Program:

Mark Westcott gave a wonderful and impassioned Classification Talk

Imagine driving north in December to the upper reaches of upstate New York, and then keep driving another 3 hours. The temperature is -20 degrees, and Jennette Westcott doesn't want to leave the car and risk freezing to death.

Mark and Jeannette are visiting his hometown of Plattsburgh, NY.

Mark grew up in Plattsburgh, NY. A small blue collar town. His father was an excellent auto mechanic, but Mark not-so-much.

Mark decided to attend college at SUNY Plattsburgh, and work in the banking industry.

He moved to Tennessee with his motorcycle and his girlfriend. The girl lasted 6 months, the bike much longer.

He worked for a bank, specializing in foreclosures.

He moved to Atlanta at Fannie Mae. The Savings and Loan financial crisis hit, and he moved to Baltimore in 1989.

Currently, he works for Loan Depot, specifically in the renovation loan department.

He is married to Jeannette Westcott, and he has a stepson.

Sgt. at Arms Charlie Montague:

Happy Dollars:

Many Mark Westcott happy dollars

Bitia Dayhoff gave a happy $50 because she is awesome.

Fines:

Dushyant-Charlie-Mark salmon shirt triplets.

Barbara and Sherri for trying to rig the deck.

50/50 Raffle:

Pam Young pulled a non-Joker to everyone else's applause.

The pot is growing, buy more tickets!
