The Potomac Chamber honored Dr. John Sever for his lifetime work in polio eradication, and will show Dare To Dream at the event.

Dave Lerer:

While in college, Dave working for his state congresswoman on Capitol Hill. He had to go to the White House to get the President's signature. There's a good chance that he had to get access to the president through Chris Emery. Small World.

Smarty pants Blaine Milner knew useless trivia that there were 34 bathrooms in the White House; and as a follow up, Charlie McCabe's old house in Maryland had a White House toilet. Uncomfortably Small World.
