

We're often asked, "What is a vision trip?"

Do you have five days to hear, see, and touch what God is doing to take care of His kids?

Are you willing to get out of our comfortable surroundings and experience Love that transcends language and cultural barriers?

What in the world was I doing praying for them (the Haitian Church) - they were praying for me. My complacency, my indifference, my lack of gratitude, and more than anything my lack of faith. From that point on, largely, I was the subject of my own prayers. These folks had it - no holds barred worship - they were dancing in the aisles and the music flowed as if the heavenly harps were there among us. - Doug Freeman

Have you considered the possibility that Jesus may be bigger, more wonderful, and more dangerous than you ever imagined?

Haiti was not safe, but not for the reasons you may suspect. No one tried to steal my wallet. I never was never physically threatened. However, I left Haiti with a bigger sense of who Jesus is. I found myself richly blessed by the faith of the Haitians who had next to nothing, and I can't get away from the haunting question, "Am I doing what God wants with all He has given me?"

No, Haiti is not safe, but it is good. - Trace Thurlby

Will you risk an adventure that might change your life?

*It's amazing what you learn when life is turned upside down,
Dropped into the unknown, completely unfamiliar ground.*

*I knew before I went that I would never be the same,
What I didn't know was how God had planned for me to change.- Adrien Lewis*

If so, explore this site, come with us to Haiti. Find out for yourself what a C3 vision trip is...
