Thanks to former Rotarian, Phil Komornik, for bringing this:

www.cyprusfriendship.org

For centuries, the Greek Cypriots and the Turkish Cypriots have battled each other. In 1974, in an effort to halt the fighting, the island was divided into the northern Greek side, and the southern Turkish side, with the Green Zone where the sides can communicate. For the country to heal, and become one, the CFP has 1 Greek and 1 Turkish cypriot to spend an entire month together, eating, sleeping, total interaction, in the US. The mission is to have the youth of the country become friends, promoting unification.

Phil is hosting 2 CFP teens.

Melina Iarionos and Beyia Kokloglu each gave moving speeches highlighting their time together, and their hopes for a unified Cyprus.
