Jeff Bartell (left) receives award from Past President Bob Dinndorf at this week's Rotary meeting.

Rotary International recognizes that the strength of Rotary is founded on the service carried out by individual club members worldwide. To acknowledge outstanding work in all four avenues of service, Rotary International developed the Four Avenues of Service Citation to honor distinguished service carried out by an individual Rotarian in all four avenues of service: club, community, international and vocational service. This is a lifetime achievement award and it is an honor for me to return to the podium today to present this year's citation.

When we think of music at our club meetings, we think of Jeff Bartell who has dedicated 25 years to entertaining us as house pianist at weekly luncheons. For most of those years Jeff chaired our club's Music Committee, retiring from that position on June 30, 2009. In addition, we have enjoyed his special performances at holiday parties, board meetings, the District Conference, and Madison Rotary Foundation benefits. Today we extend our appreciation to Jeff not only for his musical service, but also the variety of other service he has provided the Rotary Club of Madison over 30 years.

In addition to his musical offerings, he completed a two-year term on our Club Board of Directors in June 2009. He is a past chair of our Fund Drive Committee and served on the Madison Rotary Foundation Board of Trustees, of which he was president in 2003-04. Jeff continues to provide guidance on legal questions pertaining to our Foundation which we truly appreciate. Jeff has volunteered at an area elementary school in the reading program. He and his family have hosted Rotary Youth Exchange students.

Jeff joined our Rotary Club in 1979 and is a corporate attorney with the Quarles and Brady Law Firm. Jeff and his wife, Angela, and fellow Rotarian, look forward to spending the winter months in Arizona as Jeff also begins to phase-in to a different life schedule.

We congratulate Jeff on receiving the 2009-10 Rotary International Four Avenues of Service Award.
