we are in the 11th week of the whole thing being collapsed – the reflection is in the collapse of the ice caps in Antarctica and one the size of Texas x3! Before we had ice caps, we didn't – how did the methane gas get under there because it wasn't there before. The galactics know what to do.
- The lag time in this country is Egypt; they didn't have the exact temples along the Grand Canyon – the ones in Egypt are just pointers to the ones in the US. What is in the biblical texts and the archeology & understanding the interpretations in the book, When Rocks Cry out is really important: what is carved in the rocks of the Grand Canyon is important. The masters came to the African Egypt and told the ones in Africa to get over to the Americas where the real Egypt, the real Divine Plan was; Egypt was a colony of Atlantis when we did the dodo which is the reptilians we have now were the ones responsible for the fall of Atlantis with their horrific behaviour as royalty, after they invaded the royalty of the time, and before that they were the Orion War Lords from the Orion War and before that they were the Annunaki / the Luciferian Rebellious ones – thanks, but no thanks, Mother we don't need the 12 strands of DNA which are a nuisance; we only want to be the masters of the Universe.
- This is not about money; it is SO NOT ABOUT MONEY; NYC is the complete centre of money; with all the money in the world, you cannot survive through these changes and all the radiation from 3 Mile Island unless you are in the higher vibrations.

Dr Keshe: he's frantically building space ships so we can travel in them by December so we can travel around and visit neighbours in the Universe of Nubadon. Barack Obama has been to Mars; Dr Paul Craig Roberts does not know that: can't call a man like that “dumb”; Obama is overlighted by El Moryia remembers his life time in India when he was an Islamic Mogul king and ended 49 wars – he could not read nor write, had his people read to him; he followed the Sufi path at the time. Rumi and Kubir – Sufism is the highest form of mysticism on the planet – it is pure spirit teaching.

By Greg Hunter's USAWatchdog.com

In his latest article, former Assistant Treasury Secretary Dr. Paul Craig Roberts says, “The Fed is the great deceiver.” Why is he making this shocking accusation? The reason is tiny Belgium’s whopping purchase of $141 billion in Treasury bonds earlier this year. Dr. Roberts explains, “We know that Belgium didn’t have any money to buy $141 billion worth of bonds over a three month period. That sum comes to 29% of the Belgium GDP. So, they don’t have a surplus in their budget that is 29% of their GDP, and they don’t have trade or current account surplus in that amount. In fact, everything is in the red. Their budget deficit is in the red, and their trade and current accounts are in the red. So, Belgium didn’t have the money, and yet, they managed to pick up $141.2 billion in U.S. Treasuries over a three month period. So, where did they get the money?”

Dr. Roberts, who holds a PhD in economics, goes on to say, “We know their central bank couldn’t have printed euros to buy the bonds with because the Belgium central bank can’t print euros. Belgium is part of the euro system and has lost the ability to create its own money. So, the only source for that kind of money would have been the Federal Reserve. The Federal Reserve thought it needed to hide the fact it was buying $141 billion in bonds over a three month period when it was officially reducing or tapering the quantitative easing down to $65 billion. It didn’t want to have to admit it was really purchasing $112 billion a month, almost double the announced purchases.”

Dr. Roberts also says, “I think also the Fed did not want it to get out that some large country is unloading Treasuries. Somebody dropped over $100 billion in Treasuries in one week. If that was a large holder and that became known, it could panic smaller holders and you could see a stampede, and the Fed could lose control of interest rates. So, I think the Fed thought the best thing to do is launder its purchase through a different country; and, thereby, disguise what is actually happening.”

Why is the Fed worrying about the shell game of Treasury purchases? Dr. Roberts says, “I think there wasn’t any buyer for the $104 billion in one week. So, if that kind of bond sale sat unattended, interest rates would rise; and so, the Fed had to buy the bonds in order to protect its interest rate policy. But, if it outright bought them and this was known, then it starts to interfere with the ‘tapering’ that it promised to do because all of a sudden it’s not ‘tapering,’ at least not for those three months. It signals somebody is unloading Treasuries, and that could stampede others. What it indicates is they are not feeling all that confident that the dollar is on such a sound footing, or the U.S. financial system is on all that much sound footing that they can openly step in and take up that type of purchase.”

On the steep drop in GDP growth of a paltry .1% in the first quarter, Dr. Roberts says, “What I find most amusing about this is they had to claim some real growth in the first quarter; so, they eked out .1%. Now we know they got that by rigging the inflation number they used to deflate the gross domestic product (GDP). The real GDP in the first quarter, properly deflated, was negative and probably also in the fourth quarter. Most likely, this coming quarter, they are not going to be able to hide the fact that it is negative. . . . I am convinced the first quarter was negative, and I don't see how it could possibly go positive in the second quarter."

On Fed Head Janet Yellen's rosy outlook on the economy, Dr. Roberts debates, "I don't see how she can see that the economy is going to start growing. What is going to make it grow? Why should investors invest money when consumers don't have any money? There are not retail sales. I think it is just part of the rah, rah talk. Everywhere else in the world is going down the tube. So, what's going to push the American economy up?— Nothing that I know of."

On the Ukraine crisis, Dr. Roberts says, "I think Washington badly miscalculated this whole Ukraine business. It was an act of hubris, arrogance and stupidity. They are mad at Russia for blocking their attack on Syria and blocking their attack on Iran. They said 'we'll teach them.' We'll give them trouble in their own backyard and not to get in our way anymore." The threat of sanctions has made the Russians realize the dollar system is not in their interest, and they are going to leave it. . . . If any significant part of the world stops using the dollar, the price of the dollar falls because demand for dollars falls, and the import cost for America would rise. When you see how import dependent we are, it would mean a substantial rise in the real cost of living for most Americans."

2014, May 12 Welcome to Nulandistan ~ A Multimedia Look at What the US and EU Have Unleashed on Ukraine

By Mahdi Darius Nazemroaya Global Research, May 12, 2014

The Yatsenyuk regime's anti-terrorism operations in the southern and eastern oblasts (regions) of Ukraine are really a use of martial force against Ukrainian civilians opposed to the coup-installed regime in Kiev. Predominately peaceful Ukrainian citizens opposing the coup leaders and not "armed separatists" have been the main target of the regime's militias.

The discourse about "pro-Russian" separatists is a misleading attempt to hide the real nature of the protests against the regime, which is opposition to a coup. The main issue is one of anti-coup protesters versus a junta and not separatists and federalists versus Kiev. To refer to the junta in Kiev as the government of Ukraine is to reject or ignore its illegality.

Welcome to Ukraine Nulandistan

Wherever the US government says it is promoting democracy and freedom, as US Assistant-Secretary of State Victoria Nuland professes about Ukraine, there has been destruction, impoverishment, sectarianism, fighting, and death. Welcome to post-coup Ukraine or Nulandistan. It follows the precedents and traditions of destabilization and violence honoured by US officials like Senator John McCain in the Syrian Arab Republic (McCainistan) and by Hillary Clinton in the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya (Clintonistan).

Arseniy Petrovych Yatsenyuk, who has illegally taken the post of Ukrainian prime minister with the support of the US and European Union, was never favoured by many of the authentic protesters in Euro-Maidan or even the grassroots members of his allies. When, without any election or public discussion, he was arbitrarily given the office of prime minister, many in the Euro-Maidan protest movement booed him and some even cried "bullet to his head." His party boss, the infamously corrupt Yulia Volodymyrivna Tymoshenko, was booed too after she arrived. In reality, Yatsenyuk and the other Ukrainian politicians identifying themselves with Euro-Maidan, like the ultra-nationalist Svoboda's Oleh Tyahnybok, appropriated the hopes and dreams of the Ukrainians that were protesting against not only the Ukrainian government of Viktor Fedorovych Yanukovych, but the entire corrupt Ukrainian political establishment. Hiding behind the protesters, Yatsenyuk and Tymoshenko's Batkivshchyna Party used the militias of their ultra-nationalist political allies to launch a violent coup in Kiev.

There is no functioning democracy in Ukraine and, with the full support of the European Union and the US government, free speech inside Ukraine is under attack by the new regime and its thugs. Yatsenyuk's coup-installed regime has cracked down on media freedoms, sent the Ukrainian military and security forces to attack anti-coup protesters under the pretext of NATO-backed anti-terrorism operations, and started purges and witch hunts all over Ukraine. This started with the head of the National Television Company of Ukraine, Aleksandr Panteleymonov, being threatened and beaten into resigning by Svoboda deputies Igor Miroshnynchenko and Andrey Ilyenko.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=xDLUizzsFJI

A atmosphere of intimidation and bullying is the new order of the day in Nulandistan and politicians opposing the regime are regularly threatened and beaten, some to the point of near death. Intimidation and violent tactics have also been used to force Ukrainian politicians and civil servants to resign or hand over power across Ukraine.

Inside the Verkhova Rada or Ukrainian Parliament any of the remaining deputies who dare to speak against the regime and its policies are silenced and beaten up. This is the US-supported freedom of speech that has been brought to Ukraine, Nuland-style. For example, senior deputy Petro Symonenko has been caught on film being pushed and prevented from speaking, just for daring to condemn the use of the Ukrainian military and security forces against civilian protesters by Yatsenyuk's regime. Before being silenced, Symonenko made the key point of noting how the ultra-nationalists were serving foreign interests and not the national interests of Ukraine and actually dividing the Eastern European country. The senior Rada deputy's party offices have also been burned, like those of other political parties in Ukraine opposing the coup. Again, welcome to Nulandistan: brought to you by the US Department of State, CIA, USAID, National Endowment for Democracy (NED), and a whole host of other US tentacles.

Since they took power, the so-called Euro-Maidan "democrats" of the Yatsenyuk regime began killing those Ukrainians that opposed them or protested against them. In the process the Yatsenyuk regime is denying them the rights that Arseniy Yatsenyuk, Victoria Nuland, John McCain, Catherine Ashton, and the Euro-Maidan movement claimed legitimized the US-backed coup and violent takeover of power in Kiev.

The House of Trade Unions Massacre in Odessa

In the famous port city of Odessa, on the coast of the Black Sea, the Yatsenyuk regime tried to create sectarian provocation by allowing a football match between Chernomorets Odessa and Metalist Kharkov, knowing that thousands of ultra-nationalist regime supporters would flock into Odessa for the match on May 2, 2014. After the match the regime supporters held a rally sanctioned by the regime-installed local authorities where they started yelling "knife the Russians" using derogatory language. Then what appeared to be anti-coup activists, which either support federalization or separation, wearing St. George's Ribbons and red bands on their sleeves confronted the regime supporters, which led to a violent confrontation in Odessa.

In retrospect, it has become clear that these thugs were really undercover agents and agent provocateurs. Some of the riot police and security forces, which were sent by the regime in Kiev from outside Odessa, were also wearing the same red bands around their sleeves and associating with the fake anti-coup activists. After the fake anti-coup activists, which are being called the "third party" in retrospect, disappeared the pro-coup side attacked the unrelated and peaceful anti-coup activists that were near Odessa's House of Trade Unions. When the anti-coup activists ran inside the building for safety, it was set ablaze with Molotov cocktails. The police watched as the pro-coup side attacked and killed the peaceful activists in the House of Trade Unions while ambulances and fire trucks were prevented from saving many of the people inside that burned.

There is video evidence that shows Svoboda and Euro-Maidan supporters firing on the people inside the House of Trade Unions with guns while others are killing people inside the building (see the photographs above). A man who presented himself as sotnik Mykola, a leader of Euro-Maidan, is even caught on tape firing into the building at people trying to escape the fire. A pregnant women was taped screaming for help before she was strangled to death by a regime supporter wearing a white and blue jacket (see the first figure). One of the ultra-nationalist supporters of the Yatsenyuk regime that was in Odessa during the attacks proudly wrote about the murder of the anti-coup activists in her Facebook page (<http://www.facebook.com/angela.aravina>). “My jacket smells of burned rubber and it is stained with blood. On the one hand, there is horror, when I think of the faces of the dead people, on the other hand, there is pride, and there is nothing you can do about it,” she wrote (see figure below).

Russia's Perviy Kanal (Channel One or First Channel) network would use the publicly available YouTube footage about the clashes in Odessa to point out what happened in the city, which is called “the Pearl of the Black Sea.” Their important observations about the lead-up to the clashes would be reported by RT International in English for international audiences. Tatyana Ivananko, a survivor of the attack from the anti-coup activists camp in Odessa, would tell RT International’s Ukrainian journalist Alexey Yaroshevsky in a in-depth interview that the “police were idle not doing anything” and that the coup’s supporters “finished off some of the people who managed to escape [the fire], and threw from the windows those who did not, to kill them on the ground.” She also confirmed that there were no foreign nationals among their ranks and that the agent provocateurs of the “third party” were not involved with her group whatsoever.

The Yatsenyuk Regime's Phony Anti-Terrorism Operations Are a Smokescreen

There has been a siege on Donetsk Oblast by the coup-installed regime in Kiev. Unarmed Ukrainian civilians were killed in Mariupol by orders of the Yatsenyuk regime on May 9, 2014. Raw footage from Mariupol shows how unarmed Ukrainian civilians were killed in the name of phony anti-terrorism operations by order of the Yatsenyuk regime in its efforts to gain control in the parts of Ukraine that do not recognize the illegal February coup that ousted the government of Ukraine.

More Ukrainian civilians were killed on May 10, 2014, at a time when voting in a referendum was supposed to take place in several of Ukraine's oblasts located in an area of Ukraine that is controversially called Novorossiya for historical and sociological reasons. Albeit skirmishes did take place between the regime and armed resistance fighters in such places as Slavyansk, the US-backed Yatsenyuk regime killed Ukrainian civilians in this region when they tried to exercise their democratic rights to vote peacefully in the referendums. For example, instead of allowing the inhabitants of Krasnoarmeysk, in Donetsk Oblast, to vote on their future, the US-backed junta sent its militias to prevent the people there from freely voting. This was done under the pretext of anti-terrorism operations. The US-backed anti-terrorism operations are really a smokescreen aimed at hiding the regime's motives to disrupt the referendum.

The regime is using the so-called National Guard of Ukraine to force its will on its opponents. What is important to note is that this National Guard was created in March 2014 by the coup-installed government to secure their hold on power. The militia has incorporated sections of the same ultra-nationalist groups that helped violently oust the legal Ukrainian government in Kiev in February 2014. In other words, many of the same armed men that stormed Ukrainian government offices in a coup are now acting in an official capacity. Moreover, albeit the National Guard is officially categorized as the reserve force of the Ukrainian Armed Forces, it is under the jurisdiction and control of the Interior Ministry, which is advised by US government agencies (i.e., the CIA and FBI) and heavily under ultra-nationalist control. The reason for this is, because the Ukrainian military is not loyal to the coup-installed regime in Kiev. The irregular National Guard, which has ultra-nationalist gunmen that are loyal to the regime integrated into its ranks, on the other hand is dependable for the coup leaders and more than willing to do the regime's dirty work, like killing unarmed civilians, that many members of the Ukrainian military would refuse to do.

The Yatsenyuk Regime's Predisposition to Commit Atrocities and Crimes in Ukraine

The Yatsenyuk junta and its supporters were itching to use force against those opposing them. The discourse about "pro-Russians" and, even, Russian-speakers is misleading. The real nature of the opposition in the southern and eastern portions of Ukraine is opposition to an illegal government installed through a foreign-backed coup. Calls for local autonomy, federalization, separation, or reunification with Russia are all byproducts of this.

As early as March 10, 2014, Euro-Maidan supporters like the Ukrainian businessman Gennady Balashov began to say publicly that the protesters in the eastern and southern parts of Ukraine should be killed. Balashov also called for the blockage of natural gas from Russia to the countries of the European Union and for deliberate attempts to provoke the Russian Federation. He candidly discouraged any dialogue and called for bloodshed and ethnic cleansing, more properly termed as genocide, in places like Crimea, Kharkov, Dnepropetrovsk, and Donetsk. Anyone that opposes the coup-installed regime in Kiev, he clarified should be murdered without mercy. This includes those wearing the orange and black St. George's Ribbon.

The St. George's Ribbon, which is a ribbon that is displayed to commemorate the end of the Second World War (or the Great Patriotic War, as it is called in Ukraine and Russia) and the defeat of Nazi Germany. This symbol has become the distinguishing mark of the anti-coup protesters in Ukraine who view the US-supported February 2014 coup as the reemergence of the threat of fascism. This is why Balashov and the ultra-nationalist hate and attack anyone that displays it.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=cg-oVeRx770

Talking about the protesters in the eastern and southern parts of Ukraine, Balashov stated: "We must block the pipeline. We must not allow the trade of natural gas. Only this can stop the invaders. We must block the pipeline and let them send Alpha to shoot everyone there. These people are on foreign territory. Crimea, Kharkov, Dnepropetrovsk, Donetsk are Ukrainian cities. If they wear the St. George ribbon, if they tear down our flag, we must shoot them in the head because they are the enemy. We should not talk to them or educate them..."

Gennady Balashov's comments echo those of the infamous anti-Russophone and anti-Russian Iryna Dmytrivna Farion, a deputy in the Rada for Svoboda. Farion bluntly and without any hesitation tells the media that the coup-installed Yatsenyuk regime in Kiev should take the opportunity to kill all the Ukrainians protesting against the new regime in Kiev. The US-supported Ukrainian ultra-nationalist politician even says that the Ukrainian protesters opposed to the US-supported regime in Kiev are "aliens" that need to be killed as a means of cleansing the country. She calls for nothing short of a genocidal operation and even calls her compatriots “creatures” that need to be eliminated.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=dNQ2CVz2Cyk

Iryna Farion’s otherization of Russophones and Ruskiyes (ethnic Russians) is unusual, because as a philologist she should be aware that ethnic Ukrainians, Ruskiyes, and Belarusians (White Russians) are ethno-linguistically one people which splintered or became distinct from one another due to being cutoff by the boundaries of different empires that led to regional distinctions and, over time, the eventual construction of new ethnic and civic identities. The terms Velikorus (Great Russian), Malorus (Little Russian) and Belorus (White Russian) were geographic concepts originally before they were socially constructed into the loosely-knit ethnic identities and social structures that are Ruskiye, Ukrainian, and Belarusian.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=KArhCdbIXGw

This does not mean that the Ukrainian identity is inauthentic or that Ukrainians are a sub-group of Ruskiyes, what it means is that Ukrainians and Ruskiyes are the same people with different perceptions of identity. Their perceived ethnographic differences, which are social constructs, have been utilized as geopolitical tools by the US and its allies to dupe nationalist elements inside Ukraine, as well as the Russian Federation, into fighting and opposing their own kin and to destroy their own societies from the inside, pursuing a fictitious purification of their societies and people; these nationalist quests are what enfeeble national unity and cohesion.

Additionally, the Russophone people or Russian-speakers in Ukraine are just as Ukrainian as the Ukrainophone people or Ukrainian-speakers in Ukraine. Their situation is the same as the members of the Irish population who speak English and not Irish; no one in Ireland's Irish-speaking community questions the Irishness of the English-speaking Irish, because they speak English and not Irish. In the same context, concerning Russophone Ukrainians there is no question about their Ukrainianness or its authenticity.

The majority of the Russophones and Ukrainian-speakers are the descendants of the same local ancestors. The difference between the two groups is merely that one community adopted Russian as their main language. Regardless, the two East Slavic languages of Ukrainian and Russian are almost identical and the majority of the Ukrainian population are bilingual in Ukrainian and Russian anyway. The mythical tribalism informing the views of Iryna Farion and other nationalists in Ukraine is nothing more than a distraction from the gross injustices and unequal distribution of power and wealth in Ukrainian society; it distracts the local population from the real issues about improving their lives and divides the country's citizens, preventing them from confronting their oligarch exploiters and the unjust structures in their society.

The Perpetrators of Terrorism are Blaming the Victims: Who Are The Real Terrorists?

Who are the real terrorists? Unarmed civilians trying to vote or coup figures like the foolish Arseniy Yatsenyuk, a self-appointed leader of the "EuroMaidan" movement, that have sent armed groups to threaten and kill them? Moreover, the actions of the Yatsenyuk regime validate the premise in Moscow that Russian troops needed to be sent into the Crimean Peninsula to allow for the voting not to be disrupted. If this did not happen the referendum on March 16, 2014 may have never taken place, with fighting taking its place in Crimea.

Unarmed Ukrainian citizens can be clearly heard bravely yelling at the Yatsenyuk regime's so-called National Guard militias that they are "fascists" in much of the footage that is beginning to emerge from coup-controlled Ukraine. These people are the Yatsenyuk regime's terrorists. Unarmed Ukrainians civilians that have tried to peacefully prevent the Ukrainian military and National Guard from entering their towns and cities are portrayed as outlaws and villains (see figure below). The crime of these unarmed civilians is that they have tried to prevent the regime from either illegally establishing what is essentially martial law in their towns and homes or that they have tried to prevent the regime from using Ukrainian military and security forces to prevent the anti-coup segment of the Ukrainian population from voting freely. These people are the ones that the US government and the European Union are condemning while trying to scapegoat Russia for the regime's murder of innocent civilians.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=SVpUpclhm8w

The real terrorists and fascists are the coup leaders in Nulandistan that have sold themselves and Ukraine to foreign powers. Also, among the real terrorists and fascists are the foreign-backers of the Yatsenyuk regime in the US, Britain, France, Poland, Canada, and Germany, which have brought division, ruin, and destruction across the globe, from the former Yugoslavia, Iraq, and Libya to Syria, Mali, the Central African Republic, and the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela.

If Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, the former president of Iran, is mistranslated and misrepresented by the mainstream media in North America and Western Europe about saying he wants to "wipe Israel off the map" during a conference, the US government and European Union have field days condemning Iran. In Nulandistan, however, the coup-installed head of Khersonshchyna, Governor Yuri Odarchenko, can praise the invasion of Ukraine by Adolph Hitler and Nazi Germany, like he did on May 9, 2014 to the anger of Ukrainian war veterans, while the US, Canada, and European Union all keep silent.

Do not expect any in-depth reporting by CNN, the BBC, France 24, Fox News, or their ilk about the murder of unarmed civilians in Ukraine by the Yatsenyuk regime either. These media networks are conducting an information war against any countries and governments opposed to the US and its allies. Instead of reporting what is actually taking place, the mainstream media in North America and the European Union will continue to distort the truth by blaming Russia and those Ukrainians that it deceptively, as a means of refusing to acknowledge their legitimate opposition and resistance to the illegal regime in Kiev, calls "pro-Russian."
